

200,000 TROOPS MAY ENTER MEXICO

$20,000,000 IN WAGES LOST

Coal Strike in England Cost Nation $2,500,000,000, Says W. T. Stead

Writer Contends That Trouble Was "Probably Worth the Money"

(By W. T. STEAD.)

LONDON, March 30.—A month ago I said Great Britain was on the brink of hell. Today I have to report that Great Britain is emerging from purgatory. The result is not unsatisfactory: the strike of the coal miners has cost the nation about $2,500,000,000. It was probably worth the money.

On every hand it is freely admitted that nothing will ever be the same again after this crisis. The doctrine of the economical and political necessity of a living wage has obtained legislative sanction and, what is more important, it has been indelibly impressed upon the new conscience.

This has not been obtained without a sacrifice. On the part of labor the miners have lost $20,000,000 in wages and they have distributed $5,000,000 of their union funds in relief. Other workmen thrown out of work by lack of coal have sacrificed equal sums.

COAL PRICE DOUBLED.
By the strange irony of fate, the mine owners found to their profit by the strike, which doubled the price of coal. It is an object lesson that may prove salutary. There is much less likelihood of reckless striking in other trades for months to come.

Apart from gaining a minimum wage principle and a demonstration of the costliness of strikes, there are other solid gains to record. The first is the establishment of district boards under an act of parliament for the settlement of wage disputes in the coal trade by conciliation and arbitration. The second is the decision of the government to institute an inquiry into the causes of the existing unrest—an inquiry which may raise the whole condition of the people.

SANITARY RULES.
But what, perhaps, the most valuable asset of all that we have brought out of purgatory is the increased confidence of all classes in the common sense, good temper and patience of the militant capitalists, and the fact that the leaders of the opposing parties associating together on the friendliest terms in the lobbies and corridors of the House of Commons.

D. A. Thomas, a Welsh mine owner and the most able and uncompromising of the militant capitalists, is a personal friend of Vernon Harcourt, the socialist firebrand of the South Wales miners.

"You're going to see Harcourt?" Thomas said to me. "Give him my love. You will find him a real good fellow."

As it was with Thomas and Harcourt, so it was everywhere. In London and in the pit districts the utmost order prevailed. At Wigan the chief constable joyfully said the district had become so orderly since the strike that he feared he would have to put his policemen on short time.

NO LIVES LOST.
So far, although a million men have been at play for a month, not a life has been lost. Only in five districts have soldiers been called out, and in neither did they fire a shot or display a bayonet. In districts which suffered the most from the stoppage of coal the people bore their privations with the most admirable composure. All classes have co-operated in feeding the destitute, but there has been no panic.

John Burns, at the local government

(Cont. on Page 18, Col. 2.)

Kathleen Weston to Go on Operatic Stage

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Another beautiful and talented daughter of society is to make her debut upon the operatic stage. She is Miss Kathleen Weston, daughter of Major General John Weston, U. S. A., retired. She has been much sought after socially and was prominent in two marriages. She belongs to the most exclusive set at Washington. Under the name of Kathleen, she appeared two weeks ago in New York Casino. News of her which behind the footlights has just been received by friends here.

Head Fractured by Hammer in Quarrel

YREKA, March 30.—Suffering from a fractured skull caused by a blow from a hammer in the hands of his partner, Michael Kottig, Martin Linn is in the county hospital in a dying condition. The man conducted a chimney sweeping business. Following the assault, which occurred in the midst of a quarrel, Kottig was arrested and is now in the county jail.

MISS SEARS WALKS 110 MILES

Boston Heiress Is Nearly Exhausted on Finishing Hike in 41 Hours

Crowds Greet Eccentric Young Woman as She Enters Del Monte Hotel

Brief History of Remarkable Walk

Walker—Miss Eleanor Sears, Boston heiress.

Companions—Harry Lee of Boston and W. A. Devereaux of Burlington.

Chaperon—Mrs. Francis J. Carahan, society leader of Burlington.

Miss Sears left the Burlington residence of the Carahans at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

Arrived at Gilroy, sixty-one miles from start, at 1:20 a. m. Saturday.

Reached San Juan, seventy miles, at 7:40 a. m.

Reached Salinas, ninety-one miles, at 1:48 p. m.

Miss Sears lunched at Salinas hotel, purchased new walking shoes and was massaged, leaving for Del Monte at 4:05 p. m.

Footsore and almost exhausted, Miss Sears reached Del Monte Hotel, 110 miles from Burlington, at 10:30 p. m.

Time on trip—Forty-one and a half hours.

DEL MONTE, March 30.—Eleanor Sears the indomitable.

The fair Boston heiress, with unquenchable and courage untamed, walked up the steps of the Hotel Del Monte at 10:30 o'clock tonight, and thereby closed the most remarkable long-distance walking tour ever attempted by a woman. She had walked 110 miles in forty-one and a half hours.

Without sleep, over rough and strange roads, the famous bachelorette, pet of Pacific and Atlantic society, accomplished a feat today which had been found difficult by many men, and was only four hours behind the time established two years ago by Dr. William McNary, the British globe trotter and athlete, when he defeated Percy Selby, golfer and society man of Burlington.

NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

In the face of entreaties to stop the trip at Salinas, the Boston girl continued her journey, footsore and tired, but with the determination and daring that has astonished society people all over the country, and she was rewarded by success. Miss Sears was hardly able to move one foot in front of the other as she entered the Del Monte ground. She was almost exhausted and admitted that the trip had been the most trying venture in her career.

Arriving at Gilroy, sixty miles from her starting place, at 1:20 o'clock this morning, Miss Sears took a rest of two hours and a half, and at 4 o'clock, accompanied by her pacesetter, Harry Lee, she started on the last leg of the journey to Del Monte.

OVER SAN JUAN HILL.

Contrary to first report, Miss Sears and her companion took the county road to Chittenden and there turned off and struck for the San Juan Hill. The walking party passed through the town of San Juan at 7:40 this morning, and without stopping walked on to Salinas.

The short rest at Gilroy failed to recuperate Miss Sears and her pace was reduced to three and a half miles an hour.

Shortly before 11 o'clock today the word reached Salinas that Miss Sears was about four miles from town.

Continued on Page 18, Col. 6

Taft and Roosevelt Divide Up Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 30.—Up to midnight two Missouri county conventions have instructed delegates to the state and district conventions for Taft, while seven instructed for Roosevelt. St. Genevieve, Ray and Gasconade counties went for Taft, while Monroe, Osage, Grundy, Adair, Camden, Bates and McDonald counties went for Roosevelt. Pike county instructed its state convention delegates for Roosevelt and its district delegates for Taft. This county is Champ Clark's home. Roosevelt also carried Clark county townships and will control that county's convention Monday. Phelps county's delegation was not instructed. Taft carried Linn counties by townships.

Explosion Wrecks Plant Of Central Torpedo Co.

TULSA, Okla., March 30.—Four persons were killed and the plant of the Central Torpedo Company wrecked as a result of an explosion of nitro-glycerin today.

BONI EYES MORGAN'S RICHES

Anna Gould's Discarded Count Wants to Wed Financier's Daughter

Paris Dandy Tries in Vain to Get Audience With Wealthy American

(By W. T. STEAD.)

ROME, March 30.—The Count Boni de Castellane still has hopes of contracting another marriage with a very rich woman, preferably an American. He is also as hopeful as he was the day he sailed for the United States twelve years ago, equipped for the campaign for the hand of Anna Gould, whom he had met in Europe and fixed upon as an heiress who would be able to supply money for the career of which he dreamed.

That he was not over-confident was proved by his celebrated marriage to Miss Gould. His subsequent prodigal career with her millions until she died of his neglect and made of his stands as a lasting record of prodigality by an impetuous nobleman suddenly given control of vast sums of money and unlimited credit.

CALLS TO SEE MORGAN.

Just at present the Count Boni is in Rome. He has called twice at the Grand hotel to see J. Pierpont Morgan. Each time Morgan has been out, but Boni announced yesterday that he would call again and expressed assurance of an interview with the financier.

He is in his quest in Rome he probably will follow Morgan to Venice.

These visits of Boni have widely discussed. The European press has commented time and again upon De Castellane's attentions to Miss Morgan when the banker's daughter has been on the continent, and the Roman papers now connect the evident admiration of Boni for Miss Morgan with his attempts at an interview with her father. The assurance of Boni has never been for an instant doubted.

STILL A DANDY.

Although a number of years have passed over the head of the Parisian dandy since he went forth to woo Anna Gould, his troubles have marked him but lightly. He looks almost as youthful and as much the exquisite as ever.

De Castellane legally is free to contract a second marriage at any time. His matrimonial entanglements have suffered a check in the denial by the Vatican of his appeal to nullify his marriage to Anna Gould, but even in this direction he still hopes to be able to fix his home in the eyes of the church that he can wed for a second time within the fold.

This same decision of the holy tribunal of the pope, a body that deliberates with the most deliberation, has just been cited where it is available. It is in Latin, but a translation shows that it sheds the most interesting light on the marriage of De Castellane and Miss Gould.

De Castellane's marriage with Anna Gould in one hour or less of the actual ceremony in New York the bride-to-be was convinced that de Castellane was marrying her for her money and was determined that she would divorce him at the first evidence of infidelity.

DECEASED SCENE.

Prince Giovanni De Drago, one of Boni's friends and an attendant at the wedding, gave evidence before the court of the Vatican and, in his own words, describes the scene in the Count's home at the time of the wedding of Anna Gould and de Castellane. He said:

"I remember that on the morning the marriage was to take place, while I was in a room next to that in which the bride was, I heard her crying and talking in an excited way, so that I was able to distinguish what was being said."

As I approached I was called by the bride herself, who was in a state of agitation, and she said to me that she was not at all sure of her bridegroom's affection and feared she was doing wrong in marrying him. She declared explicitly that in any case she was marrying him on the condition that she was free to get a divorce immediately she was betrayed by her husband and begged me to communicate clearly this declaration to the bridegroom."

GROUND OF FLEA.

This note of the bride's conduct on the morning of the wedding, her doubt of the sincerity of Castellane's avowals of affection and her freedom to sue for divorce should she find she had been deceived, were all through the testimony produced by Boni in his efforts to have the Vatican annul the marriage and is in essence the grounds upon which he based his plea.

The marriage of this wife to the then Prince de Sagan and now the Duc de Talleyrand-Perigord, after she had divorced him, is in no way attacked by Boni, because Anna Gould never professed the Catholic faith and her marriage to Boni was by special dispensation.

The findings of the Rota set out that the marriage between the Count de Castellane and Anna Gould was celebrated in New York on March 14, 1895, and the bride being a Protestant, proper dispensation was duly obtained.

They lived as husband and wife for eleven years and had three children. But in 1906 Anna Gould obtained a divorce from the civil courts and later contracted another marriage. Count de Castellane then impugned the validity of his marriage on the ground of

Continued on Page 18, Col. 4-5

PRESIDENT TO ASK CONGRESS TO ACT AT ONCE ON INTERVENTION QUESTION

Mexican Moxos carrying four-months-old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Fields during the flight of the family from the San Vicente mines in the State of Sinaloa, Mexico. The baby is now with her parents in Alameda.

Noted Cracksman to Be Taken East Tomorrow

Ex-Convict Captured Here Will Be Extradited for Trial

"Rochester, Jimmy" Courtney, post-office cracksman and ex-convict, captured in Oakland three weeks ago, is to be taken to Mt. Clemens, Mich., tomorrow to stand trial for dynamiting the vaults of the United States post-office at New Baltimore, Mich., in 1908.

Shortly after George H. Harris arrived from Michigan yesterday with papers for the extradition of Courtney.

The ex-convict was captured by Inspector Tom Wood of Oakland on suspicion of being "Herman" Diehm, a Chicago murderer, and was later identified through the Bertillon measurements and photographs as Courtney, a noted crook. Courtney has confessed his identity.

Anybody's Teeth Good Enough for This Stunt

Chewing Milk Is Hygienic Thing to Do, Says Physiology Instructor

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—Do you chew your milk? You should.

That is what J. Z. Gilbert, instructor of physiology, told his class at the Los Angeles High school. And he gave the reason why.

"Unless milk is properly chewed it curdles and forms in a ball in the stomach," Professor Gilbert explained. Milk contains proteid substances and sugar which should be thoroughly mixed with saliva before being swallowed.

"There are three pairs of salivary glands. When the milk is forced from one side of the mouth to the other it is properly treated with saliva and digestion thus is aided. Undigested milk will retard digestion several hours."

"Better still than straight chewing is to take milk into the mouth with some food which needs thorough mastication. In this way the milk is literally ground into bits."

Taft Delegates in Majority in Iowa

President Wins Six of the Eleven Districts; Cummins Is Eliminated

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—By instructing for Taft and tying its 35 delegates to the state convention by the unit rule for Taft, Scott county today by its convention decided the fate of the Second district and consequently the State. This gives Taft six of the eleven districts and effectually eliminates Senator Cummins from the presidential race so far as Iowa is concerned.

Nine county conventions in all were held today with a net result of 84 for Taft and 38 for Cummins. This swells Taft's total state delegates to 419, Cummins to 418, Roosevelt to 28 and 380 delegates are yet to be selected. Of those yet to be named Taft leaders claim they will surely get 127, which will swell the President's vote to 774, whereas the convention can be controlled by 741 votes.

As it stands today Taft has 48 per cent of the entire vote of the convention.

TAFT ASSERTS THAT COAL MINERS WILL NOT STRIKE

President Also Predicts That Prosperity Will Continue in This Country

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—President Taft spent four and a half busy hours in Philadelphia tonight during which he told the Chamber of Commerce that he was confident the strike troubles in the anthracite region would be settled next week, addressed the Ohio Society of Philadelphia, announcing that he was an optimist and a progressive, and predicted a continuance of "prosperity."

He also spoke at the Academy of Political and Social Science on the "elements of constructive policy."

In his Chamber of Commerce address the President said:

"I am conscious that there is no duty so heavy upon the government at Washington as that of seeing to it that it interferes as little as possible with the business of the country and the progress of the enterprises of the country and assists the inspiration of confidence in those whose confidence is necessary to make business go and to bring about prosperity. I am in favor of the enforcement of the law, but I believe that the law and business can be squared in such a way that those who violate the law may be prosecuted and there may be an absence of persecution and no disposition to run amuck just for the purpose of showing that the government at Washington realizes that it has a job and is trying to make the people think it has."

"Generally speaking, no new machinery is going to work to make a great progress that we might not accomplish under existing machinery if the individual only grows better, and it does not help matters to transfer from one machinery to another when the same defects are going to interfere with the second machinery that now appears in the first."

"I believe that things are growing better, and I am delighted to know that there is a solution of the soft coal strike in the West, and I sincerely hope and believe I have some reason to hope that the hard coal strike in the East will be settled next week."

Necklace Stolen at Fashionable Gathering

$200 Reward Offered for the Recovery of Ninety-seven Pearls

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—A $200 single strand pearl necklace, the property of pretty Miss Anne Loomis of Detroit, Mich., who is wintering at the Maryland hotel in Pasadena with her mother, Mrs. Dewitt Loomis, has occasioned a police and private detective search that today resulted in the offer of $200 for its return. The necklace, containing 97 individual pearls, was lost by Miss Loomis at Long Beach while she was attending a fashionable affair given by Mrs. Will Stanton at the Hotel Virginia in honor of several of Pasadena's social set. Detectives say there is a possibility that the pearls were stolen.

Population Gains Over Food Supply, Is Claim

This and Not Increased Gold Production Reason for the High Cost of Living

NEW YORK, March 30.—The gain in population upon the supply of food, and not increased gold production, is responsible for the high cost of living, declared George E. Roberts, director of the United States mint. Speaking tonight at the dinner of the Iowa Society in the Hotel Astor, Roberts said:

"I am convinced for my part that the principal factor in the rise of prices the world over is the gain in population upon the supply of food and natural products, and more particularly the change that has come over the United States in this respect in the last dozen years."

Woman With Gun Holds Young Robbers for Sheriff

ASP, Okla., March 30.—Armed with a shotgun, Mrs. J. D. Kountz, who is station agent here for the Santa Fe, today captured two young robbers and held them until Sheriff McGee could get here and take charge of the men. The two men were recognized by Mrs. Kountz, who is also the telegraph operator here and had heard their descriptions being sent over the wire.

When they arrived at the depot with heavily laden suitcases and Mrs. Kountz judged them to be the couple charged with recent robberies in Pawnee, Okla., she wired for the sheriff at Perry, then grabbed the shotgun and taking them unawares, covered them before they could protect themselves.

Texas Will Not Have Preference Primary

DALLAS, Texas, March 30.—Democratic preferential primaries for Texas were voted down by the state Democratic executive committee today. The committee, however, in its primary decision said that counties have the right to express a preference for presidential primary election, providing delegates to the state convention be elected in convention.

GERMANY IS TO ENTER COUNTRY

That Country Desires to Have Interests of Citizens Protected

Difficulty Found in Effort to Take Arms to American Residents in South

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Taft admitted today that the situation in Mexico is more serious than is generally believed. He is said to have reached the conclusion that intervention may be unavoidable.

But the President will lay the facts before Congress and obtain authorization before sending the army or navy to Mexico.

Meanwhile the War Department is preparing an army of 200,000 men just as if intervention were imminent.

Grave international complications are threatened in the event of American intervention.

A cabinet officer in close touch with the President informed THE TRIBUNE correspondent that Germany plans to land large forces in Mexico to protect German interests, the moment the United States attempts to restore peace in that country.

This was made plain to THE TRIBUNE reporter through a dispatch following a visit to the White House.

NOTICE IS SERVED.

Notice is thus served on the United States that through the action of at least one power will pay no further attention to the Monroe Doctrine, which has long stood between the American continent and invasion by a foreign force.

Under the Monroe Doctrine the United States prohibited European intervention by undertaking the defense and protection of foreign citizens on the American continent. It was belated out today that when Germany, at the advice of her ambassador, armed her citizens in Mexico she gave prima facie evidence of the fact that she no longer placed reliance in the Monroe Doctrine, which she has now "put an end with respect to Mexico."

German merchants and manufacturing interests in Mexico are even more extensive than those of the United States. The Germans have come to believe that the preponderance of these commercial and other vested interests entitles them to protection by their own nation.

GERMANS TO FOLLOW.

This fact was cited in explanation of the statement that a German army would certainly follow an American force in the invasion of Mexico.

Awakening to the fact that the mere name of the United States no longer carries sufficient influence to guarantee the delivery of rifles now on their way to Mexico, the State, War and Navy Departments have taken steps to guard them by force of arms until they are in the hands of the American citizens whose lives they are aimed to defend.

In the fear that the insurgents will endeavor to capture these arms and divert them to their own necessity the administration plans to hurry a force of marines to Vera Cruz. The quickest possible route by which marines could be landed in that city would be to hurry them by rail to Galveston, where the gunboat Wheeling is now stationed, and send them from there across the Gulf of Mexico.

Even should the marines be protected from the insurgents, the line from Vera Cruz, over which they must be taken to Mexico City, is, according to a dispatch received at the War Department today, threatened by a general strike of engineers.

It may therefore be necessary to transport the entire shipment of arms across 86 miles of territory in carts, guarded by marines.

According to information received

Continued on Page 18, Cols. 1-3

The Association of American Advertisers has examined and certified to the circulation of this publication. The figures of circulation contained in the Association's report only are guaranteed.

Association of American Advertisers
No. 2340
Wholesale Bldg., N. Y. City

CONGRESS TO DECIDE ON MEXICO INTERVENTION

200,000 Troops Are Being Prepared to Be Rushed Into Country at Once

Continued From Page 17

at the State Department the situation in Puebla and Vera Cruz, where the Zapatistas are operating, is much worse. Many telegraph lines leading out of Mexico City have been cut.

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—TO EDITOR OAKLAND TRIBUNE: A band of rebels is near the capital in the south of the State of Puebla. It is composed of a small number of Zapatistas, badly armed and they are trying continually to get away from the persecution of the federalists in the State of Morelos. The rest of the republic is quite peaceful, excepting Chihuahua.

We have positive news that the rebels are short of ammunition and that the biggest part have disbanded and gone to Orozco. For this reason they cannot destroy the small force of General Truzy Aubert, who will soon have help from Torreon.

The government has taken measures to prevent the spread of rumors making public false and alarming news that is bringing tranquillity and anxiety to the people.

FRANCISCO I. MADERO.

PAPER CONDEMNED.

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—The suppression of the Mexican Herald yesterday by the government authorities is the subject of comment in some of the newspapers. The action of the ministry and of the police acting under its orders in seizing and destroying ing many copies of the paper is condemned as an arbitrary violation of law and constitutional guaranty of liberty of the press. The telegram, President Diaz, the newspapers declare, never employed such methods and always showed a semblance of respect for the law.

REBELS ON MARCH.

JIMINEZ, Mexico, March 30.—General Camp, with 800 men, began the march to Parral today, proceeding on foot in order to better repel any surprise attack which might come from the federal general, Parahovilla, supposed to be at Parral. The search for General Truzy Aubert, who seems to have made good his retreat, continued today without result.

GOVERNMENT IS SAFE.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Senor Calero, Mexican ambassador here, received instructions today from Senor Calero, secretary of foreign affairs, to deny all reports that the Mexican government is in danger. The ambassador declared emphatically in his official communications that the situation is not serious. Unless General Orozco turns out to be a military genius, he said, Orozco must meet ultimate defeat.

Senor Calero's message said active preparations were under way to send an army corps under General Huerta to open another vigorous campaign in Chihuahua.

The inhabitants of Torreon and the neighboring cities, the telegram added, are supporting the government.

FLOOD LOSS TO REACH MILLIONS

Scores of Towns and Cities Are Swept by Water From Rivers

Streams Out of Their Bank Cause Great Damage and Suffering

ILLINOIS.—Stages at Cairo highest since 1893; record stage predicted for Thursday; city safe with stone levee; surrounding country under water.

NEBRASKA.—Platte and tributary rivers highest known; damage estimated at $5,000,000; Denver-Chicago train service cut off; dozens of more towns inundated; scores of families driven to houseboats and trees.

KENTUCKY.—Guards patrol levee to prevent citizens cutting it to save one town at expense of another; men work all night placing sand bags, but it is feared levee will break.

MISSOURI.—In Texas head district steamship saved hundreds of men, women and children, taking them to Cairo; 10,000 men work on levee on Missouri side above Cairo and hold water at stage higher than top of levee, but water rises continually and it is believed certain levee will go and an entire county will be under water.

INDIANA.—Scores of houses in the Dole and Calumet valleys and around Hammond are under water; fifty Gary families driven from homes; railway lines in danger; Mayor Knotts of Gary orders log booms blown up to save Broadway thoroughfare; big crevasses opened in Kankakee river dyke.

IOWA.—Iowa river bottom lands overflowed; water from top of levee broke through; many families driven from their homes.

OMAHA, Neb., March 30.—Every river valley in Nebraska is a miniature sea today and the damages wrought by the floods by the Platte, Elkhorn, Loup and other rivers will run up to $5,000,000. A dozen towns are under water and the loss of the flood is tonight increasing. Early today the Omaha Commercial Club was called upon to send assistance to Waterloo, Valley, Elkhorn and several other towns to the west. The assistance consisted of a number of boats, which were sent by special train.

Waterloo was probably the worst hit by the waters. The Omaha relief party removed a number of people from the town and took them to trees in which they had taken refuge. At Valley a similar condition exists, and many were taken out in boats.

TOWN INUNDATED.—Near Fremont a gorge in the Platte changed the character of the river and threw the entire current against Fremont, inundating a portion of the town.

West of Fremont two miles of the Union Pacific and its double track main line has been washed out, while the Chicago-Denver line of the Rock Island is out of commission from the loss of its bridge across the Platte at South Bend. A bridge on these roads have been detouring throughout the day via the Burlington line from Omaha to Lincoln, but tonight the Burlington bridge at Ashland was declared unsafe and trains on every road from Omaha to Denver have been annihilated.

GOVERNOR MAROONED.—Governor Aldrich, on a Burlington train, is marooned near Meila and cannot move either way.

Near Schuyler forty citizens were on a bridge watching the flood. The water rose and cut off their escape. They remained on the bridge two days and nights and finally half of them crawled across, swinging rails to safety. The other half are still on the bridge.

At Prescott, Ia., yesterday fifteen school children were playing on the ice in the Nodaway river. The flood was caught in the current and carried away by the floods. All the children were rescued by boats which set out in pursuit.

A cold wave forecasted for today, which was expected to prevent further thawing and so permit the floods to subside, failed to materialize, and only a little stream in Nebraska is swelling the high waters.

DRIVEN FROM HOMES.—ROCK ISLAND, Ill., March 30.—Many families were driven from their homes today as the Mississippi overflowed its banks. It is rising about three inches an hour.

CITY UNDER WATER.—ALBERTA, Minn., March 30.—A large portion of the city, which the city is building here at the lower end of Fountain lake broke today and about one-third of the city is under water. The loss to date is estimated at $100,000.

ROAD WASHED OUT.—SHERIDAN, Wyo., March 30.—The Cheyenne river, which parallels the Burlington right-of-way, is overflowing its banks and carrying the road with it. The road is threatened for twenty miles.

SHEBOYGAN OVERFLOWS.—SHEBOYGAN, Wis., March 30.—The Sheboygan river overflowed its banks here today and several factories have closed down.

SETTLERS WARNED.—YANKTON, S. D., March 30.—Settlers in the lowlands along the Missouri river between Yankton and Vermillion, S. D., have been warned to move to places of safety.

BOATS IN STREETS.—NORFOLK, Neb., March 30.—Boats all are being used in the business streets here today. Two hundred families have been driven from their houses.

HIGH STAGE.—CAIRO, Ill., March 30.—The government weather bureau reports a 53-foot stage of water for Cairo by Thursday morning, which will be the highest stage ever known in this section. The river tonight marks 51.8 feet, which breaks a record except that of 1883, when the river went to 52.2 feet. Cairo is raising rapidly, and it will take 48 feet to reach the top of the stone wall levee and then several feet more of water could be kept out by sand-bags.

For a stretch of fifty miles a force

COUNT BONI HAS HIS EYE ON J. P. MORGAN'S RICHES

Anna Gould's Divorced Husband Wants to Marry Daughter of Financier

Continued From Page 17

defect of consent, inasmuch as Anna Gould had declared both before and after the ceremony that she considered herself free to break the contract should her husband prove unfaithful. The case was entrusted to the Rota and the question proposed for judgment was:

"Is the nullity of the marriage evident?"

BONI'S TESTIMONY.—The question proposed by the applicant is designed to show that his wife not only protested she would leave him in case of infidelity, but that this declaration affected the matrimonial consent as being a condition put to the marriage. Boni testified that he had been married to Anna Gould for three years and that she was an American Protestant; that she was free, that her marriage could not bind her irrevocably, that she reserved to herself the right of divorcing should the need arise.

"That an hour and a half before the ceremony she told the Prince del Drago that she reserved to herself the right to divorce should the need arise, and that she charged him to tell me so."

"She said the same to my brother Jean, charging him also to repeat to me what she had said. Shortly afterward she repeated to my brother Jean and to the Prince del Drago together what she had said to each of them separately."

MAKES DENIAL.—But Anna Gould denied to the ecclesiastic the charge she had made threats to obtain a divorce. The denial, however, was to the words used and the manner of her utterance. She said:

"At the time I was still very much of a child, the thought of the possibility of a second marriage did not even occur to me. I said 'I will' because I was marrying as people ordinarily do. I had no other thought."

The Rota decided that this was confirmed by Catherine Boni, Anna Gould's maid, who, having asked her mistress if she was sure Count Boni could make her happy, and having received the reply: "If he does not I shall get a divorce," went on to say: "In America nearly all girls when marrying, have the intention of obtaining a divorce if the marriage does not make them happy."

Anna Gould in 1894 declared, continues the court, when he first met Anna Gould in 1894:

"I felt that she would like me, and when he arrived in America some months later Mademoiselle declared she was willing to marry me. Having thus briefly disposed of the courtship, without mentioning the 10,000 men is engaged in raising the levees as the river rises.

An appeal came from the Texas Bend (Mo.) flooded district this morning and the steamer Three States was sent there. The boat returned to the city loaded with grain, women, children and other household goods. The steamer returned to Texas Bend for more people and livestock.

DRIVEN FROM HOMES.—GARY, Ind., March 30.—Scores of houses in the Dole Calumet valley and around Gary are entirely surrounded by water and fifty families were driven from their homes by the flood today. The waters are rising at an alarming rate and the valley faces the worst flood in its history. As the water began to rise today a flotilla of rafting bearing men, women, children and household goods and livestock floated to the nearest places of safety.

NEW ORLEANS FLOODED.—Thousands of square miles of territory in Louisiana are being inundated. The water is rising at an alarming rate and the valley faces the worst flood in its history. As the water began to rise today a flotilla of rafting bearing men, women, children and household goods and livestock floated to the nearest places of safety.

THAINS STOPPED.—FARGO, N. D., March 30.—Transcontinental railway traffic is at a standstill over at least one road as a result of floods west of this city. Four miles of track on the Northern Pacific are under water and portions of it are reported tonight as having been washed away when the Heart river, a tributary of the Missouri, overflowed.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER.—KANSAS CITY, March 30.—There is no immediate danger of serious flood damage around Kansas City, although both the Missouri and Kaw rivers continue to rise slowly.

OVERFLOWS LEVEE.—HICKMAN, Ky., March 30.—The West Hickman levee still is holding tonight, but the water is running over it in a dozen places and seeping through all along. The town is fast filling up from seep water and many houses already are surrounded. Work of strengthening the wall will continue all night.

More than 60,000 sand bags have been thrown in the levee and a thousand more will be put in tomorrow.

Look Out for Our Next Big Auction Sale Tuesday, April 9

Not the last, but the best and the largest of the season. Two more sales of the famous brand of horses before they are all gone. Don't forget the date—Tuesday, April 9, 1912.

W. H. HOGGINS & CO., Livestock Dealers, 14th and Valencia St.

Western Horse Market, 14th and Valencia St.

finance, the court reviews testimony brought out by Boni of what his wife said after the marriage. The Duc de Lynes testified:

"Anna several times said to me that when she had enough of it she would get a divorce, that this was commonly done in America. She said this so often that I felt bound to speak about it to her husband, but he did not regard her words as serious."

The Count di Montebello testified to the same effect and then the whole Castellane family told of the declarations both before and after marriage, by Miss Gould that she would remain a Protestant in order that she might gain her freedom at any time.

In reviewing critically this evidence the Rota doubts the directness and admissibility of the testimony of some of Boni's witnesses, including his brother, but finds the statement of the Prince del Drago direct. It holds to the rule, however, that "one witness, no matter how direct, does not prove," as set forth by previous decisions of the same tribunal.

It then gives its decision as follows: "Having then carefully weighed and considered all the evidence and having invoked the name of Christ, we, the undersigned auditors, sitting as a tribunal and having God alone before our eyes, declare and definitely sentence that the nullity of the marriage between Paul Marie de Castellane and Anna Gould is not proved. We condemn the applicant to the judicial costs."

Tarantula Takes to Alcoholic Beverage

SANTA BARBARA, March 30.—That the deadly tarantula takes to whiskey as a cat does to milk was demonstrated after J. S. Morton, a local merchant, discovered one of the poisonous insects on a bunch of bananas. The tarantula was dropped into a bottle of alcohol, the purpose being to kill it and preserve it in the alcohol. At the end of ten minutes the tarantula was still kicking, although standing on its head and hurling its legs skyward. It was thirty minutes before the little fellow quit kicking and whether he was just drunk or dead has not been determined.

BERKELEY MAN IS TO SPEAK BEFORE CENTER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The San Francisco Center of the California Civic League will give a dinner at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. The speaker will be C. C. Young of Berkeley, author of the presidential primary law, which will be his theme. Mrs. James Edna Tucker, the newly-elected president, will extend greetings and then turn the league's meeting over to Mrs. Ida Finney MacCall, as chairman of the evening.

The women in charge are: Madames MacCall, James Hamilton Morton, Rhoda Ringrose, Dr. Anna Rude, Misses Clara Schillinghyde, Genevieve Cook, Jean Oliver, Belle Kemp, Frances Tyler and M. Reid.

DELEGATES NAMED.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Delegates-elect from Twin Peaks parish No. 214, N. S. G. W., to the convention at Fresno on April 22, are Walter Scott, Webb Randolph, Charles J. Powers, Frank Platte and Peter Sweeney.

VALLEY FLOODED.—Thousands of square miles of territory in Louisiana are being inundated. The water is rising at an alarming rate and the valley faces the worst flood in its history. As the water began to rise today a flotilla of rafting bearing men, women, children and household goods and livestock floated to the nearest places of safety.

THAINS STOPPED.—FARGO, N. D., March 30.—Transcontinental railway traffic is at a standstill over at least one road as a result of floods west of this city. Four miles of track on the Northern Pacific are under water and portions of it are reported tonight as having been washed away when the Heart river, a tributary of the Missouri, overflowed.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER.—KANSAS CITY, March 30.—There is no immediate danger of serious flood damage around Kansas City, although both the Missouri and Kaw rivers continue to rise slowly.

OVERFLOWS LEVEE.—HICKMAN, Ky., March 30.—The West Hickman levee still is holding tonight, but the water is running over it in a dozen places and seeping through all along. The town is fast filling up from seep water and many houses already are surrounded. Work of strengthening the wall will continue all night.

More than 60,000 sand bags have been thrown in the levee and a thousand more will be put in tomorrow.

Look Out for Our Next Big Auction Sale Tuesday, April 9

Not the last, but the best and the largest of the season. Two more sales of the famous brand of horses before they are all gone. Don't forget the date—Tuesday, April 9, 1912.

W. H. HOGGINS & CO., Livestock Dealers, 14th and Valencia St.

Western Horse Market, 14th and Valencia St.

Look Out for Our Next Big Auction Sale Tuesday, April 9

Not the last, but the best and the largest of the season. Two more sales of the famous brand of horses before they are all gone. Don't forget the date—Tuesday, April 9, 1912.

W. H. HOGGINS & CO., Livestock Dealers, 14th and Valencia St.

ELEANORA SEARS ENDS LONG HIKE

Establishes Pace for Women, But Fails to Break the McEnery Record.

Continued From Page 17

Crowds gathered on the streets and into parties went out to escort her into the city.

THE TRIBUNE representatives were the first to greet the Boston heiress. She smiled when she saw them, but it was a weak smile and she showed her weariness. But she admitted it, like the sportswoman she is.

"Oh, my feet," was her first remark. "They are so blistered, and these shoes are hurting me so that I can hardly place one foot in front of the other. How far it is to Salinas!"

"Just beyond that turn in the road," was the answer. "That is what I've heard all the way here. Just beyond that turn. What is the distance?" she asked.

"Two miles," was the reply. "MEN WERE WEARY."

Miss Sears increased her speed. She was remonstrated with by W. A. Devereaux, who was walking with her. She paid no attention, for she was in a better physical condition than Devereaux or Lee, who both showed signs of great weariness and neither had walked the distance of Boston's athletic girl.

There is one thing Miss Sears will not do. She refused to jump a fence. Her companions asked the chauffeur of the car which had accompanied them throughout the trip a short cut to avoid a hill.

He pointed out an abandoned railroad and promised to meet the party a mile down the road, where the track crossed again.

The walkers went over the short cut and when about half way down the track they came to a fence which blocked their path.

Miss Sears refused to jump it and so the party turned back to the main road again.

Mrs. Francis Carolan, who has been chaperoning Miss Sears on her walking trip, and whose guest the Boston girl is at Burlingame, remained with the party during the trip to Salinas and as the "hikers" neared that town Mrs. Carolan, in her limousine, drove ahead and ordered dinner at the Bar-Tin house.

Miss Sears walked into Salinas at just 1.48 this afternoon. She was greeted by hundreds of people, many of whom remarked that she appeared to be in better condition than either McEnery or Selby when they reached Salinas.

BALKS AT BOSTON.—The party stopped at the Bar-Tin house. Here the rooms are named in honor of numbered and Miss Sears was shown to the apartment named Boston. She saw the name on the door and stopped.

"I'm a long way from home and nothing doing on Boston here," she remarked. She refused to take a room with the name of any town and the Boston room was given to Mrs. Carolan.

A bath and a liberal use of the liniments which she had brought along were taken before Miss Sears had her meal. This consisted of a tenderloin steak, French fried potatoes, toast and coffee.

The condition of her feet gave Miss Sears considerable worry and she sent "Bill" Devereaux out to purchase an

BIG BALANCE YOUR CREDIT

The ferocious attack of rheumatism, the fever and headache; the tendency to spread from joints to heart, all pro- claim it an infectious germ disease, a not very distant relative of Consumption, the doctors say.

The strengthening, germ-neutralizing Ozomulsion, so helpful in the common forms of tuberculosis, is recommended to rheumatists, who cannot avoid repeated attacks while their feeble bodies are hothouses for disease germs.

There's a big balance of germ-excelling strength to your credit when Ozomulsion has finished its perfect work.

Sample Bottle Free by Mail. That those who are seeking health and strength for themselves, children, relatives or friends may experience the life-giving properties of this exclusive Norway gold medal awarded cod liver oil medicinal food emulsion—as well as to know Ozomulsion superiority—in being most palatable and easy to take—a generous 4 oz bottle will be sent by mail to those who send addresses by postcard or letter to Ozomulsion, 548 Pearl st., New York.

other pair of shoes. He returned with a pair of men's elk skin shoes. At Salinas there was much indecision as to whether the party would continue the trip. Mrs. Carolan telephoned to her husband at Burlingame and told him that she was not interfering with the plans of Miss Sears. "I am not doing as I did on the other trip," she said, "I am leaving it to Miss Sears this time."

Devereaux and Lee did not want the heiress to continue but she insisted. "I have come this far," she said, "and I'm going the rest of the way if I have to go alone."

Miss Sears won out and after two hours' rest she appeared again in front of the hotel.

Wearing the same rakish costume as when she left the Carolan home in Burlingame at 6 o'clock Friday morning, Miss Sears was ready for the last twenty miles of her trip. A few dance steps to try her new walking shoes on the sidewalk in front of the hotel were the preliminary eccentricities of Miss Sears and with a "come on, Bill," to Devereaux she struck out for Del Monte.

It was just 4:08 when Miss Sears left Salinas and she chose a three-mile-an-hour gait for the distance. She appeared to be in much better spirits than when she reached Salinas and waved and talked with the people who lined the streets as she left the town. She even stopped and posed for a photographer with Mrs. Carolan, Devereaux and Lee, a thing which she absolutely refused to do yesterday.

The trip into Del Monte was without incident, save that with every mile Miss Sears took on a more joyous attitude and joked with her companions over her ability to complete the journey.

The guests at the Del Monte hotel remained up to see the young heiress and the walk and many people in automobiles "ran down" from San Francisco and Burlingame to cheer the plucky girl.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—At the Holy Innocent's Episcopal church, Fair Oaks street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m. and morning prayer at 8:00 a. m. in the evening at 7:45 the Rev. Wilmer Graham, dean of Grace Presbyterian church, will preach and the story of the cross will be sung by the choir.

U. S. WILL PROFIT BY ACT OF CHINA

Captain Robert Dollar Brings Message From Orient to This Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Bringing a message to the American people from the officials and people of the new republic of China, Captain Robert Dollar, steamship man and San Francisco commercial collector and broker, returned from China today on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia.

Captain Dollar has been in China for the past seven months. He was there when the revolution broke out and has been in close touch with affairs, which have been moving so rapidly. He witnessed the greatest confidence in the new order of things in China, and declared that in his opinion China will be the greatest nation in the world if the powers give the new government a chance to rehabilitate the country.

CLOSER RELATIONS.—Captain Dollar expects to go to Washington, D. C., to have Congress recognize the new republic.

The captain brings a message from the associated chambers of commerce of the Pacific coast, assuring the latter of their friendship and asking that steps be taken for closer business relations.

"I left China with the assurance of all the big men of the nation that the United States would be the first nation to profit through the commercial relations," said Captain Dollar.

U. S. WILL PROFIT.—"Shortly before leaving for home I had a long conference with the then acting president, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, and his cabinet, nearly all of whom have been elected in the United States. They all expressed their friendship for this country and its people."

"I have assurances that China will have a wonderful representation at the Panama-Pacific Exposition and that as soon as possible she will send commissioners here to talk trade relation with our people."

PIONEER CLUBMAN IS REPORTED NEAR DEATH

SANTA ROSA, March 30.—Colonel Mark L. McDonald, member of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco and in early days one of the leading members of the Stock Exchange in that city, he seriously ill at his McDonald avenue residence in this city. It is believed that he will recover, owing to his advanced age and his condition. His daughters, Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Schuch Chamberlain and Mrs. Maxwell McKinty of San Francisco, are at his bedside with their mother and brother, Mark L. McDonald, Jr., president of the Santa Rosa Water Works and of the McDonald Fruit Packing Company. Col. McDonald was taken ill in San Francisco several weeks ago.

ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The Rev. J. W. Horan, the pastor, will preach a morning service at 11 o'clock on "Christ's Triumphant Entry Into Jerusalem" at the Centenary Southern Methodist Church, Bush street, between Gough and Octavia.

An evening topic at 7:30 o'clock will be "Christ's Interest in the Common People."

THE BANNER

MILLINERY
Wholesale House Selling Retail
SPECIAL SALE OF
Easter Millinery

12 Trimmed Hats.....$9.50
12 Trimmed Hats.....$8.50
12 Trimmed Hats.....$7.50
Untrimmed Hats $1.25, $1.75, $2.25.

Flowers, Fancy Brides and Trimmings at special low prices.

Black and White Photos
$4.45, $7.45, $12.45
WORKS AVAILABLE
Write me this magnificent offer at Our Four Stores

THE RAISER THE BANNER
120 Market St. 2570 Mission St.
THE FASHION THE WORLD
120 Market St. 2570 Mission St.
SAN FRANCISCO

WHAT ENGLAND GAINS BY STRIKE

Demonstration of Cost of the Industrial Wars Is One of the Lessons.

Continued From Page 17

board, proved himself an ideal administrator.

"You've got the heaviest burden of all to bear," I said to him. "True," he replied. "This Lancashire cotton which was a flea bite compared with this, but my broad shoulders are strong enough to carry it."

HELPED PRESTIGE.—Another gain has been the extent to which the prestige of the government, and especially Mr. Asquith, has been improved by the tireless energy with which he labored for peace and the resolute courage with which he insisted upon carrying out the policy he had adopted.

There is no doubt expressed anywhere as to the result of the miners' ballot. A minority will vote against returning to work before Christmas, but the majority will vote in favor of returning to work at once.

One other event of the week has been the defeat of the moderate bill for the franchise upon women, who possess the same qualifications as those which gave men the vote. At the last session the bill was carried by 167. This week it was rejected, and the attempt of the extreme suffragettes to bully the government into immediate suicide and surrender, by smashing London tradesmen's windows, was brought about its inevitable punishment. It is very hard on moderate women. It may teach the militants that appeals to violence, which may succeed when there is physical force behind them, cannot succeed when made by the weak who can only irritate, without being able to intimidate, the strong.

Pioneer of Chico Dies Suddenly

CHICO, March 30.—Gaylord S. Two-gate, a pioneer of the State, died suddenly this morning at the home of his daughter in this city. He was for 19 years postmaster at Woodville and Brownville and landed in California in 1861. He was 33 years old.

WOMEN WILL ATTEND COMMITTEE LUNCHEON

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Members of the excursion party which will sail for Panama on April 25 under the auspices of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will be invited by the downtown committee of the chamber to view the moving pictures of the work being done in the Panama canal and the comments of Duncan McKinley, who was a member of the congressional committee which recently visited the canal.

The luncheon on Wednesday next will be the first to which ladies have been invited by the committee.

The regular business of the committee will be disposed of between courses of the luncheon, which begins promptly at 12:30 o'clock.

While the luncheon on Wednesday is an invitation affair, it is included in the standing invitation of the committee to all who are interested in the welfare of the downtown district of the city to avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the weekly luncheons of the committee to head a general discussion of matters affecting the district.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH REBUILT FROM ASHES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Exactly one year, which expires tomorrow, from the time St. James' church, Twenty-third and Guerrero streets, was destroyed by fire, the dedication services will be observed. Archbishop P. W. Rhinard will officiate tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

THE CHURCH has been remodeled at a cost of about $50,000. It has a seating capacity of 1500, while the church formerly seated 1250. The building is absolutely fireproof. It is said to be one of the best churches here in point of natural light facilities and modern conveniences.

PLAN EASTER RAILS.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The members of the Yacht Club will give their Easter ball at Scottish Rite hall Wednesday evening April 10. The best of directors have placed the musical program in charge of Paul Steinhardt.

5-YEAR-OLD GIRL ON WAY TO OREGON

Abandoned by Mother in Los Angeles She Travels Northward Alone.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—"My name is Eva Walton. Am 5 years old, going on 6. I am going to my aunt at Woodburn, Oregon."

The above note was pinned to a neat little dress worn by a pretty little girl with blond hair and brown eyes, who stepped from the Pacific Navigation Company's big tugboat, the Harvard, which arrived from Los Angeles this morning.

According to the passengers on the steamer, and a letter received by Mrs. Emily Webb Giesy of the Travelers' Aid, who met the child and saw that she made her train connections for the north, the little girl was deserted by her mother on the streets of Los Angeles several days ago. When Eva was found wandering about by a policeman she had a bundle in her arms containing a child's full outfit of wearing apparel. In her pocket was a note written by the mother, which told a sad story of a man's duplicity.

The letter was forwarded to the little girl's aunt at Woodburn, near Salem, Ore., and the latter sent money to pay the child's passage to that place.

Eva was treated like a little queen by the officers of the ship and the passengers. One wealthy woman aboard has written to Eva's aunt and has offered to adopt her.

REGULATION OF TRUSTS URGED

Don't Strangle Big Business, Declares Vice President of New York Bank.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—That the remedy for all trust and corporation evils lies not in their disruption or the strangulation of their efficiency, but in their regulation with due regard to their rights and objects, was the opinion expressed by Joseph T. Talbot, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, before today's session of the American Academy of Political and Social Science Convention.

"We are witnessing in the twentieth century," he said, "more universal, insistent and determined demands on the part of the masses everywhere for extension of civil and political rights than at any time in history. The significance of this world-wide unrest may be summed up in a phrase. It is an awakening of the people, a realization of their power and supremacy. That the movement in this country to regulate and control capital eventually will result in good to the masses cannot be doubted. The best interests of the public will be served by the preservation of large corporations and combinations of capital. The remedy for all trust and corporation evil lies not in their disruption, nor in the strangulation of their efficiency, but in their regulation, with due regard to their rights and objects."

FAMOUS CASE AT LAST NEAR TRIAL

Charles H. Hyde, Accused of Bribery, to Have Hearing Monday.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The trial of Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain of New York, on charges of bribery in connection with the alleged misuse of the city's funds said to have been deposited by him in the now defunct Carnegie Trust Company, will begin on Monday in the State Supreme Court before Justice Seabury.

It appears that no possible methods the defendant can take could secure a further postponement of his case, which has been delayed for months by the various activities of his attorneys.

The case of Hyde has attracted more widespread attention than anything else in connection with alleged irregularities in the city government since the Mayor Van Wyck scandals a number of years ago. President Joseph B. Reichman, of the Carnegie Trust Company and William J. Cummins, a director of the company, said to be its moving spirit, have already been tried and convicted on charges growing out of the failure of the trust company.

Hyde's case will bring forth a repetition of much of the testimony that was given in those two cases, and it is possible also that Reichman and Cummins will be brought into court to give evidence.

HANDSOME APARTMENTS

The Bauer Apartments to Be Ready for Guests Monday.

Another evidence of the desirability of this city as a residence section is in the constantly increasing numbers of new hotels and apartment houses that are being erected. The latest addition to the list is the Bauer apartments at Nineteenth street and Broadway, which opens its doors tomorrow to receive tenants.

Ralph Kramer is the lessee of the building and he has furnished and equipped the same in a very fine manner. All of the latest "dinks" and devices of the most up-to-date apartment houses are installed in its forty-seven suites. Of this number of suites some are reserved for bachelor quarters. It is a handsome, safe and sound reinforced concrete building—one of the finest and newest additions to this city of fine homes.

"THE COMING AMERICAN." SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Rev. W. Nat Friend will give another in his series of picture sermons tomorrow night at Howard Presbyterian church, Baker and Oak streets. His subject will be "The Coming American."

"VALUE OF BALLOT." SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—"The Social Value of the Ballot" will be the subject of Rev. William Rader's sermon tomorrow evening at Calvary Presbyterian church, Jackson and Fillmore streets.

TROUT SEASON TO OPENS TOMORROW

Fishing for Speckled Beauties Legal After First of April; Streams Filled.

Trout fishing will be legal tomorrow, the first of the month, and the men who love to wander by the rippling brook or the rolling river will be out in force to make their first try of the year for the elusive fishes.

Anglers will spend the first part of the season fishing the streams near the coast. Good reports have been received from most of the streams in the vicinity of this city and there is likely to be many good baskets taken during the early days of the season.

After their long respite from fishing the devotees of the rod and reel are keen to get out and start casting. The new law that allows steelhead fishing with rod and reel on tidalwater all the year round has kept the most enthusiastic of the anglers from worrying themselves to death during the close season for trout, but like all measures that restrict the new law has only given the fishermen a temporary reprieve for the open season.

The streams in Marin county are said to be well stocked with trout and there will be a lot of anglers along the banks of the Paper Mill creek and other creeks that are easy of access to the fishermen of the city. It is not expected that many fish will be taken with the fly in the early part of the season and most of the hooks will be baited with worms or roe, but there are many anglers who think that they can lure the fish with flies, and they will start out with the intention of giving the trout a chance to rise to an artificial lure if they feel like it.

While some of the streams in Santa Clara county are low, the bigger creeks are in good shape at the opening of the season. San Lorenzo is expected to provide good fishing right from the start of the season.

WOMEN PIONEERS ELECT OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Society of California Pioneers elected officers and directors for the year at their meeting yesterday, with the following result:

Mrs. Timothy Guy Phelps, president; Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. John Burnett, Mrs. J. G. Bucknall, Mrs. Jerome Madden and Mrs. Burke Holaday, vice-presidents; Mrs. Henry P. Union, recording secretary; Mrs. G. A. Shurtlet, corresponding secretary; Miss Caroline A. Snook, re-elected treasurer; Mrs. L. A. Hathaway, historian; Miss Josephine F. Daniels, librarian.

The directors are: Mrs. A. E. Buckingham, Mrs. W. Romaine, Mrs. E. L. Hunt, Mrs. J. L. Martel, Mrs. J. W. Burnham, Mrs. W. T. Fonda and Mrs. J. N. Easton.

TRADING QUIET ON LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, March 30.—Trading was quiet on the Stock Exchange today and there was no special feature. The market was firm, with railway shares showing a tendency to advance. Mining issues were easy. Discounts were easier here and at Paris.

EARLY HISTORY SERMON.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—At Park Congregational church, 1640 Hayes street, the pastor, Rev. Charles C. Champlin, will give a short address tomorrow evening on "The Early Trials of Our Christian Forefathers." Illustrated with moving pictures.

SALMON FLEET TO CURRY NORTHWARD

Ships Are Being Placed In Condition for Season in Alaska Waters.

The first active movement on the part of the big fleet of packers flying the North Alaska Salmon Company's flag began yesterday when the steam tender George F. Haller tied up at the local yards of the Pacific Shipbuilding Company, to be put in readiness for the coming passage to the northern waters. The Haller will have her engines thoroughly inspected and other repairs attended to. With the completion of the repairs to the Haller the little tender will ship supplies and cannery hands and will sail for Bristol Bay, where she will be stationed during the coming fishing season. The action of the Haller is the signal for the big windjammers of the North Alaska fleet to get ready for their northern destinations. Although none of these vessels have as yet been put on the ways for overhauling in preparation for the coming season, they will probably begin their repairs this week and it is reported that several will sail during the coming week.

The Alaska Packers' Association's fleet has been showing considerable activity during the past few weeks and this fleet will probably be clear of this port before the end of April. The ship Star of Lapland, of the Alaska Packers' fleet, was shifted from her berth on the mudflats yesterday afternoon to the United Engineering Works by the Redstock tugs Sea Fox and Sea Prince. She will be overhauled and will then sail for the north.

LARGER FLEET GOING.

According to advices received by the packing companies present indications point to an early breakup in the ice in Bering sea, which will mean the rushing of the packers of the various salmon and codfishing fleets along the entire coast. The ice has already opened up, according to the report, to such an extent that it will be possible to begin operations by the gold dredges in and around Nome two months earlier than usual. This is evident in practically all of the "fishponds" up north and should everything run smooth a record breaking "catch" will be made this season. Vessels coming from the coast are expected to increase the number of vessels going to the northern fisheries this season will be nearly 50 per cent larger than those of previous years. This will undoubtedly mean a cut in the market price of salmon next year because of the immense competition.

WILL INCREASE FLEET.

That the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, the yards of which are located on the local waterfront, is making strenuous efforts to increase its already large fleet of lumber carriers, was learned yesterday evening when officials of the company admitted that several contracts for new vessels had been let to coast shipbuilding concerns. The company officials gave out the opinion that they were going on a new vessel at the Mathey shipyards at Gray's Harbor, where a vessel of the "class of the coast lumber carrier" is being built. The new craft will bear the appellation of Isakson and will be in operation late in May. It is said that several other contracts for vessels will soon be let by the E. K. Wood officials, but the local authorities of the company declared that they were not aware of this.

HAS ROUGH VOYAGE.

Both crafts, when in their prime, were important carriers in the big Carson-Dolbeert fleet, but the introduction of the steam lumber carrier and the small lumber carrier of the two being built being too diminutive to follow their owners' profit they were put in the mud near Bureka, where they have lain idle for the past few years. The vessels, which are something over thirty years of age, having been built in 1881.

After a rough and somewhat unpleasant run the big freight and passenger steamer O. M. Kellogg of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, arrived here this morning and tied up at Long wharf, where she is discharging 600 tons of merchandise and is picking up a 500-ton cargo of freight. The big seamer will sail late today for the Pacific coast. The steamer Scout of the Southern Pacific, which recently burned to the water's edge in her slip at Sausalito, is at the Standard Engine Company's wharf having a 150-horsepower engine installed. The vessel will be electric-lighted, carrying an 8-horsepower engine of Standard make together with other paraphernalia used in an electric-lighting outfit. She will have a fire pump forward to provide against any danger from that source.

SHIP GOES ON WAYS.

The schooner O. M. Kellogg of the Charles Nelson fleet went on the ways of the United Engineering Works yesterday afternoon. She will receive a general overhauling, after which she will sail for the north after a lumber cargo. The schooner Scout of the Southern Pacific, which recently burned to the water's edge in her slip at Sausalito, is at the Standard Engine Company's wharf having a 150-horsepower engine installed. The vessel will be electric-lighted, carrying an 8-horsepower engine of Standard make together with other paraphernalia used in an electric-lighting outfit. She will have a fire pump forward to provide against any danger from that source.

HADLEY TO HEAD
SAN FRANCISCO ORCHESTRA

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—With the presentation of a three-year contract to Henry Hadley by the Musical Association of San Francisco, and the intimation of Hadley that he will enter into a similar agreement to that of the San Francisco orchestra looks to be upon a firm basis. Hadley's salary will be $10,000 a year, the same amount which has been paid him for the present season.

Next season will find the symphony orchestra a much more efficient organization than it was possible to achieve in a single season, and it will attempt performances of a more difficult nature than any on this year's program.

A series of ten symphony concerts and ten of the popular "pop" has already been outlined. Among the compositions which it is proposed to undertake are Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, Brahms' Fourth Symphony, Planck's in D minor, Kalinnikov's "The Great Gate of Kiev," Schubert's C major, Schubert First Symphony and Dvorak's "From the New World." In addition Hadley will interpret his own Third Symphony.

The first concert will probably take place in November.

CONFIDENCE IN OAKLAND'S FUTURE

The Phoenix Milling Co. of Sacramento, who have had an agency in this city for several years, have recently purchased a large site at Third and Grove streets (going to the increase in business they are now erecting a modern distillery plant, which will be completed in about two weeks. They are the manufacturers of the well known brand of Phoenix Family Flour and also make a specialty of white and poultry supplies.

The White House

ESTABLISHED 1854

ENTRANCES
GRANT AVENUE SUTTER STREET POST STREET

EASTER APPAREL FOR WOMEN, MISSES, GIRLS, BOYS AND INFANTS AT POPULAR PRICES

The White House DIRECTS ATTENTION TO THE LARGE AND EXCLUSIVE ASSORTMENT OF WOMEN'S, MISSES', GIRLS', MEN'S, BOYS' AND INFANTS' APPAREL, INCLUDING COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, MILLINERY, PARASOLS, WAISTS, NECKWEAR, GLOVES, JEWELRY, HAND BAGS, VEILS, HOSIERY, CORSETS, MUSLIN AND MERINO UNDERWEAR, MEN'S FURNISHINGS, ETC., FOR EASTER.

IN THE COAT AND SUIT DEPARTMENTS

PLAIN TAILORED SUITS IN NAVY BLUE SERGE, GRAY AND TAN WHIPCORD..... $25 AND $27.50
FANCY NAVY WHIPCORD SUITS..... $27.50 AND $30

IN THE WAIST DEPARTMENT—SPECIAL PRICES

WAISTS MADE OF VOILE AND LINGERIE, TRIMMED WITH IRISH OR CLUNY LACE, HIGH OR DUTCH NECK..... $1.25
WAISTS MADE OF WASH CREPE, IRISH LACE, TRIMMED, COLORS BLACK, NAVY, RED WISTARIA..... $8.75
WAISTS MADE OF VOILE, ELABORATELY TRIMMED WITH FILET, VALUES UP TO $3.75..... $2.25
NET WAISTS, TRIMMED WITH BLACK AND WHITE, VALUE $6.75..... $4.95
NET WAISTS, TRIMMED WITH BLACK, NAVY OR PISSELL..... $7.25

IN THE MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

TRIMMED HATS FOR EASTER WEAR COMPRISE A NEW IMPORTATION OF PARIS MODELS AS WELL AS DESIGNS FROM The White House WORKROOMS.
The White House WILL PLACE ON SALE COMMENCING TOMORROW, MONDAY, CHILDREN'S TRIMMED HATS, TAILORED AND FANCY, SUITABLE FOR SCHOOL OR DRESS WEAR AT..... $3.75, $4.50, $5, $7.50
WOMEN'S DRESS AND TAILORED HATS ESPECIALLY PRICED AT..... $12.50 AND $15

SALE OF SILKS AT 85c A YARD COMMENCING MONDAY

FANCY STRIPED TAFFETAS AND MESSALINES, REGULAR $1.50, BLACK TAFFETA AND MESSALINES, 1 YARD WIDE, REGULAR $1.25, BLACK AND WHITE STRIPED SILK SERGE, REGULAR $1.25
ALL THE ABOVE SPECIALLY PRICED AT 85c YARD
SILK REMNANTS 1/2 OFF MARKED PRICES.

WASH GOODS DEPARTMENT SPECIALS

20,000 YARDS 36-INCH COARSE, COLORED LINENS, IN ALL THE LEADING SHADES, REGULAR PRICE 85c YARD..... 40c YARD
BORDERED GINGHAMS, IRISH DIMITIES, 40-INCH BORDERED, BATHES, ANDERSON'S GINGHAMS, COLORED POPLINS, EXCEPTIONAL VALUES AT..... 25c YARD
ALSO A NEW IMPORTATION OF WHIPCORDS, CORDUROY, STRIPED AND CHECKED LINENS AND CRASHES FOR THE ONE PIECE DRESSES.

IN THE JEWELRY DEPARTMENT

JEWELRY NOVELTIES FOR EASTER GIFTS, COMPRISING MESH BAGS AND VANITY CASES, EARRINGS, PEARL NECKLACES, COLLARS, PENDANTS, ETC., ALSO A COMPLETE LINE OF STERLING SILVER PHOTO FRAMES AND NOVELTIES AT REASONABLE PRICES.

IN THE RIBBON DEPARTMENT

THE LATEST STYLE OF RIBBONS FOR HAT TRIMMINGS, EITHER PLAIN OR FANCY WEAVES, IN THE NEWEST COLORINGS.
SPECIAL SALE OF IMPORTED FANCY VELVET AND SATIN MILLINERY RIBBON, 7 INCHES WIDE, REGULAR $2 AND $2.50..... AT 75c YARD

GLOVES, NECKWEAR AND VEILINGS

LONG GLOVES WITH THE HEAVY CROCHET EMBROIDERY IN BLACK AND WHITE..... $3.50 AND $4.50 PAIR
AN UNUSUALLY LARGE SHOWING OF COLLAR AND CUFF SETS OF HAND EMBROIDERED, LACE TRIMMED, AND REAL AND IMITATION LACE FROM..... $1 TO $10 SET IN THE VEILING SECTION WILL BE SEEN THE NEWEST IDEAS IN BLACK AND WHITE AND WHITE MESH VEILINGS, FROM..... 50c TO $2.50 YARD

NEW FANCY LINENS

25 DOZEN CRIFFONIER SCARFS, CLUNY LACE, MORAVIAN EMBROIDERY, 18X36..... $3.00 EACH
25 DOZEN DRESSING TABLE SCARFS, CLUNY EDGE, MORAVIAN EMBROIDERY, 18X45..... $4.00 EACH
25 DOZEN BUREAU SCARFS, CLUNY LACE EDGE, MORAVIAN EMBROIDERY, 18X34..... $4.50 EACH
20 DOZEN CENTER PIECES, CLUNY LACE EDGE, MORAVIAN EMBROIDERY, 24-INCH..... $2.25 30-INCH..... $3.00 36-INCH..... $3.75
BARGAINS IN ODD DOYLIES, CENTERPIECES AND TABLE COVERS, SLIGHTLY SOILED FROM HANDLING AT ABOUT 1/2 PRICE.

CHINA AND GLASSWARE SECTION

OPEN STOCK DINNER SERVICES AS FOLLOWS:
WHITE AND GOLD SEMI-PORCELAIN, 100-PIECE SET..... $28.75
WHITE AND GOLD SEMI-PORCELAIN, 52-PIECE SET..... $15.50
BLUE AND WHITE SEMI-PORCELAIN, 100-PIECE SET..... $33.00
BLUE AND WHITE SEMI-PORCELAIN, 52-PIECE SET..... $18.00
NO. 5473 SERVICE, DECORATED WITH ROSEBUD AND BLACK GRECIAN BORDER, 100-PIECE SET..... $69.50 52-PIECE SET..... $43.50
NO. 2012, THE WHITE HOUSE DINNER SERVICE, 100-PIECE SET..... $84.50
THE WHITE HOUSE DINNER SERVICE, 52-PIECE SET..... $47.00
NO. 6009 G. D. A. ACID GOLD SERVICE, 100-PIECE SET..... $131.50
G. D. A. ACID GOLD SERVICE, 52-PIECE SET..... $67.75
THE ABOVE SETS CAN BE PURCHASED IN ANY QUANTITY AND WILL BE KEPT AS STOCK PATTERNS.

CUT GLASS. SPECIAL VALUES

8-INCH VASES..... $1.75 10-INCH VASES..... $2.50
5-INCH COMFORTS..... $2.00 6-INCH COMFORTS..... $2.75
SPOON TRAYS..... $1.50 CEREAL TRAYS..... $2.75
SUGAR AND CREAM SETS..... $3.75 6-INCH NAPPIES..... $1.50
WATER PITCHERS..... $3.50

COMPLETE LINE OF EASTER FAVORS AND CARDS

Raphael Weill & Co. Inc.
SAN FRANCISCO.

For One Week Only

I am throwing a bomb into the clothing trade—right before Easter too

MEN'S $20, $25 and $30
SUITS

Such Well Known Makes as Schloss Bros. Vogue
Character Clothes,
National Student and Union Made Clothes

$14.85

The uptown merchants have "got to quit kicking my dawg around." Maybe I haven't got a fancy-looking store, but I am not too proud to buy a busted merchant's stock and sell it at half price.

They try to make you think I can't give you the values, but you bet your life my customers know more about values than theirs do. My customers have to work for their money—they have to make it buy more than the fellow who gets his money easy.

Now if you're not too stiff-necked, get busy. These suits mean a saving of about half to you. They are all this season's new styles—tailored right up to the minute and the fabrics are the very best that money can buy.

I'll guarantee you that any suit you buy here can't be duplicated for less than $20, $25 or $30 up town.

Hirschfeld's
THE NAME WITH A GUARANTEE

829-831 Broadway
Next Door to S. W. Cor. 9th St. Opposite Peoples Water Co.

SHRINERS' MONSTER CIRCUS TO OPEN WITH BRILLIANT PARADE

AL G. BARNES' WILD ANIMALS WILL BE IRRESISTIBLE MAGNET

A. M. POULSEN (with the pony), who will lead the Shriners' Clowns. The other portrait is of ALPHEUS KENDALL.

Aahmes Patrol Band, One of Features of Big Show, Rallies Populace to Eager Enthusiasm Over Four-Day Exhibition Near Lake Merritt

With a band playing and banners flying, the huge automobile used during the week for the accommodation of sight-seeing tourists visiting Oakland, chugged about the streets of Oakland last night notifying the passerby that the Oakland Shriners will hold a four-day circus in co-operation with the Al G. Barnes' wild animal show on the shores of Lake Merritt commencing tomorrow. The band was the Aahmes Patrol Band of the Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

The Aahmes Patrol Band will continue the nightly concert about the streets to-morrow night and Monday night advertising the circus. The big sightseeing automobile, has been converted into a satisfactory band wagon, and will be used during the parade Monday morning when the Shriners, the Oakland police department and the 350 wild and trained animals of the Barnes' show will pass through the streets in full dress parade.

Unusual interest has been aroused in the performances to be given next week.

The Oakland Temple of the Mystic Shrine is preparing to visit Los Angeles, to attend the session of the Imperial Council of the Shriners in May, at which some 800,000 visitors from the East will be present. The Oakland Shriners are planning to take literature advertising Oakland to the Imperial Council session and will further advertise this city by making an attempt to carry away the drill team prize with the uniformed Aahmes Patrol from Oakland.

The Aahmes Patrol is recognized as one of the most clever drill teams in California. During the four-day circus on the shores of Lake Merritt the drill team will give a variety of exhibition drills, displaying figure eights, crosses, pyramids, spirals and other maneuvers. The drill team in uniform will also be a feature of the circus parade Monday morning.

PARADE TOMORROW.

The parade will start at 10 o'clock Monday morning. It will be led by a platoon of mounted Oakland police. The police will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability as horsemen, as the circus is to provide the mounts to be used. The equestrian art has not been made a part of the course of study for the Oakland force, but many of the men have attained some proficiency in riding and will display their ability.

The Al G. Barnes' circus is one of the best now touring the United States. The show has been wintering at Venice, Cal., and is on the commencement of its annual tour with a number of new thrillers in the way of wild animal training.

HARD FOR CIRCUSES.

At one time, there was a popular misconception in regard to circus folk on the part of churchgoers. They regarded the followers of the "white tops" as a body totally devoid of any moral sensibilities. In some instances it is no doubt that they were true. But that was long ago.

Half a century ago there were aggregations organized for the sole purposes of robbing the unwary. The men who were back of the thieves called their enterprise a circus. The word, however, was but a magnet to get the people to the show grounds, where they could be fleeced out of their savings. The ticket sellers were paid no salaries, what they got was what they could get from the crowds. There were only a few moral enterprises, fortunately. But, nevertheless, such aggregations have hurt the circus business.

Today circuses are owned and operated by keen, wide-awake business men. Such fellows would no doubt be successful in any other line of work. Business men have long since realized that there is but one successful route in the long run, and that is the path of honesty.

CHURCHMEN ATTEND.

There were times when members of churches were even forbidden to attend a circus. Today, though, the most conservative churchmen in the world, the bishops, prelates, cardinals, etc., all agree that the circus with its trained animals is one of the cleanest, most entertaining and interesting exhibitions to be seen.

It might be an interesting fact to state that just that some of the most successful circus men today are the sons of ministers of the gospel. The Sells Brothers, who came from a little village in Ohio and who before their death became circus magnates, were the sons of a Methodist preacher. And it is so with at least four other of the large circus proprietors of today.

There are more than 400 employees of the Al G. Barnes' Circus. An inventory shows that exactly twenty-three are the sons of ministers, and it is particularly interesting to note that 40 per cent of the clowns are sons of ministers. Several members of Barnes' executive staff are also the sons of ministers. Floyd King, the general press agent for the show, is the son of one of the leading Methodist ministers of the South, who died several years ago.

SUNDAY IS REST DAY.

Members of the circus always look forward with keen anxiety to the Sabbath day. No pilgrim of the "white top" ever looks with disfavor upon the seventh day. For then it is a day of rest, as far as possible. Of course some work must be done around a circus Sunday, but never anything that which is absolutely essential for the comfort of man and beast.

Tote Dunder, the principal clown with the show, is a sort of exhorter. Frequently on Sunday afternoons he secures the consent of Barnes to use the sidewalk tent for religious services. Several members of Barnes' executive staff are also the sons of ministers. It is safe to say that these men of God all affirm that they never had an opportunity of addressing a more attentive body.

As pilgrims with no abiding place, wandering upon the face of the earth, here today and there tomorrow, showmen are sometimes looked upon suspiciously. However, for the most part, they are more loyal than may be found connected with one of the big circuses.

NOT A SMALL MINT.

There is a popular misapprehension regarding the profits of the circus business. Some of the large organizations have continued in existence for periods of several years without returning a cent on the investment or at an actual operating loss. Losses strongly financed tented shows succumb. The circus is an infallible register of the monetary condition of the country. Hard times are reflected in it and prosperity fills it with joyous evidence.

The daily expenses of the Al G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus is placed by the management at over $2000, and a moment's calculation discloses that the receipts of this amount of money is not the quick operation surface conditions often indicate.

Experienced circus owners reckon that

G. 1122 PHONES Home A-3112

White SEWING MACHINE

The machines used in the Oakland schools are the White Sewing Machine. New Machines Sold on Easy Payments. Liberal Discounts for Cash.

|                                     |       |
|-------------------------------------|-------|
| Good drop machines as cheap as..... | 9.00  |
| Wheeler & Wilson.....               | 12.00 |
| Latest Singer Drop-Head.....        | 14.00 |
| White Rotary from.....              | 20.00 |

Box top machines from two dollars up with all attachments.

All machines cash or time. Renting a Specialty.

White Sewing Machine Co.
470 11TH ST., OAKLAND.

Aluminum Rubber Plates.
White Cross Dental Co.
7th and Broadway.
Orte. Oregon's Drug Store.
Plates, $5.00. Crowns, $1.00.
Dentures, $5.00. To $12.
Phone, OAK 2415. German Spoken.

Our Perpetual Policy:

"Always the Best Values"

You Are Cordially Invited to Attend the Opening of Our

New Store

568-572 Fourteenth St., Bet. Clay and Jefferson

Tomorrow

Monday, April 1st, at 10 a. m.

We have spared neither effort nor expense to make our new quarters comfortable, commodious and convenient. We have utilized every modern idea and equipment to afford you better service.

Toggery
CLOAK & SUIT HOUSE

568-572 Fourteenth Street, Bet. Clay and Jefferson

The Daylight Store

Every inch of space in our new store is flooded with light—Daylight. This is a feature we deem worthy of special mention.

Keeping Pace with Advancing Standards

In nothing has America progressed more in recent years, than in music.

The days when European musicians coming here, could legitimately criticize their audiences—when famous Symphony Orchestras played to half-filled houses—are passed.

It is significant that coincident with this growth in musical taste has come a growth in appreciation for

The Weber

Today the Weber is receiving more distinguished honors than any other piano in America. Here, it is being used by the greatest pianists and singers who visit these shores. Abroad, the demand for it is becoming so large, that one of the best equipped factories in all Europe is now being erected near London for the exclusive manufacture of Weber Pianos.

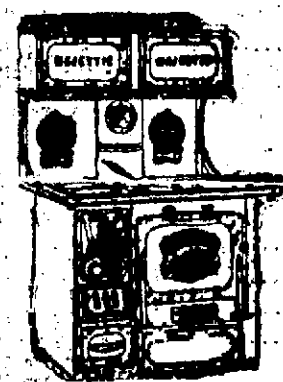

You are cordially invited to visit our showrooms and by hearing it, learn why the Weber is the best piano on the market, for your home.

KOHLER & CHASE
473 Twelfth St., Bacon Building, Oakland.

The authorities of which will grant a concession to work it on condition of receiving 12 per cent of the net profits and $2000 a year. Two business have been made at a cost of $25,000 each, but they were not successful.

D. Noble of 334 Forty-second avenue complained to the police at noon that she had been robbed by two young women while having her fortune told in a Pine street clairvoyant agency. Mrs. Noble entered the place to have her palm read and when she left she found that a purse containing $20

Prof. Becker
The World's Greatest Chef to Lecture in Oakland

Prof. Becker will lecture on the art of Economical & Practical Home Cooking, management and superior merits of the great Majestic Range—Professor Becker is sent out by the factory of the Great Majestic Range on lecturing tours, which cover the principal cities of the United States.

Lectures and demonstrations will be held on the third floor of our building every afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m. Take elevator.

FREE

A Great Majestic Range

During demonstration week we are going to give away absolutely free a $75 Great Majestic Range to one of the ladies attending the lectures.

$10.00 Worth of

Cooking Utensils FREE

Any lady who wishes to purchase a Great Majestic Range during demonstration week will receive $10 worth Aluminum Cooking Utensils or any other kind of merchandise in our store, FREE.

P. S.—No one will be urged to buy a range during demonstration week.

Maxwell Hardware Co.
ALWAYS RELIABLE

1320-1328 Washington St.

481 Fourteenth St.

CANNOT AGREE IN SUGAR TRUST CASE

Jury, After 13 Hours' Deliberation, Reports That It Is Unable to Bring Verdict.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The jurors in the trial of the sugar trust men indicted for conspiracy reported a disagreement at 1:30 o'clock this morning after being out 13½ hours. Judge Hand asked:

"Gentlemen, do you think you can agree?"

"We are absolutely certain that we cannot agree," replied Foreman Babb.

"You are discharged from the case," was the remark of Judge Hand, who then left the bench.

The jurors stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction.

DUE TO STATUTE.

Jurors willing to discuss the case said the failure to agree was due to the statute of limitations, the majority believing that even if there had been a conspiracy, which some were not willing to admit except for the sake of argument, the statute of limitations barred the government from taking action. In their mind there was no evidence that the conspiracy had continued beyond the time when the alleged acts were outlawed by time.

The accused men were:

John E. Parsons, aged 55, for more than a generation a leader of the American bar.

Washington B. Thomas, who succeeded the late Henry O. Havemeyer, founder of the giant combination as its executive head.

Arthur Donner, until recently treasurer of the company.

George H. Freiler, a director with the other three at the time the alleged conspiracy to restrain trade was made and executed through a loan of $1,250,000 to Seely.

All of them except Freiler live in New York. His home is in Philadelphia. For many years he was the manager of the sugar trust's refinery in that city. All of them have been conspicuous in the business life of the nation for more than a generation.

ARE ASTONISHED.

Judge Hand's charge to the jury was so favorable to the defendants that even the four assistants who have been aiding him in the prosecution expressed astonishment. They felt almost certain that after Judge Hand had finally turned the case over to the jury at 12:15 this afternoon the jurors would hardly let their seats before returning a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Parsons and his chief counsel, Delaney Nicolli, and R. V. Lindbury, principal trial lawyer of the trust, even indulged in hope before the judge had concluded his two-hour charge.

No More Pain!

A Trip to the Dentist Now a Pleasure Instead of a Horror; Discovery of Terrythesia Is Greatest Triumph of Dental Science.

If you know of a dentist who could bore into a sensitive tooth, excavate a cavity or remove a live nerve without causing you a particle of pain, would you hesitate about going to him when your teeth are aching? Certainly not. Well, that is just what I can do for you.

I realize that you are skeptical when I make this statement. Other dentists have promised you the same thing, but they always failed to do what they claimed. You found upon investigation that the term "painless dentistry" was merely a catch-phrase used by charlatans to lure you into their offices. As a result, when I told you that I can perform every class of dentistry, from the simplest filling to the most difficult root work, absolutely painlessly, you do not believe me.

I don't blame you, because, no doubt you have been deceived many times. However, I am ready to demonstrate my method to you and prove that I do exactly what I say. It only takes a couple of minutes to apply my Terrythesia, and then if I hurt you, why, you are at liberty to get up and walk out of my office without being obligated in any way.

I'll admit that painless dentistry was an impossibility until I perfected Terrythesia, but through this discovery it has become a reality.

Terrythesia is the most important discovery in the history of dental science, for it eliminates the pain, making it possible to execute all work on the teeth in a thorough manner. I have perfected my method so that it has the same effect in every case. I do not give you gas nor put you under the influence of any drug. Terrythesia simply numbs the tooth while it is being prepared. There is no danger and no bad effects.

Think what Terrythesia means to you—no nerve-racking pain, no loss of time on account of sensitive teeth, and the satisfaction of having the work done properly. I can drill out the worst tooth during one visit. This is a boon to busy people. After a trip to my office you can go back to your work or to your home with steady nerves and a clear brain instead of feeling as if you were bordering on a collapse.

I want to impress upon you that I combine skill with my painless method. All of my work is guaranteed, and I know that its quality will hold your patronage. My patients are sending their friends to me, which proves that my work gives satisfaction. I can please the most particular.

I also make a specialty of the Rex Alveolar Method of restoring missing teeth without plates, which I am the originator. If you have lost some of your teeth and your dentist has told you that you will require a plate, then by all means see me before having it made.

DR. TERRY
THE DENTIST WHO NEVER HURTS

1205 Broadway, Cor. 13th (over Owl Drug Store)
Oakland.
San Francisco Office: 227 Pacific Bldg., 4th and Market Streets.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY BILL IS SIGNED

Governor Attaches Signature to Be Measure; Election April 9.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 30.—Illinois voters will have the privilege of expressing their choice of the presidential candidates as the nominee of their respective parties at the general primary to be held throughout the State on April 9.

The presidential preferential primary bill, which passed the Senate yesterday, was passed by the House today and signed by Governor Deneen late this afternoon.

The bill provides for a preferential vote by congressional districts for district delegates to national conventions and a state-wide preference for delegates at large. In the best Democratic and Republican national conventions Illinois will have fifty district delegates and eight delegates at large.

President Taft's supporters were the first to sign the petition and his name will be first on the ballot.

Petitions are in circulation for Theodore Roosevelt and Senator La Follette, Republicans, and Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson, Democrats.

The new law will break up the unit rule that the Democratic party always has invoked for Illinois—that is, the rule whereby the entire delegation was voted the way the majority wished or the State convention instructed.

CIVIL WAR NURSE IS HONOR GUEST AT PARTY

Mrs. Margaret Fletcher, who served as a nurse in the Civil War, was the honored guest this week at a surprise party tendered her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raleigh on Twenty-third avenue. The affair was given by the Women's Relief Corps of Appomattox Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

The following were among those present: Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. McFarlin, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Rathbun, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Blackburn. A beautiful bouquet of carnations was presented to the nurse by the women of the post.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

Mr. Cook says that he would order the jury to acquit without leaving their seats. During their long deliberation the jury several times asked for instructions on disputed points of evidence.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

Mr. Cook says that he would order the jury to acquit without leaving their seats. During their long deliberation the jury several times asked for instructions on disputed points of evidence.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND

Francine with fright she claimed to have lost sight of her husband. He was peacefully reposing at home. She did not recognize him—he had a week of being in distress on the 5th of week Credit Plan 55 Stockton street, San Francisco, upstairs.

KIDNAPED CHINESE, CHARGE AGAINST S. F. POLICE

Attorney for Two Tong Fighters Declares Law Was Violated.

SAYS OTHER TONGS WERE BEING FAVORED

Gun Men Arrested on John Doe Warrant Charging Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—William Hoff Cook, attorney for Chinese, filed charges today with the police commissioners against the detective department, the prison department and all members of the police force who had anything to do with the arrest and transportation out of San Francisco last week of Taul Soon, Wong Wing and Ong Chong, three tong fighters.

Cook declares that the police, including Chief W. A. Rorick, who was charged with the arrest of the three, committed the offense of kidnapping and were guilty of "willful dereliction of official duty" and of "willful discrimination against arrested persons in the manner of aiding and abetting in their arrest."

He makes other charges, the burden of which are that the police had these men arrested to favor certain Chinese tongs, and that the prisoners were taken out of this city without due process of law, that their enemies might get a chance to kill them.

The manner of the arrest of the Chinese is related by Cook in his affidavit substantially as follows:

On March 22, a constable from Chiao, with the assistance of the police, arrested Taul Soon and Wong Wing and put them into the city prison.

While there a San Jose police officer named Hertel, in company with a Chinese, presented a writ for the arrest of the three, and the police, without a warrant, arrested them and took them to the city prison.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

Cook says that as soon as he learned that Taul Soon had been arrested he telephoned to the detective department. He was informed at first that no charge had been placed against the prisoner. The next time he asked he was told that a charge of being a fugitive "had been made."

Cook then called upon Judge Lawlor and arranged for his release. He was taken to the city prison and held there for two hours, and then taken to San Jose.

The next morning, in San Jose, Taul Soon was taken out of the prison and walked toward the county jail. Two blocks away from the prison a Chinese of the Hop Sing tong came up behind the policeman and fired at the prisoner, wounding him in the leg. The policeman fired upon the assailant, who was killed.

SULPHURRO

How Stewart's Liquid Compound of Sulphur Is Taken and Why It Makes Wonderful Cures

SULPHURRO THE GREATEST ENEMY OF DEADLY GERMS

Nature's Own Remedy Introduced Directly Into Blood Removes Impurities.

AND CURES RHEUMATISM.

How C. M. C. Stewart Discovery Should Be Taken to Secure Best Results to Sufferers of All Kinds.

(Copyrighted, 1912, by The C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Co., Inc.)

Sulphurro is Nature's remedy. That is why its cures are numbered by the thousands. It is a natural purifier of the blood and system—the enemy of disease in any form.

With pure blood disease is a virtual impossibility. Stewart's Liquid Compound of Sulphur is introduced directly into the blood, and by the use of the enema cleanses and purifies the human sewerage system. This feature of the use of Sulphurro is regarded as the utmost importance.

Letters of inquiry reach The C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Co. almost daily asking all sorts of questions about Sulphurro, the method of taking it, etc.

The following extracts are reproduced from the copyright booklet issued by The C. M. C. Stewart Company. Every word is worthy of your careful consideration:

Greatest Harmless Germ Destroyer.

Sulphurro is now, and probably always will be, the greatest harmless germ destroyer in existence. Disease and its germs have no greater enemy. We burn sulphur in a room to destroy germs in the air. We take it internally to destroy the disease germ accumulated in our body.

Sulphurro has long been used for the cure of Skin and Blood diseases; but owing to its insolubility only the most minute part of its power has been brought into action. Sulphurro being insoluble in water, alcohol or spirits of any kind, and all generally known harmless ingredients, is almost practically insoluble in the stomach. The greater part of the sulphur taken in the powder, or in the form of various mixtures, is never absorbed into the blood at all, but remains in the stomach and bowels, coating the lining, clogging the system and retarding circulation.

All Curative Properties Absorbed.

Notwithstanding these objections to mere mixtures of sulphur, much good has been accomplished in Blood and Skin diseases by their use. While some benefit is received from mere sulphur mixtures when they are absorbed, how much greater would be the curative power of sulphur when it is in complete solution and can all be absorbed. For many years this was considered an impossibility, but we have advanced in the science of chemistry and are now able to offer you SULPHURRO IN COMPLETE SOLUTION, not simply held in suspension as is the case with the mixtures above referred to.

Nature intended sulphur as a disinfectant for man. It is found in the water of wonderful hot springs. It is found in the vegetable and animal life. The human system should, if normal, contain a certain percentage of sulphur. The hair nearly five percent, the nails also contain it. Some of the products of the digestive juices contain large proportions of sulphur. Did it ever occur to you that nature provided your system with sulphur to act as a disinfectant?

If the laws and calls of nature have been overlooked and poison and disease germs have been allowed to accumulate, is not sulphurro Nature's own remedy for this condition?

No Lye or Poison in Sulphurro.

Sulphurro is held in solution without the use of acids, potash (LYE) or alcohol. Instead, the ingredients used are just as beneficial to the human system as the sulphur itself. The sulphur in SULPHURRO is held in complete solution, and when used as directed is absorbed into the blood, purifies it, increases circulation, hence reduces to a minimum the tendency to "take cold." The fact that all the sulphur in SULPHURRO is absorbed directly into the blood, explains the reason for taking but two or three drop doses, and the advisability of using it in baths. It further explains why it should be taken internally and indefinitely.

Through its use there is no coating of sulphur left on the lining of the stomach and bowels, as is always the case when sulphur in the powdered form is used. Sulphurro can be taken in any climate at any season of the year without fear of overdoing, as this remedy has no effect upon a well part; it solely and simply attacks impurities and drives them from the blood and the system.

Take Sulphurro Every Day.

SULPHURRO is entirely absorbed into the blood and should be taken every day (also baths as directed) until the blood is pure, and is not continued, in order to keep it so. Take it a month or so after

WELL KNOWN MAN'S U L P H U R R O

RELIEVED OF DIABETES

E. V. Adams. J. D. Thagard. THE MECRA, 610 First Avenue, 218 Union Street.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 22, 1911.

The C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Co., 310-11 Northern Bank Building, Seattle, Wash.

Gentlemen: I desire to thank you for the benefit I have received through the use of your Sulphurro preparation.

Prior to taking Sulphurro I had been told by several very able physicians that I had a very bad case of diabetes; test made by them showed 5½ per cent of sugar. In thirty days after taking Sulphurro another test made by physicians showed less than half of 1 per cent of sugar, which amount is considered normal in my case. With respect, you think you are entirely well as there may still be some impurities in the blood. After having taken the two drop doses for two weeks, it will be noticed that a finger print left on a silver knife will in a moment turn the knife dark (as sulphur darkens silver); this shows the blood has carried the Sulphurro even to the tips of the fingers.

(Signed) J. D. THAGARD.

Some may ask: "Why is Sulphurro given in such small doses if so harmful?" The answer is, Sulphurro is a germicide and it is much better to take it in small doses, allowing the system a chance to carry away the impurities than it is to take it in large doses, thereby clogging the circulation with impurities. All that medicine can do is to assist nature in its work.

Sulphurro for All Ages.

Sulphurro is good internally and externally, for all, from the baby to the great-grandmother. If taken as directed, it gives temporary relief, because it eliminates the "Uric Acid" and destroys the germ which causes the inflammation which in turn causes the soreness and swelling. It makes PERMANENT cures, because it purifies the blood and stimulates the circulation, so relieving the body of congestion and sluggishness.

After taking Sulphurro for several months many people have been surprised to discover that it has not only cured the disease for which they first started to take it, but every other ailment as well. For instance, a person taking it for Rheumatism discovered it cured Stomach trouble. Another person taking it for Rheumatism found it to be a cure for Catarrh; others taking it for the Stomach were cured of chronic constipation in addition.

Prevents Accumulation of Poison.

In this way the different diseases which Sulphurro will cure have been brought to the knowledge of many. The explanation for its curing diseases as different in character as Rheumatism, Asthma, Stomach trouble, Kidney trouble and Gonorrhea is: First, that it will cure Chronic Constipation (if taken in the Enema as directed), so preventing further accumulation of poison and disease germs from that source—the sewer pipe of the system.

It will cure Stomach trouble by taking it directly into the stomach in two-drop doses and by taking it in the Enema for the lower Bowel.

It purifies the blood by "eliminating" the Uric Acid and the poisons caused by the germs of disease. Circulation is increased, the blood being purified and the circulation increased, there is no organic trouble, the heart and lungs, but will be benefited, and few diseases, if any, beyond its power to reach if not too far advanced and instructions are followed.

Internal Uses of Sulphurro.

Dose: Sulphurro should be taken internally for all ailments, preferably before meals. Use a small amount of water, as Sulphurro is good for the Teeth, Gums and Throat and helps these parts if not diluted to excess. The dose should be measured with a medicine dropper and swallowed at once. One drop of Sulphurro should be poured into a small bottle for convenience in using the dropper; both bottles should be kept well corked. No other medicine should be used while taking Sulphurro, unless it be a mild laxative (Cathartic not after cathartics), but even then the Sulphurro Enema is far better.

ADULTS: The directions on the bottle read "Dose, two or three drops in wine glass of water three times a day," preferably before meals. We would suggest, however, that the first dose be but one drop, as once in a great while it nauseates a person at first; should it do this, do not increase the dose until it no longer has this effect. If it does nauseate it is the best evidence that you need it. Continue the treatment—persists and take a reduced quantity as directed below.

Small Doses Preferred.

There have been cases where the stomach was in bad condition, in which the patient took it as follows: One drop in a little water, shake and drink but half the water, throw the rest away (no making it fresh each time). In this way but one-half drop is taken.

For a child the full dose for a child is one drop three times a day in half wine glass of water, preferably before meals; begin with a sip of the water in which one drop was measured (make fresh each time). It is not wise to force a child to take more at first. The same is true with adults. One an estimate the size does children of different ages should take by their weight: an adult weighing 150 pounds or thereabouts might take (after a few days) eight or nine drops each day; then a child of fifty pounds would take but one-third of that amount, or three drops each day (one drop dose).

Next in importance to the dose is the Enema (directions).

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Enema Directions.

There are two methods of giving the Enema. The first is the "High Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the rectum through a tube. The second is the "Low Enema," in which the fluid is introduced into the sigmoid flexure of the colon through a tube. The "High Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of chronic constipation, as it reaches the lower Bowel and purifies the entire system. The "Low Enema" is the one to be used in all cases of Stomach trouble, as it reaches the upper Bowel and purifies the entire system.

Drapery Department

Furniture, Curtains, Rugs, Draperies

Wicker Craft Furniture

We are showing new and standard designs in Willow and Reed Furniture peculiarly distinctive from other makes. There is no furniture so adaptable to the various uses of the ordinary home as furniture of willow. There is practically no room in the house that will deny space to the graceful Willow Chair, Settee, Table or Stool. It is equally at home in the boudoir, beside the living-room fire, or on the porch or veranda, while its substantial and cleanly qualities, together with its lightness, make it a general favorite to every person in the house.

We are prepared to supply fitted Cushions of cretonnes and other materials for our chairs or divans, made in a skilled manner, buttoned and filled with silk floss.

CRETONNES—We carry the largest selection of cretonnes and printed drapery fabrics to be found on the Pacific coast, both domestic and foreign.

|                          |                            |
|--------------------------|----------------------------|
| Silkolines at 12 1/2 yd. | Grandee Cloth at 40 yd.    |
| Sateens at 25c yd.       | Chintzes at 25c yd.        |
| Dimities at 15c yd.      | Crofters Cloth at 45c yd.  |
| Cretonnes at 20c yd.     | Antoinette Rep. at 45c yd. |
| Taffetas at 35c yd.      |                            |

Imported cretonne, French and English cretonnes and chintzes, exclusive patterns and colors, in endless variety. Prices from 35c to $1.00 yard.

INDIA PRINTS, CURTAINS AND BEDSPREADS—Our assortment of India, Java and Turkish prints is the finest shown anywhere.

|                    |                   |
|--------------------|-------------------|
| Table Covers, from | 50c to $ 3.00    |
| Curtains, from     | $3.50 to $ 7.50 |
| Bedspreads, from   | $3.75 to $10.00 |

Wash Goods Section

One of the busiest spots in our entire forty departments.

"PERFOLES"—In an endless variety of this season's newest styles and colorings, 38-inch widths at 12 1/2c and 15c yard.

"JAPANESE CREPES"—Standard quality, in solid shades, stripes, checks, etc.; 30-inch width at 20c yd.

"AMERICAN ZEPHYRS"—This best of the domestic manufacture in staple and fancy designs; 32-inch widths at 15c yard.

"WASH FOLLADES"—New effects in borders, neat stripes, dots and fancy printings, in shades of blues, tans, browns, old rose, helio, black and white; 27-inch to 36-inch widths, at 25c, 30c, 35c yard.

"EXCLUSIVE NOVELTIES"—In "Voiles," "Rafines," "Swisses," "Crepes," "Tissues," "Linsens," in an assortment of this season's latest efforts, equal to any shown on the coast.

Suit Department

DRESSES—New Spring Dresses, Serge Dresses; white, navy and black, in an assortment of models, plain and fancy. $12.50 to $50.00

SILK DRESSES—Taffeta, satin, messaline and charmeuse; also foulards. $15 to $45

CHIFFON—Charmeuse, nets and lace gowns for afternoon and evening wear $35 to $125

Waists

NEW PEPLUM WAISTS in an assortment of models, beautifully trimmed — $2.50, $3.75, $5.00, $9.00 up to $21.00

SUGAR INDUSTRY IS THREATENED

Development Board to Start Campaign Against Proposed Legislation.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The California development board has sent out the following statement regarding the beet sugar industry:

"California is in grave danger of losing one of its most important industries. The action of the House of Representatives in putting sugar on the free list would seem inevitably to have that effect. The California development board, recognizing the seriousness of the situation, passed a resolution requesting the senators from California and the senators from western states to have action upon this matter deferred until a full and scientific inquiry is made into all the elements and interests involved in the situation.

"The California development board has undertaken a campaign to secure the immediate co-operation of all the commercial organizations of California, to this end, and resolutions will doubtless be passed by the various district and county organizations asking the Senate for a suspension of judgment until the legislators in Washington dealing with the question shall have full information before them to intelligently handle the matter. If duty is free it would destroy not only the beet sugar industry of California, but of the entire United States, as it would immediately come into competition with the product from Java, the Philippines, Russia, Germany, and other places, and with no guarantee that the price of sugar would be reduced to the consumer.

INDUSTRY GROWS.

"The development of this important industry in California and subsequently in the United States is interesting and significant. Ten years ago California produced only 73,000 tons of sugar, last year 162,000 tons were produced in California, as compared with 600,000 tons in the United States.

"California was the pioneer state in the production of beet sugar. The industry is today an important factor in the sugar market of the world. In this state 101,000 acres were planted to sugar beets and many thousands of acres have recently been purchased for the extension of this industry. In view of this tremendous increase it is not unreasonable to expect that the producers of California will ultimately become exporters rather than importers of sugar.

"Nearly every section of California is involved in this menace threatened by the recent Congressional action which favored free sugar, and it is only by a concentrated effort by all of the commercial organizations in the state that this danger can be avoided. It will be possible to prove to the senators of California and the western states that free sugar will only cripple a thriving industry without guaranteeing the corresponding return in the form of cheaper sugar to consumers."

UNCLE SAM SUES STEAMER FIRMS

Many Big Companies Are Accused of Forming Pools and Trust.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Suit for the dissolution of certain steamship companies engaged in traffic between New York and the Far East by way of the Suez canal was filed by the United States government in the Federal Court here today. The companies are charged with pooling freight rates and rebating to concerns who ship exclusively by their lines.

MANY ARE ACCUSED.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Announcement today that the government had filed an anti-trust suit against several of the big steamship companies transporting freight between the Atlantic coast of the United States to the Far East by way of the Suez canal comes as the result of a comprehensive investigation into the general steamship condition. Alleged pools and agreements covering other phases of American ocean trade are being investigated. The papers alleged that several big steamship companies have acquired a complete monopoly of the transportation of freight between the United States and the Far East by water.

The defendants are: The American Asiatic Steamship Company of Maine, its offices, and the Sheehan, Tomes & Co. of Great Britain said to control this company. The Anglo-American Oil Company of Great Britain. Thomas B. Royden of Liverpool, England, owner of many steamships. The Hamburg-American line. United States and China-Japan Steamship Company. Individuals doing business under the firm name of Pynch, Ely & Co., New York City, alleged to be agents of the United States and China-Japan line.

AGENTS INCLUDED.

Howard Houlder and partners, limited, Andrew Weir & Co. and Houlder Middleton & Co. of Great Britain, maintaining a line of steamships called the American-Orion line. Barber & Co., incorporated, of New Jersey and its officers. Lancashire Shipping Company, limited, of Great Britain. Rankin, Gilmore Co. of Great Britain.

Bucknall Steamship line, limited, of Great Britain, alleged proprietor of a line known as the American-Manchurian line.

Individuals doing business as Horton & Son, agents for the American-Manchurian line. Isthmian Steamship Company, limited, of Great Britain, maintaining the Isthmian line, as well as many individual agents.

ANTI-TRUST LAW USED.

The government's action was brought under the Sherman anti-trust law and sets forth that by means of agreement pools and conferences freight trade between the United States and the Philippines, China, Japan and other countries of the Far East has been monopolized by the defendants. An unlawful combination and conspiracy was alleged through two agreements, one concerning the eastward traffic and the other the westward. It was charged that the pooling agreements were made at periodic conferences in London, New York, Hong Kong and Singapore.

FRAUD IS CHARGED BY SAN FRANCISCAN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Police Judge Sullivan issued a warrant this morning for the arrest of John D. Grier for obtaining money under false pretences. The complaint is by Joseph Davis, who claims to have lost $500 at the hands of Grier.

SENATORS DRAW LOTS FOR TERMS

Term Ending In 1917 Will Be First Prize In A Queer Lottery.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A lottery in the Senate chamber will determine the respective tenure of office of the four senators from the new states of Arizona and New Mexico, who will be sworn into office next Monday.

The new senators will draw from a ballot box placed 30 feet apart as to indicate to which of three classes of senators they shall be assigned, those whose terms expire in 1917, 1919 or 1921. This method of determination is in accord with precedents.

There are now seated ninety-one senators. One Colorado senatorship is vacant. The terms of thirty-one will expire in 1913; thirty-one in 1915, and thirty in 1917. The 1917 term will be the first prize drawn. This will make all three classes even and the remaining three new senators then will draw.

The senate will determine more details later. It could decide that one state was admitted before the other and that its two senators should draw for the first 1917 term.

The last drawing was in 1907, when Senator Owen of Oklahoma drew the long term and Senator Gore the short.

KING GEORGE IS NOW BEING PAINTED

M. Gilot, the Distinguished French Artist, Comments on Opportunity.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

LONDON, March 30.—In the midst of an unusual press of state duties King George has to give M. Louis Gilot the distinguished French painter, a sitting for the coronation naval review picture which is to be presented to his majesty by the French government.

"I cannot express," said M. Gilot last night, "the gratification and honor which his majesty showed me. 'I was, I admit, profoundly moved. That was natural, was it not? To find oneself in the presence of a great sovereign is an experience which may well make the heart beat faster.'"

"But after a very few moments the King had put me entirely at my ease. I need not tell you that he speaks French admirably. He chatted to me with the greatest kindness and showed much interest in my picture. I was, of course, only making a study of him. But he gave me nearly an hour and put on his naval uniform on purpose. He 'posed' admirably and with great patience. And he promised me another sitting, which will help me very much.

Yesterday made a sketch of the Queen. Their majesties as you know, will be seen on the deck of the royal yacht with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary. I found her a good sitter, far better than most ladies. As a rule, they are restless and soon tired. Her majesty was an excellent example of concentration. She is most thoughtful and kind also. Today as I was to be at the palace and she was sitting to Mr. Llewellyn for a portrait in her coronation robes, she sent me word that I might make a study of them at the same time. This will be for my picture of the coronation ceremony."

ACCUSED BURGLAR IS REMANDED FOR TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Edward Williams, the soldier arrested in the act of holding up a man at G. Glott, 4524 Mission street, on March 26, was held to answer to the superior court this morning with bonds fixed at $3000. Williams is believed to have been responsible for the commission of several hold-ups in Oakland.

INVENTOR DIES AT HIS EASTERN HOME

WATERBURY, Conn., March 30.—Frank B. Manville, an inventor, and one of the organizers of the Manville Machine company of this city, is dead at his home in Waterville, aged 62 years. He was the inventor of machines for making hooks and eyes, for threading bicycle spokes by the rolling process, and for forming rims for bicycle wheels.

CARRIED GUN, FINED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Because he had a loaded revolver in his pocket while the war of the long men was at its height in Chinatown, Louis Sullivan was fined $10 by Police Judge Sullivan this morning. He had been charged only with carrying concealed weapons.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—A warrant was sworn out today by J. J. Button of 410 Franklin street for the arrest of Charles Brush on a charge of grand larceny. Button alleges that Brush stole $75 from a pay sack.

"77" Breaks up Grip and Colds

Humphreys' Seventy-Seven

To knock a Cold on the head, take "Seventy-seven" at the first feeling of lassitude; before you begin to sneeze and shiver; it's the first few doses that count; don't wait till your bones begin to ache, till the cough and sore throat set in; keep "Seventy-seven" handy, in your pocket, on the dresser, always within reach, and you will not have a serious Cold.

It pays to keep "Seventy-seven" handy. All dealers sell 25c or mailed.

Humphreys' Pharmacy, 1220 Broadway, N. Y. City, and all drug stores.

Cole's Down Draft Range

$50.00

This price includes an extra large six-pipe water coil, and setting up and connections free.

Why It Saves Coal

The great success of Cole's Hot Blast Heater, now world famous for fuel economy, led to the construction of Cole's Down-Draft Range, using the hot blast principle of combustion.

The Hot Blast Draft

This principle, which embodies the greatest forward step in combustion of the last half century, consists of introducing a blast of highly-heated air through the blast tube which is located in the short center immediately above the center of the fire-box. This draft forces the heated air over the upper surface of the fuel, thus oxidizing and burning the gas as it is set free from the fuel. In the ordinary range, with under draft, these gases are forced up the chimney and lost as fast as the air is supplied below. On account of the hot blast principle a Cole's Down-Draft Range will save its entire cost in fuel during its lifetime.

Other Special Features

Besides being by far the lowest-priced range of high quality and efficiency on the market, it has many other special features not found in other ranges, such as the undivided drop-door in the high closet, the sanitary leg base, the trim, smooth outlines; perfect proportions; polished malleable top; a special oven construction, great durability, and others which we shall be glad to show to anyone interested.

Very Reasonable Credit Terms if Desired

Oakland Furniture Co. Twelfth and Clay

GAME PROTECTION MEETS APPROVAL

Forty-three States Come Out in Support of Weeks and McLean Bills.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Reports soon to be published of the hearings held March 6 on the Weeks and McLean bills for federal protection of migratory game birds, show that forty-three states came out in support of this legislation.

FOUR THOUSAND STRIKE ON ROAD

Workmen Want Higher Wages on Canadian Northern Railway.

TEST CASE IS WON BY FEDERAL OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, March 30.—The federal government has won here a test case under the law which provides that efforts to set up a false commercial rating are to be regarded as criminal when made through the United States mails. The trial took place on Tuesday, as both sides proceeded with great caution in testing the law. It is understood that the authorities will undertake a number of similar prosecutions.

TEST CASE IS WON BY FEDERAL OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, March 30.—The federal government has won here a test case under the law which provides that efforts to set up a false commercial rating are to be regarded as criminal when made through the United States mails. The trial took place on Tuesday, as both sides proceeded with great caution in testing the law. It is understood that the authorities will undertake a number of similar prosecutions.

Pacific

Cloak and Suit House

(Formerly of San Francisco)

Announce

that they will open their new store at

N. E. Corner Washington and 11th Streets on Wednesday, April 3

Prior to our opening this store will close Monday and Tuesday to receive stock

Watch Papers for Tuesday's Opening Announcement

12th at Clay

We Want Your Name on Our Books

Coat and Suit Specialists

For the Easter Parade

Hats of Easter Distinction

Our stunning Hats have received unstinted praise from almost every woman who has seen them. And our prices have received almost as flattering a tribute. Tomorrow we will place on sale many new and gloriously beautiful models at

$2.95 to $35.00

Easter Suits

This Season's Cleverest Novelty Styles for Large Women, Small Women and Intermediates—Special Values at

$27.50 $30 $35

Examine any one of these suits—its fabric, the thorough way in which it is made, the lining, the artistic way in which it is adorned—and you will readily agree with us that it is the best suit you ever saw at its price.

Smart White Dresses

In Serge, Pique, Taffeta and Challie—Special values at .... $13.75 to $27.50

Special Silk Petticoats

Made in the newest ways from all-silk taffetas and messalines, in beautiful Dresden patterns and plain colors

$2.95

Our Liberal Charge System

Would it be an accommodation to pay for your Easter outfit a little at a time? We would be glad to open an account with you. Our charge patrons pay just the same prices as our cash customers and the payments can be arranged to suit your convenience.

No Extra Charge for Credit—Nothing Off for Cash

Monheim-Maxon

12th & St. Clay 12th & St. Clay

WOOL DEBATE TO END TOMORROW

Representatives Hamilton and Longworth Make Attacks on Measure.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—While a score of members who remained in their seats yesterday winked sleepily at intervals, the House proceeded today with the debate on the wool bill. Before taking up the bill of discussion an agreement was reached that general debate will end Monday afternoon and that the House on that day will meet at 11 instead of 12 o'clock.

Representatives Longworth of Ohio and Hamilton of Michigan made attacks on the Democratic measure. Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce committee, presented to the House today the formal report on a bill providing for a physical valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission. The report says those who pay transportation charges are entitled to know the real value of the railroads of the country, as well as the bonded liabilities upon which the carriers seek financial returns.

Hugh S. Magill submitted his list of campaign expenses in the canvass which he is making in Illinois for the seat in the Senate occupied by Senator Cullom.

UNITED ARTISANS ELECT MEMBERS TO ORDER

Oakland Assembly met in regular session last Monday evening in Pythian Castle. Eight applications were received and acted upon. Five candidates were elected into the assembly room and initiated. Three members were received by card. Sister Ella Watt, supreme instructor, was present and informed the assembly that arrangements were complete for the meeting which will convene here the latter part of May. The drill team of thirty-two women are working for the event. The Artisan orchestra will have charge of the social to be given April 15. Next Monday evening there will be a business session. Assembly will convene at 8:15. There will be initiation. The social committee is planning a program.

Greatest Nerve Vitalizer Known SENT FREE

A Recent Discovery. The Most Effective Nerve Strengthening Ever Found. Science. 50c Trial Package Sent Free to Any Man or Woman to Prove Its Remarkable Results.

This is the world's newest, safest, most reliable, and effective nerve invigorator, restorer, and strengthener. It brings about a change from that averted, cold, weak, lazy, don't-care-it feeling to a brighter, stronger, clear-headedness and courage which is remarkable. Its results are better than you can find in a two-weeks' vacation on a farm.

Kellogg's Santone Waters Make You Feel Fine All the Time.

This change comes rapidly. The results are lasting. It is absolutely safe, containing no injurious ingredients whatever. Absolutely different from anything that has ever before been used for nerves.

A high medical authority says: "The form of nervousness known as neurasthenia, the unique position of being the only treatment which is curative, dispensing with all elements of rest, travel, diversion of mind, dietetics and physio-mechanics."

Every man and woman suffering with faded, weak nerves, nervous prostration, excessive nervousness, brain fog, insomnia, neurasthenia, low vitality, general weariness, loss of strength and weight, or any condition which arises from poor, weak, nerves, may now get "nervine" or "nerve" clear head, courage, power, quick wit, energy, by taking this great discovery, Kellogg's Santone Waters.

FREE. Prove the results of this great discovery for nerves, FREE. It speaks for itself. A 50c trial package of this great nerve awakener will be sent free in sealed wrapper, by return mail, to every man or woman who sends his or her name and address, as instructed below. Do it today. A revelation is in store for you.

FOR MEN.—Nervine force gone! You are what your nerves are. Nothing is doing. If you feel run down from overwork or other causes, if you suffer from insomnia, "caved-in" feeling, brain fog, extreme nervousness, peevishness, gloominess, worry, cloudy brain, loss of ambition, energy and vitality, loss of weight and vigor, or the debilitating effects of tobacco or drink, send for the free trial package of Kellogg's Santone Waters.

FOR WOMEN.—If you suffer from nervous breakdown, extreme nervousness, "blue" spells, desire to cry, worry, neurasthenia, back pains, loss of weight or appetite, sleeplessness, headaches, constipation, and are all out of sorts, Kellogg's Santone Waters will make you feel that there is more to life than you ever realized before. Send today for the free trial package.

No more need of dieting, diversion, travel, or anything else. Kellogg's Santone Waters do the work for each and every one of your nerves and make you love to live. A 50c trial package of this great discovery is guaranteed—every bottle of Kellogg's Santone Waters is guaranteed to give you the name and address today for the free trial package of Kellogg's Santone Waters to F. J. Kellogg Co., 350 Hoffman Block, Battle Creek, Mich. In the city of peace, happiness and health.

FREE PACKAGE COUPON

F. J. KELLOGG CO., 350 Hoffman Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

Send me by return mail, free of charge, a 50c trial package of the wonderful nerve awakener, Kellogg's Santone Waters. I enclose 4 cents in stamps to help pay postage and packing.

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

ELSIE JANIS SOON TO PLAY OAKLAND FOR FIRST TIME

MISS ELSIE JANIS, who comes to the Macdonough Theater in "The Slim Princess."

The management of the Macdonough Theater announces the first appearance in this city of winsome Elsie Janis in "The Slim Princess" on April 8, 9 and 10. Miss Janis has enjoyed notable popularity throughout the East, where she has become one of the prime favorites of the American stage.

In "The Slim Princess," in which Miss Janis will be introduced, we find her in the guise of a harem-skirted Turkish maiden and her role is said to be one affording her unusual opportunity for the display of her remarkable talents.

"The Slim Princess" is a musical comedy in three acts, the making of which enlisted the best efforts of three of the cleverest men who devote their talents to stage production. Henry Blossom, the author of "The Red Mill" and "Mile Modiste," wrote the libretto of "The Slim Princess" after the ludicrous novelties by George Ade, the humorous philosopher. The musical score was furnished by Leslie Stuart, the English composer, whose best-known work in America is "Floradora" of tinsel fame.

Janis, Stuart, Ade and Blossom—there is a quartet to conjure with when the desired result be clean, wholesome, sprightly musical comedy. To perfect the equation of absolute certainty of success required only the fastidious taste and prodigious expenditure which always characterizes the productions bearing the artistic trademark of Charles Dillingham.

"The Slim Princess" was the big success of the season at Dillingham's Globe Theater in New York last year, and it comes here with practically the same notable cast and with precisely the same beautiful pictorial enframement and rich costuming which were everywhere remarked on the occasion of the New York opening.

Miss Janis is a host in herself, but she has very capable assistance in her job of funmaking from Joseph Cawthorn, the unctuous German comedian, whose elephant proportions and methods are in such quaint contrast to the dainty personality and piquant style of the young star. Beside Cawthorn, other important members of the company are Julia Fryer, Quennie Vassar, Florence Williams, Gertrude Baldwin, Douglas Stevenson, Oscar Ragland, Louis Baum and Neil Walton. An augmented orchestra will be under the direction of W. A. Macquinn.

desired result be clean, wholesome, sprightly musical comedy. To perfect the equation of absolute certainty of success required only the fastidious taste and prodigious expenditure which always characterizes the productions bearing the artistic trademark of Charles Dillingham.

"The Slim Princess" was the big success of the season at Dillingham's Globe Theater in New York last year, and it comes here with practically the same notable cast and with precisely the same beautiful pictorial enframement and rich costuming which were everywhere remarked on the occasion of the New York opening.

Miss Janis is a host in herself, but she has very capable assistance in her job of funmaking from Joseph Cawthorn, the unctuous German comedian, whose elephant proportions and methods are in such quaint contrast to the dainty personality and piquant style of the young star. Beside Cawthorn, other important members of the company are Julia Fryer, Quennie Vassar, Florence Williams, Gertrude Baldwin, Douglas Stevenson, Oscar Ragland, Louis Baum and Neil Walton. An augmented orchestra will be under the direction of W. A. Macquinn.

Janis, Stuart, Ade and Blossom—there is a quartet to conjure with when the desired result be clean, wholesome, sprightly musical comedy. To perfect the equation of absolute certainty of success required only the fastidious taste and prodigious expenditure which always characterizes the productions bearing the artistic trademark of Charles Dillingham.

"The Slim Princess" was the big success of the season at Dillingham's Globe Theater in New York last year, and it comes here with practically the same notable cast and with precisely the same beautiful pictorial enframement and rich costuming which were everywhere remarked on the occasion of the New York opening.

Miss Janis is a host in herself, but she has very capable assistance in her job of funmaking from Joseph Cawthorn, the unctuous German comedian, whose elephant proportions and methods are in such quaint contrast to the dainty personality and piquant style of the young star. Beside Cawthorn, other important members of the company are Julia Fryer, Quennie Vassar, Florence Williams, Gertrude Baldwin, Douglas Stevenson, Oscar Ragland, Louis Baum and Neil Walton. An augmented orchestra will be under the direction of W. A. Macquinn.

Closing Week of Our Furniture Clearance Sale

Every Stick of Furniture in the House Reduced

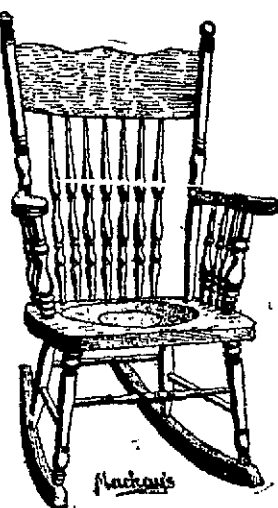

Reductions of 10 to 50 Per Cent

THE AVERAGE REDUCTION IS 25 PER CENT

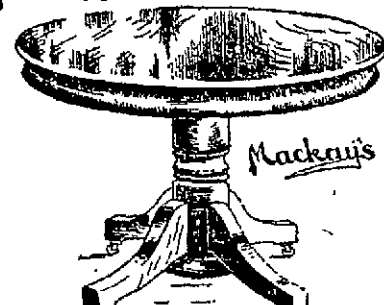

Sale Closes Saturday, April 6

You Can Have Credit, Too

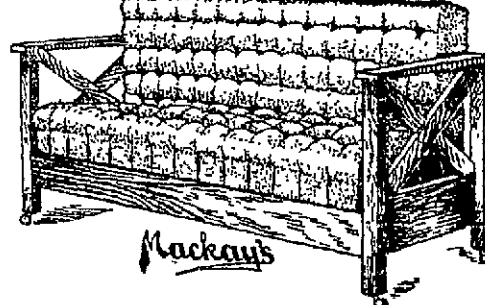

The big sale will positively close Saturday night, April 6th—only one week left in which to take advantage of a REAL home furnishing opportunity.

$2.75 ROCKER $2. In hardwood, choice of coppler, or saddle seat.

$18.50 DINING TABLE, $12.75 Solid turned oak with heavy pedestal. 42-inch top. Extends 6 feet.

$27.00 BED DAVENPORT $21.50—A day report by day and large full size bed at night. Storage box underneath. A turned oak piece upholstered in imitation leather.

$24.00 LIBRARY TABLE $19.00 Massive turned oak. Arts and Crafts piece.

For the Living Room

$6.00 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with saddle seat $4.00

$5.00 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with saddle seat $3.50

$6.00 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with saddle seat $6.50

$11.00 ARM CHAIR, turned oak, with leather seat $7.75

$11.00 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with leather seat $7.75

$12.50 ARM CHAIR, turned oak, with leather seat $9.50

$12.50 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with leather seat $9.50

$18.50 MORRIS CHAIR, turned oak, with brown velvet cushion $14.50

$18.50 CHAIR, turned oak, with leather seat and back $12.75

$18.50 ROCKER, turned oak, leather $12.75

$58.50 DAVENPORT, six feet, turned $35.00

$10.00 ARM CHAIR, turned oak, with leather seat $8.00

$10.00 ARM ROCKER, turned oak, with leather seat $8.50

$45.00 TUDOR ARM CHAIR, in turned oak, heavy piece $42.50

$37.50 ARM CHAIR, in turned oak, with upholstered back $24.00

$180.00 DAVENPORT, six feet, turned oak, with upholstered back $85.00

$32.50 LIBRARY TABLE, 38x48 inches, turned oak $26.00

$17.00 ARM CHAIR, in turned oak, with leather seat $12.00

$17.00 ARM ROCKER, in turned oak, with leather seat $12.00

For the Dining Room

$12.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 42-inch top, extends 6 feet $9.50

$14.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 42-inch top, extends 6 feet $11.50

$15.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 42-inch top, extends 6 feet $13.50

$22.50 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 45-inch top, extends 6 feet $16.50

$38.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 52-inch top, extends 6 feet $27.50

$42.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 48-inch top, extends 6 feet $26.50

$46.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 48-inch top, extends 6 feet $35.00

$17.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 42-inch top, extends 6 feet $12.50

$22.50 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 42-inch top, extends 6 feet $16.00

$37.00 EXTENSION TABLE, in turned oak, 48-inch top, extends 6 feet $38.00

$52.00 BUFFET, 48 inches long, in golden oak, with mirror back $41.00

$45.00 BUFFET, Colonial style, 48 inches long, in golden oak, with mirror back $37.00

$125.00 SIDEBOARD, in turned oak $62.50

$80.00 CHINA CABINET, in turned oak $45.00

$60.00 SIDE TABLE, in turned oak $30.00

$50.00 BUFFET, in turned oak $40.00

For the Bedroom

$12.50 DRESSER, in golden oak $9.00

$15.00 DRESSER, in golden oak, 16x24-inch top, oval mirror $11.25

$22.50 DRESSER, in golden oak, 22x28-inch top, oval mirror $16.50

$19.50 CHIFFONIER, in golden oak, to match item above $15.50

$24.00 DRESSER, in golden oak, 22x28-inch top, square mirror $18.75

$36.50 COLONIAL DRESSER, in golden oak, 26x32-inch top $26.50

$32.00 COLONIAL CHIFFONIER, in golden oak, to match above $24.75

$60.00 DRESSER, in golden oak, with large oval mirror $39.00

$55.00 CHIFFONIER, in golden oak, to match above $32.00

$22.50 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, with oval mirror $18.00

$22.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $17.75

$38.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, 21x28-inch top $26.50

$31.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $25.00

$30.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, with large square mirror $24.50

$29.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $23.50

$38.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, 21x28-inch top $26.50

$35.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $26.00

$42.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, with large square mirror $33.00

$35.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $30.00

$45.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, 21x28-inch top $35.00

$38.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, with large square mirror $29.50

$52.00 DRESSER, in birdseye maple, 21x28-inch top $43.00

$49.00 CHIFFONIER, in birdseye maple, to match above $38.50

$40.00 BED, in satin walnut, full size, to match above $32.50

CREDIT

In addition to Clearance Sale Prices, we gladly extend credit. You can buy now and pay afterwards in small weekly or monthly payments.

CREDIT

GENEROUS CREDIT TERMS

MacKay's FURNITURE WEEKLY AND MONTHLY PAYMENTS

ENGINEERS ADOPT CODE OF ETHICS

American Institute Passes on Rules of Professional Conduct.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The board of directors of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers adopted at their last meeting a code of principles of professional conduct. The code was compiled and submitted to the board by a committee consisting of George F. Sever, consulting engineer; H. W. Buck, consulting engineer; Colonel Samuel Reber, signal corps, U. S. A.; Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, consulting engineer of the General Electric company; Henry G. Stott, superintendent of motive power of the Interborough Rapid Transit company of New York city; and Dr. Schuyler S. Wheeler, president of the Crocker-Wheeler company.

such a code was initiated by Dr. Wheeler, who is a past president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He delivered an address on "Engineering Honor" at the twenty-third annual convention of that body in Milwaukee, Wis., May 28, 1908. Immediately after the delivery of the address a committee was appointed to draw up the code. The code, as adopted, covers the general principles by which every electrical engineer should be guided, the engineers' relations to client or employer, the ownership of engineering records and data, the engineers' relations to the public, and the engineers' relations to the engineering fraternity. Under the first head it prescribes the highest standards of honor. Under the second it advocates absolute frankness at all times in the complexity of relations in which any engineer may be involved through having interests, financial or otherwise, in several different directions. Under the third it makes plain the matter of ownership of engineering records or data which are the property of either the engineer or his client, according to the different circumstances under which they were created.

duty of the engineer to assist the public to a fair and correct general understanding of engineering matters and to extend the general knowledge of engineering and also the advisability of conducting technical discussions and publishing first accounts of inventions in the technical press. The last division advocates cooperation among engineers, mutual protection against misrepresentation and the giving of credit to whom it is due.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE. SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—A warrant charging embezzlement was issued today for the arrest of John Don Gilligan, who was alleged to have taken $27 belonging to Timothy Callaghan of 2445 Clement street.

REDUCE YOUR FAT. This is a new and effective method of reducing the fat on the body. It is a simple and easy process, and it is guaranteed to reduce the fat on the body in a short time. It is a new and effective method of reducing the fat on the body. It is a simple and easy process, and it is guaranteed to reduce the fat on the body in a short time.

Special Southern Pacific Rates. Account Shriners' Circus. This coming March 30th, 31st, April 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th the Southern Pacific company will issue round trip tickets at 1-1-1 regular fare with return limit April 5, from Salinas, Fresno, Sacramento and intermediate stations, including branch Southern Pacific lines to Oakland, Cal.

Send me by return mail, free of charge, a 50c trial package of the wonderful nerve awakener, Kellogg's Santone Waters. I enclose 4 cents in stamps to help pay postage and packing.

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

SCIENTIST FINED FOR PRACTICING

Christian Science Healer Pays Penalty for Not Having a Doctor's License.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The jury trying Willis Vernon Cole, the Christian Scientist, for practicing medicine without a license, returned a verdict of guilty today, after forty-five minutes' deliberation. Justice Seabury fined Cole $100.

Justice Seabury said the court recognized no bad faith in the defendant personally, and that he was simply the victim of a test case. The justice said the jury was entirely sanctioned in bringing in the verdict on the evidence in the case, and then imposed the fine which was paid.

MANY ARRIVE FOR BIG CONFERENCE

Kansas City to Be the Scene of Convention of Latter Day Saints.

KANSAS CITY, March 30.—Members of the re-organized Church of Latter Day Saints from all parts of the world began to arrive in Independence, Mo. today, for the preliminary meetings of the general conference of the church, which will begin next Saturday. More than a thousand ministers, missionaries and laymen besides the 2500 members living in Independence, will attend the meetings. The "quorum of twelve," which has general supervision over the work of assigning 600 missionaries met at Independence today.

H. C. Capwell Co.
THE LACE HOUSE
CLAY, FOURTEENTH and FIFTEENTH STS.

Paris Gowns and a Few Copies HALF PRICE

A Sale Unprecedented

Monday and Tuesday Only

The Oakland woman accustomed to sending direct to Paris or to New York, or who has formed the habit of crossing the bay to look for gowns like these will find it greatly to her advantage to visit Capwell's Monday or Tuesday.

For these two days only we place on sale forty exquisite Paris Gowns and New York's best copies at half price. These gowns were the choicest samples of a well-known importer who, for unguessable reasons, decided to dispose of them for what he could get before a portion of them had even been shown.

The collection includes superb models from Callot, Paul Poiret, Paquin, Weeks and Piper.

They comprise the best styles from the world's best originators in street, afternoon and evening dresses and three-piece suits.

Charmeuse, crepe voile, shot silk, crepe, soft taffetas and filmy chiffons form the materials which when fashioned by these Paris dressmakers and combined with the richest of laces and oriental trimmings look with their Louis XV panniers and tunicas as if they were paintings come to life.

One exquisite Callot model is a three-piece suit with coat of black charmeuse, trimmed with beautiful crystal buttons and a matching jacket. The dress has a draped tunic of sheer white mull, finished with 18-inch band of applied Irish embroidery, with trimmings on waist to correspond.

A Weeks model in a very French combination of beautiful yellow and green, has a silk point d'esprit tunic, hand-embroidered at bottom with rhinestones and fancy colored jewels. The top is finished with Chantilly lace and gold embroidered net, embellished with rhinestone, gimp and rhinestone and pearl gemure. Sleeves and back panels are of Chantilly flouncing.

A few prices follow:

|                        |         |
|------------------------|---------|
| $197.50 Callot Model  | $98.75 |
| $175.00 Weeks Model   | $87.50 |
| $130.00 New York Copy | $65.00 |
| $80.00 Paquin Model   | $45.00 |
| $77.50 Butterfly Coat | $38.75 |
| $67.50 New York Copy  | $33.75 |

See them for yourself—Everybody welcome.
A few models in windows.

NO APPROVALS—NO EXCHANGES

H. C. CAPWELL CO.

Clay, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Streets, Oakland

H. C. CAPWELL CO.

Matchless Variety in Easter Fashions

At the Zenith of Beauty, Variety and Fashion Easter Display of Millinery

Have you been in to see our Easter display of Paris and New York Hats? You will find it more than worth while to make a study of them, though you may intend buying a less expensive model from our own workrooms.

You will know how charming the present lines are, how gracefully trimming is presented this season, and above all, how becoming shapes, color and lines are to you personally.

The picture shows a KURZMAN model. Who is KURZMAN? He is New York's leading importer and America's greatest artist-milliner. See his hats which resemble beautiful pictures.

ONE HUNDRED NEW IMPORTED MODELS IN THIS WEEK, full of appeal and far more reasonable than you would expect. Prices ..... $18.00 to $100.00

Georgette, Suzanne Talbot, Caroline Reboux, Louison, Marie Louise, Jean Lavin, Bryant, Paul Poiret and A. Grouet

New "Knox" Tailored Hats have arrived at prices from ..... $15.00 to $30.00

No woman should think of selecting her Easter Hat until she has seen the hundreds of beautiful and becoming styles here. Scores and scores of Hats, embracing every fashionable straw and every late idea in trimming.

Authoritative Exhibition of Spring Fashions in Suits, Dresses and Coats

We have never been in a better position to serve the people of Oakland than now—we have never had so many fashionable garments to show—have never had such great varieties—have never had the beautiful settings amid which to display them. Now that we have the needed room our stocks cannot be excelled anywhere in the west for variety, style and reasonable prices, and we invite your inspection.

Our Easter display offers endless opportunities for study, for inspiration, for delightful choosing and extends a welcoming hand to every woman interested in the exclusive and the beautiful.

The Perfection of Artistic Tailoring in Suits

Infinite charm and endless variety in suits made of handsome serges, whipcords, men's suitings and chuffon taffetas with here and there a suit of Turkish toweling or ratine with colored trimmings to contrast with the plain weave.

Cutaway Coats give emphasis to the slender outline, while the trimmings offer a hundred variations in style. Exquisite real laces, braiding, touches of silk, satin and ratine all contribute to their style features.

Superior Suit Values

Plain man-tailored navy blue serge suits with straight fronts and cutaway coats. Prices ..... $35.00 to $60.00

Fancy Suits in serge, diagonal, whipcord, light mixtures, checks and stripes—some with long revers, collars and cuffs of white or contrasting color—cutaways with ratine or braid trimmings. Prices ..... $32.50 to $65.00

Fancy tailored suits in white ratine—basket weaves and heavy serges. Prices ..... $32.50 to $55.00

Plain and Fancy Taffeta Suits in black and changeable, in which brown or blue is the predominating color. Prices ..... $37.50 to $95.00

Exclusiveness in Dresses

Afternoon and Evening Dresses, in which soft effects are dominant. Made of serge, charmeuse and taffeta, in plain or fancy styles, for street or afternoon wear. Handsome embroidered Robe and Lingerie Dresses also included. Prices ..... $27.50 to $65.00

Coats for Women and Misses

The beautiful coats displayed constitute a review of the foremost fashions. Utility, afternoon and evening coats for women and misses made of serge, basket weaves, mixtures. Come in white, blue, tan, gray and black. Prices ..... $25.00 to $125.00

Easter Ribbons Gay as a Spring Garden

Our enlarged Ribbon Department presents to friends and patrons a veritable harvest of beautiful Easter Ribbons. No more complete Ribbon Shop in the west. Not a shade, width or quality missing. Visit this department and see the new things.

Special Prices on Moire and Taffeta Ribbons

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 1/2-inch all-silk Taffeta and Moire Ribbons—yd | 15c |
| 5/8-inch all-silk Taffeta and Moire Ribbons—yd | 19c |
| 3/4-inch all-silk Taffeta and Moire Ribbons—yd | 25c |

New Gros-Grain Ribbons

5/8-inch heavy faile gros-grain ribbon, so popular this season for tailored bows on hats. All colors and combinations. Prices—

50c and 60c yard

Wash Ribbons

Appropriate for Easter trimming of lingerie, are beautiful new wash ribbons. Among the number we are showing plain polka dots, basket weave and novelty designs. All at popular prices.

Matched Sets of Hair Bow and Sash Ribbon

We can match up pretty hair bows and sash ribbon in solid colors of white, pink, light blue, mauve, lilac in Jacquard weaves at the following prices:

|                               |     |
|-------------------------------|-----|
| 4-inch Hair Bow Ribbon—yard   | 35c |
| 5/8-inch Hair Bow Ribbon—yard | 65c |
| 7/8-inch Hair Bow Ribbon—yard | 75c |

Fancy Ribbons

1/2-inch all-silk Satin and Striped Moire Ribbon—yard ..... 20c

5-inch Novelty Ribbons in stripes, polka dot effects, Dresden and alidade—yard ..... 25c

Black Velvet Ribbon

3/4-inch Black Velvet Ribbon, with taffeta back of new millinery shades, American beauty, greens, purple, brown and other leading colors—yard ..... $1.00

Handkerch'fs for Easter Gifts

Hundreds of pretty Handkerchiefs for the Easter remembrance.

Pure linen and hand embroidered or lace edge. Prices ..... 12 1/2c to $3.50

Fans for Easter

A dainty gift for the Easter bride.

Hand-painted and fine lace effects. Prices—

25c to $9.50

Evening Scarfs

Exquisite spangled and lace effects of sheer marquisette. Prices

$2.75 to $25.00

Beautiful Easter Neckwear

See the pretty floral effects.

Easter Novelties

CANDY DEPARTMENT

Silk and Satin Easter Eggs filled with Pig'n Whistle Candies.

All kinds of Easter specialties, 15c to $15.

Delicious Chocolate Easter Eggs for the kiddies. Pure and wholesome.

A box of Pig'n Whistle candy will prove a dainty luxury for your friends Easter day.

Exquisite Laces for Easter Frocks

If enthusiasm and admiration are a criterion our Easter display of Laces easily takes first place. Hundreds of appreciative women have examined them since our opening and pronounced the sight a veritable treat. Every kind of lace from the rich and heavy to the shadow effects and including many real laces.

NOVELTY LACES—Edges, flouncings, bands, Van Dyke galloons, macrame, shadow, chantilly, ratine, Point Venise, Oriental, Filet and round thread laces in elaborate designs and color combinations. Shadow Laces in the most exclusive designs of sprays and large floral and conventional patterns.

FILET LACES—Bands and edges in a variety of patterns in raised floral designs for waists and dresses. Prices, yard ..... 40c to $13.50

ALL-OVER LACES—From the daintiest sprays or dots to the elaborate patterns or pompadour effects, applied on different mesh nets. White, cream, Paris and black. 18 inches wide. Price—yard ..... 60c to $5.75

ALL-OVER LACES—In Venice and baby Irish, in beautiful fancy meshes and designs new to the season. White, cream and black. Prices—yard ..... $1.75 to $7.50

NET FLOUNCING—In Chantilly, Oriental and Venice, showing dainty shadow effects, also open designs in more elaborate patterns in Venice or filet bordered effects. White, cream and black. Widths 18, 27 and 42 inches. Prices—yard ..... $1.75 to $8.50

BORDERED DRESS DRAPES—Glance marquisettes, chiffons and nets, with hand-painted and beaded embroidered borders, in beautiful color effects. Width 45 inches. Prices—yard ..... $1.50 to $17.50

(Howell-Dohrmann Department) Your Easter Kitchenware, Silverware and China Needs in

Ready to Be Supplied From Our Larger and Superior Stocks

There is not in Oakland another stock of china, silver and kitchenwares which compares with this. It is not excelled in San Francisco or the west. We do not confine our purchases to any maker or group of makers, but buy from the world's markets, thus insuring the choicest selections and the greatest variety in every section of this big China Shop which extends from the big, roomy, airy kitchen basement through the sparkling glassware and china on the main floor on up to the art pottery, lamps and rare and unique brases on the mezzanine floor.

Kitchenware Dept. Basement

A treat for housekeepers. The Easter bride as well as the old-established housekeepers should not fail to see our display of kitchen ware. Every necessary and desirable article to make housekeeping a pleasure to be found here. Good housewives who do not like to fool with any but the best quality will come here for the best at the least prices the best costs anywhere.

Silverware Dept. Main Floor

Buying silver at Howell-Dohrmann's department is not like buying a pig in the poke—there's a guarantee of 50 years in our Community silver. With this assurance the following prices will commend themselves.

Teaspoons (set of six) ..... $2.00

Tablespoons (set of six) ..... $4.00

Table Forks (set of six) ..... $4.00

(Four different patterns from which to select)

Rogers A-1—26 handsome pieces in a fancy case. Special Easter price (set) ..... $6.95

China Department Main Floor

The china section is especially rich at this season in variety of dinner sets; 50 patterns from which to choose, including those for country homes, wedding gifts for the Easter bride or for an addition to the city china closet. Prices, set—$3.45 to $214.00.

Monday, Extra Special

Sale of 100 dozen cups and saucers. Thin Bavarian china decorated with gold edges. Each—13c. NOT MORE THAN SIX TO ONE CUSTOMER.

New Waists None So Beautiful

An Easter display which covers every waist need.

Dainty Lingerie Waists, including the fashionable peplum, made after the latest Parisian models. Exquisitely sheer fabrics and delicate stitching. Some trimmed with real Irish crochet and Cluny laces.

CHIFFON WAISTS—Beauties to give a dressy touch to the tailored suit. Suitable for church or afternoon wear; all colors. Prices, $5.00 to $25.00

LACE AND NET WAISTS—Among the season's favorites. Developed mostly of filet, Cluny and heavy laces. The latest sleeves and gracefully shaped necks. Prices, $4.50 to $12.00

MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED

H. C. Capwell Co.
THE LACE HOUSE

HAIR DRESSING AND MANICURING PARLORS
(Mezzanine Floor)

Indoor Yacht Club Does FISK A GOOD TURN

AN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Do you know that the "inside dope" is not as frequent or as easy as it was in the good old days. But once in awhile just a touch of it comes to the top. For instance, here's this fight on Postmaster Arthur Fisk. It was taken up by some fanatics and began to be very nasty. The fanatics were having nearly all things their own way. People didn't dare fight them.

Then suddenly from the depths up rose the Indoor Yacht Club.

Now that sounds like an April first jest—but it is nothing of the kind. Among a lot of people who like Arthur Fisk are the joyous member of that organization, which has become anything but a fly-by-night affair in clubdom. They said, "We'll take a hand in this scrap."

They found that certain men were leading the attack on Fisk. They at once led a counter attack on those men. And you may or may not have noticed the attack on Fisk very soon began to lose its vigor.

For instance, there was O'Brien of O'Brien & Spornino, who deal in poultry and eggs and the like. O'Brien had been very busy in this Fisk matter.

Well, the Indoor Yacht Club got busy on O'Brien. They said to some of the most prominent cafes and hotels: "Stop patronizing O'Brien or we'll stop patronizing you." The cafes quit O'Brien because those merry gentlemen have great power of patronage.

And so it is that you haven't heard so much of late of the attack on Arthur Fisk, who happens to be generally popular.

David Starr and Louis O'Neal

Everybody seems to love a jest at the expense of a college president, and so I tell you this:

For years in the politics of Santa Clara county David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford, had denounced Louis O'Neal, once State Senator and always a factor in political life. The flaming things the president had said about the Senator could be printed, but the consuming things the Senator had said about the President would not look well in these chaste types.

O'Neal has a little ranch and refuge back in the high hills seaward from Mountain View. It is a rugged country and those who motor there take the long chances of the road.

Not long ago President Jordan ventured with his machine into the picturesque wilds where O'Neal has his little keep. Fate made it that the President's machine should come to grief on one of the primitive roads. The President went to a farm-house and said to the man at the door—said with some impressiveness, you may be sure:

"I'm David Starr Jordan. My machine is stuck. Will you send me a team to help me out?"

"I'm Louis O'Neal, and you can go to h—l!" came the unexpected reply.

But O'Neal, being a good fellow as most practical politicians are, let his one outburst cure all his wrath. He sent a team and heaped his coals of fire on the President's head.

Judge Coffey and Jack Kennedy

And this little episode reminds me of an affair between Jack Kennedy and Judge Coffey—the latter of whom is up for re-election with the usual cinch on the job. The judge has a few court notions that are almost as drastic as those of your late Judge W. E. Greene.

In one of his moods the judge issued an order that no one should come inside the court rail—not even the newspaper men. Just on top of that order in walked Jack Kennedy, who knew the judge very well. He gracefully seated himself inside the rail.

"Who is this person?" asked the judge in his bland cynicism, indicating the intruder to the bailiff.

"I'm Jack Kennedy," replied the intruder. "Jack Kennedy, the 158-pound champion of the Olympic Club! Who in h—l are you?"

To the credit of Judge Coffey be it said that he made no retort.

It Threatens to Be Popular

A group of club men sat and talked of the California Sportsmen's Association and the Game Protection Association and the Gunmen's Association, and the like. Suddenly a sleepy chap sitting by said:

"I'm going out to form the California Eatmen's Association."

"What's that?"

"The Eatmen's Association. I'm going to get together the men who want game to eat. We're going to Sacramento at the next session and we're going to get laws passed that will permit the common people to eat the food nature intended for them."

"Why," he went on with rising heat, "my wife was ill during the quail season. She yearned and cried for a quail. I couldn't get one in the markets. They dared not sell one. I couldn't get a plover or a rail or a dowitch—no marsh or shore bird. Those were only for the men who had preserves—not for the people of the State.

"And now they talk of prohibiting the sale of wild ducks! So I'm going out to organize the Eatmen's Association, and we'll be so numerous and so popular that any legislator or any Governor who goes up against us might as well quit. If we must preserve the game, make a close season for everybody until everybody can enjoy the game on an equal footing."

A New Phase of Life

The moving picture show is the biggest new factor that we have in city life. Apparently it has come to stay. The crowds patronize it. The little theaters in which the films are shown are everywhere.

The other day in one of the political headquarters it was proposed to get a straw vote of the city.

"How shall we go about it?" asked one—and there are no surplus funds in any of the headquarters, no matter who says the contrary.

"Why, just go to the moving picture shows," replied the practical man in the group. "There you'll find all kinds and conditions of men and women—and it will cost very little to get a general line on how the people are going to vote at the May primaries."

When Greek Meets Greek

What strange bedfellows this new political game is making! Where do we stand? Where do we get off?

For example, you'd hardly think of Rudolph Spreckels and Frank Heney on opposite sides of a political fight. But they are on opposite sides—and that's only the beginning of it.

Every day or two Spreckels has a few earnest words to say for La Follette. Incidentally, he thumps his old pal, Governor Johnson, Heney and the rest for deserting Battle Bob in favor of Roosevelt. He's very enthusiastic in the fray, is Spreckels.

But here next Saturday night Governor Johnson is to have a big mass meeting in this city, and the man to preside at the meeting is Charles Stetson Wheeler. And Charles Stetson Wheeler is the attorney and friend of Rudolph Spreckels—has been with Rudolph through all the fierce Spreckels family warfare. So you see how strangely this new political game mixes things. Even the veteran, Al Murphy, says, he can't keep up with it.

There's Enough to Go Around

There's a new drink recommended for those with jaded stomachs and livers that do not work. Strange to say, there isn't any patent on it, and no trust or syndicate has it in control. Yet, though there isn't any general advertising of its wondrous curative properties there are many who are trying it—and many who admit the cure.

The new drink is the water of the Pacific ocean!

There's a colony out on the beach who wade into old ocean's arms every day and drink right out of Neptune's cup. One of the unadvertised cures is that of Sam Rucker, the most active of our desk and office furniture men.

"After the fire I broke down," said he. "I couldn't retain the least thing on my stomach. A doctor relative told me to drink the ocean water. I told him it would gag me or drive me mad. But he insisted and I went at it.

"For five or six mornings I waded out and tried to drink the brine, but couldn't make it. Then I found I could drink without gagging. Before I knew it I yearned for the stuff, and—well, look at me now! I can eat or drink anything I care for—and there's the old ocean out there that will cure anybody, and that hasn't a line of patent or copyright on it anywhere."

History Right Out of the Mouth

We were talking of the use, or purported use of the dictagraph in recent criminal cases, when one of a less serious mind said:

"There should be a dictagraph in every club room, every saloon, every lounging place. Then those who come after us might get their history of our times really at first-hand. Then they would have handed down to them alongside the voices of the great singers preserved on the phonograph the narrations of deeds as they seem to witness.

"Think what a wondrous thing it would be to have Harry Creswell's incomparable stories of Nevada days! What a treat to listen to John T. Gaffey and Walter S. Moore tell of their merry adventures. Think of how much was lost because we have no record of what General Barnes and Uncle George Bromley and Hall McAllister and Arthur McEwen and a dozen other great story-tellers used to tell. The print never gives it to us in the same way, and most of the natural raconteurs cannot tell their stories for print. So what a boon to those who come after would be dicta-graph records of the tales over which we chuckle or weep or guffaw."

A Good Thing Well Done

In a day or two there may be seen at Vickery's the Simoneau collection of Stevenson's books. These are the books the great prose master sent to the humble old innkeeper at Monterey who had befriended him in his days of illness and poverty.

"If there ever was a man who was a good man to me that man was Jules Simoneau," wrote R. L. S. in one of the books—and each carries its inscription.

Simoneau in direst poverty treasured these volumes as the gift of one friend to another—not for sale. After his death Messrs. Brown and Young of one of the sugar plantation firms bought them—it was Young, a true book-lover, who inspired the purchase. Then they got Arthur Atkins to devise a quaint chest of weather-beaten Monterey pine and crusted copper clasps, and they sent on to a California girl in Boston to do the binding—our Miss Cole, most artistic of all American binders now.

The whole thing is a worship, and it is well worth going to see at Vickery's in the three days following the second April day.

Mexico and the Financial Market

Few people realize how much the revolution in Mexico, or, rather the repeated revolutions, since the overthrow of Diaz, have affected the world's financial situation.

A prominent banker, discussing the affair, stated that a conservative estimate of American holdings in the southern republic would be $1,000,000,000.

Practically all this capital was withdrawn from production. As the disturbances had suspended active operations in nearly every industry, no revenues were accruing, and Mexican investments were no longer collateral in American banks. Therefore, that amount of money had been virtually eliminated from its commercial function and had produced a stringency in many of the money centers of the United States that had seriously inconvenienced trade and investment.

England's investment exceeds half a billion; Germany's about the same—without considering other nations. This makes two billions withdrawn from business channels. A very large amount of San Francisco and Los Angeles capital is thus paralyzed.

It was the money that was most easily incited to business adventure, and its paralysis has had a marked effect on Californian investment.

Memories of Samuel Braunhardt

The "Home Merger" rumpus has brought vividly to mind the action of that astute, but unpopular public servant of the days before the fire—Samuel Braunhardt—or, "Sammy," as his friends and enemies united in calling him.

With all the criticism heaped upon this shrewd little politician, he brought into being more constructive legislation than any supervisor since the days of Frank McCoppin. He was the author of the ordinance giving school children half rates on the street cars, which has been in operation ever since—and the Children's Playground bond issues.

Braunhardt contended that two phone systems were unscientific and impossible; that it was a double tax upon the public for an inferior service; that a telephone system was a natural monopoly, which must be owned by the public exclusively in the form of municipal ownership, or by one private concern.

He fought the "Home" franchise with all his force and, during his lifetime, through his opposition it could never get an entry into San Francisco. The march of events has proven that Braunhardt's theory, and statistics which he had gathered from all over the country, were correct; that, as a matter of business logic, there can be only one telephone system in a city. There seems to be a pretty lively row on between the socialistic extreme municipal ownership people in San Francisco and Percy Long, the City Attorney, the one demanding that legal procedure shall be suspended and that the City Attorney shall take, not a law-book, but a club, with which to smash the merger.

Isaac F. Marcossion and the Pioneers

One noticeable effect of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition activity is the continual visiting here of high-class Eastern newspapermen.

Sam Blythe of the Saturday Evening Post has twice in the last four months been in San Francisco looking over the field. Lorimer, the head of the Saturday Evening Post, was here for three weeks. Burr McIntosh has virtually taken up his permanent residence. The latest to arrive is Mr. Isaac F. Marcossion, editor of Munsey's, who, while laying plans for the exploitation of the West in connection with the exposition in his magazine, has decided on a line of articles, portraying the romance of the big people of early and present days, connected with the building up of the great industries of the coast.

He is going to depart, as far as possible, from the stereotyped treatment of the pioneer millionaires and give the world an idea of the personal attributes that fitted into the conditions found here and made the difference of the West permanent.

Two Politicians

Mayor Rolph's administration had a little surprise administered to it the other day. During the recent campaign the Board of Public Works was the head and front and middle of the McCarthy campaign. The rock-rollers of the department were present at all of McCarthy's meetings and at many of Rolph's meetings. Rightly or wrongly, the department was accused of organizing the disturbances that were attempted throughout a large part of San Francisco wherever Rolph made speeches.

Bob McElroy was in charge of the division of the public works from which most of the politicians emanated. It was supposed that after the new administration came in he would be the first to "lose his head." McElroy has been in office so long that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary and, as the early directories of '49 were all burned in the fire, no one can tell when he first held a job.

When the Works Board was about to dispose of him in the belief that the same would be agreeable to the new powers—that be, lo! and behold! a new angel appeared on the scene to provide for McElroy. Dan C. Murphy, Thelan's man, Friday, on the Board of Supervisors, who holds that position so that he may be able to throw stones at the ex-Mayor's enemies, came forth and demanded the creation of an entirely new job at $150 per month to keep McElroy in good health for another four years. Now the politicians are asking: "Has Thelan and Murphy made up with McCarthy so as to do future politics?"

The Betrayal of Spreckels

There is much talk over the breach between Rudolph Spreckels and Governor Johnson concerning the respective espousals of the Roosevelt and La Follette causes. The knowing ones say that the cause of the trouble lies deeper than anybody's presidential aspirations.

Spreckels is enormously wealthy and, to a certain extent, takes the taxpayer's view of public affairs, at least in the direction of public economy. The patronage side of the administration, as developed by McCabe & Company, is that the government was instituted by and for the tax-eater; that "Reform" is a new name for an old machine; that there must be a machine in politics; and that using the State taxes to subsidize political hacks into your service is the best use that can be made of the taxpayers' money. McCabe is a politician of the old school and, according to the lights of politics, he has been remarkably successful. He entered the political game prior to the election of Jim Budd as Governor and, as far as there is any record extant, has never had any other than political employment. He has been in every camp, and, from training and environment, believes in the professional side of the political game. He is virtually head of the State "Jobocracy" and his experienced hand has not missed a turn of the wheel in the machine.

Spreckels is said to have expressed surprise at the first symptoms of disciplining the State officers and employees into a military organization that would act separately and distinctly from the citizens at large. When the machine was further developed by absorbing a lot of the "flotsam and jetsam" of defunct political organizations, his resentment was very pointedly manifested. But the machine proceeded along the lines that all machines follow, as they all run on grooved rails. Then, Spreckels concluded to have none of it, and refused to be carried along by his former associates. How far the antagonism will extend, none can say, but Spreckels is very bitter when he feels that, rightly or wrongly, the cause which he has made a personal one has been betrayed.

The Rowells in a Three-Cornered Fight

The division over the presidency in San Francisco differs somewhat from the situation in Fresno. The San Francisco condition is fraught with animosity; in Fresno all is peace, happiness and contentment.

Dr. Rowell, owner of the Republican, is for Taft. Chester Rowell, editor of that newspaper and head of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, lately departed, is violently for Roosevelt, while the business manager of the paper is for La Follette.

This three-legged stool has been so arranged that the three gentlemen sit on it very comfortably and, as this piece of political mechanism has not been patented, it is freely recommended for use in many other parts of the State, and certainly would promote peace if introduced into San Francisco.

Gin and Water Philosophy

R. F. Wilson, former private secretary of John C. Stubbs and now acting in a similar capacity to L. J. Spence of New York, Stubbs' successor as director of traffic for the Harriman lines, has many friends here who appreciate the humorous skits he now and then writes as a pastime. One of his latest efforts in this direction has to do with gin and water philosophy and is as follows:

"Water enters more or less into our lives, but it is more apt to come right home to us when the roof needs repair. There are today numerous varieties of water, but for all domestic and practical purposes it may be generally classed under the heads of 'still and running.' The blunt statement contained in the old saw that 'still water runs deep' might lead one to infer that all water was running, but knowing, as we do, that in spite even of an elaborate water system, backed up by high-priced plumbers' supplies and nickel-plated faucets, our so-called running water frequently refuses to run, this theory would not hold water for a week.

Gin resembles water to a comparatively large degree, and though men have never been known to mistake water for gin, they have frequently been seen drinking gin, apparently mistaking it for water. This peculiar illusion is responsible for many evils of today, including the Prohibition party, the W. C. T. U. and the Pothouse Politician. Water is the stuff upon which the Prohibition party leans. Gin is the stick, which the Pothouse Politician eventually puts in his water. Without gin there would be no special need for those architectural horrors known as Inebriates' Homes, neither would there be any crying necessity for the Prohibition party; ergo, without gin the Prohibition votes would be scattered and go where they belong. Hence the further manufacture of gin is to be deprecated.

THE KNAVE

"Water is generally considered a free drink, and possibly the pride that is inherent in its prompts us at times to decline a fluid that is entirely gratuitous. But water does at times come high. At seaside resorts during bathing hours water is always high, and when your pipes burst, and the plumber, and assistant plumber and two young plumbing students spend two and one-half days in your basement, the idea that water is free becomes a tectotal fallacy. No false pride, therefore, should interfere with its liberal consumption."

"Natoma" Production to Cost $50,000

I mentioned last week that Mrs. William Miller Graham is to have the opera, Natoma, sung by Mary Garden and a company of professionals, as the leading feature of a big house party she is to have at Santa Barbara next fall. It is said the affair will cost her $50,000. This is not much of an expenditure, in social pastime for this bright and ambitious society woman whose good looks and charm of manner attract all who come in contact with her. "During each of her several seasons in London, Mrs. Graham is represented as having spent more than twice that sum. This was particularly true of the London season when she leased the great residence of Lord Numburnholme in Grosvenor Square and disputed the Grosvenor pre-eminence with another American woman, Mrs. Anthony Drexel Philadelphia. London society, I am informed by one who knows, is distinguished as the Grosvenor Square and the Belgrave forces, with a fair sprinkling of neutrals. In Belgrave, Lady Paget, another American woman whose two sons have a ranch in California, is a popular leader, who has successfully launched in London society Mrs. W. R. Leeds of New York, the tinsplate magnate's widow. Mrs. Graham saw fit to cast her lot with the Grosvenor Square coterie and her many lavish entertainments were well attended by all the notables. There are some who say she was disappointed in her last season in the world's metropolis, however, owing to the fact that one of her strongest supporters, Mrs. George Keppel, was in eclipse, and it is doubtful whether she will ever make another social splurge there.

Fortune Spent for Orchids

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coryell of Menlo Park, whose collection of orchids is one of the best in the land, have made arrangements to get more and rare varieties from the Philippines, South America and Panama. They stop at no expense in getting these costly and beautiful plants, having paid as high as $10,000 for one. It is called the "White Gigas." A recent fire in the Coryell glasshouse gardens destroyed it along with many other specimens. The White Gigas is of a pure milk white color and one of three of its known kind in the world. A New York man has one, while the other is owned by Stuart Lee, the English botanist. At one time the Coryells had 15,000 orchids in their collection. They aim to greatly increase this number, besides attempting to replace the ones destroyed by fire. Leon Humbolt, a famous French collector, is to supply them with some of his best plants. So notable and costly is the Menlo Park collection that Mrs. Coryell is widely known as "the lady of the orchids." Competent judges have expressed the opinion that this collection is better than those owned by King George of Great Britain and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. Its only rival in this country is the collection owned by Mrs. George B. Wilson of Philadelphia, who has already spent $500,000 on her lifelong hobby. Both she and the Coryells can never reach the goal of their ambition. While there are rare specimens to be had for the searching, there will be collectors, like them, willing to finance expeditions of reckless men who penetrate to the heart of a poisonous wilderness for floral treasures.

Mrs. Coit Not Afraid of Garnett

The story in one of the morning papers to the effect that Mrs. Lillian Hitchcock Coit, fearful of the release of Alexander B. Garnett from San Quentin on parole, has fled to Paris is ridiculous. Garnett, several years before the fire, while crazy from drink, shot and killed Major J. W. McClung in Mrs. Coit's apartments at the Palace Hotel. Mrs. Coit thinks Garnett should be liberated on parole. For a couple of years she has, with others, worked hard to attain this end. She has spent over $2000 in her efforts, the money being used in the preparation of legal papers and so forth. It is true that Mrs. Coit has gone to Paris. She spends her time between the French metropolis and this city, and this is one of her periodical visits to the continent. Garnett is one of her distant relatives and a man she befriended for years. His drinking habits caused her to discourage his calls on her at the Palace. This was what led to the tragedy in her rooms. She recently expressed the hope that he would soon be let out of prison on parole, and it is understood she and other relatives will provide for his wants if he behaves himself. Mrs. Coit is a wealthy woman and a member of the old Southern social set of this city. In her young days as Lillian Hitchcock she was a member of one of the volunteer fire companies and ran a wide old machine," as an old volunteer fireman remarked the other day about her.

Governors Were Much Feted

The governors of Washington, Utah, Montana and Idaho were much feted while in the city and made rattling good speeches at the banquet given them at the Bohemian Club. Our own Lieutenant-Governor, Wallace, surprised many at the club dinner by his thoughtful and able talk. Governor Hay of Washington is on record as being opposed to the tipping system, being very popular with the National Association of Commercial Travelers on that account. While here, it is said, he could not be traced by the ten and twenty-five cent tips he dropped. The waiters knew of his anti-tipping views and are quietly remarking that he consistently practiced what he preached on that subject. Governor Norris of Montana, Spry of Utah and Hawley of Idaho, say the waiters were liberal tipsters, for which they are duly thankful. Governor Norris of Montana impressed many as a heavyweight in ability and a good all-round "mixer," to use a political term. He is said to have been responsible for the following story at the Bohemian Club:

"His wife said meekly:

"Yes, I know my balldress is cut rather low."

"Then added:

"But a fault confessed, the adage says, is half redressed."

Schwab May Build Navy

Charles M. Schwab, the owner of the Union Iron Works, the Bethlehem steel plant in Pennsylvania and one of Andrew Carnegie's "eighteen young men," is shortly to pay us another visit. Schwab got out of China just in time to avoid the revolution. He went there to consult with the Chinese princes of the Manchukuo dynasty about building for that country a new navy. His visit to the Orient was the sequel to his entertaining in this country the head of the Chinese navy bureau about two years ago. Schwab took that Chinese dignitary and his entourage in a special train from this city to the East and brought them back again. He spent about $15,000 on the party. His object was to get a big warship contract. When he got back to New York from China, Schwab was represented as saying that his visit was entirely satisfactory and that he had been received with open arms by prominent Chinamen, who let it be known that henceforth all Chinese warships would be built in the United States and that all armor plates for these vessels would be of American manufacture. Now that the Manchus have been overthrown, the prospects for Schwab getting the contract to build China's new navy may or may not be dimmed. Possibly he may have something to say on that interesting subject when he arrives.

Presumably if he gets such a contract much of the work may be done at the Union Iron Works, meaning a return of the days when that institution had 7000 men on its payroll and when the late Irving M. Scott and Chief Engineer Dickie became historic figures through the building of the Oregon.

Wheeler Has Big Expense Account

A recent dispatch from Washington, D. C., stated that the census bureau in one of its pamphlets on education mentioned that Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, the president of the University of California is, with a $12,000 yearly salary, the highest paid president of any state university in the country. Stanford University's president, Dr. David Starr Jordan, gets the same annual salary; also, a house, as does Wheeler. These two men are therefore probably the highest paid of any university presidents in the United States. Jordan was first engaged by Senator Stanford at $10,000 a year. After his death, Mrs. Stanford raised his compensation $2000. At the University of Indiana, where he came from, Jordan got less than half that sum as president. Wheeler also got less than half that sum at Cornell University, where he had a full professorship at the time he was called to Berkeley. One thing not generally known about Wheeler is that in addition to a house he is allowed $3000 expenses annually. That adds to the financial attractiveness of his position. He was given this expense account some two years ago when the regents thought the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and the Boston School of Technology were after his services. The regents did not want to establish the precedent of a $15,000 annual salary for the president of the Berkeley institution. This is why they hit on the scheme of a liberal yearly expense account for Wheeler.

Matter of Chinese Etiquette

Sam Davis, the Carson, Nev., newspaper owner and editor, who has just issued the first number of his Greater Nevada Magazine, was, years ago, a writer on the Chronicle of this city. In a reminiscent mood at the Palace last evening he was telling some friends how a Chinese merchant once invited him to read selections from Mark Twain and some of his own stories to a number of Chinese merchants who understood English. The reading was to precede a banquet in Chinatown.

"I went prepared and did my best," continued the Nevada journalist. "I read some of Mark Twain's funniest pieces and one or two of my own that had caused others to laugh. Well, I read and read, but nary a laugh, not even a smile, from those Chinamen. They sat all attention but with faces utterly expressionless. Finally I got nervous and disgusted. Secretly calling them all sorts of names for having no sense of humor, I bolted out of the place, determined not to remain for the dinner. The next day I met the Chinese merchant. He thanked me and said that at the dinner they sat for two hours and nearly split their sides laughing at the funny stories I had read to them.

"But, why did you not laugh when I was reading?" I asked of him.

"He then explained to me that it was a gross breach of Chinese etiquette to laugh while anybody was talking or reading. A Chinaman saves his laughter until later on, according to his explanation. He said he thought I knew about Chinese etiquette in such matters. I didn't. But it was a relief to me to be told they did laugh later on. He wanted me to give some more readings but I never did. Those expressionless faces at some of Twain's best humor were too much for me, etiquette or no etiquette."

The "Big Four" Builders

Isaac F. Marcossan of Munsey's Magazine is here gathering data for an article on the "big four"—Huntington, Stanford, Hopkins and Crocker. While nothing new can be said about these men at this late day, the historical perspective is sufficient to get a correct line on their respective characters. Edward H. Harriman coming into the Southern Pacific properties after them, with his magical powers as both a financier and constructive force, has long ago put them in eclipse as railroad builders and operators. Collis P. Huntington alone excepted. Huntington was an unerring judge of men and Harriman got from him his best officials in the persons of John C. Stubbs, William F. Herrin, Judge Robert S. Lovett, William Hood and Julius Kruttschnitt. The $7,000,000 ten-mile cut-off south along the bay shore from this city was Huntington's idea, as was also the forty-mile Lucin cut-off across the Great Salt Lake. Harriman simply carried them into execution. Bankers followed the lead of Huntington, as they did in the case of Harriman, but not to the same extent. Huntington made Stanford, Hopkins and Crocker rich. Huntington's ability to get money kept the Southern Pacific out of the hands of a receiver. The Southern Pacific is about the only big overland road that never went into receivership. Huntington was intensely practical, with no imagination. Harriman was both practical and imaginative. He had large ideas and large schemes. Hopkins was a plodding but successful bookkeeper beloved by Huntington. Crocker was a good contractor, a good boss of a construction gang. Stanford had imagination and splendid ideas and will be remembered when his three associates are forgotten. His work for improving the breed of horses is well worth remembering. The creation of Stanford University with his fortune was the great act of his career. It was a blunder for him to accept an election to the United States Senate and his career as a Senator was not noteworthy. Huntington was jealous of Stanford's standing with the people and indifferent as to Crocker. He lived to see the Stanford and Crocker names wiped from the Southern Pacific directorate. And a year after his death, in spite of his plans and prayers, the name of Huntington was no longer an influential one in the company. In the years between 1870 and 1893, the year Stanford died, these four men, or their estates, amassed in the aggregate the huge fortune of $120,000,000, their combined profits from the Central and Southern Pacific systems. Huntington died much the richer because he had in addition large Eastern interests.

Drank to Millionaire Babe

The other day at one of the clubs some bumpers of champagne were drunk because of the birth of a baby in London. The infant, born in the lap of luxury, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Astor and grandson of William Waldorf Astor, the expatriated American who is the great absentee landlord of New York. Mrs. Waldorf Astor was Miss Nannie Langhorne of Virginia, one of the famously beautiful Langhorne girls, a daughter of Chiswell Dabney Langhorne and a sister of Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson and Mrs. Reginald Brooks of New York and Mrs. T. S. Phipps of Vancouver, B. C. Mr. Langhorne, the grandfather of the child on the mother's side, happened to be in this city when he received a cablegram about the birth. He has some club friends in town and nothing would do but that they must drink with him the health of the baby. Langhorne pere is a fine specimen of the elderly, rugged, successful contractor, who makes his home most of the time at the Maryland Club in Baltimore.

A Bit of Pleasant Gossip

The attentions being paid by Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada to Miss Josephine Nieto y Viscos, a Mexican beauty living at the Palace, is a pleasant bit of gossip at the hotel. Madame Rose Nieto y Viscos and her sister, the Baroness Rosensweig, the latter of Paris, and the Misses Josephine and Rosita Nieto y Viscos have been spending the winter at the Palace in preference to either Paris or their Mexican hacienda. The exile of Diaz, with whom they were great favorites, and the triumph of Madero and the insurrectos upset the quartet's plans for a winter in the southern republic. They came from Paris last fall to this city en route south and finally decided to remain here for several months pending a settlement of the new conditions in Mexico. The young ladies, with their charm of manner and Castilian beauty, have been much feted in societydom. They have been belles at one or two of the Bachelors and Benedicts' balls at the Fairmont. Senora Rose Nieto y Viscos is their mother. Local society has abbreviated the Spanish name of the young ladies. This is why they are being generally called the Misses Nieto.

The Earl of Leitrim

The Earl of Leitrim, whose recent mysterious visit to California has been exploited in the daily papers of both this city and Los Angeles, spent most of his time while in the city with two French counts, who signed themselves at the Palace as Count de Reinach, Pierre, and Count de Renach, Girard. The French sprigs of nobility have a good standing in Parisian exclusive society and affect to look down on the Prince de Sagan and his American wife, the former Anna Gould. The Irish earl is a most pleasing and amiable fellow to meet but fights shy of the American newspaper interview. He has an estate of 56,000 acres. His father, who was killed as a result of land league troubles, was looked upon by the people of the surrounding country as a tyrant. People in this city remember songs about this man as a tyrant that they heard while living in Ireland or that were repeated to them by their fathers and mothers who lived there at the time.

Terror to the Barbers

Harry Scott, the son of Henry T. Scott, who got himself into the limelight by telegraphing the Examiner from Colorado that he and not Sir Thomas Lipton of yachting and tea fame was engaged to Miss Ruth Boettcher of Denver and London, is a terror to the barber fraternity. The tonsorial artist naturally expects that when a man wants a nice shaving job done he will at least take off his overcoat, collar and necktie and hat before he throws himself into the chair. Not so with Harry. No overcoat off for him, nor collar or tie. Sometimes he insists on keeping on his hat for fear of catching cold. There is not a lazy bone in young Scott's body. His disinclination to partially disrobe as a first aid to the barber's best efforts cannot therefore be ascribed to laziness. So the barbers humor him and call him odd. Harry's papa is the head authority at the St. Francis hotel as representative for the owners, Jennie and Templeton Crocker. That is why the son is some pumpkins in the hotel tonsorial resort and has to be humored as a fully dressed subject in the barber chair.

The Original Sandwich Man

I see where Ben U. Steinman, former mayor of Sacramento, and retired capitalist, has gone to the German spas for six months. Steinman is the original sandwich man of California. He has sold more of this article of food than any man on the coast and by doing so laid the foundation of the good-sized fortune he now possesses. For over twenty-five years he had charge of the lunch counter and dining-room in the Southern Pacific passenger station at Sacramento and thousands of travelers have tasted of his foodstuffs, particularly of the inevitable and always present sandwich. I think he made an estimate not long ago to the effect that he had sold at that eating place about 3,250,000 sandwiches. George Crocker put him out of the place about 1900 in order to give the privilege to his brother-in-law, L. F. Hanchett of this city. Steinman, just to get even, got Huntington to put him back. Shortly afterwards he voluntarily gave up the place to attend to his other varied interests. There was one thing about Ben. He did eat some of his own sandwiches and was always an uncompromising foe of the fellow who indulged in poetry at the expense of this kind of railroad lunch-counter food.

Part of New Blood Program

Frank G. Drum is to become a director of the Associated Oil Company at its annual meeting early in April as part of the "new blood" program that has been mapped out for the corporation. It is understood that Drum will be an entirely independent factor, not representing any of the sets of owners, or any individual stockholders, but to act as his judgment dictates for the best interests of the company as a whole. Drum, as president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, has made a remarkable record for efficiency. In removing points of friction between the big gas and electric light and power concern and the public, he has made all corporation managements "sit up and take notice." One of the largest combinations of wealth in the West is behind him and yields to his judgment in matters both of finance and public policy. This success in this field of activity is why the Associated Oil powers have asked him to come into their board of directors and give them the benefit of his ideas and judgment. It is not too much to say that they are to get a financier who is not only young but who is thoroughly abreast of the times and in full sympathy with them, believing, as he does, in an open-book policy and being contented with a fair rate of interest on corporate investments.

THE KNAVE.

QUAKE OF 1811 IS SUBJECT OF REPORT

Old Madrid Shook More Severe Than Any of Recent Years.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Every newspaper account of a severe earthquake anywhere in North America as registered on the delicate seismograph brings rather unpleasantly to mind the fact that the United States is not entirely free from these disturbances.

1811. These earthquakes are famous because of the loss that they caused and the suffering that followed in their wake. In severity and extent of disturbance, however, they are not to be compared with what is known as the New Madrid earthquake, which occurred principally in southeastern Missouri, northeastern Arkansas, and western Kentucky and Tennessee during the year following December 16, 1811. The Charleston and San Francisco disturbances were greatly felt because they affected the congested population and the structures in two large cities. The New Madrid earthquake left no marked impression on the history of the country, because although far more severe, and prolonged it occurred in a sparsely settled and at that time unimportant region. The destructive period of the San Francisco quake occupied only a few minutes; that in the lower Mississippi valley persisted at intervals for more than a year and held the few residents in a constant state of terror or apprehension.

The history of the New Madrid earthquake has until recently been widely scattered in the writings of many observers who were in or sufficiently close to the region to record the events. Several authors have published brief accounts of the occurrence. In Bulletin 494 of the United States Geological Survey a very complete record of the events, abstracted from previous writings, and a discussion of the effects have been brought together by Marion L. Fuller. This bulletin is of marked interest to the reading public, but it also has a high scientific value in that it makes an important permanent addition to the readily available earthquake records and literature.

FEELT FAR AWAY.

The tremors of this earthquake were felt by people in Canada, Detroit, New Orleans, Washington and Boston, the last-named place being 1100 miles distant. Island No. 54, in Mississippi river near Vicksburg, Miss., disappeared completely. A large area of land near Pinedale, Tenn., sank until the trees tops were on a level with the surrounding country, and alarm was felt in the cities of Louisville and Cincinnati. It was in the region now known as the St. Francis basin, however, that the most marked effects took place. In certain parts the land surface was uplifted and in other parts there was great subsidence. The latter have since been known as the "sunk lands," being usually covered with water and, unless artificially drained, without agricultural value, even though composed of some of the best soil of the continent.

With reference to the possibilities of future disturbances Mr. Fuller cites the fact that the New Madrid earthquake was but the latest and probably by no means the most severe of a series of similar disturbances in that area, dating back as far beyond contemporaneous history, and says that occurrences are to be expected, though any prediction as to when the shocks will take place will be futile.

A copy of this report may be had free on application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, at Washington.

CRIPPLED BARON IS 'CONSPIRATOR'

Took Pleasure in Having Police Think He Was Plotting Against Country.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—Memories of a picturesque moment in Parisian history, which dates back only a dozen years, but seem to belong to another age, and of a noble opera conspiracy against the republic, are revived by the death of Baron Raoul de Vaux. He was only 7, but there was a sort of legend about him even when he was 25, which he enjoyed hugely. He was a handsome, lively, 15 years having been disastrously shattered in the Paris-Madrid motor race, in which he met with a fearful accident, having both legs broken. Yet he "conspired," or pretended to conspire, and delighted on being taken most seriously as a conspirator. He was leaning on crutches when he appeared in 1890 in company with M. Paul Desroches, Buffet, Jules Guerin of Fort Chabrol fame, and others, before the Senate, transformed into a high court of justice to hear himself accused of having converted the cottage in the Bois de Boulogne, in which he dwelt, into a veritable arsenal, and of having borrowed a number of secret passages beneath it, all this being directed against the security of the state.

The strange charges were eventually dropped by the public prosecutor, and then M. de Vaux installed himself in a sort of observatory, which he had devised at the top of a high house at Montmartre, whence he observed a fine view of Paris. Even then the legend clung to him. His style was reported to be a miniature fortress, with armored windows and heavily armed with machine guns. He had a party of officials climbed up here to hold a formal inspection of the premises, much to the occupants' delight. No machine guns were discovered, and the armor plating was found to consist of zinc encasing flower pots.

RURAL CARRIER HAS NO RIGHT TO GO ARMED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 30.—In affirming a county court opinion, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has decided that a rural delivery mail carrier has not the right to carry a pistol. The court holds that a rural mail carrier is not an officer in any sense, under the exceptions to the pistol-toting statute, but merely an employee of the Federal Postal Department, and does not come within the right to an armed given to a revenue or other civil officer engaged in the discharge of his duty.

MOVING PICTURES TO AID REALTY SALESMAN TO DISPOSE OF PROPERTY PROSPECTIVE BUYER OF FERTILE TRACT WILL BE ABLE TO VIEW HIS LAND

Typical scenes on the line of the Central California Traction Company between Stockton and Sacramento, which are shown as motion pictures by Stine & Kendrick, realty agents.

WOMEN OF PARISH WILL ENTERTAIN

St. Anthony's Hall to Be the Scene of Pretty Leap Year Party.

The first social affair to take place in East Oakland after Easter will be the leap year party, to be given by the young women of St. Anthony's parish on Wednesday evening, April 10. The affair will take place in St. Anthony's hall, at the corner of East Sixteenth street and Sixteenth avenue, which will be prettily decorated for the occasion. The following will act as patronesses: Mrs. W. H. Donahue, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. P. Ench, Mrs. H. S. Knapp, Mrs. M. J. Keller, Mrs. Emma Kane and the Misses Schmitt.

The young women of the parish who are interested in the success of the leap year party include the following: The Misses Harrington, the Misses Reno, Miss L. Knapp, the Misses Lacey, Miss Amanda Larsen, the Misses Furlong, Miss L. Keller, Miss J. Smith, Miss E. Koenig, Miss A. Hanley, Miss R. Kirk, Miss D. Vetter, Miss H. Ench, Miss J. Ench, Miss A. Dabovich, Miss J. Von Hacht, Miss M. Cosgrave.

Throw Away His Truss!

Persevering Old Sea Captain Fooled the Doctors and Cured Himself.

Every man or woman who is ruptured—no matter how severely or what age—who seeks relief or a cure—should read this.

Throw Away that Torturing Truss!

The case of Capt. W. A. Collins gives encouragement for all suffering from rupture. The Captain suffered a double rupture—a very bad one—for which he could obtain no truss that would hold. He was confined to his bed much of the time for years. Physicians examined his case and pronounced his only hope was in a mutilating operation, fraught with danger to his life. He kept experimenting upon himself, chiefly using valuable information that he luckily obtained, and finally, to the astonishment of all, he went forth cured of his rupture—and he remained so.

Capt. Collins' wonderful cure attracted widespread attention and legions of others who had tried various kinds of trusses, or had even endured risky operation without result, turned to him for help. He saved the Captain and was himself cured from distressing ruptures—single, double, navel, inguinal, femoral, scrotal, etc. Feeling that he ought to give all the ruptured everywhere an opportunity to enjoy the same blessing and be saved from this distressing, dangerous, life-shortening affliction, the Captain decided to let his means of self-treatment become known by sending a trial, free to all who asked.

You should read Capt. Collins' interesting narrative and make a test in your own case. Simply cut out the coupon below and send with your name, address, and mention what kind of a rupture you have. To do this will cost only a postage stamp, yet may bring you untold joy, good health and may add many years to your life.

FREE TREATMENT COUPON
If this is cut out and mailed to Capt. Collins, Inc., 2014 Arsenal St., Watertown, N. Y., it entitles the sender to a trial treatment for rupture, with interesting book and valuable information, FREE.

A. B. Widney, of Stine and Kendrick, Originator of Remarkable Real Estate Idea

The moving picture, one of the most wonderful and most entertaining of the things that go to make up this surprising age of mankind's development, is to become a real estate salesman. Gradually the films of the manufacturer of motion pictures have been put to use since their invention in new and formerly unthought of ways. First there were just the animated photos of passing events. Next came the story picture, and all that it means as a theatrical performance in the most remote corners of the globe. Then followed the educational features for the benefit of students. Only lately colored pictures are being made, and now we are to have the film as a real agent for the sale of land in one of the most famous sections of the great State of California.

A. B. Widney, a salesman for Stine & Kendrick, the agents of San Francisco, is the originator of the scheme to have motion pictures sell these famous tracts of land on the line of the Central California Traction Company. Not only is the plan a novel one, but there is not a doubt of its success. It enables a prospective customer to actually see with his own eyes the property that he is desired to purchase. He can observe the very process of its cultivation. He can watch the farmers at work. He can see the fast electric trains speeding by the land, and can have the very best possible idea of the roll and sweep of the country. Was there ever a better way for a man at a distance to glimpse the fertile acres of beautiful California?

WILL SHOW VERY ACRES.
No more will it be possible for the trusting citizen, depending on the word of a promoter to buy property, and then go to the scene only to find that he has purchased a swamp. Stine & Kendrick intend to show you the very acres that will be sold. The company has been busy taking moving pictures during the past week, and very shortly Roger G. Lewis, the well-known lecturer, will start on a road with 2000 feet of film and fifty views of the property. He will visit every town and hamlet on the Pacific Coast and will educate the people as to the merits of the land which is so situated on the railroad as to be ideal in the view of the average rancher. The actual sending out of this "film salesman," however, has been fraught with considerable expense, and the company is not sparing money in the determination to make it a success.

A demonstration farm is in the making. This has forty acres, with 450 orange trees, 450 peach trees, 450 plum trees, 1000 olive trees and 500 other trees of various kinds. Besides there are to be seen 500 acres of alfalfa. All this will be faithfully pictured on the screen and explained by Lewis in the near future.

VALUABLE PROPERTY.
A few words about the properties themselves will not be amiss, as well as something about the extremely low price of these lands, which is wonderful when it is considered that they are right in the very heart of California. The Central California Traction Company operates a modern electric railway system between the cities of Sacramento and Stockton. This line taps a fertile region, and since it commenced to operate the country has become literally alive with settlement. All know, by a rail road depends for its business entirely upon the traffic in freight and passengers which it can command. The more residents in the district which it serves, the more business, the more business, the more dividends for stockholders, we'll suppose. One of the great railroads of California estimated the value of each new settler on the gross basis of $3500 per settler estimating the life of the man.

So it would seem that every settler who comes to live on or near a railroad is in fact an asset of that railroad. It is on this basis that the Central California Traction Company are hoping to make money on the lands that they are now going to advertise in this original fashion, and there are to be no real estate or salesman's commissions. The present owners are content, it is said, with the original cost of their holdings plus the actual bank interest on their money.

CLEARING HOUSE ISSUES STATEMENT

The Banks Hold $8,030,100 Reserve in Excess of Requirements.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The statement of clearing house banks of the week shows that the banks held $8,030,100 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $5,311,800 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows:

| DAILY AVERAGE.  |  |
|---|--|
| Loans, $2,042,077,000, decrease, $7,109,000         |  |
| Specie, $372,277,000, decrease, $5,443,000          |  |
| Legal tenders, $1,822,054,000, decrease, $206,000   |  |
| Net deposits, $1,802,054,000, decrease, $7,315,000  |  |
| Reserve, $8,030,100, decrease, $5,311,800           |  |
| Loans, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000         |  |
| Specie, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000        |  |
| Legal tenders, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000 |  |
| Net deposits, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000  |  |
| Reserve, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000       |  |
| Loans, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000         |  |
| Specie, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000        |  |
| Legal tenders, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000 |  |
| Net deposits, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000  |  |
| Reserve, $1,017,410,000, decrease, $1,710,000       |  |

T. R. APPROVES STATE TICKET

Colonel Roosevelt Approves of National Delegates From California.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—In a telegram to the Roosevelt Progressive Republican League received here today, Theodore Roosevelt gives approval to the national delegate ticket pledged to him in this state.

The telegram is as follows: "Red Wing, Minn., March 29, 1912. Phillip Bancroft, secretary Roosevelt League, San Francisco.—I, Theodore Roosevelt, hereby endorse the following group of candidates for delegates to the national convention of the Republican party, to be held in Chicago in the month of June, 1912, all of which candidates have been endorsed by the Roosevelt Progressive Republican League of California, a state political organization created in support of my candidacy."

DROPS DEAD AFTER RUN TO CATCH TRAIN

BRAWLEY, Cal., March 30.—W. A. Fischer, a wealthy rancher, died on a train near Rockwood yesterday following his run to catch it. Heart failure was given as the cause of death. Mr. Fischer recently came here from Richmond, Va.

FORM AERO CLUB.
CHICAGO, March 30.—The Illinois Model Aero Club was organized at a meeting here last night of high school boys and girls of Chicago and vicinity, under the auspices of the Aero Club of Illinois. The purpose is to popularize and to develop the art of aviation. Its members will construct and operate model aeroplanes, gliders and kites and hold competitions.

WHAT 'CUTICURA' DID FOR ONE FAMILY

Boy's Sore Cheeks Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Also Used Them to Heal Deep Cut and to Treat Ingrowing Toenail.

2125 Vine St., Cincinnati, Ohio.—"My little boy's cheeks began getting sore three years ago. I tried everything I ever heard of but nothing cured him. At last I sent for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After four treatments his face began getting better and in three weeks' treatment he was cured. "The first of July my oldest son fell and cut his hand. The cut was very deep. At the time I was in the country and it was impossible to get him to any doctor. I tied the wrist up and put on the Cuticura Ointment very thick, after that I washed it with the Cuticura Soap and continued using the Cuticura Ointment. He had no pain after the Ointment was applied and soon was completely cured of the cut with not a mark left. "Nothing is better for ingrowing toenails than Cuticura Ointment. One of my eight years I suffered with an ingrowing nail. It almost set me wild. Two months ago I started to use Cuticura Ointment on it. At night I washed the foot with hot water and Cuticura Soap, then I would apply Cuticura Ointment on the cotton and wrap the foot up. The ointment softened the hard skin and it could be removed without pain. In a week's time my foot was much better, now it is entirely cured him. "For cuts and bruises I think washing them with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment is the best thing on earth. For insect bites if the bite is washed with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Ointment applied one will receive immediate relief. I have tried it and know." (Signed) Mrs. Alvord, Sept. 11, 1911.

Clever Suits for EASTER

Just as strongly and as deeply as simple English can do it, we want to impress upon your mind the fact that nowhere are there cleverer or more fashionable, more thoroughly distinctive, better quality or better tailored suits than ours.

AMONG them are beautiful navy Serges and wide wale Serges in cream white, handsome tan whipcords, grays, blues, mixtures. All at prices to suit any pocketbook. Quality considered, we are the lowest. Fabrics are superior. Linings are guaranteed and tailoring is absolutely faultless. Money refunded if not perfectly satisfactory.

Smart DRESSES

For Street Wear
In excellent Serges and other wanted materials of superior quality.

The New COATS

Stunning Models
The newest and most exclusive and most prepossessing of them kind

We Invite You to Call and Examine Our New Spring and Easter Styles

Charge Account Always Open to You

COSGRAVE
Twelfth Street at Franklin
OAKLAND

ROSENTHAL'S Easter Shoe Fashions

The magnificent showing of Easter Footwear at our stores this year is particularly notable owing to the enormous variety, beauty and exclusive character of the styles shown. They stand alone, far above the ordinary in quality, design and style correctness; and our assortments are so extensive and varied that you are certain to find just what you need to finish, set off and harmonize with your Easter attire. Beautiful color combinations; the new high tops; pumps and Colonials in all materials; Gaiter Boots; novelties; all have their place in our Easter display—the best and most extensive array of choice footwear ever seen in this city.

Combinations

Footwear with white and colored tops and in various combinations will be very much worn by the ladies. The upper picture shows the latest patent leather, white kid top, button shoes; fourteen buttons high, short vamp, full toes, Cuban heels and extension soles. A beautiful novelty.

$5.00

Colonials

Street pumps and Colonials are greatly in demand. We have them in complete variety, in every desired design, grade and material. The Colonial pictured here is available in all materials. It is made with the latest style toe, short vamp, tongue, Cuban heel, extension sole and enameled buckle to match.

$5.00

ROSENTHAL'S

OAKLAND 469-471 12th Street
SOLE AGENTS FOR HANAN'S SHOES "The Best on Earth"
SAN FRANCISCO 151-163 Post Street

Mail Orders Promptly and Carefully filled. Open Saturday Evenings.

PRIVATE STUDENTS ARE BEST PHYSICALLY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 30.—Figure show that students of private schools who enter Harvard are markedly superior in physique to those from public schools, according to Dr. Dudley A. Sargeant of Harvard. Dr. Sargeant's tabulations made from records of 1000 freshmen of recent classes show a marked discrepancy between their mental and physical attainments.

"The reason is," he explains, "that public school boys do not do enough work to entitle them to the physique that ought to have, and the private school boys do too little brain work to give them the greater mental superiority to which their superior physique entitles them."

Barbecueing a Pundit.

A familiar figure in the world of letters is the self-elected literary censor, who stands around in public places and criticizes with Draconian severity and ex cathedra solemnity the poor devils who write for fun or money, as if all the world stands with mouth agape listening to the wisdom of the court of last resort; who poses as the supreme authority on style, composition, taste, literary attainments, and whose stern displeasure at the miserable wretch caught in a solecism or a misquotation brags and threatens like the portents of a thunder storm, and whose frown, like the call of the baron of Sheppey for his boots, makes every caitiff within hearing tremble in his shoes; whose approval is the laurel crown of merit and whose disapproval is the seal of literary damnation. And how often it happens that when this Jupiter James of letters comes to be critically examined he turns out to be nothing more than a cheap buck who has no learning and no taste, and whose wit has the truculent keenness of Bill Sykes' bludgeon, and whose warrant of authority is merely the bluster of impudence and whose scintillant flashes are but pickings from literary pawnshops; whose critical methods combine the valorous and terrifying tactics of Ancient Pistol with the fine discrimination of Dr. Squeers; who, in short, is merely a jackdaw strutting in borrowed plumage and laying the law down after the fashion of the late Emperor Norton, whose empire was a joke and whose majesty a travesty.

This by way of prologue. Now for serving up our mutton (which in this instance is the editor of Town Talk), in a way to make him tender if not palatable. In faith it is tender enough already, but it needs more hasting and a further dressing of salt and pepper to make it comestible to stomachs unaccustomed to rancid flavors and flat small beer. So the smell of the cookery should give no distaste for the viands.

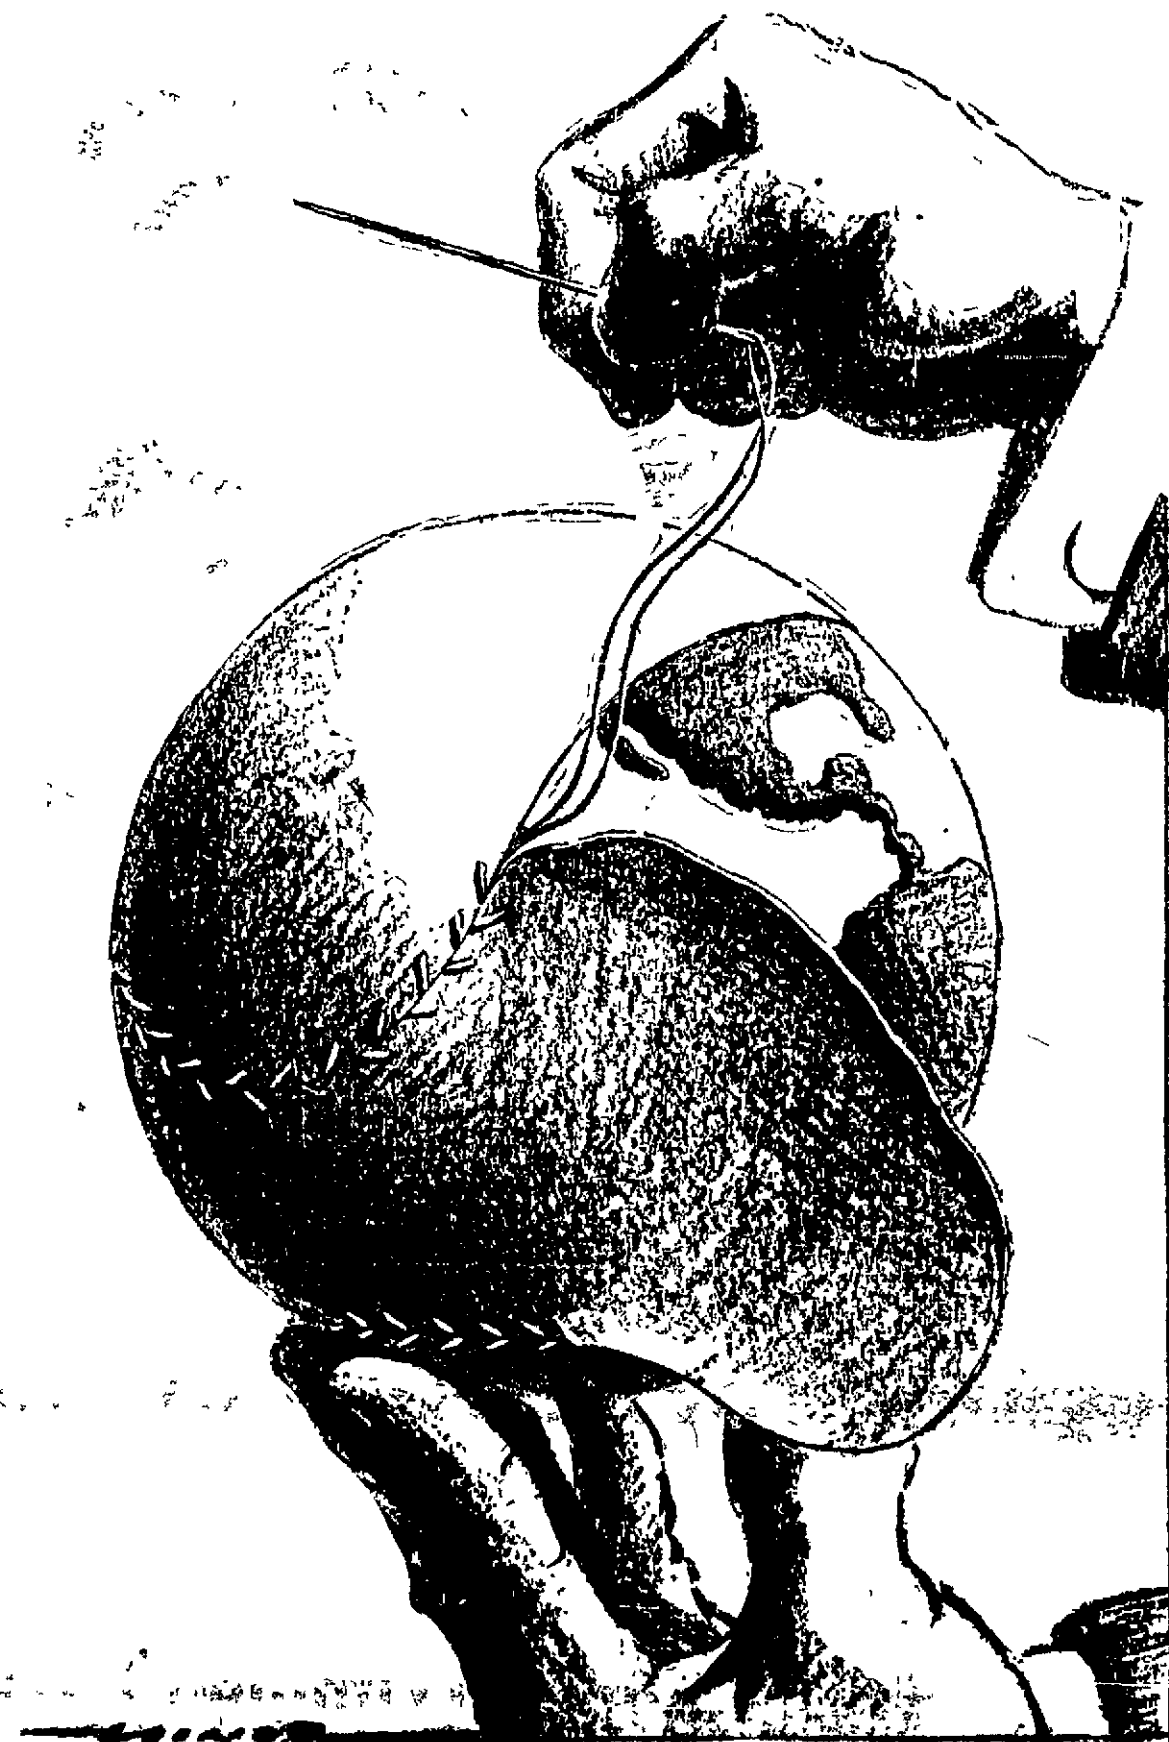

Brother Bonnet complains that the vocabulary of the editor of THE TRIBUNE is limited. Why that should offend him is not clear, but short as it is it has served its purpose thus far, and has not handicapped the writer so as to unduly encumber him in encounters with adversaries who have relied upon an opulent display of words to conceal a paucity of ideas, and who labor under the delusion that wit is simply a vocabular demonstration. It has even penetrated the understanding of the editor of Town Talk, and that is going some. But one needs not a long knife to skin a small skunk, albeit the task is none of the pleasantest and the spoil of indifferent value. The odor of sewer gas must be braved if a nuisance is to be abated. In such matters as the business in hand, dialectics is not the readiest recourse, as the cat said when it ate the canary.

Brother Bonnet is pleased to remind us of the distinction between years and ears. In a previous issue of his valuable paper he took up the better part of three columns to say the editor of THE TRIBUNE is dull. In his latest issue he consumes an equal amount of space to express the opinion that this scribe is stupid. In one of his illuminating essays Walter Bagehot argues that stupidity is the base of all permanent institutions and national stability. Brother Bonnet seems bent upon proving by inverse reasoning and personal demonstration the correctness of Bagehot's theory. Judged by the Bagehot standard, Brother Bonnet is a statesman of the first rank and a philosopher without a peer. To fortify his charge of stupidity Brother Bonnet says the editor of THE TRIBUNE is old. It cannot be denied. The thrust is a shrewd one. It was Dogberry who said: "When the age is in the wit is out." On this point we would not for the world dispute Dogberry; besides, one must feel some shame when caught with Old Time's goods on him. Had baldness been included in the counts of the indictment the disaster would have been irreparable. Age is a fault not easily mended, but its iniquity is not to be measured by the length of Bottom's ears, nor is it a convincing proof that Mr. Bunderby is a gentleman of polish, wit and learning. If Brother Bonnet should, perchance, fall into the sin of age (and we wish him no worse fortune), we trust he will have sufficient philosophy to bear his disgrace with fortitude, and not be too deeply wounded if some merry wag should invite public attention to the fact that he had fallen into Old Time's clutches with no hope of clemency and the benefit of clergy for a solitary solace. But one need not feel greatly abashed at having his sins bawled out in church by Friar Tuck. It occurs not infrequently that the manners and morals of the accuser give pardon and grace to the accused.

For some time the editor of Town Talk has been trying to transfix the editor of THE TRIBUNE with a personal pronoun. Whether he is trying to prove his own prowess or the vulnerability of the target we cannot say—his skill in dialectics appears to be no whit superior to his verbal archery. During the last few weeks he has discharged some five thousand I's in this direction, and is astonished that no harm has been done and that no one has sought shelter from the shower. His feelings are akin to the amazement of the warriors of Lilliput at the failure of their darts to make any impression on Gulliver. We acquit Brother Bonnet of a desire to give real pain, but his astonishment at his failure to inflict a smart is ludicrous, and to persons unacquainted with his generous and magnanimous nature might be taken as an evidence of baffled malice. Brother Bonnet would not hurt any one for the world, least of all his old friend who has fallen into age and dotage, but is merely surprised and perplexed to discover that the personal pronoun I is not Ithuriel's spear and is no more dangerous than a spitball when discharged by weak hands. The discovery is a shock to an overwrought and thin-skinned egotism.

Our Town Talk friend has evidently read with close attention Samuel Warren's "Ten Thousand a Year." There's a reason Tittlebat Titmouse, the hero of Warren's novel, gained a reputation as statesman, orator and wit by rushing at another speaker in the House of Commons and crying "Boo!" The simplicity of this method of confounding adversaries and acquiring fame for himself apparently appealed to Brother Bonnet's talents and tastes. He has employed it with great pertinacity and some success, and is now amazed that everybody is not frightened or discomfited by his boo. His device has proved to be fallible, and, alas! he has no alternate recourse, no line of defense, no path to retreat. Having said his boo and finding the enemy standing his ground unimpaired and unperturbed instead of flying in panic, Brother Bonnet is thrown into confusion and continues to cry "boo," as if he expected the ghost of Tittlebat Titmouse would come to his relief. Our sympathy is extended; refusing to be affrighted by a device so simple does him no harm and may teach him a lesson of which he stands in sore need.

GETTING READY

—ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

It is no fault of ours if he is now in the plight of the braggart in "Much Ado About Nothing" who declined to fight a duel in his shirt because he had no shirt. Brother Bonnet has disarmed himself by demonstrating that his arsenal contained only one cartridge and that cartridge a blank one.

Brother Bonnet repeats that this writer called him an ass. We protest he is wrong. Our contemporary is a victim of self-consciousness. He construed what was said of him in these columns while fronting a mirror and drew his conclusion from his eyes and not from the text. It was Mr. Justice Dogberry who said: "Masters do not forget to specify, when time and place shall serve, that I am an ass." From that decision there is no appeal; and, like the writer, Brother Bonnet does not favor the recall of either judges or decisions. So the judgment stands, but it was none of our rendering. Brother Bonnet will have to seek other cause for grievance. If our discourse be not "spicular" enough to please the dainty taste of our learned, witty and amiable friend, neither does it postulate or oburgate, nor does it ransack the dictionary for uncommon words wherewith to express commonplace ideas; and we are quite willing that good Bottom shall measure it with his ears as his mental astringency will not permit him to apply any other test to it.

Arthur J. Pillsbury heads his lucubrations in the Outlook "Table Talk." Pillsbury cannot tear himself away from the pie-counter. It is the subject of all his thoughts, and is naturally the theme of his discourse.

Salve for a Sore Toe.

George C. Pardee calls the leading members of THE TRIBUNE'S editorial staff a number of hard names, but he does not venture to say that he did not ask William F. Herrin for the support of the Southern Pacific Railroad in 1906, and did not confer with Abe Ruef in person at the Santa Cruz convention in an effort to get the votes of the Ruef-Schmitz delegation.

Why is the doctor so coy? He says he has no time to deny, but he has plenty of time to indulge in fish wifely abuse.

Pardee says it was Colonel Dan Burns who drew off enough votes from Gage to give him the nomination in 1902. That statement will make every man laugh who knows anything about the Sacramento convention which gave Pardee the nomination for Governor in 1902. Dan Burns controlled only a few votes in that election, and he was powerless to affect the result.

It is well known that William F. Herrin went to Sacramento in a private car, and gave the order to switch from Gage to Pardee. Dan Burns was simply an intermediary in the transaction—a broker in the patronage deal.

When Dr. Pardee's sore toe quits hurting long enough for him to speak lucidly, he might explain to the people he loves so well why Dan Burns and Thomas H. Williams took so much interest in his campaign in the year 1902. The public would like to hear that story if truthfully told.

Senator Works does not know whether he is in favor of free sugar or not. He does not know whether he believes in protection or not. He is not certain that he is a Republican. If anybody wants to know what Senator Works believes in he will have to ask Governor Johnson. Works believes the people should rule, and to him the order of Governor Johnson is the command of the people.

NEVERMORE

When country politicians quit
The egg crate or the butter flin
Because in Congress they're to sit
And do a little "honest workin'."
No pride will flush the ruddy cheeks
Of those who make the ground corn-checked.
For nevermore when Silas speaks
Will "Chagra" "Applause!" go in The Record
—New York Tribune

WITTY BITS

Chicago now has 2,500,000 inmates, most of whom are in for life.
When T. R. spoke of Lincoln he probably had in mind Link Steffens.
We never knew of a tall yet that didn't think it had the unalienable right to wag the wag.
The local hen that laid two eggs in an office safe was hep to the value of her product.
It's a short step from the going to the water wagon to doing your smoking at home in the cellar.
Well, if the great hunter wanted to go back to Africa he wouldn't have to ask Andy to finance the trip.
The Colonel says he will take considerable time before answering the President's speech. Yes, we judge it will take him longer than he thinks.
R. H. Probably is sorry now that Columbus ever discovered America, for otherwise there wouldn't have been any town in Ohio named after him.
Woman's suffrage will never change an election, since every dame will first find out how her husband, father, or brother will cast her ballot and then copper it.
The Maryland legislature refused to regulate those "altimere hotel rates, acting, doubtless, on the excellent theory that it is no business of the lawmakers to destroy a home industry.—Washington Post.

Pointed Paragraphs

Better a strong prejudice than a weak conviction.
It's difficult for a man who is broke to break into society.
The more a man expects the more he will be surprised if he gets it.
Alimony is the cement that is sometimes used to mend a broken heart.
It would save people a lot of trouble if they could be born with their wisdom teeth already cut.
Talent in the kitchen and a balance in the bank should form a combination for generating domestic bliss.
Some women are hard to please. They hardly get a wedding gown before they begin to look up material for a divorce suit.—Chicago News.

Bachelor Musings

Money causes much sin, but it covers up much more in sinners who have it.
Kissing is about the oddest thing when it's a family affair.
Gins seem to be able to see through a

City of Paris

UNION SQUARE

FOUNDED 1850

GEARY & STOCKTON

THE DRESSMAKING SALON

Having at hand its complete collection of imported models, is now prepared to accept commissions for making to your especial order Gowns and Suits for the Spring Social Season, and for anticipated travels in exact reproduction of the original models or modified to carry out your personal taste

READY-to-WEAR SECTION

Another invoice of French Model Suits and Gowns has just been received and will be placed on sale in this department on Monday, priced very modestly.

BEAUTIFUL EASTER MILLINERY

This Salon is filled with the best from the Master Milliners of the French capital and with many fascinating conceptions from our own workrooms.

Easter Suggestions to Complete Madame's Toilette

Parasols Marabout and Ostrich Collarettes
Veils and Veiling Lace Scarfs
Neckwear Toilet Requisites
Gloves Handkerchiefs Bags Jewelry
of which a generous assortment of the newest and best will be found

H.C. Capwell Co.

Clay, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Streets

Easter Songs and Popular Music

Visit our Sheet Music Department tomorrow for your Easter songs or the latest popular hits. Many titles besides those detailed below. Note and compare the prices.

| Music 5c                           | Music 15c                |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Easter Songs                | Popular Music     |
| Calvary—Benny                      | Everybody—Two-step Song  |
| Drum of Paradise—Gray              | When You're Away         |
| Jerusalem—Parker                   | How's Man                |
| Palms—Tamm                         | Hour That Gave Me You    |
| Ave Maria—Gordon                   | Om Back (New Rag)        |
| One Sweetly Solenn Thought—Ambrose | Beautiful Doll           |
| Rock of Ages—Orie                  | Everybody's Doing It     |
| Kerna of Faith                     | When Day Is On Rose      |
| (Splendid Songs)                   | Beautiful Lady (Waltz)   |
|                                    | Everybody's Doing It     |
|                                    | Island of Roses and Love |
|                                    | Lazy                     |
|                                    | Belgian Rag              |
|                                    | Dixie Moon               |
|                                    | King Chanticleer         |
|                                    | Wootchie Boy             |
|                                    | Berranda We Made         |
|                                    | Daddy                    |
|                                    | I Want a Girl            |
|                                    | Trolley Car Song         |
|                                    | Nonny-nony Love          |
|                                    | April                    |

2 LOST CHILDREN RETURN TO FATHER

Young Girls Wander Under Strange Circumstances for Three Years.

After a journey with their mother and the man she eloped with, and later with the man, after their mother committed suicide at Memphis, Tenn., a year ago, Ruth and Grace Sullivan, two girls four and five years old, respectively, are on their way east to join their father, who has been searching the country for them since they were taken away by their mother, about three years ago.

The two girls were found several months ago by the Children's Home Society of California, and through this institution the father, C. W. Stillwell, was traced. The family home is at Trumansburg, N. Y., and the children left today on the overland. The case was handled by Rev. R. E. Nunn of Oakland, district superintendent of the society, which has branches in different parts of the state, including a children's home at Grove and Russell streets in Berkeley.

Three years ago Mrs. Stillwell, mother of the girls, eloped with a man giving his name as Parmalee, taking the girls with her. They wandered through the south, and the mother, becoming unhappy, took laudanum in a lodging house at Memphis, Tenn. Parmalee, who also traveled sometimes under the name of Boles, met another woman, with children, and induced her to accompany them.

STRANGE EXPERIENCE. The party finally landed in Stockton, traveling in a wagon, and there the woman made charges against Parmalee, which involved one of her daughters. Lack of evidence, however, caused the officials to release him, and he disappeared. In the meantime the children's home society investigated the case and took the two Stillwell children in charge. They were kept for three months at the headquarters of the society in Berkeley, while Superintendent Nunn traced their families through some old photos found in Parmalee's wagon. The father at once forwarded money to send them home, and they left today.

"It is one of the most peculiar cases I ever worked on," said Superintendent Nunn today. "The children had hardly any idea of their former home or relative and could furnish no clue to aid in tracing their kin. When found they were in the wagon, almost naked, as the man had not provided clothes for them. The woman with Parmalee was sent to her husband in Nevada, who received her back, with her two girls. We will investigate the events surrounding the death of the mother of the girls. It might not have been suicide at all, but murder. If we can unearth proof we will bring Parmalee to justice. In the meantime the little girls have a good home again and will forget their past experiences."

SONS OF VETERANS TO HOLD ENCAMPMENT

The twenty-sixth annual division encampment of the Sons of Veterans, U. S. A., will be held at Stockton, April 8 to 13. A special train has been secured by the G. A. R. and kindred organizations, which will leave the Stockton station, Oakland, on April 8, at 9:30 a. m. Tickets for the round trip will be $2.35, good on any train, returning on or before Monday, April 15. On other trains and on other points, one and one-half tickets will be secured. Tickets can be secured at regular offices of the Southern Pacific company, or at the depot on morning of April 8, when the special leaves.

The encampment will convene in Red Men's hall, 127 North California street, at 9:30 a. m., April 8. Division Organizers C. S. Scott of San Francisco will be a candidate for division commander. C. S. Scott, Baker, Camp No. 1, of this city, is a well represented. Among those who will attend are: Division Commander H. A. Longfellow, Division Secretary E. H. Cheney, Division Assistant Secretary C. A. McCurdy, Division Correspondent J. H. Collins, B. F. Littlefield, and Dan Hartman.

The thirty-first annual encampment will meet in St. Louis, August 26, 1912.

BROKE PAROLE; ARRESTED.

SEATTLE, March 30.—John A. Marcel, sentenced to five years' imprisonment for embezzling from a bank in Spokane, who was released last August, when he had served all but sixteen months of his term, was taken to Walla Walla last night, where he is wanted for violation of his parole.

AMUSEMENTS

BROADWAY CAMERA
10c—THEATER—10c
VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES
CHANGED EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SUNDAY.
CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE
EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING
TODAY—NEW SHOW—TODAY

ROSE'S EDUCATED DOGS
A Wonderful Animal Act.
—Other Acts—4—Roads—Pictures.
COMING WEDNESDAY
GEORGE SONTAG
FAMOUS EX-TRAIN ROBBER

LYRIC
Selling....."The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
Vignettes....."The Old Silver Watch"
Edison....."The Old Silver Watch"

Oakland Largest Photo Theater in America Open at 12 m. Daily.
Broadway at 15th Street
Entire Change of Program Sunday and Wednesday.

THIS SUNDAY, MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Featuring Maurice Costello in
"Someday"
"A Funeral That Flashed in the Pan"
"A Christian Slave"
"That Terrible African Hunter"
"The Weekly, No. 11"

The Newspaper of Picturdom

MANSFELDT CLUB MEMBERS GIVE RECITAL MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY CLASSICAL PROGRAM

MISS LORRAINE EWING and (below) MISS HAZEL H. HESS.

Many East Bay Residents Attend Musicales Across Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The seventeenth piano recital of the Mansfeldt Club was given last Wednesday evening at Kohler and Chase Hall, before a large audience.

The Mansfeldt Club has done much to maintain the high standard of artistic excellence which has given it a prominent place among San Francisco's musical organizations, and last Wednesday's performance was no exception to the rule. Noticeable among the audience was the large contingent of transient society folk and music lovers who came over to listen to a program ambitious enough to have tested the ability of seasoned professionals.

Miss Stella Howell's rendering of the Wagner-Liszt "Pigrom's Chorus" from Tannhauser was a splendid and vigorous interpretation and she gave it a tonal smoothness and swinging quality. The value caprice by Neuland which followed was a dainty gem that elicited much applause.

Miss Cecil Cowles, the well-known and gifted young pianist, played two of her own compositions, one of which was dedicated to Hugo Mansfeldt, founder of the club, and who has probably done more than any one man in this community to stimulate the understanding and appreciation of the great composers and their work among the younger generation.

Beethoven's Sonata, Pathétique, was rendered by Miss Lorraine Ewing with a fine breadth of interpretation and temperamental depth of feeling, and the lighter numbers which followed revealed a charming versatility and artistic appreciation of musical value.

Schubert-Liszt's "Erlkönig" was a powerful and appealing number in the hands of Miss Hazel Hess, whose recent success in the latest Centenary concert is a matter of recent memory and her brilliant technique was displayed to excellent advantage in "Erlkönig."

The program was as follows:
Sonata Pathétique.....Beethoven
Erlkönig.....Schubert
Pigrom's Chorus.....Wagner-Liszt
Caprice.....Neuland
Erlkönig.....Schubert

First Photo Plays.
Complete Change Daily.
Continuous 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.

TODAY ONLY!

A Sensational Western Drama,
"FIDELITY"

A Story of Love's Sacrifice.
Other Exclusive Features

BROADWAY AT TWELFTH STREET.
Open at 10 A. M. Daily.
Entire Change of Program Monday, Wednesday and Friday

LAST TIME TODAY—SUNDAY

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

"The Epidemic in Paradise Gulch"
"The Old Silver Watch"
"The Old Silver Watch"

ROOSEVELT AT END OF 8 STATES' TOUR

Colonel Speaks to Crowd in Detroit Armory; Reaches New York Tonight.

DETROIT, March 30.—Coming to Detroit this evening after speaking to large and enthusiastic audiences in interior Michigan, Theodore Roosevelt addressed 5000 people at the Light Guard Armory.

The colonel was given an enthusiastic reception, and his speech was applauded when he attacked the Taft administration for the failure of the railroad rate bill and denounced the three Republican Senators, Dillingham of Vermont, Cawley of South Dakota and Jones of Washington, who voted for the vindication of Senator Lorimer.

Leaving St. Paul last night, the train in which Colonel Roosevelt traveled reached Milwaukee at 10 o'clock this morning. He found 300 people gathered to meet him and made a three-minute speech. He omitted any reference to politics.

On the run to Detroit Colonel Roosevelt spoke to crowds at eight stations. In all his speeches he said a word or two in praise of Governor Osborn for his efforts to secure the enactment of a suitable presidential primary law. The legislature passed such a bill, but refused to make it operative this year. The colonel will arrive in New York tomorrow evening and will leave at once for Oyster Bay. During his tour Colonel Roosevelt made twenty-seven speeches in eight states.

SEEK RELATIVES OF 16 MONTHS OLD BABE

The Associated Charities is desirous of learning anything of the whereabouts of any relatives of Milie Seville, 16 months old, daughter of Mrs. Annie Seville, who is now in the state hospital for the insane at Stockton. The child was committed to the care of the Associated Charities over a year ago, since which time she has been cared for by that institution.

Nothing is known of the history of the mother or of her people. She was committed to Stockton on March 22, 1911, from the county infirmary. The baby is now boarded in a private family and no steps can be taken for her adoption or permanent placing without the consent of the mother, who is detained, or relatives.

Mrs. Frances Lemon, of the Associated Charities headquarters, 512 Broadway, has charge of the case.

ABRAHAMSON'S

Sample Line of PARASOLS
Half Price

EASTER SUGGESTIONS

FROM OUR

GREAT DISSOLUTION SALE

With Easter Sunday but one week away, it's high time that every woman should select the most important part of her Easter outfit—the Easter Hat and the Easter Suit. For Monday's selling we have assembled a most wonderful collection of the newest style ideas in these departments—many charming and individual styles, and at prices that will prove unusually attractive to the fashionable woman who wishes to economize.

Black Satin and Silk Coats
Priced at $20, $25 Up

Very dignified and rich looking models specially adapted for middle aged ladies, in a full assortment of large sizes. Made of fine quality satin de cygne, taffeta, rayon cloth, etc. Finished with deep shawl collar and lined with elegant satins, in black or changeable effects.

Stylish New Suits For Easter
$12.45 $17.50 $22.50
$25.00 TO $50.00

Easter Dresses

Inexpensive apparel is a feature we emphasize. Covering thoroughly an extensive style field we are enabled to offer incomparable styles, materials and values at moderate prices.

Serge Dresses...$7.50 UP
Street Dresses...$9.95 UP
Messaline Dresses...$12.50

White Serge Suits

This is going to be a season of "white," and we have fully prepared ourselves for the coming demand. Our extensive assortment for women and misses includes many decided novelties in plain or trimmed effects; also pretty half-line stripes. Very distinctive models priced from

$20.00 TO $35.00

Brilliant Display of Easter Gowns

A splendid Easter offering, bought especially for this Great Dissolution Sale, at a saving of nearly one-half. These garments represent the entire sample line of a foremost New York maker and are wonderful values for $19.95. The waist part is made of fine imported lace and designed in the new raised waist-line effect—the latest

$19.95

Paris style—and becoming to almost any figure. Especially noteworthy is the body part which is made of imported Peau de Paris, a novelty silk, noted for its splendid wearing quality, finished with long trail in round or square effects. Colors—Alice blue, grey, black, cerise, lavender, white and pink; all sizes. Worth easily $35.00. Dissolution Sale price.....$19.95

SPECIALS IN MILLINERY

25% OFF French Pattern and Imported Model Hats 25% Off
As our imported Model Hats have filled already their purpose we have decided to close out this entire line before Easter at above discount. This is indeed one of the greatest buying opportunities ever presented to you and also assures you exclusiveness, as we do not carry two pattern hats alike.

Ladies' Trimmed Easter Hats $8.45

Worth $12.50. Owing to the tremendous success which we have had with these hats we decided to extend this sale until Monday. These stunning models are made of changeable silk braid, trimmed effectively with two-tone fancy willow plumes and finished with colored velvet ribbons in a most effective manner.

Willow Plumes

In Black and White Only

Unusually well selected plumes of lustrous black and white, with gracefully drooping heads. $10.00 values, 13 inches, long stem, 3-hand $6.75
Willow Plumes, each.....$6.75
$12.50 values, 11 inches, long stem, 3-hand the Willow Plumes, each.....$7.95
$18.50 values, 30 inches, long stem, 3-hand the Willow Plumes, each.....$12.45
$22.50 values, 38 inches, long stem, 3-hand the Willow Plumes, each.....$16.95

Smart Panamas $6.95

Actual $15.00 Values. Not too late for us to trim that nobby Easter Hat for you. These very soft and elastic blocks come in large, small and medium sizes and are the most ideal and durable hats for early spring and summer wear.

Two-Tone Willow Plumes $9.95

Worth $15.00. A cash purchase made a few days ago from an Eastern manufacturer enables us to offer these exceptional values. All are high-grade, selected male bird feathers, 16 inches long, 3-hand. Come in pretty two-tone effects of Alice blue, purple, American Beauty, coral, burnt, etc.

TO OUR MANY PATRONS

We herewith wish to advise you to order your Easter outfit as early as possible, so that we can make deliveries to you in time.

TOGGERY MOVES TO NEW STORE

Oakland Store Has New Quarters in Better Location; to Open Tomorrow.

Another leading mercantile establishment will throw open its doors tomorrow morning in a new location, that of Fourteenth street, west of Washington, when the Toggery Cloak and Suit House, previously at Eleventh and Washington streets, opens its new store at 588-571 Fourteenth street, between Clay and Jefferson. With Oscar Silverman as manager, the establishment will resume its operations in the handsome new building just completed for its use.

An inspection of the new building shows it to be one of the most attractive and best arranged of structures for the display of cloaks and suits. The building has a frontage of 50 feet on Fourteenth street, running back to the street to a depth of 120 feet. An elevator of one high story, containing a ground floor and mezzanine, is presented directly on the street, an additional story being added at the back of the building for use as a work room.

The front of the building has been arranged in court fashion, allowing for deep show windows on three sides, with the entrance directly in the center of the building. These windows are handsomely paneled in Circassian walnut, beautifully matched, the floors being of hard wood and the whole designed to show off the materials displayed to the best advantage. Still another feature of the front is the handsome new glass case, standing before the entrance, allowing an inspection of its contents from all sides.

Within the store is roomy and exceptionally well lighted, so much so that the establishment has taken for its slogan "The Brightest Store." The ceilings are high, with skylights overhead, the mezzanine reached by several flights of stairs and an elevator running along the walls on all sides.

On the ground floor are stock rooms on either side, and at the end, taking the place of the old-fashioned racks for cloaks and suits or the glass showcases, keeping the stock free from the dust and

WOMEN CONDUCTORS TO RUN DEL MONTE CARS

MONTREY, March 30.—Women will replace men in operating the cars of the Del Monte Heights electric railway in Monterey April 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by the corporation.

George W. Phelps, manager of the company, admits that he has selected the most prepossessing girls in and around Monterey for his motorwomen and "conductresses."

Miss Ida Johns, the first of the "conductresses," made her initial trip over the road yesterday.

"She'll do," was the dictum delivered by Phelps, who is an ardent believer in woman suffrage.

BLOWS IN STOVE TO LIGHT FIRE; BURNED

WORCESTER, March 30.—A sudden burst of flames in a stove sent Samuel Fancher, aged 58, of 491 Southbridge street, to the City Hospital with his face and head covered with burns. Fancher filled the stove with fuel, but he did not have enough inflammable material under it to start a fire.

That he and his family might keep warm during the night and that his supper be prepared without delay, he decided to use his mouth as a bellows. He blew into the smoldering fire, when suddenly the flames shot out into his countenance. He narrowly escaped losing his ears, as the flames seized his eyebrows and hair. He was rushed to the hospital in the police auto.

POSSES CLOSE IN ON TWO OUTLAWS

Allen and Edwards the Last of Gang at Large, Being Chased to Corner.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 30.—Positive information was received here early this evening that a posse of picked men, which started out of here at midnight, was at noon close upon the trail of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the last remaining uncaptured outlaws of the Allen clan. The desperadoes have declared that they will fight to the death when overtaken.

The posse discovered a bed of leaves in a secluded ravine near Sugar Loaf mountain, which is rather close to Fanny Gap than to Piper's Gap, where the mountaineers were last known to be hiding. There is every indication that this bed of leaves has been used as a sleeping place last night by Allen and Edwards.

A rumor spread through the town last night that Sidna and Wesley had gathered together some hidden men and were on their way into Hillsville to rescue from jail the prisoners, Claude and Fred Allen. Had the mountaineers appeared there would have been a desperate battle.

TOWN IS GUARDED. Throughout the entire night the one street of Hillsville was never deserted. Shortly after midnight a posse of the four best shots and most daring riders of the detective force started out to give battle to the outlaws on sight. They had accepted the challenge sent by Sidna and Wesley through Fred Allen, the last prisoner.

Just before starting they received information that at midnight two men had been seen running from a barn. The posse headed in the direction of Russell Road, a rocky cliff which overlooks many miles of territory. Beyond this cliff are the pinnacles of Dnn, between which roars a mountain cataract. The detective scouts intended to search that territory as well as No-Man-Land, where the Allens were last seen.

Classified Ads in THE TRIBUNE bring returns.

COMEDY IS PRODUCED TO BUY OIL PAINTING

Members of the Junior class of the John C. Fremont high school have a performance of "Blacker," a three-act comedy, in the auditorium of the high school, Fourth and Broadway, and Deering street, Friday night. The performance was in aid of the oil painting fund of the school and a substantial sum was raised.

The four upper classes of the school are contributing, through entertainments and other features, to a fund to secure an oil painting of P. S. Rosecrans, principal of the school. In addition to the receipts from the play the girls of the class sold candy during the intermissions.

The comedy, one of Sydney Rosenfeld's, was coached by Mrs. Ira N. Allen, the principal, and was taken over by Miss Edna Thivins, Miss Bertha Vandenberg, Miss Miriam Creely, Miss Vera McDonald, Walter Hall, Grover Carlson, Robert Voss and Leslie Fletcher.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA, EPILEPSIA, CONVULSIONS

Scleritis, Rheumatism, Syphilis, Scrofula and Hip Disease, the most severe cases of nervous and blood diseases, positively cured by Dr. A. A. Guglielmi's method of treatment. The doctor treats all cases with his new method in which he uses no surgery, poisons, or any dangerous drugs. He cures all cases, no matter how long the patient has been ill, but slowly and gradually, and makes the patient incurable. Of course it is difficult to convince the patient of the efficacy of his treatment, especially after they have tried several other treatments without success. The doctor treats all cases with his new method in which he uses no surgery, poisons, or any dangerous drugs. He cures all cases, no matter how long the patient has been ill, but slowly and gradually, and makes the patient incurable.

Consultation free at the sanatorium from 8 to 10 a. m. and 5 to 8 p. m. Those who are not able to come for consultation will, by special appointment, consult at their homes.

A. A. GUGLIELMI, M. D.

Laces for Your Easter Frocks

Frost-like Shadow Laces—Sheer Malines with wonderful designs—Appliques—Point de Paris—Macramés. They—and all the others are here, and at the fairest kind of prices. Many can be had in sets to match—flouncings, insertions, edges and all-overs.

It Pays To Shop At
Kahn's
The Always Busy Store
Twelfth at Washington

The Dirt Has Begun to Fly

at San Pablo, Sixteenth and Broadway. Look at the big, deep hole the workmen are digging. The foundation of our new building, like that of this business, is to be a solid and enduring one.

Easter Millinery

KAHN'S MARKET OF THE HAT is one of the city's show places. The loveliest hats that have been developed this season are here grouped in one glorious display. The hats from Paris will most likely be the center of attraction—there is such fascination to the styles that emanate from that famous fashion city. But after all, it is not so much what Paris dictates that creates style, but rather that which becomes a woman best. The hat that best conforms to her beauty, that enhances her appearance and adds to her grace—that is the best style. And of such style are the hats on exhibition in our Millinery Salon. Come and let us solve your Easter Hat problem.

Children's Easter Hats

$2.00 This season's best-liked shapes in Tuscan and hair braids. Trimmings in various attractive ways with pretty ribbons. Colors—cream, pink and blue. Real bargains.

$2.75 Made of Tuscan braid and trimmed in pretty new effects with flowers and ribbons. Colors—pink and blue. A splendid special for Easter.

Beautiful Easter Millinery

Special Display of Four Interesting Groups at $4.50, $7.50, $10 and $12.50

These hats are full of new charms. They were made by our own talented milliners, after hearing the latest style whispers from Paris and New York. In them the very latest ideas in millinery have been recorded. They are far more beautiful than their modest prices would indicate.

Children's Easter Hats

Small hair braid droop shape. Full of those clever little touches so dear to the heart of childhood. Colors—pink, blue and champagne. The prettiest hats ever offered at $1.75.

Several different models—all bewitchingly pretty. Made of Tuscan straw and ornamented with laces, flowers and ribbons. Surprisingly fine hats at $3.50 to $7.00.

Dresses For the Easter Parade

The beauty of these exquisite creations defies description—baffles type. You must see them to appreciate their charms. Never have we had such good values.

|                    |                    |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| Silk Dresses From  | $ 8.95 TO $45.00 |
| Cloth Dresses From | $ 8.50 TO $27.50 |
| Lingerie Dresses   | $ 5.95 TO $50.00 |
| Evening Costumes   | $42.50 TO $85.00 |

Easter Sale of Novelty Suits

Every Single Suit Is Worth $35.00 or $37.50

$25

The Models and Fabrics Are This Season's Choicest

These are the most elegant suits that ever went into a twenty-five-dollar sale. They came from a manufacturer whose $35.00 and $37.50 suits are recognized as the very best made in this country. They are tailored with a wealth of care from this season's richest and most fashionable fabrics, and there are so many different models in the purchase that we can safely promise to please every woman who comes for them. Remember—These are not merely $35.00 and $37.50 suits, but the finest suits that can possibly be produced to sell at these prices. If they had not been thrown back on the hands of the maker by the failure of one of his customers we would not be able to sell them at $25. Come and See These Suits Tomorrow—Take Elevator to Our Famous Third Floor

Fairy Like Easter Waists

Even at 95c. One wonders how they can be made for so little. Of sheer material, trimmed with pretty laces and embroideries. Fingers must fly with humming-bird swiftness, as they certainly do fly with wonderful accuracy and skill, to permit us to sell them at 95c—And other waists at $1.25 and $1.50 are just as unusual—And our special waists at $1.95 are even more remarkable—Then there are waists $2.45, $3.95, $4.25, $4.95, $5.45 and up to $19.50. It's a display of bewildering beauty that is ready in Kahn's Waist Store, on the Third Floor.

95c to $19.50

Silk Waists

Taffeta and messaline in black and all colors. $4.50 values for $2.75

The "Klofit" Petticoats

ARE SOLD ON OUR FAMOUS THIRD FLOOR

Trixie Friqanzi One of the most popular actresses of today says: "I wear the Klofit Petticoat because the elastic gusset insures perfect fit." Made in all petticoat fabrics. Black and every wanted color. $1 to $7.50

Veilings With the Breath of Paris in Their Meshes

Sheer cobwebby threads woven into an infinite number of beautiful designs, or, in some cases, perfectly plain. Many so thin and delicate that they are scarcely apparent when worn, yet they keep back the stray looks and add to one's appearance. Others a trifle heavier, finished with woven dots and chenille dots in various sizes. No Easter hat can be counted a complete success until it meets its own veil affinity.

Beautiful Easter Ribbons

Plain ribbons, fancy ribbons. All kinds—all shades—all widths. The department is as full of color and beauty as a tropical garden in full bloom. Prices are reasonable—surprisingly so, to those unacquainted with our little profit system.

Beaded and White Bags Are the Rage

You'll surely want one to go with that new Easter outfit. Our prices will not prove a barrier to your desire.

Easter Gloves

Kid and fabric—in every correct style and in every proper length—in just the color to match or harmonize with your Easter suit.

The manager who guides the destiny of this great, important department never planned and bought more resultfully.

Easter Hosiery

Our Hosiery stock is unusually large this season. It is also unusually rich in novelties.

We have beautiful stockings of pure silk, lisle thread and fine cotton—in black and all the new colors. Some are plain—others are richly embroidered by hand—still others are in lace effects.

Smart Neckfixings

A collection that will delight women in search of what is new, becoming and appropriate for Easter Sunday and other spring days. We have the prettiest of the many pretty new ideas that Paris and New York are wearing—some of filmy lace in dainty, exquisite patterns—others the smart practical kinds that defy wear and thrive on tubbings.

Parasols for Easter And Other Days, Too

A magnificent assortment. And they're novel—quite different from the general run of parasols you've been buying year after year. The handles are beautiful. Prices are right—the lowest you can find.

Kahn's
The Always Busy Store

TWELFTH AT WASHINGTON STREET, OAKLAND

The Newest Handkerchiefs

A bewildering variety. Some pure white—some in colors that will not fade. Some hemmed—some hemstitched—some embroidered by the trained and artistic fingers of dainty Irish lassies—some embroidered by wonderful machines—some trimmed with lace. Special value at any price you want to pay.

Trimmings for Easter Gowns

A wonderful, gleaming display. Case after case holds suggestions for the woman planning one—or many—new spring gowns. There are trimmings of gold—of silver—of steel. There are beautiful appliques in new effects. There are colored bands richly a-gleam with gold and silver. There are nets of shimmering iridescence. There are braids galore. There are pretty wash trimmings of all kinds. And there's a wealth of button beauty. Was there ever such a trimming array? Were prices ever so reasonable?

R. & G. Corsets The Best Foundation for Easter Gowns

Regardless of what your figure may be, of one thing you may be sure—there's an R. & G. Corset which will mould you most effectively to the fashionable lines of the moment—yet will permit of the fullest freedom and comfort of movement. R. & G. Corsets lend added grace to every curve of the form and all without the slightest feeling of restraint. The actress considers her corset a most important part of her wardrobe. It must not only make the utmost of her figure, but permit of suppleness of movement. That is why the R. & G. is worn by the leading stars—on the stage and off.

building must be cleared at once for a new tenant. Open for inspection Monday 1 to 5 p. m. W. E. Dean, receiver.
MEYSEL & MEYSEL, Auctioneers.

SPORTS: EDITED BY BERT LOWRY

ALL TEAMS OF COAST LEAGUE IN SHAPE FOR OPENING DAY

Oaks Are Defeated by Victoria Team, Showing a Weakness in Pinch Hitting

OAKS FAIL TO LIVE UP TO FORM WITH THE VICTORIANS

Louis Nordyke's Team Trounces Our Boys, Who Fail Miserably With Stick.

By BERT LOWRY

OUR hopes and prizes didn't give the fans anything glorious to talk over after they had waded through a session with the Victoria team of the Northwest League out at Freeman Park yesterday afternoon. Truth of the matter is, they gave the fans a whole lot to crab over, for those Victorians trimmed the hopes and prizes to a fare-the-well by a score of 5 to 2.

Sizing the game up from the seats behind the screen it wasn't very encouraging ball that the Oaks played. Of course every team in the league is apt to be walloped sooner or later, but somehow the fans can't just figure out why that Victoria team which finished "absolutely" in the pennant race with a percentage of but .247 could beat the Oaks. Again, simply truth of the matter is, it was simply because our boys and prizes couldn't run and three hits won't win a game.

For ten innings the two teams waded through a game that was devoid of thrills or anything brilliant and when the score tallied up the runs and hits it was found that we were hit with two tallies and three little bingles, while the Northerners had five runs and eleven bingles. Surely two runs and three hits won't win many games.

CHRISTIAN LOOKS IN SHAPE

Tyler Christian took up the burden for the hopes and prizes and Tyler pitched a lovely game of ball. Victoria hit him all right, getting five singles in six innings with lots of hits that didn't go safe, but the "Old Time" tightened up in the pinches and fooled Father Nordyke and his boys.

Pat Bohan went into the box in the seventh inning and got through the spasm in great shape, but in the eighth he ran into foul weather. It was partly his fault and partly the fault of Bertram Coy that Victoria gathered a couple and went to the point.

It was like this, Keller hit sharply to Leard at second with one in the hole, and Leard, who is woefully weak on a ground ball, gave the ball to the pitcher. The pitcher took a flying start on Bohan and beat the peg to second base. Meek—who he hit his name for, he is a great big fellow—followed with a fly ball to the pitcher's box and Keller hit it with a batted ball, and Keller hit it to the pitcher.

Meek, Nordyke, remember him as first baseman of the Seals back in the "de-war," slammed one out into the same territory that Coy should have stepped but he didn't. Meek managed to drag himself to the rubber.

The home team tied it up in the ninth, though on a pass and a lively hot. Coy, one of our happy boys, was out. "Tuffy" Leard had walked and stood around first while two men were being out. Zacher, then, a pass and a lively hot into the mits of Mr. Tio, but Mr. Tio is shy on catching a ball and it fell to earth through the address mitt.

"Tuffy" had started the pitcher's box and he landed at the rubber before the ball could be retrieved. That tally, with one out, gathered in the third inning made it two all.

DURBIN GETS A LACING

Blaise Durbin, southpaw, with very little height to his make up, but lots of steam and courage, he slams over the rubber then took up the burdens and was given a merry lacing by the second classers from the North. That meaning though, for looks like a good pitcher and me thinks he sort of loafed on the job.

One had been to the bat and gone back to the bench on Blaine when Friene, a Los Angeles discard, whanged one to centerfield. Durbin cut loose with a F. and Friene was out. Then, a Los Angeles shoreman Meek was dangerous so he got a pass to the initial sack. Louis dipped one to right for a safety and Friene was out. Friene redeemed himself again with a safety and by strenuous endeavor Meek got to third. On Daniels' single to right Meek and Friene broke the run column. Rawlings then hit into a double play and the agony was over. Three times the gong clanged and four were the hits.

For us, in the last of the tenth, Elmer Zacher passed one to left and went to second while Friene and Friene were out at first. Hamilton hit to left and Zacher, regardless of where the ball was going, tore for home. Daniels easily caught the ball and Zacher was doubled at second. That's all.

PRACTICE GAMES DON'T COUNT

If we were to judge the Oaks by the way they played yesterday, we would say that our team would have been out of the league. The Oaks didn't seem to care whether they won or lost. Pepper and ginger was as unknown on the field as the snow in Yuma, Arizona. All around me were crabs and fans and fanatics, and they weren't very complimentary in what they said about the boys and the way they played the great national pastime.

It is all right to be peppy and sinky like big Cy Parkin, who has made friends with every man, woman and child in the state, but there is no need of the rough stuff. It got a ball player nothing whatsoever.

Today the Oaks will tackle the Victorians again at the same place and at the same hour. Will they still be in the doubt, but it will probably be Malarkey. Let's hope the boys show a little more of the Wolverines brand of pep and that the final game of the practice stunt be filled with something that the fans yesterday's doling.

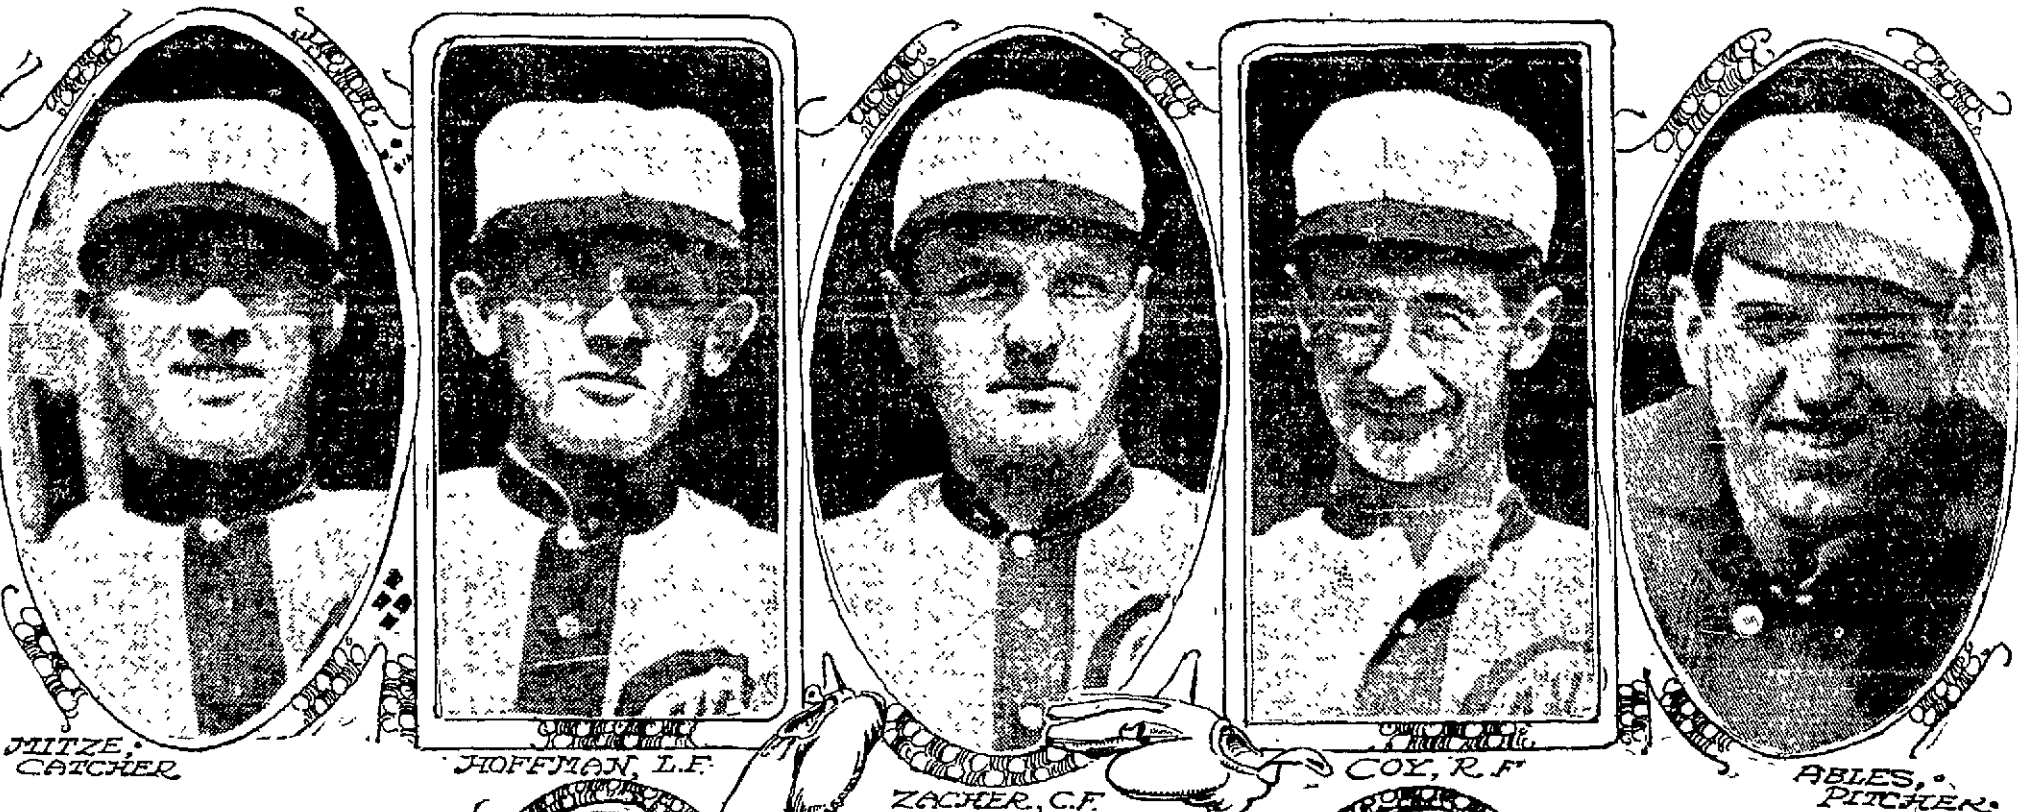

OAKLAND. AB. R. H. SB. PO. A. E.
Leard, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Nordyke, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Fischer, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Patterson, rf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Sharpe, 3b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Hamilton, 5b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Christian, p. 2 0 0 0 11 1 0
Bohan, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Durbin, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 36 0 0 0 0 30 12 4

VICTORIA. AB. R. H. SB. PO. A. E.
Brennan, 3b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Friene, 2b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Meek, 1b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Nordyke, 1b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Fischer, cf. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Patterson, rf. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Sharpe, 3b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Hamilton, 5b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Christian, p. 2 0 0 0 11 1 0
Bohan, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Durbin, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 36 0 0 0 0 30 12 4

SUMMARY.
*Hit by runner, off McCrory in 5 innings; 5 hits, no runs, off Christian in 6 innings; 2 runs, 2 hits off Bohan in 7 innings. Two-base hit—Cook Meek. Nordyke. Sacrifice—Nordyke. First base on called balls—McCrory 2, Durbin 1, Christian 1, Bohan 1. Sacrifice—Nordyke. Time of game—2:15. Umpires—Hildebrand and Mettes.

The signing of Harry Steinfield by Roger Brennan means that Harry and Mike Mowrey will fight it out for the third base job with the Cardinals.

In these nine men the Oakland fans place their hope to win the opening game of the 1912 baseball season of the Pacific Coast League in San Francisco next Tuesday afternoon.

VARSITY ATHLETES EASILY WIN FROM SOUTHRONS

Pomona Is Outclassed in the Track and Field Events by California.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 30.—The varsity track team administered a severe beating to the Pomona team in the track and field events at the Pomona track yesterday afternoon. The varsity team of California easily won the event in 9 minutes 23 seconds, which is within two seconds of the California record. A new campus record was set in the pole vault by Vail of California, who topped the bar at 12 feet 1 inch. Barnes of Pomona came second in the event, but fell several inches short of twelve feet.

The relay was one of the spectacular events of the day and was taken by California. For the most part the events resulted in mediocre times and distances. The complete results were as follows:

Two mile—Crawley, California, won; Sturges, Pomona, second; Rathbone, California, third. Time, 22:30.
Five mile—Wood, California, won; Wright, California, second; Cooper, California, third. Time, 1:05.
Half mile—Billings, Pomona, won; Smith, California, second; Griffiths, California, third. Time, 2:05.
440-yard dash—Gillette, Pomona, won; Meyer, California, second; Chase, California, third. Time, 1:05.
220-yard dash—Gillette, Pomona, won; Wood, California, second; Todd, California, third. Time, 2:30.

100-yard dash—Stanton, California, won; DeWood, California, second; Bradway, California, third. Time, 1:10.
High hurdles—MacLise, California, won; Wallace, California, second; Heath, Pomona, third. Time, 1:35.
Low hurdles—MacLise, California, won; Havens, California, second; Brooks, Pomona, third. Time, 2:35.
Relay—Won by California team, Todd, Chase, Vitousek and Meyer. Time, 3:27.

Shot put—Hale, California, won; Rice, California, second; Thomas, California, third. Distance, 43 feet 4 inches.
Hammer throw—Coolidge, California, won; Gabbert, California, second; McCann, California, third. Distance, 139 feet 8 inches.
High jump—Feeley, California, won; Beeson, California, second; Bradley, California, third. Distance, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches.
Broad jump—Allen, California, won; Beeson, California, second; Bradley, California, third. Distance, 22 feet 1 inch.

Pole vault—Vail, California, won; Barnes, Pomona, second; Smith and Foster, both California, tied for third. Height, 12 feet 1 inch.

With every man, woman and child in the state, but there is no need of the rough stuff. It got a ball player nothing whatsoever.

Today the Oaks will tackle the Victorians again at the same place and at the same hour. Will they still be in the doubt, but it will probably be Malarkey. Let's hope the boys show a little more of the Wolverines brand of pep and that the final game of the practice stunt be filled with something that the fans yesterday's doling.

OAKLAND. AB. R. H. SB. PO. A. E.
Leard, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Nordyke, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Fischer, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Patterson, rf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Sharpe, 3b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Hamilton, 5b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0
Christian, p. 2 0 0 0 11 1 0
Bohan, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Durbin, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 36 0 0 0 0 30 12 4

VICTORIA. AB. R. H. SB. PO. A. E.
Brennan, 3b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Friene, 2b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Meek, 1b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Nordyke, 1b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Fischer, cf. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Patterson, rf. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Sharpe, 3b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Hamilton, 5b. 4 0 1 0 2 0 0
Christian, p. 2 0 0 0 11 1 0
Bohan, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Durbin, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 36 0 0 0 0 30 12 4

SUMMARY.
*Hit by runner, off McCrory in 5 innings; 5 hits, no runs, off Christian in 6 innings; 2 runs, 2 hits off Bohan in 7 innings. Two-base hit—Cook Meek. Nordyke. Sacrifice—Nordyke. First base on called balls—McCrory 2, Durbin 1, Christian 1, Bohan 1. Sacrifice—Nordyke. Time of game—2:15. Umpires—Hildebrand and Mettes.

The signing of Harry Steinfield by Roger Brennan means that Harry and Mike Mowrey will fight it out for the third base job with the Cardinals.

$5000 DERBY WILL BE FEATURE EVENT AT COEUR D'ALENE

300 Horses Are Quartered at Race Track, With More to Arrive.

By LEE DEMIER.

George W. Smith, the bustling secretary of the Coeur d'Alene Fair and Racing Association, in a letter to the writer states that the horses are coming in fast at Coeur d'Alene. MacDonald has arrived with fifteen head, Bob Harris and Al Smith with two cars, while two other cars from Montana helped to make up the 300 horses now on the ground.

The stakes for the $5000 Derby to be decided on Saturday, June 22, closed on Thursday, March 28. Smith also states that the race will be a very close one, and that the horses will be in the best of condition for the spring meet, which has a large list of entries and will include some of the best horses that have ever been in the history of the track.

"Rod" Mackenzie, the noted millionaire railroad man and horseman, who has a big stable of thoroughbreds, when racing was at its height in California, will enter an expensive string at Coeur d'Alene. He has sent his trainer East to purchase some of the best horses that are now in the market.

Coeur d'Alene and Fort Falls are taking on new life and are waiting for the tap of the bell. The weather will be just what the boys need.

TURF GOSSIP.
Roy Stebbins, who is well known among the racing circles here, has been awarded the grandstand privileges for the Alen meet.

Commence Richard Dryer will head a delegation of fifty noted Oakland and San Francisco jockeys for the scene of racing at Alen, Idaho. The bunch will leave on the steamer Bear on Saturday, April 20.

Among the prominent bookmakers who will make the trip to Alen are: Jack Adams, George Ross, Joe Ross, Billy Engstrom, Johnny Lewis, Horace Paul, Frank Shannon, Frank Jain, Ben Bradley, Ed Smith, Frank Baker, Jimmy Jackson, Frank McCoy, the DeWitts, Henry O'Brien and Roy O'Brien.

Superintendent W. W. Finn, with a force of men, will be on duty during the meet, and the track is in first-class condition and is now ready for the horsemen to work their charges on.

Charles Eckel, the noted bookmaker's clerk and expert on the pari-mutuel system is booked for Alen.

Will Hall, the popular handicapper and turf writer, will leave here for Spokane on April 11. Trainer Pete Smith is getting his small but select stable of runners in shape at Eucalyptus. He is going to ship his best two yearlings of horses were shipped from Sacramento to Alen yesterday.

Trainer "New" in Alen yesterday from June. They are glad to get back to the Alen track.

The New York horseman, will leave for Idaho this week to take up his horses, which have been wintering near the Alen track. There will be forty-five days of continuous racing at Vancouver, commencing the latter part of June.

Trainer Ned Judge is looking around for three or four selling places to be raced at Alen. He is going to ship his best horses to Alen. W. B. Carson will ship eight handi players to Alen.

Horsemen contemplating shipping their horses to the Alen track should address their letters to Secretary George W. Smith, 422 Sherman street, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

EASY WAY FOR VITT TO EXCUSE WEAKNESS
Oscar Vitt says it is harder to get a hit in the Coast League than it is to pull a horse's teeth. The Seattle third baseman is of the opinion that the league scores do not credit a hit unless the ball is not touched by any of the infielders. Easy way to account for his last year's batting average to Manager Jennings of Detroit.

CAMBRIDGE AND OXFORD ROWING CONTEST IS CALLED OFF

Boats of Both Crews Become Water-logged and Rivals Will Meet Again.

PUTNEY, England, March 30.—The annual eight-oared rowing contest between crews representing the Oxford and Cambridge universities which started this morning at Putney bridge was declared a race after both shells had become waterlogged. Rough water was encountered from the start and the Cambridge men abandoned the race after covering half the course. The Oxford crew finished in four and a half hours.

The cause was the usual one from Putney bridge to Mortlake, a distance of 4 1/4 miles. The water was so rough that the rowers were unable to keep their boats from taking on water. The Cambridge crew was the first to abandon the race, and the Oxford crew followed them.

The public was somewhat influenced in favor of the Oxfordmen by the fact that the Cambridge crew had won the previous year. The Oxford crew had won the previous year, and the Cambridge crew had won the previous year.

The Oxford crew had covered nearly three-quarters of the course when it was called off. The men righted the shell and clambered in again. They paddled along and completed the course, but the judges after consideration, declared the contest a race.

The presidents of the Oxford and Cambridge boat clubs have decided that the race shall be rowed again, Monday, April 1.

Following is the record for ten years of the Cambridge-Oxford boat race.

Year. Winner. Dist. won. 1882.....Cambridge 10 lengths 1883.....Cambridge 4 lengths 1884.....Cambridge 4 lengths 1885.....Oxford 3 lengths 1886.....Cambridge 16 lengths 1887.....Cambridge 4 1/2 lengths 1888.....Oxford 3 lengths 1889.....Oxford 2 1/2 lengths 1890.....Oxford 2 1/2 lengths 1891.....Oxford 2 1/2 lengths

Ten year total: Won by Cambridge 6; by Oxford 4.

Total result of 65 annual races: Won by Oxford 37; by Cambridge 28; heat 1 (1877). Record for the 1/4 mile course, 18 minutes 29 seconds, by Oxford in 1911.

COLUMBIA S. C. March 30.—"Cy" (Denton P.) Young, the veteran pitcher now with the Boston Nationals, celebrated his forty-fifth birthday here tonight. In honor of his twenty-third consecutive year as a baseball player, a record held by no other present-day player, the veteran was given a surprise dinner by his fellow players of the Boston team, which was attended by many of Young's friends and admirers from Columbia and other South Carolina cities.

SENATORS SWAT BALL TO ALL CORNERS OF BALL PARK

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 30.—Peter O'Rourke's Senators made good their assertions of readiness for the opening league game next Tuesday by handing Nick Williams' Portland cubs another overwhelming defeat today. The score was 18 to 2 when the Senators tired of running around the bases.

Arnesen pitched the whole game for Sacramento and in the last four innings he threw with the Cubs, merely lobbing them over the plate. The score.

Portland. 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—2 14 3
Sacramento 3 2 6 0 3 0 0—18 22 2
Batteries—Thomas, Ryd, Max Meyer and Troch; Arnesen and Hart.

CRACK TEAMS TO MEET ON SAN LEANDRO FIELD

SAN LEANDRO, March 30.—The Western Jewellers of this city play the Rancho Parkers of San Francisco, on the local grounds this afternoon. Richard and Parker battlers for the city have been selected.

COLLEGIANS WELL PREPPED FOR GO ON BALL FIELD

St. Mary's Second Team of Diamond Stars to Tackle Poly High Today.

Considerable interest is being manifested by high school fans on the outcome of the baseball game between the Oakland Polytechnic High School nine and the Collegian team of St. Mary's College which will be played this afternoon on St. Mary's grounds. The two star teams have already figured in one tally, the end of which was fatal to the "Poly" supporters.

The "Parrots" however, have been practicing hard of late and expect to give the Collegians an interesting time of it. Captain Dixon and Manager "Frank" Schreux of the Polytechnic lads are sanguine over the results of the coming game, declaring that they will certainly have the St. Mary nine's goat by the string when the score is counted.

The nine from the Polytechnic have already figured in several Classic games. They received the short end of a 1 to 0 ten inning game with Alameda High School, and a 2 to 1 victory over the length of a 5 to 4 fifteen inning tussle with the Oakland High School team. Dixon and Schreux are confident that the local nine are both in fine fettle and have good records.

The Oakland players will stack up against the Collegians in this contest. Louis Querolo will endeavor to hold down the short field. "Mick" Dempsey, a representative of Ireland is going to handle the first cushion, while Donald Young and Jim Divine will gallop around second and third bases.

The contest, which the diamond will be held down by Kremer, who will chase all that come into the left garden, with Garcia in center and McLean in the right garden. Barney or Gustafson will be on the receiving end while either Dixon or Campi will leave 'em over.

MOTOR CYCLERS TO HOLD RUN TO BYRON SPRINGS

ALAMEDA, March 30.—The Alameda Motorcycle Club will hold a run to Byron Springs Sunday. The start will be made from the club quarters on Clark street at 7 o'clock. All motorbike owners are invited to join in the run.

ALAMEDA, March 30.—The Alameda Motorcycle Club will hold a run to Byron Springs Sunday. The start will be made from the club quarters on Clark street at 7 o'clock. All motorbike owners are invited to join in the run.

CURED IN FIVE DAYS

Hydrocele, Varicocele, Hernia
No Detention From Occupation, Familiar Home

Consult me at once. You can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

No severe operation. Many cases permanently cured in one treatment. Most cases cured in two or three visits. Radical and permanent cure. I give my word and will cite you to other medical authors and authorities that this is no exaggeration, but a fact. I am certainly prepared to give you the best of my equipment, which are the keynotes to success. I have the best equipped medical office on the coast.

I invite you to come to my office. I will explain to you my treatment for Nervous Debility, Blood Poison, Rheumatism, Bladder, Kidney, Prostatic and all Men's Diseases, and give you a full physical examination; if necessary, a microscopical and chemical analysis of secretions, to determine pathological and bacteriological conditions. Every man should take advantage of this opportunity to learn his true condition. A permanent cure is what you want.

VARICOCELE-HYDROCELE
Impair vitality. Daily demonstrate that Varicocele and Hydrocele can be cured, in nearly all cases, by one treatment, in such a satisfactory way that the vital parts are preserved and strengthened, pain, swelling, tenderness, a healthy circulation is rapidly re-established, in spite of the depressing conditions. I FUND THE MONEY.

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND PROSTATIC DISEASES
With these diseases you may have more complications than are caused by any other disease. By my searching microscopic and bacteriological examination, I can accurately determine the exact nature of the disease, and by my successful methods, I can cure it. My treatment is a local one, and corrects every abnormal condition of the vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

Weakness—Its Complete Cure Without Tonic
What is commonly termed functional weakness is generally a symptom of prostatic disorder. To estimate acting by the use of powerful tools in an easy manner, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the degeneration. I am the only physician who employs scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one, and corrects every abnormal condition of the vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

CORNELL HONORS MEN WHO WON ON MATT AND FIELD

ITHACA, N. Y., March 29.—The members of the Cornell wrestling team, which won the Intercollegiate championship recently, have been awarded the right to wear the coveted "C" by the athletic council. This is an unusual honor. Richard Elliot, captain of the football team, also has received the letter.

MANTELL AND HERRICK SHOW NOTHING AS MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Claimants for Title of Champion Furnish Fans of South With Poor Fisticuffs.

By H. M. WALKER
LOS ANGELES, March 30.—A reward still stands for the middleweight with punch enough to knock an empty bread box off a pantry shelf. Frank Mantell whipped Jack Herrick, earning a twenty-round decision over the Chicagoan in the Vernon arena of the Pacific Athletic Club, but failed to once send his man to the carpet.

The beating assimilated by Herrick would demand the limit price in the open market. He was battered from the waist line up and almost smothered at the finish for fear of further damage to his scrambled features. Mantell's best chance came in the sixteenth when a solid right caught the punished Herrick on the point of the jaw and caused his long legs to bend under him like bits of soft wire. Jack saved himself by ducking and dodging, and Mantell off during the remainder of the round.

The victor's style was very much like Nat Nelson's old fashioned mauling tactics. Frank clinches his opponent at every opportunity and with one hand hooked behind the neck of the other, he keeps the opponent in a vice-like grip. Only upon rare occasion did Frank cut loose with a business-like blow.

These methods did not meet with popular approval and more than once there came to Mantell's ears the taunting query of "Say! How did you ever pick up that old time jabbering line?" The crowd usually wore Herrick down. For the first seven rounds Jack held a slight shade but from the eighth round he was whipped young man, so tired several times that anything like a real punch from Mantell would have ended the fight, but slugs counted.

Herrick broke up a bit in the nineteenth and twentieth rounds, the usual dash the finishing line but the decision was Mantell's by a wide margin.

"Coffroth and McCarty are a couple of game guys," said a ringside biter at the end of "Ketchel" cornered the crowd there present day middleweights up in a row and licked 'em as they came under the ropes.

HAPPY AND HIS GANG IN TIPTOP SHAPE FOR OPENING

FRESNO, March 30.—Happy Hogan's Vernon Villagers this afternoon defeated a selected star team from the Fresno city league by a score of 10 to 0.

The game was marked by heavy hitting on the part of the visitors, transforming fifteen hits into sixteen runs. Happy Hogan was the featured pitcher and Kane especially exciting admiration of the fans.

The most conspicuous incident was the home run of McDonald with bases full. All the villagers showed themselves in good condition, there was large crowd and the day was ideal for good baseball.

BASKETBALL GAINING IN POPULAR FAVOR ALL OVER LAND

NEW YORK, March 30.—Reports from universities throughout the country showing that interest in the game of basketball has become a serious factor in the annual spring meeting, last night of the basketball committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Dr. Joseph E. Rayeroff of Princeton was re-elected chairman of the committee. Dr. Rayeroff was re-elected chairman of the committee. Dr. Rayeroff was re-elected chairman of the committee.

DR. R. C. HOWE

Consultation Free— I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but every case is treated free of charge. No waiting list. No waiting list. No waiting list.

What is commonly termed functional weakness is generally a symptom of prostatic disorder. To estimate acting by the use of powerful tools in an easy manner, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the degeneration. I am the only physician who employs scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one, and corrects every abnormal condition of the vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

Weakness—Its Complete Cure Without Tonic
What is commonly termed functional weakness is generally a symptom of prostatic disorder. To estimate acting by the use of powerful tools in an easy manner, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the degeneration. I am the only physician who employs scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one, and corrects every abnormal condition of the vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 29.—The members of the Cornell wrestling team, which won the Intercollegiate championship recently, have been awarded the right to wear the coveted "C" by the athletic council. This is an unusual honor. Richard Elliot, captain of the football team, also has received the letter.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 29.—The members of the Cornell wrestling team, which won the Intercollegiate championship recently, have been awarded the right to wear the coveted "C" by the athletic council. This is an unusual honor. Richard Elliot, captain of the football team, also has received the letter.

MANTELL AND HERRICK SHOW NOTHING AS MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Claimants for Title of Champion Furnish Fans of South With Poor Fisticuffs.

By H. M. WALKER

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—A reward still stands for the middleweight with punch enough to knock an empty bread box off a pantry shelf. Frank Mantell whipped Jack Herrick, earning a twenty-round decision over the Chicagoan in the Vernon arena of the Pacific Athletic Club, but failed to once send his man to the carpet.

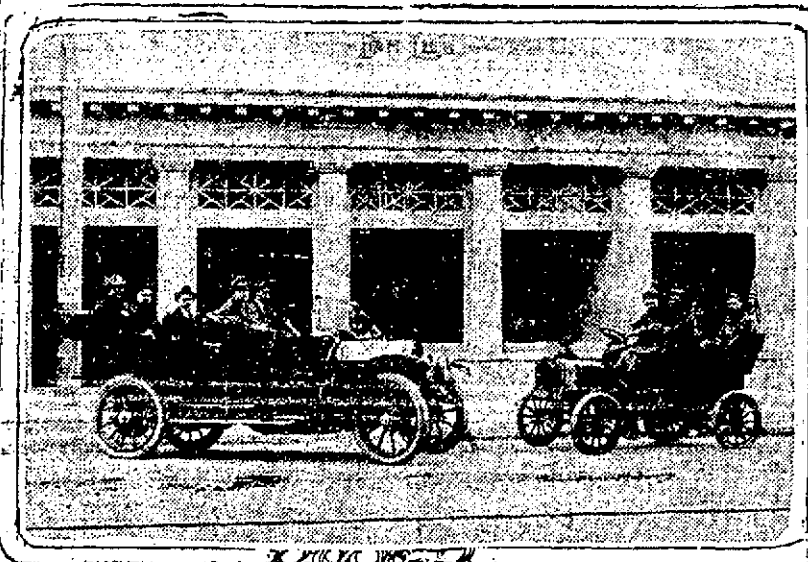

The beating assimilated by Herrick would demand the limit price in the open market. He was battered from the waist line up and almost smothered at the finish for fear of further damage to his scrambled features. Mantell's best chance came in the sixteenth when a solid right caught the punished Herrick on the point of the jaw and caused his long legs to bend under him like bits of soft wire. Jack saved himself by ducking and dodging, and Mantell off during the remainder of the round.

The victor's style was very much like Nat Nelson's old fashioned mauling tactics. Frank clinches his opponent at every opportunity and with one hand hooked

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

EDITED BY
J. A. HOULIHAN

The signs of time. Ten years have made a great change in the appearance of Cadillac cars. On the upper right is a 1902 Cadillac Touring Car. On the left a 1912 model of the same make. Manager Webber at the wheel and his force of salesmen in the car.

The new Courier-Clermont Touring Car whose future destinies here will be cared for by the Standard Motor Car Company.

PAN-AMERICAN CO. TO OPEN HEADQUARTERS Will Sell Moon and Michigan Motor Cars in Northern California

The Pan-American Motors Company, with F. W. Cole as its general manager, has filed articles of incorporation at Sacramento and will open headquarters in San Francisco as Northern California sales distributors for Moon and Michigan cars. Briefly, the foregoing tells the story of a firm destined to become an important factor in the automobile industry as it affects the State of California. Also the cars they are to represent, while new to many, will, in the space of a few short months, be among the best known in the west.

Captain Cole returned from an extensive sales journey a few weeks ago and since that time has been carefully studying the present condition of automobile affairs in Northern California, ultimate purpose being to get back into the harness and drive more to start the far flying in the business he likes so well.

While back in the frigid zones his attention was attracted, singular though it may seem, to two cars, the Moon and Michigan. Both these he figured were of the type of automobile well suited for this country. It so happened that these cars were represented on the coast by the Kiel & Evans Company.

Cole has already set the ball rolling and has almost completed plans of a campaign which will send both Moon and Michigan cars into every hamlet north of the Tehachas.

As complete a line of cars as are carried by any firm will be kept in stock in the showroom on the corner of McAllister and Polk streets, in San Francisco, and in the warehouse which will be maintained in the immense basement under the showrooms.

Kiel & Evans will continue as factory representatives, with offices in this city.

The "Greater Humble" as the new "33" touring model is known, will be in the city again on Tuesday. There still remains a great number of interested people in this car who have not been afforded an opportunity to ride in it and to see for this class that they will be brought over from San Francisco one day a week.

Until other shipments of the "33"

Back in harness again. F. W. Cole in the car—the Michigan "40"—which he intends bringing to the front in Northern California. The captain is general manager of the newly-organized Pan-American Motors Company, distributors for Moon and Michigan cars.

TIRE MILEAGE STUDY HIS HOBBY

Mitchell Owner in Garden City Delights in This Manner of Experiments.

M. L. Peacock, manager of the Osen & Hunter Auto Co., tells an interesting story regarding the tire tread practice of a Mitchell owner.

"Nearly every one," he says, "seems to possess a hobby of one kind or another. Some people love cats—others dogs. Horses are common among hobbies. The collection of bric-a-brac and souvenir spoons come in for their share of attention."

"Our good friend today Roosevelt has several hobbies: Hunting, whether for wild game or for trespassers of the law, always appeals very strongly to him."

"Bill Taft says golf is good enough for him; it is a always enjoyable hobby of being 'president' twice in the same place."

"But of all the hobbies we have ever had called to our attention is the one possessed by the millionaire oil operator, John R. Chase of San Jose. His hobby is mileage from automobile tires, although it doesn't make the least difference to him whether he must buy new tires every trip or one set a year."

Tire mileage is his hobby and he keeps his chauffeur busy changing the back tires of his Mitchell Limousine to the front and the front on the right to the left, carefully recording the extra miles he gets from one make of tire over another. And after he knows all about it, he goes back to his oil wells and gathers up the price of a new set while he smokes a cigar."

FIRESTONE HEAD TO VISIT HERE

In Company With Barney Oldfield He Comes West on Inspection Tour.

H. S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., who arrived in San Francisco on Friday, in company with Barney Oldfield, the well known speed demon, will spend a couple of days this week with Holmes & Olson, Firestone agents in this city.

The head of the well known tire makers is on an inspection tour of western branches, the first he has made out this way. His trip enjoys a big demand on the coast, especially so, in this county, Holmes & Olson being reputed the largest single agents distributing the Firestone brand.

Oldfield will, no doubt, have some interesting information on the racing situation and may even divulge some of his plans when the outlaw ban is removed, this action being set for July 1st.

NEW AMES CARS ARE DUE HERE WEDNESDAY

The delayed first shipment of Ames cars to the F. H. Dalley Motor Car Co. are now reported to be within three days' travel distance of Oakland. At that rate they should be unloaded on Wednesday.

In the initial allotment are three models and a chassis, the latter being brought out for the purpose of more fully showing the construction of the Ames. Dalley will act as California distributor and will maintain headquarters in this city.

DISCO STARTER ON HIS MOTOR BOAT

Vanderbilt Orders This Equipment on His New Speed Craft.

The Sterling Engine company at Buffalo, N. Y., build the highest grade marine engine manufactured in this country. They have a special engine called the "Disc" which is guaranteed to do 25 miles per hour, and will in actual practice get about 40. This is an 8 cylinder engine and on one which was recently ordered by Mr. Vanderbilt, the "Disc" starter was specified and installed.

The Ignition Starter Co., of Detroit, Mich., manufacturers of the Disco Self-Starters, have sold the Sterling Engine Company several starters and they report the very best of results.

WEINSTOCK-NICHOLS TO SELL TIRE PROTECTORS

Standard Tire Protectors, a widely nationally advertised product, will be sold in the future in this city by Weinstock-Nichols Co., Charles R. Avis, manager of the Oakland store, has received samples of both the plain and anti-skid devices.

They are adapted particularly for emergency purposes and can be fitted over the regular clinch tire. Tire troubles are minimized with their use. They retail in the various sizes at prices a little more than half that of regular casings.

Great claims have been made and proven for the Standard Protector and the likelihood is that quite a demand will be created for them within a short time.

BIG BOOM IN THE GOOD ROADS CAUSE

Trans - Continental Highway Project Has United Support of Autoists.

The good roads movement in the southern part of the state has had a big boom of late, according to Dr. D. K. Dickinson of Los Angeles. "At the present time everyone in the southland is working for the 'ocean-to-ocean' transcontinental highway," says the doctor.

"Not only is the southern section of the state working hard for the connecting up of the links of good roads across the United States by the southern route, but every state that is tapped by the highway is forming good roads associations for just this one particular scheme of building a transcontinental boulevard."

"The motorists of Los Angeles are heart and soul boosting for the big fair, although they realize that San Francisco, whom they consider a rival, will reap the greatest benefit. They also realize that above all it means more to the state and the coast. While realizing San Francisco's special advantage in this particular case, they are, however, planning to secure their share of the benefits from the presence of the fair visitors."

"They are going to make the 'City of Angels' so attractive that no one will come to the fair without visiting the south before they leave the state. Many of the most desirable of these visitors will motor to the coast, and it is proposed to bring them to the fair by the way of the south, so that they will have some money to spend there before they leave it all in San Francisco. Los Angeles will be a keen contender for popularity in the year 1915."

Mrs. Dickinson accompanies the doctor, who has his Oakland "sociable roadster" here. They are visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. B. Ross, of this city, and making their headquarters at the branch of the Oakland Motor company, San Francisco.

You can never be sure just what lubrication you are getting.

Experienced motorists all over the country use Polarine oil.

It is the national automobile oil.

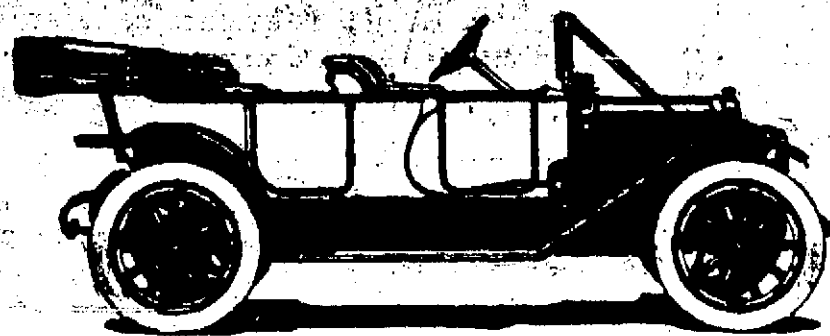

It's not only that motorists know Polarine is the best automobile oil produced.

They know, too, they can get it wherever they go.

Polarine is carbon-proof, and gives the fullest lubrication under all conditions of weather, road, and make of motor.

Look for the Star Polarine can that fits in the tank. Don't ever buy a can of oil unless it has the Star Polarine logo on it. Write to any agent of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Why Wait Two Years?

Features Similar to Those of the New Self-Starting HUDSON "33" Will Be Obtainable on Other Cars Two Years Hence.

But Until Then—in Other Cars—You Must Submit to Almost 1,000 MORE Parts, the Replacement Caused by Dust, Dirt and Grit Getting Into the Exposed Mechanism—You Will Have to Wait for Self-Starters on Many Cars.

Automobile engineers work several years ahead of their models. This makes it impossible for the features that will be copied from the New Self-Starting HUDSON "33" to appear generally earlier than next year or the year after.

But you get now all the advantages that come with simplicity, quietness, dust-proof thoroughness, Self-Starters, Demountable rims, Big tires and the handsomest car built, if you choose the

New Self-Starting HUDSON "33"

It is the latest and greatest of the six famous cars designed and built by Howard E. Coffey, acknowledged America's leading automobile engineer.

All of his famous automobiles have been several years in advance of their time. Every car a success. Several still are leaders in their class. In his latest car is embodied a new degree of engineering progress. Mr. Coffey has always led as a designer of progressive ideas.

The HUDSON starts from the seat—at the mere pressure of a button. The self-starter, appropriately, is as simple as a button. It weighs but 4½ pounds, has only 17 parts.

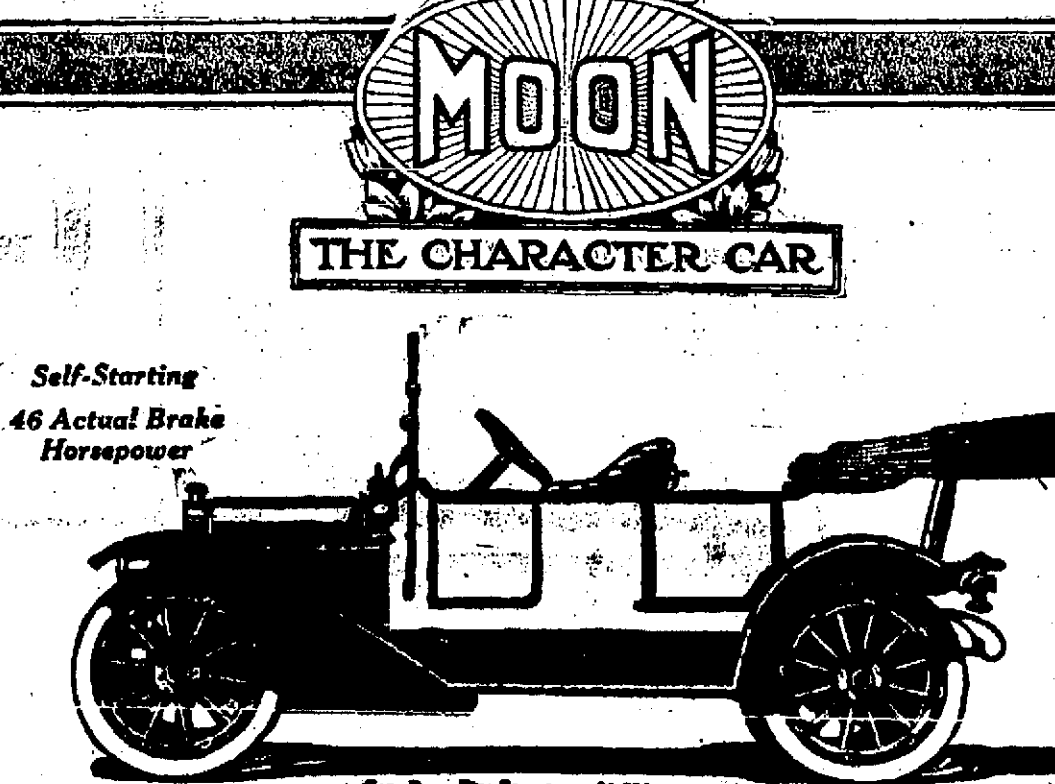

The motor and all moving parts are dust-proof. There are no exposed rods, wires, etc. Approximately 1,000 fewer parts are used than on other cars. The finish and furnishings are of the highest quality. Let us show you other reasons why you should choose a New Self-Starting HUDSON "33."

Over half this year's output of this car is already sold. They will be hard to get, no doubt impossible later on. We can obtain no more than were arranged for last fall. Come see the New Self-Starting HUDSON "33" today.

See the Triangle on the Roadster

S. G. CHAPMAN

2017-2022 Broadway near 4th St. Oakland

Self-Starting 46 Actual Brake Horsepower

Paint—the Gay Deceiver

Covers a multitude of motor car makeshfts. Cast iron costs 3 cents a pound—aluminum 32 cents a pound. They both look alike when painted. Yet aluminum is tougher, more flexible and one-third the weight of iron.

And weight, remember, affects the cost of upkeep and largely determines the life of the car. Even 150 pounds extra weight means an earlier death for the tire. Weigh the other car and you will usually find that "about 3,000 pounds" is a T—where paint-coated cast iron replaces aluminum.

The next time a new car is demonstrated for you, service the paint, if necessary, to see whether the crank case or transmission cases are made of cast iron or aluminum. There's no cast iron used in Moon cars where aluminum should or can be used.

Whenever you are shown a self-starting car with a T-head long-stroke motor—364-inch tires, with demountable rims—genuine honeycomb radiator—and with steering gear, transmission, propeller shaft, universal joints and back axle guaranteed up to 60 horsepower—that car is as good as the new Moon "40" even though it may lack the latter's smart, classy lines and its big 10-inch upholstery, for example, and little luxuries.

Look at the cars sold for $2,500 and more and then come here and see what $1,800 will buy in the new Moon "40"—The Character Car.

FACTORY REPRESENTATIVES KIEL & EVANS CO. FOURTH AND FRANKLIN STS. OAKLAND.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SALES DISTRIBUTORS PAN-AMERICAN MOTORS CO., Cor. McAllister and Polk Sts. SAN FRANCISCO.

"For 30 years I have personally inspected every product of my factory. Not a Moon car goes on the market until it has my O.K.—and that means it has passed perfect in actual road tests under the worst conditions."

A postal to our office, or to the Moon Motor Car Company, St. Louis, Mo., will bring you the 1912 Moon Catalog and the famous Moon Book of Chances.

STATES ARE AIDING IN CAMPAIGN FOR HIGHWAYS

Florida, Illinois and Connecticut Are Strongly Agitating Improvement of All Roads

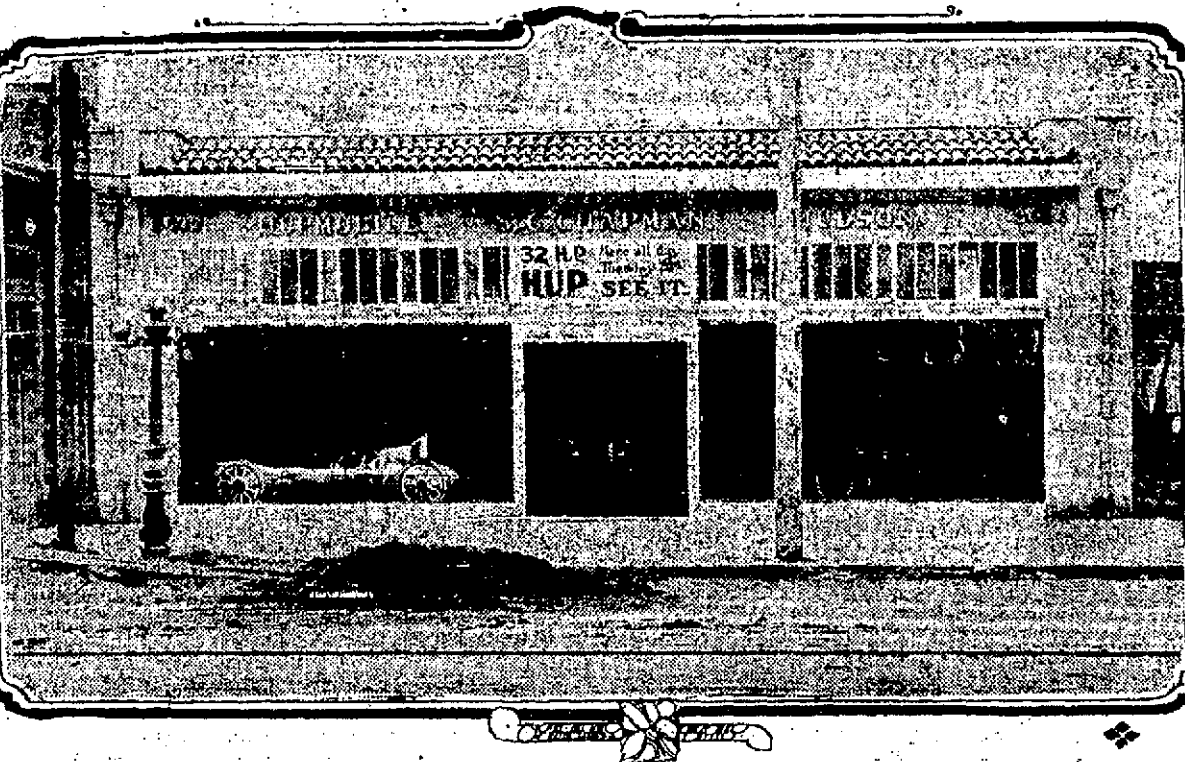

Three widely separated states—Illinois, Florida and Connecticut—in reports to the National Good Roads Board of the American Automobile Association gave added proof of the nation-wide campaign of highway improvement which has spread to all parts of the country. It is inevitable in this work that the organized owners of motor-driven vehicles figure very prominently. In Illinois the Chicago Motor club and the Chicago Automobile club, assisted by the Illinois State Automobile Association, were recently responsible for the formation of the Illinois Highway Improvement Association, which had its initiatory at a gathering in Chicago where some 20,000 roads enthusiasts were represented. Warden Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary explained his successful system of utilizing convicts in roads building. Chairman Homer Tice of the State Legislature good roads committee supplied information which told how far in the rear Illinois is in the good roads movement. W. G. Edens of Chicago is president of this new association, and the vice-presidents are S. E. Brandt, De Kalb; C. A. Kifer, Champaign; C. G. Miller, Cairo; and Mayor F. A. Ganser, Quincy. The secretary is Richard J. Flinnigan, with directors from all parts of the state.

In the annual meeting of the Florida State Good Roads Association the most important action taken was a unanimous declaration for the abolition of the present convict lease system in that state. Furthermore, the next legislature will be asked to create a State Highway Commission, and to provide for the employment of a State Highway Engineer. Dr. W. M. Stinson of Jacksonville is the president of the state association, the secretary of which is Captain A. B. Dunnington of De Land. The meeting took place at Ocala, which is in the central part of the state, and many of the delegates toured to that city in automobiles, and then and there reported upon the condition of the roads over which they had traveled. Connecticut is a commonwealth which for some time past has appreciated the economy of good roads, but its geographical situation invites an exceptionally large quantity of interstate motor travel. The Connecticut Automobile Association has accumulated a membership in excess of 3500, and its interest in the roads question is plainly apparent. Recently in Stamford a local club has been formed for the purpose of caring for and beautifying the country roads in the vicinity of that city. Attention will be given to the roads not included in the trunk line system, which includes planting of trees and grass and generally shaping up the tributary highways. An important trunk line out of Connecticut promised this year will connect Hartford and Providence. The Rhode Island legislature has made the requisite appropriation and passed a bill for the construction of the road in that state.

A recent resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator Warren of Wyoming is of marked interest to touring motorists, for it calls upon the secretary of the interior to submit complete information in regard to national parks in which motor-driven vehicles are permitted, and also asks what can be expected in the way of opening up Yellowstone and other national parks which now forbid their use. The explanation that the roads must be widened before motor vehicles are admitted is an answer which does not find complete acceptance from those who contend that conditions can be adjusted to meet present day roads travel.

S. G. Chapman's new home on Broadway, the future show place for both the Hudson and Hupmobile. It is complete in every detail.

COURIER CLERMONT EXCITES INTEREST

Has many Features Appealing to Medium Priced Car Buyers.

The Standard Motor Car company have been busy during the last week answering "questions" and inquiries on the Courier Clermont car. They have just received their first carload and Mr. H. M. Maslin, vice-president of that company, is very much pleased with its appearance. In speaking of the car, he states: "The Courier has far surpassed my expectations, especially the mechanical construction of the car. It is certainly a wonderful machine. What struck me particularly was the simplicity of the motor, the multiple disc clutch and the full-floating rear axle."

The motor is of the long stroke type, having a bore of 3 1/2 inches with 5 1/2 stroke, which allows it to develop considerable power at low speed. The full-floating rear axle is, of course, recognized as the best type, and is something new in a car selling at this price. Among some of the other features are the selective type transmission and long and easy riding springs. The appearance of the car, on the whole, places it as an exceedingly high-grade article, and one that would attract attention anywhere.

The Courier is a car of maximum durability without sacrificing reliability. It is believed by the Michelin company that car owners will appreciate a tire of advanced design that at once removes several of the old vexations of motoring.

BRING OUT NEW DETACHABLE TIRE

Michelin Co. Introduces Easy Fitting Casing; Is Labor Saver.

Tire fitting is not always the easy task motorists could wish, but the Michelin Tire company has minimized the difficulty with the introduction of its 1912 Quick Detachable Clincher. An important advantage of this tire is that it is very easy to put on any quick detachable rim. It eliminates the necessity for laborious fitting. It simply drops on the rim without force and without the use of tools. Another feature is the elimination of the inside envelope flap or tube protector, which has usually been considered a necessary evil. The absence of protectors simplifies the fitting of inner tubes, reducing the danger of pinching, as well as the labor formerly involved when protectors were necessary.

The Michelin Quick Detachable Clincher is shaped full and round. The tread is broad and flat. The side walls are proportioned to which they intend using them, just as your intending automobile buyer will look over the motor car market. People are getting away from the idea that they must have a speed machine to be right in the swim. One having plenty of power, of easy riding qualities and simple in construction is the one most desired. It is with this class that both the Harley Davidson and Pope machines are popular.

RECORD SEASON FOR MOTORCYCLES

G. A. Faulkner, Harley Davidson and Pope Agent, Makes Predictions.

The greatest motorcycle year in the history of this industry is predicted for the season now beginning, by George Faulkner, agent for Harley Davidson and Pope motorcycles. Faulkner is the oldest man in the business in point of actual participation in it, and by reason of his experience is in a good position to make a reasonable estimate.

More than twice the number of machines sold last year will be the demand dealers here and everywhere will be forced to cure for, predicts the Harley and Pope agent.

A shortage in machines is the only worry dealers anticipate. Faulkner's winter business was such as to warrant him making a demand on his factories for a greater allotment. "I find," he states, "that the wage earner and salaried man are really just beginning to realize the health and pleasure benefits to be derived from ownership of a standard grade motorcycle, compare that they are trying to find out the one best fitted for the purposes to which they intend using them, just as your intending automobile buyer will look over the motor car market. People are getting away from the idea that they must have a speed machine to be right in the swim. One having plenty of power, of easy riding qualities and simple in construction is the one most desired. It is with this class that both the Harley Davidson and Pope machines are popular."

FIFTH CARLOAD OF FEDERAL TRUCKS HERE

The Standard Motor Car company have just received their fifth carload of Federal Trucks since the first of the year. These little one and a half ton trucks are creating a great impression, and are doing wonders in the hauling line.

In a demonstration the other day a trip was made from San Francisco to Half Moon Bay and return. A full load of 3000 pounds was carried, and the grades and poor roads were negotiated with remarkable ease. This trip in one day was enough for any pleasure car, yet the little Federal did the work.

The Federal Motor Truck company are expanding their plant and expect to turn out 500 trucks during the next six months. One of the principal features of the new truck will be a governor, which will control the motor and allow it to maintain a maximum of speed of 1350 revolutions, driving the car on the high at fifteen miles an hour. This governor prevents racing.

If this keeps up, we expect to see T. R. Hain upon applying the recall to the preferential primary.

ARGUMENT

on the technical make-up of different tires need not mislead you.

Goodrich specially treated fabric; Goodrich Tough White Tread; Goodrich Integral Construction—these things merely explain the high mileage records by which you can know you are buying the best, in

GOODRICH

H. F. GOODRICH CO., Akron, Ohio.
Oakland The People, 1912 Standard.

MERIT

Is the Cause of the Continued Popularity of Any Article

Many articles without merit become POPULAR FOR A DAY and are dead and forgotten thereafter. Many makes of automobiles enjoy popularity and success for a single season, then join the ranks of the "has-beens." They lack merit.

The continued popularity of the

Buick

as evidenced by the "VAST VOLUME OF Buick BUSINESS," which has assumed greater proportions year after year, is conclusive proof of Buick merit.

That Buick popularity is and has been continuously supreme, cannot be successfully contradicted.

Each year sees the Buick occupy the place of honor at the Madison Square Garden New York Automobile Show, an award which is based on the largest volume of actual business for the preceding year.

The Buick factory is by far the largest automobile manufacturing institution the world ever saw and is the third largest manufacturing organization of any kind in the world today.

Over a million dollars' worth of Buick automobiles have been shipped to us within the past 60 days in an effort to meet the tremendous demand for Buick Cars on the Coast.

"When Better Automobiles Are Built Buick Will Build Them"

Howard Automobile Co.

SHOWROOM: 102-100 Twelfth Street, Oakland, Cal.

Other things being equal, the tire that is most easily and most cheaply repaired is the most economical tire to buy.

As a matter of fact other things are not equal. Diamond Tires not only give greatest mileage, but they are as much superior in Repairability as they are in Mileage.

Any repair man will tell you that a repair put in a Diamond Tire will stick—but that he cannot guarantee a patch on any other tire, that even should you cut or smash a Diamond Tire hard enough to break the fabric, the injury is only local and can be repaired. The same accident would ruin any other tire beyond repair.

Diamond Tires suffer less severe injuries than any other tire, and when they are injured it costs less to repair them.

The most important point about a tire is quality, the type is secondary. Diamond Tires are made in all types, all sizes, and to fit every style of rim. You can get in Diamond Tires any type that you want, and in any Diamond Tire that you choose you will get what no other tire can give you—the Greatest Mileage and the best service that can be built into a tire of that type.

In addition to dependable dealers everywhere, there are FIFTY-FOUR Diamond Service Stations. Diamond Service means more than merely setting tires—it means taking care of Diamond Tire users.

AT YOUR DEALERS OR
The Diamond Store
Cor. 12th and Harrison Sts., Oakland.

The Diamond Rubber Company

AKRON, OHIO

WE COULD BUILD THEM CHEAPER, BUT WE DON'T. WE WOULD BUILD THEM BETTER, BUT WE CAN'T.

Complete Stock of Diamond Tires
Carried by 1716

Telegraph
Ave.
Oakland
Cal.

Pearl & Livingston
Diamond Tires

2133
University
Ave.
Berkeley
Cal.
Bkly.
0874

HAVE YOU SEEN OUR IMMENSE

Wall Map of the State of California

showing all of the main highways? If not, do so at once. The touring season is on and the time is opportune to learn the enjoyable and pleasant trips.

BOB MAXWELL EN ROUTE TO FACTORY

BUICK SERVICE DEPARTMENT OPEN

R. D. Maxwell, known to many as R. Duda (I don't know of the origin of the title) Maxwell is on his way East, via the Northern route. His objective point is the Warren Motor Car factory at Detroit, there to attend a convention of the sales managers of this car.

Bob, as usual, while in town made his headquarters with Ed Knauss and George Vesper of the Matheson Sales Co. He came up from Fresno where the Warren has been cleaning up regularly in all of the race meets which have been held in the Hain City.

Permanent headquarters for this company will soon be established in the vicinity of, or on Golden Gate avenue, in San Francisco. The Oakland store is to be operated as a branch salesroom. Bill Hull, a well known mechanical expert, will be in charge of the Warren Service Department on this side of the bay and owners of these cars can be assured of the best treatment.

The new service department of the Howard Automobile company in this city, which is located opposite the salesroom of this company, on Twelfth street, will be open and ready for business tomorrow. The work of changing over and remodeling the place was practically completed last night, and at 8 a. m. Monday the hum of the various machines and lathes will be heard for the first time.

Manager McCutcheon of the local branch states that the showroom for new cars will be enlarged in the near future. Steps in this direction have already been taken.

The service department policy has been carried out recently by the Howard company in other cities on the coast where branches are maintained, the move becoming necessary because of the vast increase in the number of owners in the west.

The third carload of Buicks are due in Oakland within the next ten days. It wouldn't surprise us much to hear of a fourth and larger shipment of this nature being ordered.

The Mitchell Baby Six

Roadster Model, $1900.00, Delivered Here, Fully Equipped.

We knew the Little Six would create a sensation, but we hardly expected the riot of pleased comment and the cyclone of orders that resulted. All this proves that our descriptive term, "Logical Compromise," was well chosen. We doubt whether we will be able to build all the Little Sixes that our agents have ordered. The Little Six came at the psychological hour—when men were beginning to realize the limitations of four-cylinder cars and couldn't afford the high prices then asked for sixes.

The need of a six of medium power and moderate price had existed for years, so when the Mitchell Little Six was announced there was a rumble of applause all along the line. The price of $1900, which includes complete equipment, made every man who owned a four dissatisfied, and caused those who hadn't owned a car to congratulate themselves because they hadn't bought one. As the pioneer builders of medium-priced sixes we are selling experience, not experiments.

Osen & Hunter Auto Co.

Twelfth and Jackson Streets

Oakland

WARREN SERVICE BEGINS WHERE THE ### ORDINARY PURCHASE STOPS

When you buy a Warren our service to you has only begun. You receive, in fact, service in two important respects. The first, of course, is the service rendered to you by a car of exceptional worth and thorough dependability.

The second is the general service of this organization, which guarantees to you that the individual service of any Warren car shall be satisfactory under all circumstances.

When you purchase a Warren you acquire thereby membership in the big Warren family and you are entitled to demand this second and greater service for all time.

As you read this statement bear in mind the Warren's remarkably low scale of prices, quality and equipment considered.

Note again the price and equipment of the Warren 30-K. Recall the fact that this is the first car of its power and size ever sold for less than $1800 equipped with an efficient self-starter.

Then take the other Warren cars, one by one, and see how the same advantage, based on price, specifications and equipment, is carried through the entire line.

Note what those specifications really mean, and study the comfort and convenience furnished by the Warren's roomy construction and luxurious appointments.

Then come back to Warren service—to the factory policy that stands ready to replace instantly any defective part which may have caused those type-cast inspectors.

Now you will understand why Warren owners have more than the ordinary sense of security and comfort.

The Warren 30-K Fore-Door Touring Car—$1400.

DELIVERED HERE

Self-starter, silk mohair top and top cover, Automatic windshield, Universal joint detachable fenders, 4x5 1/2, Firestone tires, gas headlights, front 6-litre gas tank, oil side and oil lamp, Bosch magnetos, horns, complete set of tools, coat and robe rack, foot rest.

LIVE AGENTS WANTED IN OPEN TERRITORY.

MATHESON SALES CO.

Edw. Knauss, Pres. Geo. Vesper, Vice-Pres.
Northern California Distributors Matheson and Warren Motor Cars.

175 Twelfth St., Oakland
442 Van Ness Ave., San Francisco

Automobile Supplies

We carry the best assorted line of Automobile Accessories. Our prices are the lowest. Complete stock of

Michelin Tires and Tubes

at the new reduced prices.

TRY OUR GUARANTEED

Radiator Stop-a-Leak Cement

Just received from the east, a new line of Electric Side and Head Lamps in brass, nickel or black finish. We are distributors for VALVOLINE OILS and GREASES, MICHELIN TIRES, MICHIGAN MAGNETOS, MILWAUKEE TIMERS and STOP-A-LEAK CEMENT.

Equip your car with a PRESTO SELF-STARTER, complete $20.00.

Our prices are the lowest. Call and be convinced.

Twentieth and Telegraph Avenue.

BLAZE TRAIL FOR MOTOR HIGHWAY

The Examiner-Case Pathfinder Reaches Yuma on 4th Day of Journey.

(By CHESTER LAWRENCE.)
YUMA, Ariz., March 30.—The feature of the fourth day's journey of the Los Angeles Examiner-Case pathfinder, en route from Los Angeles to New York, was a triumphant entry into Yuma.

Harvey Herrick, the world's automobile speed king, is a well known character here. Yuma citizens swear by him and do not forget the fact that he took $500 of real money out of the Southern Arizona citizens when he won the prize for being the first in the city during the recent Los Angeles-Phoenix desert road race. A delegation of prominent Arizona citizens escorted the Examiner-Case pathfinder through the principal streets of the town upon its arrival and after a dinner was served at the leading hotel.

Dr. J. A. Ketcherside, vice-president of the Ocean-to-ocean Highway Association of Southern Arizona, and president of the Yuma Automobile Association, delivered a short address, thanking the Examiner for being, as usual, on the job and so materially aiding the building of an ocean-to-ocean highway by sending a car clear across the continent for the purpose of pathfinding the route.

The journey from Brawley to Yuma was without particular incident. We will leave tomorrow for Phoenix and after Phoenix we will strike the unbuilt trail.

At Yuma we were handed about twenty telegrams from state, city and county officials from as far east as St. Louis. Preparations are being made all along the route for pilot cars to escort the official pathfinder of the Ocean-to-ocean Highway Association from section to section of the thousands of miles through which we will pass.

JONES AUTO CO. PLANS FOR BIG BUSINESS

The Jones Auto Co. have practically completed their plans for entering the automobile accessory business on a wholesale scale. Completed proofs of their catalogue show their line of novelties and necessities to be second to none in the west.

Exclusive sales rights have been secured on Michelin tires, valve line oils and treated and other well known lines. The three are being retailed at the new low prices.

W. J. Jones, general manager of the company, is confident of the outlook for his company and is confident personally relative to the success of his undertaking in the large manner planned.

FORD AGENT ALLEN SELLS 30 CARS SINCE JANUARY 1

Up to date, C. R. Allen has disposed of 30 Ford cars since January 1. The figures taken into consideration only the sales from January 1 to date.

Over 150 cars have been sold by Allen in this county since he first assumed the representation of the car, nearly two years ago. The record is one of the best made by any of the dealers in low-priced cars. It also is evidence of the popularity of the well-known automobile in the immediate vicinity.

Other dealers in town have come to look upon Allen as one of the real live wires, always on the job, and a hard man to beat out on a sale.

OFFER ADVICE FOR USERS OF TIRES

Service Bureau of U. S. Tire Co. Gives Pointers on Proper Care.

The Service Bureau of the United States Tire Company, which now has a membership of 15,000 motorists, is announcing spring suggestions for tire users. Some of them are given below:

Before you finish tuning up your car for the coming season take your casings off and examine the rims.

If they are rusty don't fail to scrape and paint them.

And don't put the casings back until you have made sure that the rims are absolutely free from dents. Sprinkle soapstone into the casings before replacing the tubes.

If the rear tires are worn get a new pair for the rear and let the old casings spend their declining days on the front wheels where the service is easier. You will be money in pocket by so doing.

Test the alignment of your axles. The easiest way is to measure between the folios of the wheels or the edges of the rims at the point directly in front of the axle. If this measurement differs from the same measurement taken on the opposite side of the wheels it shows the axles are out of alignment. Correct this defect immediately or expect big tire bills.

Buy a good pressure gauge and register a solemn vow to use it frequently and regularly throughout the season.

If you add new accessories this spring be sure they do not bring the weight of your car above the weight your tires are designated to carry. If you are in doubt about this matter be on the safe side and buy the larger size tires which are made for your present rim equipment. They cost a little more to buy but considerably less to use.

NEW APARTMENTS HAVE THEIR OWN GARAGE

It will soon be arranged in Sacramento, Cal., so that the apartment dweller may have his automobile garage along with his suite. And in addition to the garage there will be a complete motor car sales room with all that such a combination means in the way of opportunities for auto pleasures and service. Doubtless this idea will be followed in other cities when the Sacramento novelty becomes known.

J. D. Lauppe is the man responsible for the innovation. Mr. Lauppe, who is a large investor in Sacramento properties, is erecting a beautiful modern apartment building on K street that will represent an outlay of $105,000.

DIAMOND DUST

One of the big shows of the preliminary season comes on March 30, when the New York Americans will open the new National League park in Cincinnati.

The Boston Nationals landed in August. Got twenty-three strong, after making the trip from New York in 23 hours. A double dose of "Jinks."

Umpire Tom Connolly of the American League has been elected a member of the Citizens' party committee at Natick, Mass. Everybody is doing it now. Even umpires are throwing their hats to the ring.

The Pittsburgh team will do the most traveling of any of the sixteen major league clubs during the coming season. Allowing 25 miles a day, the real live Dreyfuss will have to buy 246,673 miles of transportation.

Two old-time motorcyclists and the machines they are now interested in. On the left is George Faulkner ready for a spin on the new Harley-Davidson. On the right, Frank Karsiake, mounted on the new Pope.

SLUGGER BODIE WAS EASY FOR BEAVER SLABSTERS

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The Portland delegation of Naps smile in unison when the name of Ping Bodie is mentioned and reference made to his batting ability. Not that they have no respect for his ability to wield the cudgel. They have. In fact, most members of the crew think he is a good all-round player.

But there's reason for the smile. For the sake of those who have no record book available, Bodie gained 50 home runs during 1910 on the coast. His hitting average was .262. Early on the strength of his slugging skill he was purchased by the Chicago White Sox.

Bodie made 202 hits during that season.

Of those 202 events just six were made off Portland fingers. That's why the Portland grads smile. Portland and San Francisco, the club to which Bodie belonged, played 37 games.

At one stage of the season the two teams played either six or seven games in succession. Whether it was six or seven doesn't affect the tale much. Bodie had waded a hat with Shortstop Vitt that he would make more hits during the series than Vitt.

In two games that Lefty Gregg pitched Bodie struck out seven times out of eight trips to the plate. During the entire series he made only one hit. Vitt won the hat in a walk.

New York fans will probably come across with an automobile for Christy Mathewson some time during the coming season. Ty Cobb, "Nap" Lejole, Frank Schulte, Ed Walsh, Eddie Collins and Sherwood Magee have all been presented with speed wagons, and "Big Six" is surely entitled to one.

It makes a girl awfully ashamed to let a man kiss her without first putting up some sort of a bluff.

TIRE FIRMS DOING LARGE BUSINESS

Early Spring Touring Cause; Peart and Elkington Are Leaders.

A good indication of the early spring touring is shown in the volume of business being done by a number of the local tire houses. Prominent in this respect come Peart and Elkington, one of the oldest firms on this side of the bay. During the last three weeks their sales have been more than double that of the entire month of March of a year ago. Pretty good showing in these days of competition. Other of the old-time tire firms are enjoying a banner season's business, with indications bright for a record volume in the months to come.

The wall map of the state of California, mention of which was made in these columns a week ago, continues to be of service to quite a number of owners. For any desirous of learning the principal routes out of this city to any point in California the map will prove an invaluable aid.

From time to time additional roads will be listed, and within a short time road conditions and information will be given out.

However, that Missouri houn' dawg probably congratulated himself that he wasn't with Amundsen.

Spring Is Here, Get Out Into the Country

Own A Harley-Davidson MOTORCYCLE

and enjoy the cool, bracing, healthful and invigorating atmosphere of Spring.

Get away from the crowded city and its consequent disadvantages. Enjoy Mother Nature at her best.

A motorcycle, and particularly the HARLEY-DAVIDSON, is easy to operate, costs less than a cent a mile for upkeep—just "fill 'er up" with oil and gasoline and you're ready for the journey.

We can offer you purchase terms to suit your pocketbook. Look into the Harley-Davidson—it will interest you.

GEORGE A. FAULKNER
TWELFTH STREET, AT ALICE, OAKLAND.

No-Rim-Cut Tires 10% Oversize

The Show-Car Tire

One-third of all cars at the 55 Shows held this year were equipped with Goodyear tires.

More cars were shown on Goodyear tires than on any other two makes combined.

That's on show cars, remember—on cars with their best equipment.

And 127 leading makers of cars have contracted for these tires for their 1912 models.

Out-of-Date Tires

Tires that rim-cut are distinctly out-of-date.

So are tires just rated size. Too many blow-outs result from overloading.

No-Rim-Cut tires make rim-cutting impossible. They are 10 per cent oversize.

And these patent tires now cost no more than other standard tires.

Any motor car owner, when he knows the facts, will adopt No-Rim-Cut tires.

1,000,000 Used

Over one million Goodyear tires have been used on some 200,000 cars.

As a result these tires now out-sell any other tire in existence.

The demand in two years has multiplied six times over. It has trebled in the past year alone.

GOODYEAR
No-Rim-Cut Tires
With or Without Non-Skid Treads

Just because this vast army of users found what you seek in tires.

Save One-Half

No-Rim-Cut tires end rim-cutting forever. And statistics show that rim-cutting occurs on 23 per cent of the old type tires.

10 per cent oversize, on the average car, adds 25 per cent to the tire mileage.

These two features together, under average conditions, cut tire bills in two. Yet No-Rim-Cut tires now cost no more than other standard tires.

Ask those who know. There are many around you. Ask their experience with No-Rim-Cut tires.

THE GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO., Akron, Ohio

This Company has no connection whatever with any other rubber concern which uses the Goodyear name.

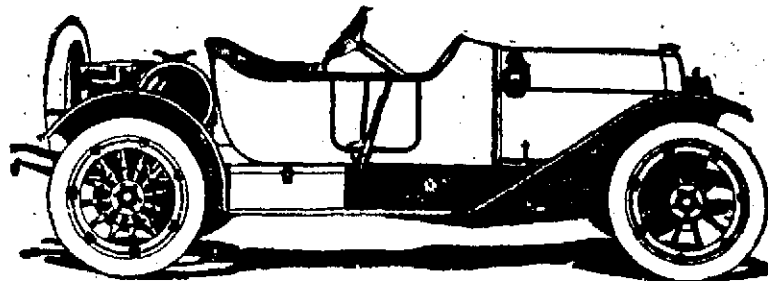

361-3 Golden Gate Avenue

SAN FRANCISCO

Phone Market 1303.

STUTZ

The Car That Made Good in a Day
Now Makes Good Every Day

$2250 F. O. B. San Francisco

—a car that is built sturdy enough to produce the graceful and powerful outlines that alone make for dignity and luxury, and, at the same time, makes it possible to maintain the terrific speed necessary to win over the most trying courses in the country without adjustments.

—the performances of the STUTZ at Indianapolis, Bakersfield and San Jose conclusively prove its mechanical efficiency. To see the STUTZ will convince you of its dignity and luxury—the moment you see it you will realize why it is

The Car That Has Captured the Country

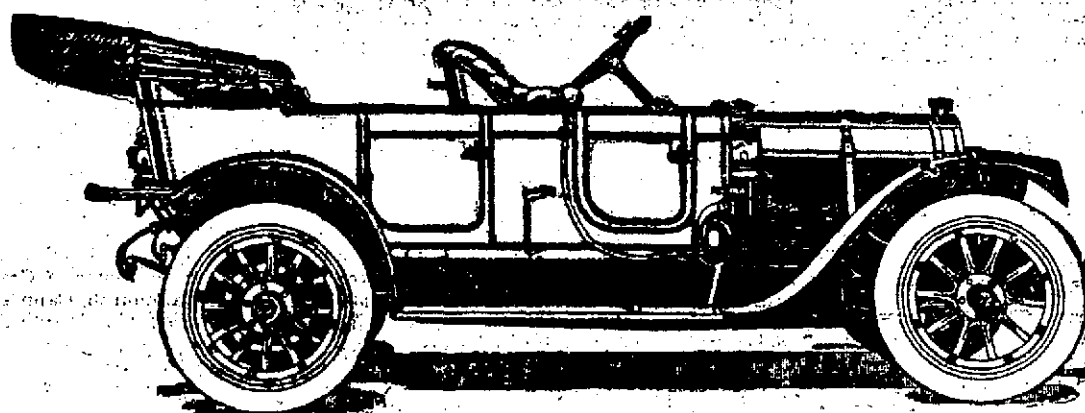

C. A. F. MOTOR CAR CO.

436 Van Ness Ave. Phone Mkt. 986

The Critical Buyer Who Will Thoroughly Examine a SIX-CYLINDER

POPE-HARTFORD

Will Purchase This Car

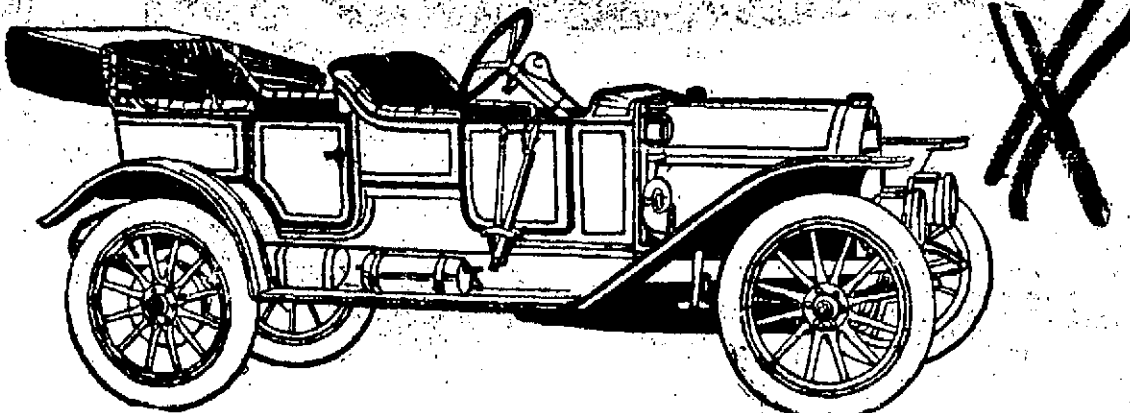

THE Pope-Hartford "Six" is a beautiful car. Its power, motor flexibility and easy riding qualities are not equalled in any car. Gasoline consumption and mechanical upkeep have been reduced to a minimum, with a maximum of tire service. All styles of closed and open bodies on both 4 and 6-cylinder chassis.

Consolidated Motor Car Co.

460 Van Ness Avenue, Cor. McAllister St.

San Francisco

Stoddard-Dayton "Savoy" Touring Car

4-passenger 28 H.P., fully equipped, $1650

This four-passenger touring car is one of the sturdiest, most dependable travelers that ever followed the path of the headlight. Its front seat is placed further back from the dash, giving more leg room for the driver. Its wheelbase of 112 inches and 33x4 tires mean the easiest kind of riding. Its motor, with four cylinders, 4x4 1-2, has plenty of power. Quick detachable rims, mohair top and boot, nickel-plated trimmings, foot rest, robe rail, gas tank, five lamps, horn, are all included in the price, and all go to make up one of the most satisfactory cars to be found in the country. Ask us to mail you a catalogue, or, better still, come in and talk with us about it.

"Special" 7 Passenger Touring Car...$3650
"Saybrook" 7 Passenger Touring Car...$2950
"Saybrook" 4 Passenger Touring Car...$2850

"Stratford" 5 Passenger Touring Car...$2000
"Savoy" 2 Passenger Roadster...$1550
Six Cylinder Stoddard Dayton Knight...$1510

Prices F. O. B. Oakland. All models equipped with self-starter if desired.

Standard Motor Car Co.

10th and Mission Sts.

Phone Oakland 3723.

Alameda County Agents FORD Automobiles and Delivery Wagons.

THE COMPLETE LINE OF

Ford

MOTOR CARS and DELIVERY WAGONS are represented in Alameda County by 2070 Broadway, Opp. 21st Street.

Phone Oakland 2474

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE EMBODIES IDEALISM AND THE PRACTICAL FILLS MANY WANTS OF THE ACTIVE OAKLAND YOUNG WOMAN

Main entrance to the Employment department of the Young Women's Christian Association's headquarters in Los Angeles.

Aim Is Also to Raise Standard of Feminine Endeavor; Each Helps the Other in Y. W. C. A.; Some Adventures in Place-Seeking

An employment agency and idealism, the Young Women's Christian Association, more utterly incongruous than any other, yet the two form a first-class working combination, tried and tested by the Young Women's Christian Association of this city.

In the first place, the association has an employment bureau—that goes without saying. Primarily, it is designed to fill the needs of employer and employee—a purely business proposition. But in truth it goes much farther than that, among its aims being the desire to "raise the standard of woman's work; to make every woman wage-earner realize that she must make good, and to have any and every woman applying to the employment bureau realize that here she will meet other women whose aim is to further her individual interests.

All this looks like a big contract for any organization to undertake, but results talk, and, hampered as it is by lack of facilities, it is astonishing to note how much has been accomplished.

HAS BUSY DAY.

Mrs. Mary Gonzales is secretary of the employment agency. She is a slight, attractive, blue-eyed, dark-haired woman, combining both tact and common sense in her mental get up. Her duties are strenuous, for every day from 9 o'clock in the morning until past noon she sits at her desk interviewing applicants and answering telephone calls. Last year Mrs. Gonzales, who keeps strict record of everything connected with her department, answered seven thousand calls over the wire. Most of these were for help wanted. This latter term does not apply alone to domestic service, but for women in every branch of work—stenographers, store girls, office clerks, nurses, trained and practical housewives and even chaperones for a European trip. Nor is it less interesting to know that from abroad come inquiries as to the chances of employment here. From England, recently, a letter came in which the writer stated that she had no acquaintances in this country, but that she felt a sense of relief that she could come right to the association, knowing that all would be well.

Possibly this added sense of security came from a realization of the fact that behind every salaried secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association stands the association's shoulder to shoulder, a committee of women of leisure, whose duties are not so light as they seem. Take the advisory committee of the employment bureau, for example. Not the least of their self-appointed tasks lies in a supervision of the rooming and lodging houses of this city where the young girls live. How important this is may be illustrated from an instance coming in Oakland not more than a fortnight ago.

BREKS POSITION.

One afternoon a young girl in search of employment was called up over the telephone at her rooming house. A masculine voice asked if she were still looking for work. Upon an affirmative reply, she was told that a doctor needed an assistant.

She was to learn particulars that evening at his office. The man then named for the office, block of Oakland, and gave the number for the suite occupied by the doctor. The young girl immediately told this to the lady with whom she was staying. This lady advised her to take some one with her when she went to find out about the position.

When the call was made the designated suite was found to be untenanted, and in the semi-darkness of the hall lurked two suspicious looking men. This experience was told the officers of the association, who do all in their power to guard their girls against such adventures. Nor are young girls alone safeguarded. Occasionally a comforting hand is held to "widow whose age and experience in matters worldly would seem to protect them from the wiles of strangers.

Not so very long ago a woman—widowed and with one child to support—applied for help and advice. She had answered an advertisement in one of the local papers. A widower wanted a housekeeper; there was no objection to the child, so she left her home in the country and landed here practically penniless, though fortified by the knowledge that she was competent to run a house faithfully and well. But upon arriving she discovered to her horror that what was wanted was not a housekeeper, but a more intimate relationship would be necessary. Needless to say, she fled—straight to the association. The very next day, thanks to the employment bureau, found this woman installed in an honorable position.

But these instances are only a few of the many that are being handled in the employment bureau. The bureau was originally designed for domestic workers, who are perhaps not among the least of those who receive inspiration here for higher ideals. In connection there are classes in English, solely for the benefit of domestic workers unable to speak the language—a boon equally appreciated by mistress and maid. One club of domestic workers has a strong desire to excel, and they have a professional cook come occasionally to instruct them in the mysteries of fancy cookery. This professional service is paid for by the girls themselves. Jane Addams has declared it to be her opinion that much of the trouble connected with domestic service lies in the fact that the girls are so lonely, and to alleviate this condition is a task of the Young Women's Christian Association. With the walls of the Administration building during hours of social relaxation every one is on an equal footing. No questions are asked as to financial or social standing. Every one is welcome, the only condition being that of membership—this means two things—an initiation fee of $1, yearly dues of $1 and respectability.

Needless to add that this work in Oakland will be materially broadened and enhanced when the hopes of the organization for bigger and better quarters are materialized.

She was to learn particulars that evening at his office. The man then named for the office, block of Oakland, and gave the number for the suite occupied by the doctor.

The young girl immediately told this to the lady with whom she was staying. This lady advised her to take some one with her when she went to find out about the position.

When the call was made the designated suite was found to be untenanted, and in the semi-darkness of the hall lurked two suspicious looking men. This experience was told the officers of the association, who do all in their power to guard their girls against such adventures.

Nor are young girls alone safeguarded. Occasionally a comforting hand is held to "widow whose age and experience in matters worldly would seem to protect them from the wiles of strangers.

Not so very long ago a woman—widowed and with one child to support—applied for help and advice. She had answered an advertisement in one of the local papers. A widower wanted a housekeeper; there was no objection to the child, so she left her home in the country and landed here practically penniless, though fortified by the knowledge that she was competent to run a house faithfully and well. But upon arriving she discovered to her horror that what was wanted was not a housekeeper, but a more intimate relationship would be necessary. Needless to say, she fled—straight to the association. The very next day, thanks to the employment bureau, found this woman installed in an honorable position.

PROPOSES NEW ECONOMY RULE

Measure Will Standardize Machinery and Cut Down Expense.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Taft will send to Congress next week what he regards as one of the most important measures he has written this year.

He will recommend legislation designed to save millions of dollars each year, consolidate several general bureaus and generally make the machinery of the government conform more nearly with the plan drawn by the economy and efficiency commission appointed in 1910.

LOUD SOCKS OUT OF FASHION. LONDON, March 30.—The fashion for brilliantly colored socks has apparently passed. Sober tints and nicely graded and contrasted patterns have taken the place of rainbow effects and peacock hues. There will be plenty of color, but on "art" lines, with "viewers." Preparation has been made for a season of black half hose, with "clocks" and vertical stripes.

NEW CAFETERIA ON UPPER BROADWAY

Finely Fitted Lunch Place Is Ready to Open Tomorrow in Hotel Athens.

The entrance into the local field of Messrs. Berry & Stone, breeding a cafeteria syndicate, which operates largely in Los Angeles and Southern California, is looked upon as proof of confidence in Oakland as a growing commercial city on the part of the investors.

With a most favorable lease whereby they have secured practically the entire ground floor of the Athens Hotel, excepting a portion reserved for lobby space and minor offices, they have almost completed the installation of the most elaborate cafeteria equipment on the Pacific Coast.

The unusual depth and read width, the latter giving kitchen facilities unequalled in any cafeteria in the West, place at their disposal nearly 10,000 square feet. The seating capacity will provide for slightly over 100 diners, which number can be increased easily by according, a policy to which, however, Berry & Stone are opposed.

The fittings of the new cafeteria have been specially made, the steam table being equipped with a silver top, and all metal work having been manufactured to order that a general scheme harmonious to the location may prevail. The big room is finished in white and nickel.

ORCHESTRA PLANNED. A mezzanine floor for the special use of lady patrons, is one of the features of the plan, with a portion of the balcony has been arranged for an orchestra, which will entertain diners through the luncheon and dinner hours.

Particular attention has been paid to the lighting effects, fixtures of an elaborate design, diffusing a radiance of light, having been constructed and installed. The entire dining hall has been fitted with mosaic, and the equipment installed along the most practical lines, so that unnecessary waiting will be eliminated.

Both Berry and Stone are enthusiastic of their forecast as to the enormous attendance of Upper Broadway, the cafeteria.

SAGE AND SULPHUR, OLD-TIME REMEDY, A SCALP TONIC AND COLOR RESTORER

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair. The nearest you can get to it is by using this remedy. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your drug-mont will do for you. An druggist will under guarantee that the money will be returned to you if the remedy does not improve your hair. Special agents: Wm. B. Co.

Nowadays almost any up-to-date drug store is carrying a supply of this remedy. It is sold in perfectly equipped laboratories.

Wm. B. Co.

Free auto truck delivery

Anywhere within thirty miles of Oakland. Quite an object. Places furniture in your home by experienced men.

You'll like trading at Jackson's
The one-price store—Cash or Credit

Cottages, flats and bungalows for rent

See our special list on today's classified pages. And there is no charge for the service. Just call at store or tel. Rent Dept., Oakland 482 or A-2105.

Economy in buying at Jackson's demonstrated
Compare the following credit quotations with those you pay cash for elsewhere
Come see for yourself that Jackson's prices are as low if not lower

It's solid oak quarter-sawn arms

This massive fumed Rocker

|                        |        |             |
|------------------------|--------|-------------|
| Twenty five to be sold | $9.75 | $1.00 cash |
|                        |        | $1.00 week |

A word of description

This Rocker is made of solid oak with quarter sawed arms, well constructed and latest hand-craft design. As you will note the broad arms, high back and full square effect has loose box seat with steel springs supported by metal bands. Seat and back upholstered with best Spanish fabric that wears better than No. 2 grade leather and almost as well as the No. 1, as it does not crack.

$1 places it in your home

The balance you can pay $1.00 per week. We sell one only to a customer and do not take telephone orders for them. As you can readily understand that we offer these extraordinary values that you may come in and become acquainted with the completeness of our stock, our low prices and easy terms.

Good enough for any room

One must see these Rockers, sit in them to fully appreciate their worth. You can place them in a room with fine Stickley pieces that cost $25.00 and $30.00 and they will look all right, and you will say so when you see them. Remember, all we ask is $1.00 cash, delivered to your home.

Axminster carpet

We have placed several patterns of this splendid all-worsted high pile carpet on sale. Sold without border only and the colors and designs are good. Come in Monday or any day this week and see these.

Offered special—per yard

|        |                  |
|--------|------------------|
| $1.00 | Sewed lined laid |
|--------|------------------|

Axminster rugs 9x12 ft

All perfect rugs, rich Oriental designs and floral effects, in colorings that will please you. No better value anywhere than these high pile all-worsted Rugs. Wear well and hold their color. About a hundred to be sold. See them on the rug racks, Third Floor, Carpet Department.

|                              |         |             |
|------------------------------|---------|-------------|
| Jackson's special Axminsters | $15.00 | $1.50 cash |
|                              |         | $1.00 week |

Bed spreads

Special this week. Fine honeycomb quality, Marseilles patterns. A high grade Spread for the money and one that will wear well. Full double bed size, 75x88 inches.

Offered special Monday and Tuesday

|        |      |
|--------|------|
| $1.00 | Each |
|--------|------|

Barnes electric suction cleaner $27.50

Demonstration made in our carpet department, or in your home by experienced operator

In placing before you the Barnes Electric Cleaner we can assure you that it possesses all the essential features of the highest class machine and so combines them as to make the price within the reach of the majority of the buying public. Furthermore, we insisted on a guarantee from the manufacturer and permission to sell them on our regular easy terms. Therefore, we offer it at the popular price and on terms that will please every housekeeper.

Makes house cleaning much easier

The Barnes Electric Cleaner weighs only a little more than a common broom, or about half that of the old-fashioned carpet sweeper. It is a practical cleaner every way and we are willing to place it in competition with any machine and guarantee it to do the work, and at the same time outwear it under usual care.

The success of any air cleaning machine is in proportion to the volume of air that is drawn through it per minute. In the Barnes Electric Cleaner not only the maximum amount of air is drawn through the machine, but the minimum amount of power is used. This not only makes the Barnes a low priced machine to buy, but the lowest priced machine on the market today to operate—less than one-half cent of current per hour is required.

|             |
|-------------|
| $35.00     |
| $3.50 cash |
| $1.00 week |

Free connections made on all our gas ranges

And we are showing all sizes and latest models in the A-B New Idea and Estate lines. There is true economy in a gas stove. You do not burn the gas a moment longer than you need. You can make the whole stove work or just one part at a time.

A-B New Idea Gas Range as illustrated. Is the most popular of any we have ever sold. Has 4 burners and simmering burner, large warming shelves, mica doors, porcelain lined, broiler and drip pan.

Snap on the bargain counter for Monday

|                           |     |                               |     |
|---------------------------|-----|-------------------------------|-----|
| 8x12 inch Drip Pans.....  | 5c  | Good Lemon Squeezers.....     | 5c  |
| Yellow Mixing Bowls.....  | 15c | Good House Drooms.....        | 30c |
| English Tea Pots.....     | 25c | Family Scales.....            | 95c |
| China Covered Dishes..... | 45c | Food Choppers, family size... | 95c |

A 3-room outfit for $65

Terms $6.50 cash, $6.50 month

And it is a mighty value. The furniture in it is solid oak and it includes a pretty white dinner set and a 20-yard roll of good matting. Choice of patterns.

| Kitchen   | Dining room   | Bedroom   |
|---|---|---|
| Good gas range, Kitchen Queen, with bins, kitchen chair, and 20-yard roll of good matting; choice of pattern, as illustrated. | Solid oak pedestal Oak Table, 6-foot extension, four solid chairs to match and a pretty white dinner set, as illustrated. | Solid oak Dresser, solid oak Rocker, pretty Iron Bed, heavy Spring, soft, comfortable Top Mattress, as illustrated. |
| NOTE—Anything not wanted  | NOTE—Anything not wanted can be   | NOTE—Anything not wanted can be   |

Bed spring mattress $16.50

Exactly like illustration

A great big value. The bed is a rich design, with heavy continuous posts, with seven roll in head and foot; posts are full. Two rich pretty quilted joints. Two finches—cream or Vermis Martin. Full size or three-quarter. The spring is a heavy woven wire with cable supports. The mattress is a good serviceable combination that is soft and comfortable.

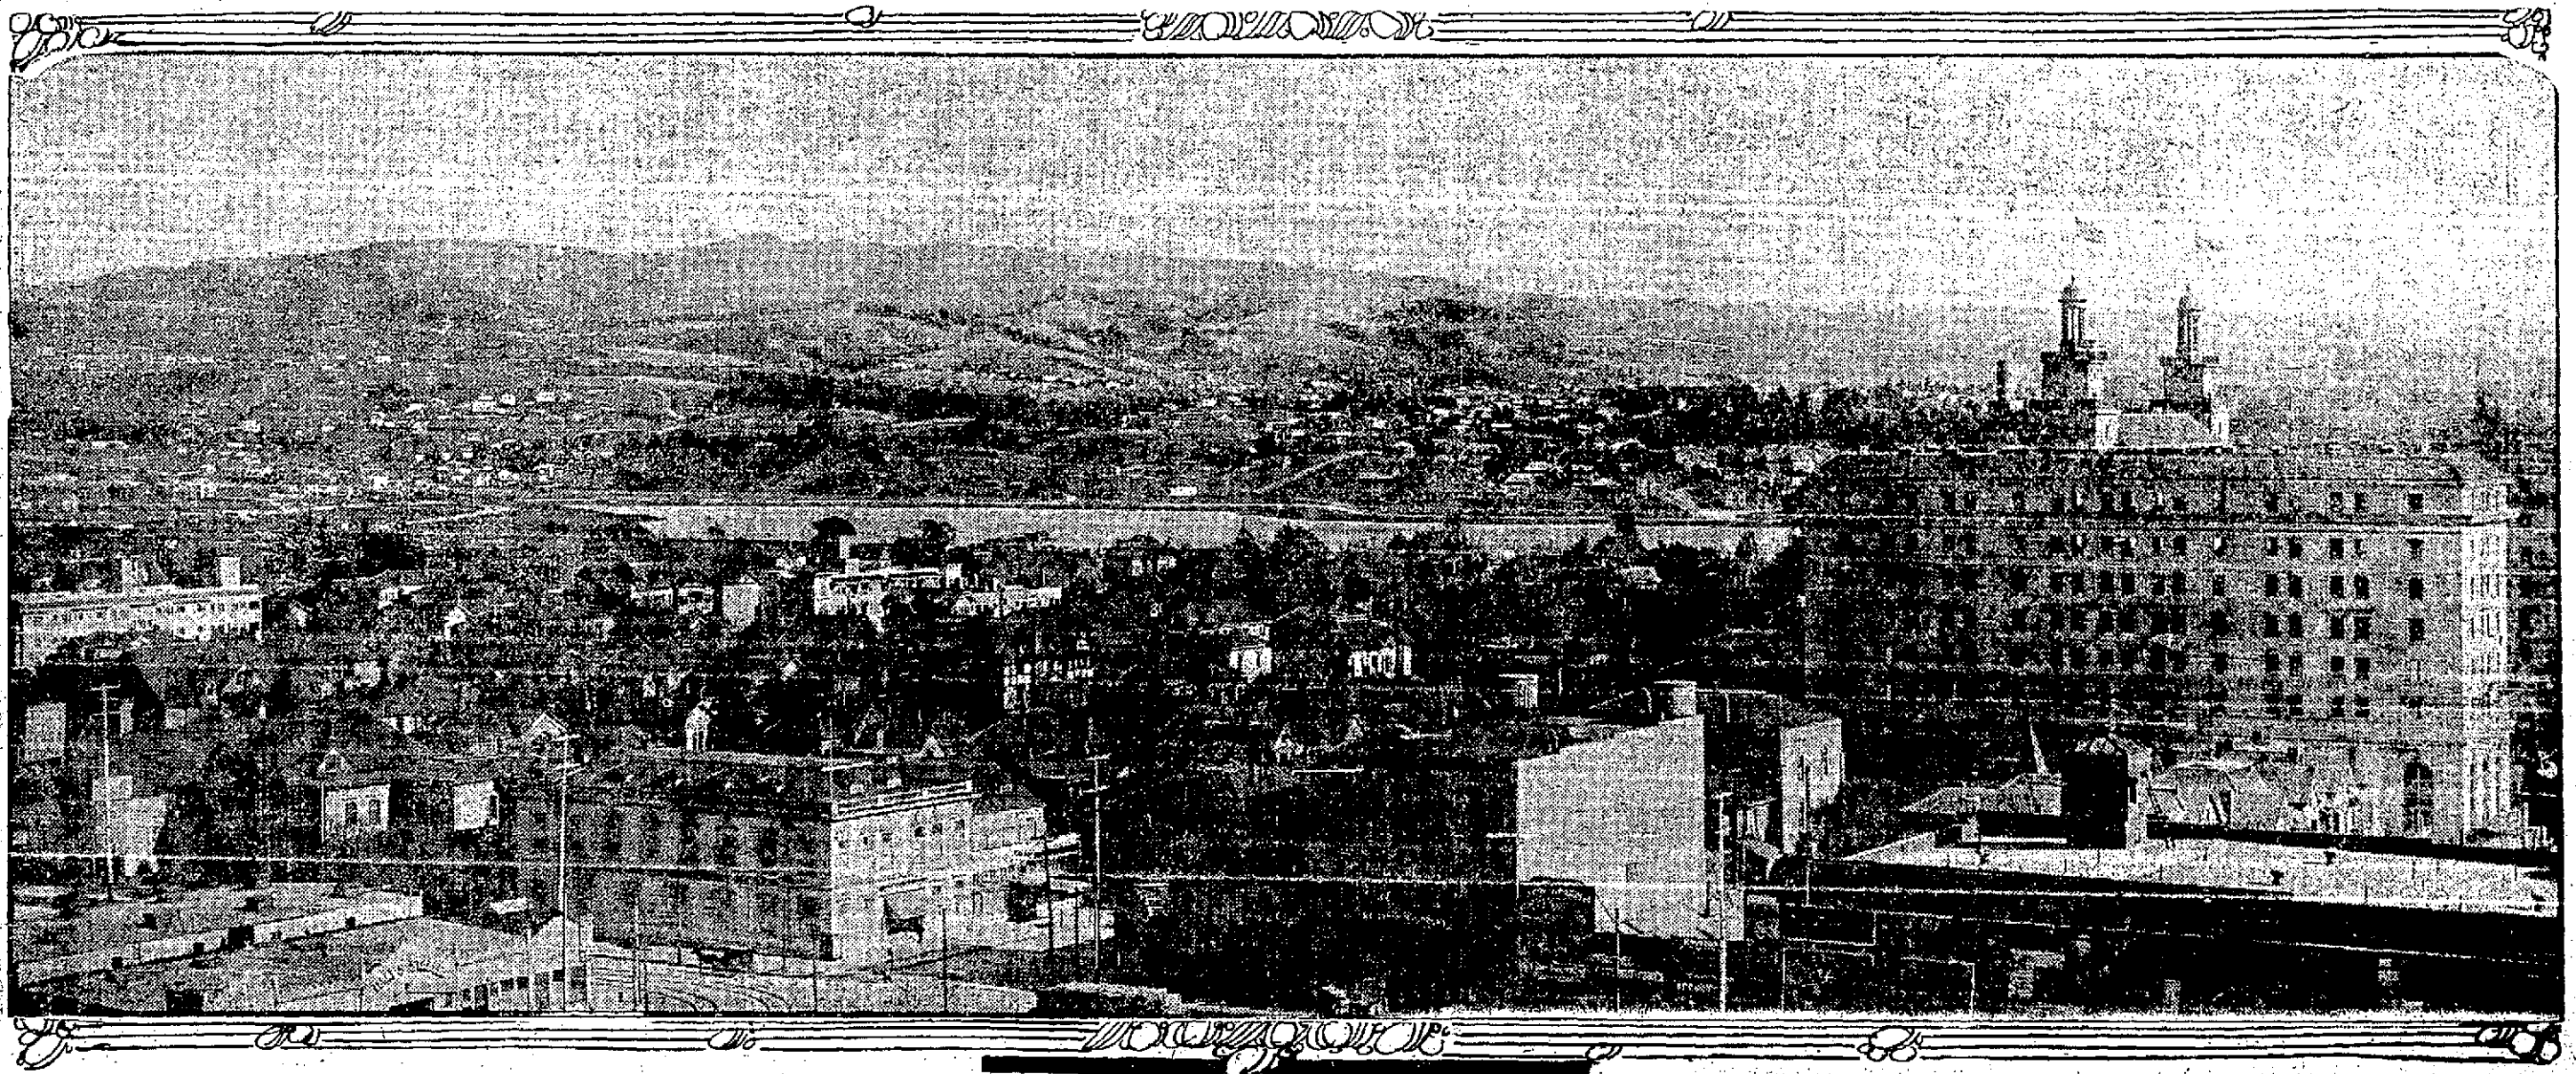

Open Till 10 Saturday Night

Credit JACKSON'S OAKLAND

One price to all—Cash or Credit.

OAKLAND'S GROWTH HILLWARD IS REMARKABLE

Photographic view of Lakeside, East Oakland and Hillside Residence Districts, from the roof of Oakland Bank of Savings Building, Lake Merritt in center, Oakland Hotel at right and fast-developing residence districts of the highland region in background.

NEW BOULEVARDS WILL THREAD HILL DISTRICTS

Three Charming Driveways Planned; 15 Miles Length of System

Three new boulevards within the city have been planned, and work has begun upon one of them. A city of boulevards, even though the city be a level one, is a joy forever to the automobile and the lover of the beautiful, but a city of boulevards in which scenic thoroughfares wind through charming hills, with fresh surprises and delights to the eye at every turn of the road, if the way be newly traveled, is far more satisfying to the pleasure-seeker a-wheel or afoot. Oakland is a city of both hills and boulevards, and the two attractions are fast being brought together. When the new highways and extensions of old ones have been completed the city will have within its boundaries boulevards totaling more than fifteen miles in length. Of immediate practical value will be the cross-town street, upon which work is progressing, and which is to connect Grand Avenue boulevard and Broadway at the northern end of the city. The link which has been missing in the completion of a loop, partly through the hills and partly on the level, is a boulevard to be formed by the widening and extension of Mather street, running east and west, and making the connection between the lengthy avenues which extend almost the entire length of the city. The southern main cross-town street connecting them will be Grand avenue. THROUGH VALE AND OVER HILL. Grand Avenue boulevard extends from the northeast arm of Lake Merritt northward through Pleasant Valley almost to Mountain View cemetery. At the head of the valley the extension westward is to be constructed through private property owned by a land concern. It will cross Piedmont avenue, where it will join Mather street, and wind over the hill to Broadway. There has always been lacking a principal thoroughfare across the city in this locality. The joining of the two main arteries will form an oval driveway of unrivaled attractiveness. The work on this, and other portions of boulevard systems under contemplation is to be done jointly by the municipality and private land owners. Another boulevard, which is to be six miles in length, is planned for construction through East Oakland. The driveway will start from Lake Shore boulevard, on the eastern side of Lake Merritt, and will extend up Fourth avenue, past the F. M. Smith estate and the Home Club, to East Thirty-fourth street, the next link in the chain. Thirtieth avenue, Hopkins street and Courtland avenue will then be utilized, the latter street bringing the boulevard to the Mills College property, through which, according to present plans, it is to extend and intercept the western extension of the Foothill boulevard. TO JOIN FOOTHILL BOULEVARD. Another East Oakland boulevard planned is also to diverge from Lake Shore avenue in an easterly direction, and is to be formed in part by Mandana boulevard. It will extend through the Sather tract north of the Home Club and along East Thirty-eighth street to Hopkins, where it will join the lengthy boulevard already described, which extends to Hayward along the lower foothills. Pleasure drives a-plenty Oakland already has, but there is much development of this kind to follow in the hill sections, where the grades are not too steep for automobile and carriage driving and where the marine views are unsurpassed. Some of the favorite thoroughfares in Oakland and vicinity now being enjoyed by travelers and recreation seekers are Telegraph avenue, joining Oakland and Berkeley; the Tunnel road, Broadway, Grand avenue, East Fourteenth street and Foothill boulevard.

HUGE CONTRACT LET IN RICHMOND

Oakland Firm to Handle Half Million Construction Job.

RICHMOND, March 30.—B. J. Henderson, president of the Richmond-Anne Co., has just let a contract for improvements in his new subdivision that runs close to the half million mark. Bates, Borland & Ayers, the Oakland contractors, were the fortunate ones to land what will be the largest contract

This contract calls for sewers, water mains, concrete gutters and concrete sidewalks, for the new subdivision known as Richmond-Anne, which extends south along San Pablo avenue to the county line. Work is to commence at once. Friday log onto the ground and by Monday the dirt will begin to fly. The first street grading will probably be on the new Punahou boulevard—the short cut to Richmond.

The Oakland Traction Company have already started to double track the San Pablo avenue car line from the county line north along Richmond-Anne, and the greatest activity ever known in this district is now under way.

HOMES ON EASY TERMS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

An increased demand for homes on the easy terms and installment plan is reported by George W. Austin. The increase of credit extended to purchasers has stimulated this demand to a great extent, and several sales on terms of from $100 to $250 cash and balance in monthly installments of $25, have been consummated by this firm. The attention of buyers of individual homes is attracted to the new Oakland subdivision, Richmond and Punahou, which is at present under construction. About the most important transaction made through the office of George W. Austin this week was the sale of a house and lot about 50x103 feet in size on the north side of Fifteenth street, between Castro and Brush streets, sold by Mrs. T. C. Clayton to Leo L. Nichols.

THOUSANDS FIND CHARMING HOMES IN THE EAST BAY HIGHLAND SECTION

One of the most rapid and extraordinary movements in the development of a city's residential sections has been in progress during the last few years in the settling of the suburban hill-sides of Oakland by residents appreciating pure air, natural surroundings and marine views of unsurpassed grandeur.

No city in the world has a more charming upland home region within easy access by street car and ferry system than has the metropolis of Alameda county.

With the continued extension of transportation facilities to the hills, thousands of artistic homes in these suburbs have been constructed within a few years. During the past winter, while the east has been experiencing blizzards and far-below-zero weather, the highland districts of Oakland have been building up. This spring and summer the construction of homes is to continue with unusual vigor, the home sections growing further into the hills and making further extensions of car lines necessary.

Oakland is claiming increasing numbers of San Francisco business men as residents. Every month sees a large addition to this city's population at the expense of the other side of the bay. The appeal of a restful and natural home environment is more potent to the "tired business man" than life in a house, hotel or apartments in the midst of a noisy city.

LOAN BUSINESS SHOWS INCREASE

Report of County Recorder Bacon Indicates Large Realty Trade.

A large increase in the documents filed in the county recorder's office is noticeable in comparing the figures of the past week and those for the corresponding week in 1911. The number of documents for the six days ending Wednesday last was 994 and the revenue therefrom $1538.50. For the same week in 1911, documents 837, revenue $1361.

The report of County Recorder G. W. Bacon for the last week is as follows:

| No.                                  | Amount.        |
|--------------------------------------|----------------|
| Deeds recorded.....124               | $5,347,442.48 |
| Mortgages recorded.....379           | 216,658.80     |
| Release of mortgages recorded.....99 | 280,248.15     |
| Deeds of trust recorded.....115      | 100,429.61     |
| Reconveyances recorded.....60        |                |

REPORT DEMAND FOR SMALL FARMS

R. N. Burgess Co. Does Heavy Business in Country Property.

"In the Mt. Diablo Country," tells the story which radiates from the new Oakland office of the R. N. Burgess company, 1523 Broadway. Even though thousands of new lots are being sold, the company is still doing a heavy business in country property. The Mt. Diablo Country, in the neighborhood of Walnut Creek, has been the center of activity for more than a year for the R. N. Burgess company. On the walls of the new office are a

PROPOSED LAND SHOW STIRS INTEREST

The proposal to hold a Land Show in Oakland in the new municipal auditorium during the fall of next year, which was announced exclusively in last SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE, has awakened much interest among all classes of boosters in the city, and particularly among real estate men.

R. S. McHenry, a member of the Oakland Real Estate Association, an organization which has endorsed the project and will give it substantial support, attended the Los Angeles land show recently to gain pointers to aid in making the Oakland exhibition a success.

Concerning such displays, McHenry says: "Expositions of the products of the soil have been held in New York, Omaha, Kansas City, Chicago and Los Angeles. Within three years they have become popular. The hunger of the people is to get 'back to the soil'."

"It has been proved that under modern conditions a small family can live well and independently on a few acres of land."

"The questions of where, how and at what cost require answers in a public and comprehensive manner."

"A Land Show is a school. Every section of the country is represented by an array of its products. Literature, telling of climate, conditions and opportunities, is supplied."

"The Land Show aims to receive, educate and serve the new-comer by showing him exactly what this country has to offer."

MAKES MANY SALES IN GOOD DISTRICT

Sixteenth Street Shows Much Activity; Property Sells Three Times.

"The demand on Sixteenth street, owing to the improvements now going on and those contemplated for the near future, has caused this street to be one of the most active of any in the city," said D. F. Minney. "One property in this vicinity was sold through my office three times in a little over a week, each time at a substantial advance. Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets are also very active. Among the very late sales in this vicinity are the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Brush streets for the account of Mrs. Fannick; same property for the account of J. P. Rich to M. T. Minney, terms private; same property to J. F. Minney, price $20,000; northeast corner of Seventeenth and Brush streets, account of H. Wollin to W. J. Barclay, price $14,000; southeast corner Fourteenth and Brush streets, account of J. P. Rich to M. T. Minney, terms private; same property to J. F. Minney, price $20,000; houses and lot on Nineteenth and Grove streets, account of H. A. Reid, price $5000; property on East Fourteenth street, near Fruitvale avenue, account of A. E. Patton, price $1500. I have also sold two other pieces on Sixteenth street, details of which will be given out in the next two or three days. The past week has been the most prolific of sales that my office has seen for four years."

MANY LOTS ARE SOLD IN OWENS ADDITION

RICHMOND, March 30.—There has been much activity in the J. C. Owens addition to Richmond during the past week, and many lots have been sold. The entire lottery money. From the tract a fine view is obtained of the city's harbor, where the deep water vessels find large mooring facilities. The J. C. Owens addition is situated among ideal surroundings, and at the office of the company, 657 Market street, San Francisco, Manager Van der Zee reports that sales this week are exceedingly brisk.

NORTH BROADWAY SHOWS IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT

Building on Wide Artery Is Active and Leases in All Sections in Demand

The activity on North Broadway in the construction of business buildings is indicative of increasing interest on the part of investors, which is believed to have a foundation justifying their faith in that part of the city. The new cross-town street car line of the Southern Pacific has undoubtedly had much effect in reviving building growth along the end of Oakland's main business artery which has not heretofore received the benefit of commercial expansion.

The erection of Kahn Bros. arcade building, with a lengthy frontage on Broadway, the rapid leasing of the Bauer apartment structure at Broadway and Nineteenth streets; the beginning of work on a store building on Broadway adjoining the city hall annex, and the erection of numerous new structures as far north as Twenty-sixth street have created traffic on the thoroughfare north of Fourteenth street far exceeding the expectations of the most optimistic regarding that section of the main business district.

LEASES SOUGHT.

The demand for downtown leases is greater than it has been in the history of Oakland, except at the time of the San Francisco disaster, when, of course, things were abnormal. On Broadway there is practically nothing for lease; while the cross streets from Eleventh to Fourteenth are taking care of tenants who have secured the leases for some years to come. Washington and Clay streets are also in great favor, while Broadway, north of Fourteenth, almost to Twentieth, is opening up so rapidly as to surprise the entire business community.

In every direction Oakland is expanding rapidly. It is, of course, natural that homesites in restricted tracts are more in favor than scattered properties, where the homebuyer has no protection against

SELLERS NOT NUMEROUS.

"We received three letters this morning from San Francisco merchants who are desirous of securing leases on Broadway, north of Fourteenth street, one of which will spend $50,000 in fixtures and interior finish," said R. L. McHenry. "Our hardest work right now is getting something to sell."

"Our firm has tried for four months to secure large acreage holdings between Melrose and Hayward, but property owners realize that they can double the price with the extension of the Southern Pacific and Key Route electric lines, which are a certainty now."

"The month of March has been our busiest since we have been in business, and we have been compelled to use the services of four extra men."

"Business property is having first call."

are important factors in insuring its speedy sale.

The character of the improvements, the wide lots, the extremely low prices and exceedingly easy terms all are factors worthy of the consideration of persons desiring property for a home or investment.

P. W. Morehouse, secretary of The Realty Syndicate, predicts responsive buying of this property within the next few days. In commenting upon this subdivision Mr. Morehouse said: "The Fremont tract, while not over large, has many exceptional features to commend it. Its location near Mills College, on the new proposed main thoroughfare of the foot-hills boulevard, and with the protected Key Route extension running directly through it, is one good reason why we look for speedy sales."

"Another feature that meets the favor of the wise investor, is the character of the improvements. We have anticipated the recent action of the City Engineer's office in raising the standard of street and other improvements and undesirable improvements, and the buyer of today, be he wealthy or a man of only moderate means, is vitally interested in the question of what class of improvements may be allowed to be along-side his home."

TRANSPORTATION AID.

An important contribution to Oakland's rapid growth is the institution of service on the new cross-town Southern Pacific electric lines, which will mean greater transportation facilities and consequent increase in suburban population.

Oakland merchants who are located in frame buildings have been unable to secure a renewal of their leases, as the property-owners are all contemplating tearing down the old buildings to make room for larger and more up-to-date brick and concrete buildings.

The firm of McHenry & Kaiser is negotiating with three clients between the Hotel Oakland and Broadway, who own or control over 100 feet frontage of business property, for the improvement of new modern store-buildings.

NEW HOUSES IN FREMONT TRACT

New Subdivision of the Realty Syndicate Attracting Much Attention.

The building department of the Realty Syndicate have prepared plans for, and are erecting a number of attractive bungalows on various properties owned by the Syndicate. Among the new type bungalows, worthy of special mention, the half dozen being erected on the Fremont tract are decidedly novel. Every modern idea that can be incorporated in a small property is being incorporated in these bungalows. The location of the property is but a matter of a few short blocks from the city center.

The splendid location of the Fremont tract, combined with its superb transportation facilities, the beauty of its natural surroundings, and its accessibility

"Every lot in this tract is at least an acre wide, and yet the prices have been placed at a very low figure. The new tract will be a model of modern bungalow facilities. It is reached by three car lines, providing quick communication with the business center of Oakland."

SALESMEN—SOLICITORS

(Continued)

CAPABLE salesman to cover Cal. staple line; high commissions; $1 monthly advance and permanent position to right man. Jesse R. Smith Co., Detroit, Mich.

HIGH-GRADE salesman with integrity, perseverance and tenacity; must be well dressed and able to furnish good references; permanent position to the right man. Box 3305, Tribune.

LIVE salesmen wanted inside; Richmond property; in line with inner harbor; good commission paid. Smith Investment Co., 1128 Broadway, Oakland.

REALTY salesman for Orchard acreage. A unique plan, unusual income. Earn $1000 month. No experience. Call Monday, bring references. 538 16th st., Oakland.

SALESMEN WANTED—No experience required; earn good wages while learning; hundreds of good positions now opening. Salary $5000 a year, vacation pay, plus perquisites. Free of opening day for particulars. Dept. of opening and testimonials. Address nearest office, Dept. 445, National Salesmen Training Association, Chicago, N. York, Kansas City, Seattle, New Orleans, Toronto.

SALESMEN making small towns; job openings for pocket size; find something new and snappy and catch the public eye.

quick shipments, prompt commissions on all state territory covered; write for order book today. Royal Jewelry Co., 210 S. La St., Chicago.

TWO specialty salesmen, also two co-vassers for well known line cereals and cereals.
WANTED—A solicitors for city a country work, $15 a week and commission. 1312 Blanding ave., Alameda.
WANTED—Two good agents to solicit good commission. Call before 9 a.
m. or after 3 p. m., 1809 Harmon st.

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL

AA—Mabel Moffitt

PIANO STUDIO: 4 WEEKS' COURSE
FREE. THOROUGH CAREFUL
TEACHING. 1215 Broadway, 2nd floor.
KIMBLEY, PHONE BERK. 1074; BLO-
WEST OF SEATTLE.

COACHING in high school Latin, French,
German; mathematics, English and history;
rates reasonable. Phone BR.
863.

ENGINEERING—Civil, electrical, mining mechanical, survey, asexual, day, evening established 1864. Vander Nallden School of Engineering, 1000 Broadway, 10th floor.
HEALTH STUDIES conducted by competent instructors are held at the Nid-helm Sanitarium, 470 28th st., the sea-and four Wednesday's of each month, at 3 p. m.

LEARN telegraphing, salaries $50 to $75 monthly, at 1322 Broadway, room 3.

MISS IDA M. COATES has opened a studio at 1744 Franklin st., where she will receive patrons; lessons in drawing and painting.

MISS HARRINGTON, piano, vocal lessons; best methods, refs.; $4 mo. - 2941 Myrtle.

MISS ZEALA LUELLA COOK, expert piano teacher, accompanist. 818 12th st.

OAKLAND Conservatory of Music, established 1899, 12th, at Madison st., direction, Adolf Gregory; a thorough music school.

QUICKEST SYSTEM.
Stenography, typewriting, shorthand, teacher from New York Business College. Private instruction. Speed, dictation. Terms reasonable. 878-19th st., ph. Oakland 9476.

SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING, of methods; private classes; professional instruction; speed methods; personal instruction of Frederick G. Ilsen, certified teacher, 529 12th, bet. Washington Clay.

GUAGES, 1068 14th; send far. circu
VIOLEN lessons, 50c for beginners. 1
2848; Tribune.
WANTED—Coach for high school evenings; terms. Box R-241, Tribune
MEDICAL INSTRUMENTS

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
CHICKERING UPRIGHT, $150; Emerson upright, $157; Hazelton upright, $175; Briggs upright, $140; Trautman upright, $60; Sherman & Clay upright, $125. Many others. Heine Piano Co., 615 1/2 street.

HIGH-GRADE player-piano for sale; make trade on realty, property or K. machine; only private party need to ply. 420 18th st., Oakland.

FURNITURE FOR SALE

AUCTION SALE.
Auction sale of fine furniture at 408
st., bet. Franklin and Broadway. Clocks, fontiers, folding beds, sideboards, dress-carpets, iron beds, tables, chairs, sewing machines, all kinds of bric-a-brac, &c.
etc. Sale Monday, April 1, at 11 a. m.

A SNAP in a few pieces of furniture must be sold at once. 714 27th near Grove.

A FINE assortment of dressers on a 520 11th st., near Clay, Oakland.

FURNITURE of 3-room sunny flat, complete; almost new: sacrifice if sold 8 days. Call 1- to 5 o'clock: rent cheap. Dealers invited. 6239 College, near Claremont.

---

FOR SALE—Furniture of 5 rooms: dressers, rugs, chairs, tables, stove, washer, kitchen range, etc.; modern; $1,000.

FOR SALE—Furniture of 12 rooms, light housekeeping; leaving city. San Pablo ave., Oakland.

FOR SALE—Furniture of 5 rooms, cheap; will sell by piece if desired.

19th st.
FURNITURE of a 6-room flat for sale cheap; below 12th st. 1118 Linden st.
FURNITURE for sale. Inquire 577 Jo st.; near Grove; no dealers.
LARGE office desk, two chairs; in "E"

class condition. Phone: Pled. 4808.
NOTICE TO FURNITURE SHOPPERS
 We pay low rent and handle exclusively fine rugs, furniture, carpets, etc.
 you can pay cash for your furniture,
 can save you money, save you time, give you complete satisfaction. Can a one do more?

"The Home Furnishers,"
SUMMERS & HEISLER,
 3136 Adeline st., So. Berkeley.
 Berkeley 3511. Grove

---

SOLID oak extension table, $4; dressing and cheffoniers, $5, $6; English flower mattresses, $6; 8x12 Brussels rugs, carpets, 25c per yard; Matting, 10c yard. All the bargains all the time. All the people, see the Oakland Auction Co., 361-363-365 12th st., near Webster.

---

MOVING AND STORAGE

AMERICAN TRANSFER & STORAGE CO.—Moving, storing and shipping.
5th st.; phones Oakland 7000, Keweenaw 3882.

---

PEKINS

OF COURSE.
1070 Broadway, near 12th st.

—Furniture, pianos, merchandise, packing and shipping. Office, 609 14th phone Oakland 3235.

LYON STORAGE AND MOVING CO.
Packing and shipping. 427 14th phones Oakland 2071, Home A-2071.

PRESCOTT Van and Storage Co.— arate compartments; hauling free.
 ace, 1115 23d ave.; Merritt 482, R 11.
PRICES reduced; separate rooms, un- lock. Porter, 1230 Broadway; Oak 55.
OLD GOLD AND DIAMONDS

WANTED
MONEY LOANED ON DIAMONDS &
JEWELRY. M. J. SCHOENFELD,
BROADWAY.

STANDARD TELETYPE UNIT
DATE 1995 10-10-95
TELETYPE UNIT

Inners This Week

Trading Stamps given free by

BACK SMITH

—Mrs. A. V. Mars, 916 West street

—Miss Josie Withrow, 1617 62d ave

AUSTRIA MAY BE DRAGGED INTO CONFLICT

VIENNA, March 30.—Austria is particularly anxious that the Italo-Turkish war shall be brought to an end without delay. Spring is approaching and with it is almost certain to come a renewal of the troubles in Albania which may mean war throughout the Balkans. It is known here that a number of conferences have been held between the rulers of the Balkan states, and that in all of them preparations are being made for trouble, which it is feared may not be longer delayed.

Italy at this time does not desire a war which will mean the division of European powers, nor in fact does any one of the great powers.

The ambassadors of Russia, England, France, Germany and Austria-Hungary will officially inquire from the Rome cabinet under what conditions Italy would be disposed to conclude peace with Turkey. At present, however, it would be premature to take an optimistic view of this step. The object for the moment is to obtain information, and upon the results achieved will depend whether further steps shall be undertaken in Constantinople.

The inquiry to be made in Rome is merely preparatory. So far the notes containing the respective inquiries to be addressed to the Italian cabinet have neither been formulated nor presented, and the powers will not approach the Porte until a reply has been received from Rome.

At the moment, there is no sure ground upon which conclusions could be drawn as to the prospects of the success of the step which is contemplated by the great powers. The difficulty consists in including the Porte to accept demands which might simply mean a loss of material power, than of authority, even if Italy can be persuaded to build a golden bridge for the Ottoman retirement.

The trouble in reaching a settlement will come from Turkey. An official telegram from Constantinople states that the Ottoman ambassadors have been instructed to demand Italy to ally to the great powers, the intent with Italy is possible.

Seeing that the decree of annexation has been ratified by an enormous majority in the Italian chamber and unanimously by the senate, the attitude of Turkey would appear to exclude all prospect of peace in the near future.

It is possible, however, that if Italy makes a fair offer, pressure may be brought to bear on Turkey which will compel its acceptance.

MOTHERS OF EIGHT CHILDREN WANT MEDAL

PARIS, March 30.—French mothers want a Legion of Honor for themselves. A petition to that effect has been laid before the Senate and Mr. Reynald was commissioned to report upon it. He new declares that the petition is very interesting.

French mothers demand a pension for each child they bring up. When a mother has eight children, she is to receive a medal corresponding to the medals granted in recognition of valor. The French mothers who bring up eight children ask for the badge of courage, and Mr. Reynald, the Senator, approves them, but he cannot, he says, give them the new legion. The Senate is to be left to choose the title.

The pension claimed for brave mothers is not exorbitant. It is only four dollars a year per child.

"We commend their moderation," adds Senator Reynald, and an spokesman of the committee the proposes the scheme to the Ministry of the Interior, with a strong recommendation for approval.

PIONEER LEGISLATOR
DIES IN THE SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—David Lloyd Haun of Greenfield, Cal., died today at the home of his nephew, J. A. Graves, at Terminal Island. Mr. Haun was a pioneer of California, having served many terms in the state legislature, and for fifteen years was district attorney of Plumas county. He was a brother of former United States Senator H. T. Haun. His body will be sent to Greenfield for burial.

RECEIVES TAXES.

SACRAMENTO, March 30.—State Controller Nye today received $32,000 in payment of the inheritance taxes on the estate of the late George W. Hooper, who died in San Francisco February 18, 1911, leaving an estate valued at $1,202,912.

FLORAL SHOW WILL BE HELD IN SAN JOSE IN MAYDisplays to Be Made by Schools of Santa Clara
County.VALUABLE PRIZES
WILL BE AWARDEDKnowledge of Plant Life to Be Spread by Means of Displays.

SAN JOSE, March 30.—At a general meeting of the board of the Santa Clara County Educational Floral Fair, Mrs. John C. Jury presided, a large number was in attendance and much enthusiasm displayed. There was a large representation from the various schools. Each principal of city and county schools is chairman for his particular school district, with the power to select his workers and committees, and to aid in making his particular display. Many letters have been received from the county schools, each favoring the project, and for the educational betterment of Santa Clara county and the state at large.

During this floral fair to be held May 1, 2, 3 and 4, which is a department of the Santa Clara County Fair that will be held September 5 to 15, there will be written and published "on time to time, instructive essays on the medicinal use of plants. The names of the rarest varieties of wild flowers and their habitation will be made known, and the children and people at large will be entreated to preserve these varieties, picking them in small quantities, if at all, so that the seeds will grow more plants.

Entries in the various groups and classes should be made as soon as possible. A full list of the valuable prizes will be issued at once.

MANY GROUPS.

The classifications are as follows:

GROUP "A"—WILD FLOWERS

Class 1. Largest number of varieties of wild flowers.

Class 2. Most artistic display of wild flowers.

GROUP "B"—CULTIVATED

Class 1. Largest number of varieties of cut flowers (Roses, geraniums, hyacinths, tulips, and all others).

Class 2. Rarest varieties of cut flowers, any quantity.

Class 3. Best display of cut flowers, of the largest variety of any one family.

GROUP "C"—PRESSED FLOWERS

Class 1. Largest number of varieties of wild flowers.

Class 2. Most artistic display. All varieties of wild flowers.

Class 3. Best display of pressed cultivated flowers.

GROUP "D"—GRASSES, GREEN AND DRY

Class 1. Best display of wild green grasses.

Class 2. Best display of wild pressed grasses.

Class 3. Best display of tame grasses, pressed.

Class 4. Best display of tame grasses, green.

Class 5. Best display of grains in sheaf, full length of straw, green or ripe.

GROUP "E"—POTTED SHRUBS

Class 1. Best display of potted shrubs.

Class 2. Best display of cuttings, shrubs or trees.

GROUP "F"—VINES

Class 1. Best display of fruit vines.

Class 2. Best display of flowering or evergreen vines.

GROUP "G"—FERNS

Class 1. Best display of potted ferns.

Class 2. Best display of cut ferns.

GROUP "H"—COMPOSITIONS

Class 1. Best rhetorical essay on wild flowers.

Class 2. Best botanical essay of wild flowers.

Class 3. Best botanical essay on grain in the straw or stalk.

Class 4. Best set of folk-lore stories, relative to wild flowers of Santa Clara county.

Class 5. Best oration on all flowers.

GROUP "I"—WOODS

Class 1. Best professional exhibit.

Class 2. Best exhibit from single home garden.

Class 3. Best exhibit from one school garden.

PRIZES AWARDED.

A valuable prize will be given for each of the above classes. Among the premiums for the school exhibits will be a valuable art work, jardiner, loving-cup or something that will remain as a permanent gift to the school that wins it.

The various committees have not all been formulated, but besides the school principals, the following names are among those who are actively interested at present: Miss Margaret Hale, D. T. Bateman, Mrs. George Worwick, Mrs. Dr. Husted, Mrs. O. A. Hale, Miss Clarisse Hale, Mrs. L. Judge Brown, Professor Woods, Mrs. L. P. Shaw, Professor Fred Smith, Mrs. E. B. Rath, Mrs. Fred Church, Mrs. H. M. Barngrover, Mrs. R. J. Butler, Mrs. J. O. Hayes.

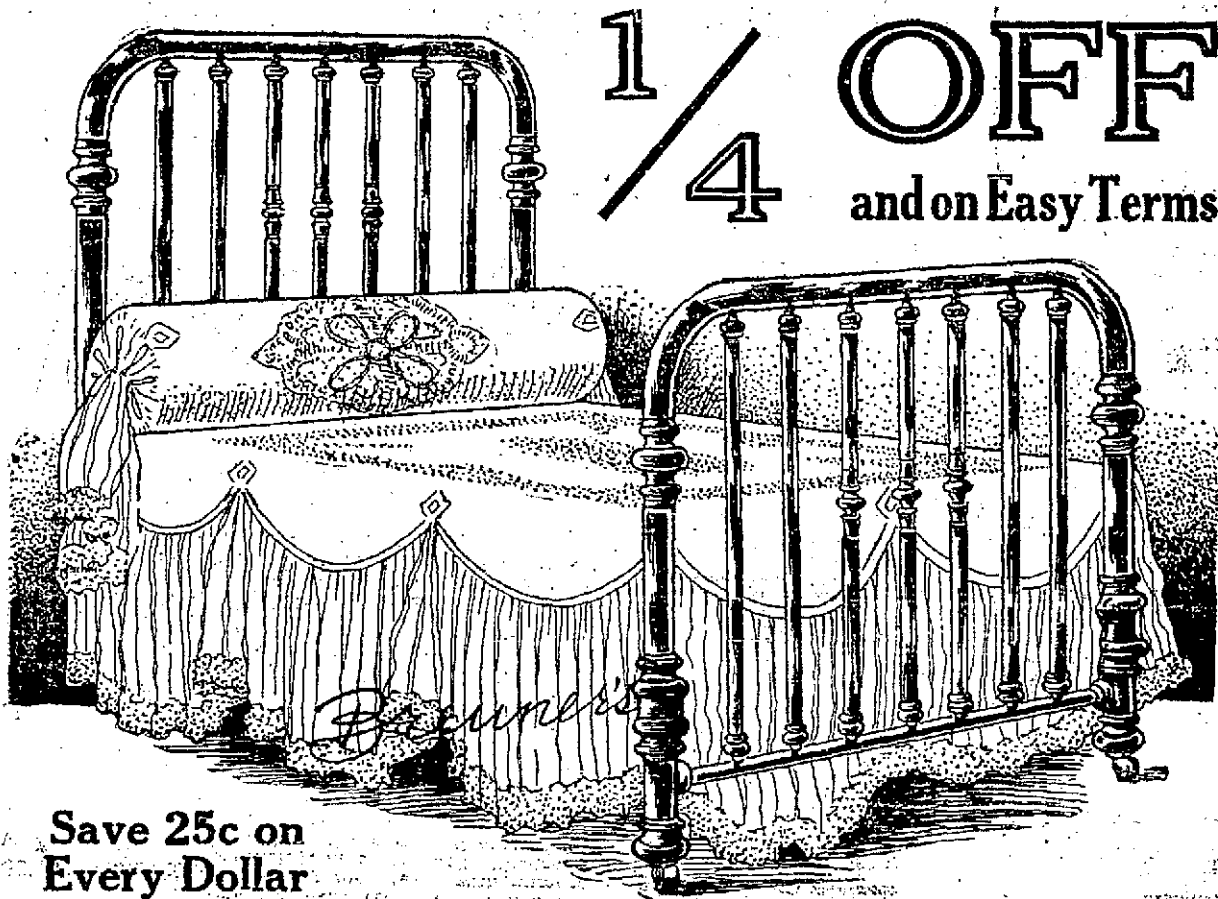

Entry blank to Santa Clara County Educational Floral Fair.

Any person or group of persons in Santa Clara county may enter any or all classes of any or all groups.

A prize will be awarded for each class in every group.

Please fill out and place a cross in each class number you wish to enter.

Send to Mrs. John C. Jury, Chairman of Exhibit, 442 South Second street, San Jose, California.

All High Priced—High Grade
BRASS BEDSSave 25c on Every Dollar

We are carrying too large a stock of High-Grade—Higher Priced Brass Beds on our floor—they are taking up too much room—we have no place to show our new spring assortment of metal beds—to quickly reduce our stock and give us floor space, we shall give you an opportunity of possessing one of these splendid genuine Brass Beds at 75c on the dollar and less.

|                        |         |                        |         |                         |         |
|------------------------|---------|------------------------|---------|-------------------------|---------|
| $42.50 Brass Bed, now | $31.90 | $35.00 Brass Bed, now | $26.25 | $65.00 Brass Bed, now  | $48.75 |
| $27.50 Brass Bed, now | $30.60 | $40.00 Brass Bed, now | $30.00 | $87.50 Brass Bed, now  | $65.60 |
| $30.00 Brass Bed, now | $22.50 | $32.50 Brass Bed, now | $24.15 | $72.50 Brass Bed, now  | $54.40 |
| $25.00 Brass Bed, now | $18.75 | $50.00 Brass Bed, now | $38.50 | $100.00 Brass Bed, now | $75.00 |
| $38.50 Brass Bed, now | $28.90 | $55.00 Brass Bed, now | $41.25 | $125.00 Brass Bed, now | $93.75 |
| $52.50 Brass Bed, now | $39.40 | $45.00 Brass Bed, now | $33.75 | $32.00 Brass Bed, now  | $24.00 |

ALL THE CREDIT YOU WISH AT THESE PRICES
A $5000 Bungalow FREE
LOCATED IN PLEASANT VALLEY COURT
Get Our Free Rent List Before You Move

Brewners—Oakland
13th & Franklin
StreetsANCIENT EGYPTIAN
MANUSCRIPT HEREMorgan's Collection Reaches
United States From Old World.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The first consignment of the ancient Egyptian manuscripts which J. Pierpont Morgan purchased for a vast sum of money during his extensive antiquary seeking expedition along the Nile a few months ago, has just reached this country. For centuries these priceless manuscripts have remained in the ruined temples in Egypt, carefully, almost sacredly guarded by the Egyptian government. Many copies of them have long since been placed in the museums of Europe, but it was left to the ingenuity and persistence, not to say money, of a progressive American to wear the originals from the hands of their holders.

From all parts of Egypt these irreplaceable literary antiquities were collected. The task of sorting, re-sorting and editing them as they originally stood devolved, by Mr. Morgan's choice, upon Dr. Henry Evelyn Driess, Washington. For years Dr. Driess labored in Egypt studying each of these manuscripts as he could for his articles on Egyptian literature prepared for the Catholic Encyclopedia. It will be perhaps a year before the work is completed and the manuscripts then will be placed in Mr. Morgan's museum in New York. In this collection are found the famous Pyramid Texts, the earliest specimens of Egyptian literature known to history.

These were engraved on the walls of the halls and rooms of the pyramids of Unis, Teti II, Pepi I, Mernepi II. Sections of these walls were shipped here intact, but the hieroglyphs are in some places so indistinct that the task of setting them in proper order will be extremely difficult. These texts represent two ancient rituals of the dead, the older of which antedates the dynastic times and contains incantations and magic prayers supposed to protect the deceased against serpents, scorpions, hunger, thirst and old age. The other represents the Book of Funerals, which is supposed to be the repetition of the rites by which Isis and the Horus animated the mummy of Osiris with the life he had as a god of the dead. The principal ceremony consisted in the opening of the mouth and the eyes of the mummy, so that the deceased in his second life could enjoy the mortuary offerings and guide and express himself in the next world.

Next in antiquity and in intrinsic worth comes the Book of the Dead. This is the most widely copied of all Egyptian manuscripts. It may best be described as a general illustrated guide book of the departed soul in "Amenti" or the "Region of the West," the Egyptian equivalent to heaven. The Book of the Dead, a treatise on astronomy, is another of the tablet manuscripts in the consignment already received. It consists of a hieroglyphic text with numerous mythological or symbolic illustrations describing the nocturnal navigation of the sun (represented as the ram-headed god Chnum) on the river Unas during the twelve hours of the night through halls as many halls. The Ritual Embalmings, Mythological compositions, books on astrology and what is considered the most unique manuscript of all, an Egyptian treatise on medicine, are included in the collection already at hand. No mind is perhaps more imaginative than that of the Egyptian and the ancient works of fiction which Mr. Morgan secured include "The Two Brothers," "The Doomed Prince" and "Shipwrecked," and have long been famed for their highly imaginative tales. These manuscripts will be brought to this country within a short time.

NAMES POSTMASTER.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Taft today nominated Severin J. Burke as postmaster at Nome, Alaska.

$3.00 Recipe Free
For Weak Men

Send Name and Address Today
You Can Have It Free and
Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakness, hood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the failure of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and vitality, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor. I have ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself down by the weight of his own weakness, and believe in the quick-acting remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quickly and easily. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. B. Robison, 4015 Mack Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $2.00 to $3.00 for merely writing out a prescription.

Dorns
IMPORTERS OF WHITE CHINA

WHITE CHINA SALE
Continued One Week
To accommodate Country Customers
More Bargain Tables Added

DORN'S
437 Powell St. San FranciscoOpening Tuesday, April 2, 11 a. m.
Broadway Cafeteria
GOOD THINGS TO EAT

1500 BROADWAY.
You are cordially invited to inspect the newest and finest Cafeteria on the Pacific Coast. We know you will be delighted with its clean and inviting appearance.

Lunch, 11 to 2
Dinner, 5 to 7:30
OPEN SUNDAYS.
The Postoffice Is Next Door to Us.

GET YOUR CORRECT STREET NUMBER IN DIRECTORY

The copy for the new City Directory of Oakland is nearly ready for the printer. To insure accuracy the publishers desire all whose street numbers have been changed since their information was taken to notify them AT ONCE BY CARD, giving the new and old numbers and the change will be made.

POLK-BUSHNELL DIRECTORY CO.

Save Money Avoid Pain
Teeth Extracted
Without Pain

SPECIAL UNTIL APRIL 1
SET OF TEETH ..... $2.00
25K GOLD CROWNS ..... $2.00
GOLD FILLINGS ..... $2.00
SILVER FILLINGS ..... $2.00
BRIDGE WORK ..... $2.00
Teeth Extracted Free when teeth are ordered.

Dr. T. J. Guarantini with all work.

BOSTON DENTAL CO.
1109 1/2 WASHINGTON ST.
HOURS—Week days, 9 to 5. Sundays, 10 to 4.

Job Printing at this establishment.

Are Your Boys Ready for Easter?

Our greatest effort of the year in unusual value giving is now being made for Easter shopping. We promise the mothers not to disappoint them when we say that we are showing the largest assortment and the noblest styles in Boys' Wearing Apparel at our famous popular prices. The suit shown in illustration is a splendid type of our fine Boys' Knickerbocker Suits. They are brimful of smart style and exceptionally well-tailored.

All Wool Suits
Special $4.95 Ages 6 to 17 years
Better Suits at $5.95, $6.95, $7.95, $8.95 and $9.95

MONEY-BACK SMITH
WASHINGTON STREET CORNER TENTH

Oakland Tribune.

SUNDAY, MARCH 31, 1912

THE SMARTEST FASHIONS, WELL-DRESSED FOLK

A Flower Sale

DEAREST ELEANOR:

Our Mothers' Club arranged an unusual method of raising funds to relieve the suffering of a desperately poor family—a mother and five little tots, whose father has deserted them. We had a flower sale at the club. Every "mother" was called upon to contribute either cut flowers or growing plants, and the village people were invited to buy. They did most generously, and I'm happy to say our problem is solved.

But I must tell you about the pretty spring frocks I saw there. The very newest tricks of fashion were brought out and, indeed, I gleaned several splendid ideas for making my own summer outfit; you will appreciate them, too.

The combination of linen and embroidered batiste was demonstrated in a white gown. The bodice proper was of the batiste, made quite plain to show the beauty of the embroidery. Over this was a shaped piece of linen, extending over the shoulders; while a bias band about an inset of batiste on each side of the peplum gave a chic jacket effect.

The skirt was narrow and plain, with a broad, shaped band set on twelve inches above the hem.

The hat, a close-fitting one of rose-colored straw, was trimmed only with a little white cockade in front.

An adorable gown of china-blue chambray was trimmed with many scallops. You know, my dear, that scallops are THE thing this season. This was made with a bodice opening over a guimpe of white net. A draped fichu of chambray was edged with scallops bound with a deeper shade of blue linen braid. Caps over the sleeves also had scallops on them, and the long close-fitting undersleeve was edged with braid.

A triple tunic on the skirt had each edge finished with scallops. Her large hat of burnt straw was trimmed only with a large blue bow.

Near her was a young woman whose gown of tan-colored linen was trimmed with short strips of linen braid, held down at each end with smoked pearl buttons. The gown was cut over a one-piece model, with short sleeves having broad turned-back cuffs, braid trimmed. A decided military effect was obtained by crossbars of braid on the front of the bodice and again at the back, where they extended well down on the skirt. The girdle was of black satin, and the hat of fine black satin straw was trimmed with a band and flat bow of satin, holding in a place a fancy green plume, upstanding directly in the back.

One of the aids wore a lovely dress of the new turkish cloth, resembling towel-ing. It was a soft shade of green, the upper bodice being made of embroidered batiste in exactly the same shade. A pointed bib effect, both front and back, was buttoned upon the batiste with large crocheted buttons and the low-cut neck outlined with fine ecru lace.

Short set-in kimono sleeves were finished with broad, pointed cuffs, also showing the large buttons. The skirt was plain, finished only with a deep hem. The material seemed not to require any trimming. I shall surely have a gown like this. Why don't you, sister mine? Duty calls. I must stop this chatter.

Ever affectionately,

MADGE.

HELEN THURLOW

LORRAINE MAY BE GERMAN THORN

Communes Subscribe Toward Aeroplanes for the French Army.

Old Paupers' Night Shelter of Paris Is Now Doomed to Disappear.

(By GEORGE DUFRESNE.)

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

PARIS, March 30.—The German authorities are discovering many strange things in Alsace-Lorraine. Their latest discovery is a curious dog. In the streets of Mulhouse one fine morning the authorities found a tri-colored dog. At its birth the dog was white, but it had been painted blue from head to the shoulders, while the rest of the body was red.

The police were much disturbed. It was a case of punishing the dog's innocent owner. Therefore they followed the poodle, which wandered through the streets seeking its home. It stopped in front of the sub-prefecture building and entered. It was at home. It was the poodle of the sub-prefect of Mulhouse. Some practical jokers had seized the animal and unknown to its master had painted it with French colors. The police have been looking for these practical jokers, but in vain.

AEROPLANES FOR FRENCH ARMY.

Things are happening in Lorraine which will not suit the book of the German authorities. It will be remembered that the idea of raising a national subscription with a view to supplying the army with aeroplanes had its birth at Nancy, which was the first town to offer a flying machine bearing its name. While all other towns in France have taken up the movement, Lorraine has not been idle. Nearly all the communes are subscribing toward aeroplanes for the French army. The movement is, in fact, universal in this "lost province."

In the Meuse there is a village called La Forge, which has about 500 inhabitants, mostly small cultivators. The other day the municipal council assembled and on the motion of one of its members unanimously voted 500 francs, a franc per inhabitant, for the purchase of a military aeroplane.

The department of the Vosges has decided to present the army with five flying machines. They will bear the names of the chief town and the four sub-prefectures. It is calculated today that, if all the departments of France and Algeria do as much, the French army will be in possession of nearly 500 aeroplanes.

OLD PAUPERS' NIGHT SHELTER TO GO.

A wonderful scheme is spoken of for converting an old paupers' night shelter near the Central markets into a place for the poor. The Quincampoix Lodging House is famous for its history in many a story. It is the site of the "Grand Duke's" last, where visitors to the palace of Paris are shown through cellars or old chambers with dilapidated walls and floors occupied every night by hundreds of vagrants, beggars or drunks. Some of these are content with their sitting room and a bed in front of them on which they can rest their heads. By paying an extra sou or two they may get an armchair, but the real luxury of the place costs ten cents. It consists of a bed with a mattress in a big whitewashed room containing several down beds.

The Quincampoix shelter is governed by a matron de hotel, who has been a celebrity of the stage for the last thirty years or more, and who conceived the idea of the wonderful palace. He has spared the services of an architect and capital for the amount of 1,000,000 francs. With this sum it is proposed to build an entirely new night shelter, but it is to have no more comforts that it may be called the Palace Hotel of the poor. There will no longer be common dormitories. The guests are to have each a separate chamber with an iron bedstead, two mattresses, sheets and blankets, a thing unknown at present; and a greater wonder still will be a wash basin fixed in the wall and a looking glass. The plans are for a magnificent stone front, which will have an imposing appearance. There will be a restaurant where the guests may eat at 2 cents and 5 cents each had the guests with leisure to spare will have the use of the reception room and a library.

RETURN TO NATURE: A MENACE.

Mr. Warrington Dawson, the young American author who is now dealing with negro problems from the southern point of view, is widely known, has written a book in French on the same subject. It is to be published in a few days. The work, I am told, is particularly interesting. Mr. Dawson, who accompanied ex-President Roosevelt on his African hunting expedition, has been able to make personal observation to draw comparisons between the negro in his natural state and the negro in America. The book should be treated as a black man and not as a white man, that is to say, with kindness and sympathy, but not with false ideas as to his capacities and possibilities. The two races should be kept in parallel lines, but there should be no converging.

Practically the note of the book is to show in the light of history and the present the negro as a creature who is not a menace to the white race. Paul Adams' preface emphasizes the fact that the American negro is descended from the last developed of the African races. The mutual jealousy of the blacks contribute to their poverty, which induces them to turn to crime. Between them and certain classes of French society today. Finally he asks whether the "return to Nature," which is the ideal of the negro, is not a menace to civilization.

CHAUVEPEUR ARE BANDITS.

When people are in a panic they will believe anything. So I make considerable allowance for the stories that are going about with regard to the chauvepeurs. The women folk have got into their heads that about one in every three is a bandit and that for not very good reasons. These rumors have taken their shape since the outrage on the poor lady, who, on leaving the opera, driven by the chauffeur to the house of the Duke de Montpensier, robbed of her clothing and left helplessly at the mercy of a gang of ruffians.

SNAPPED ON BYWAY AND HIGHWAY OF EUROPE

MISS KATE CUTLER (ON LEFT) AND MISS VIOLET VANBRUGH IN THE FIRE SCREEN AT THE GARRICK.

SIGNOR TITTONI, ITALIAN AMBASSADOR IN PARIS.

MISS GLADYS COOPER.

MR. S. HILL WOOD.

MR. R. N. STOLLERY.

MISS OLIVE SNELL.

MR. E. F. HULTON.

THE DUKE OF LEEDS.

THE EARL OF SEFTON.

THE COUNTESS OF SEFTON.

FUTURE MARRIAGE IS LECTURE TOPIC

Parisian Preacher Says Men Are Afraid to Assume the Burden of Marriage.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

PARIS, March 30.—Before a fashionable audience in which women largely predominated, Mr. Rolo, the Paris preacher, has begun a series of lectures on "The Marriage of Tomorrow." The savagery of the French Revolution, he said, had abolished the old institution of marriage. Since the Revolution masculine decadence had become accentuated. "The poor Troglodyte who lived in the Stone Age, and had vague presentiment of the existence of a Supreme Being, was more of a man than the modern boulevardier, who has his linen washed in London, who is fed in the quarter of the Opera, and disputes truffle with an animal, which shall be nameless." Mr. Rolo sought to show that the decadence in marriage, the "marriage strike," as he called it, was due to degeneration of man as shown by the want of manliness, the ignorance, the treachery, the lack of crime and drunkenness prevalent today. Men were afraid to assume the burden of marriage.

WILL APPEAL TO FRENCH ACADEMY

Small Children Told to Paint Reception of M. Fallieres at Tunis.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

PARIS, March 30.—An artist of veteran fame, who is also a grandfather, is going to appeal to the French Academy of Fine Arts, of which he is an old member, for the protection of his grandchildren. They are being taught drawing and water-colors at school. In the old days they would have been sent to draw a flower pot or a chair and shade it with a wash or two. Here are a few of the subjects given to these young artists: "Draw a shepherdess in a field. Express breadth of horizon in the landscape." This for an artist of 10. "Another theme" was for boys of 15 or so. "Reception of M. Fallieres at Tunis." Depict the enthusiasm of the crowd. A third typical subject given to girls of 12 in a drawing and water-color class was: "Paint six episodes in the life of Joan of Arc." The French Academy of Fine Arts is to be asked to take urgent measures for restraining the imagination and ambition of the art teachers of young Parisian children.

ONE-LEGGED APACHE COMMITS DARING CRIME

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

PARIS, March 30.—A daring outrage has been committed by a one-legged hooligan in the Bois de Boulogne. The culprit is now in jail awaiting trial. Two policemen found a young woman lying on the ground with two knife wounds in the back. She told them she had been attacked by a man with a wooden leg, who had come away in the direction of the Avenue Kleber. The police hurried after the apache and near the Arc de Triomphe caught sight of a one-legged man hobbling away as fast as he could. He was ordered to stop by the police, but pulled a revolver and with his back to the wall, shouted to a policeman who was only a few yards away, "Stand back or I fire." The policeman knocked the revolver out of the apache's hand and arrested him.

Those Pictured Above

The Waterloo cup was contested for by the Duke of Leeds, a member of the committee and a big supporter of the sport. The Countess of Sefton, for whom a success with Step Dance would have been extremely popular; the Earl of Sefton, patron of the meeting and owner of the property on which it is held; Mr. E. F. Hulton, who hoped to win the cup with Hudders and the derby with Lonsdale; Mr. N. Stollery, owner of Saracen; S. Hill Wood, winner of the cup in 1910 with Heavy Weapon.

Miss Kate Cutler and Miss Violet Vanbrugh appear in "The Fire Screen" at the Garrick, London. Suro's play is the story of a woman without a conscience, for whom every man is a possible "scalp" and every sight of domestic happiness a challenge. It is dramatic, interesting and very well acted, especially by Miss Kate Cutler as the woman, Miss Violet Vanbrugh as the wife, and Arthur Bonchies as the villain. Miss Violet Vanbrugh as the wife, and Arthur Bonchies as the villain. Miss Violet Vanbrugh as the wife, and Arthur Bonchies as the villain.

The above portrait of Miss Gladys Cooper depicts one of the most popular of the younger stage favorites of England. She is at present appearing with much success at the Royalty theater, first in the charming little comedy, "The Constant Lover," and later as Anna, the daughter of Wellwyn, in "The Pigeon."

Signor Tittoni, Italian ambassador in Paris, is pictured at work in his room. Miss Olive Snell, the well known portrait artist, and Captain Rock with are shown preparing for a ski-ing expedition at Murren.

Miss Unity Moore is seen above as Kiki in "The Glad Eye," an amusing item of the entertaining new revue at the London Empire theater.

National Defense Bills Prove Worry to Germany

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

BERLIN, March 30.—How to meet the national defense bills without arousing too much opposition against the imperial government is the most difficult problem the chancellor has to face at present, and the leading ministers of all the German states have during the last two weeks had several important conferences in this city for the purpose of discussing ways and means. The change in the political situation, and more particularly the conversations with England, have had no influence on the character of the bills. "Germania," the leading organ of the Centre party, declares: "But though Germany's relationship towards the Reichstag is evident that the new navy bill has been drawn up to meet the wish expressed, half as a request and half as a threat, by England, that the German navy program and budget may not be altered and increased in such a manner that an armament race would be given to the taxation powers. At a recent meeting Herr Bassermann, leader of the National Liberal party, stated in his speech that the bills would not come before the Reichstag for some time yet, because differences of opinion have arisen among the ministers. This may possibly lead to the fall of the cabinet or radical changes in its present makeup."

$50,000,000 TO COVER SIX YEARS. Rear Admiral Kalau von Hofe, retired, writing in the Magdeburger Zeitung, says that according to the published information of the new navy bill, first, the formation of a third battleship squadron in the active fleet; secondly, three new battleships and two small cruisers; thirdly, improvements in the running of the whole fleet, and, fourthly, some new submarines and airships. The whole of the new work is to be extended over the years 1912 to 1917.

The cost of the extra demands described as non-recurring, namely, for ships, armaments, submarines, airships, etc., amounts, he adds, to $10,000,000, and the extra permanent cost to $20,000,000—that is $50,000,000 spread over six years. The active battle fleet will thus consist, he continues, of one flagship, three squadrons each of eight battleships, eight smaller cruisers and eighteen small cruisers as reconnoitering ships. The reserve battle fleet will, as before, consist of eight battleships, four large and twelve small cruisers; and the foreign fleet remains, as fixed by the navy act of 1906, namely, eight large and ten small cruisers. In the opinion of Rear Admiral Kalau, it is evident that the new navy bill has been drawn up to meet the wish expressed, half as a request and half as a threat, by England, that the German navy program and budget may not be altered and increased in such a manner that an armament race would be given to the taxation powers. At a recent meeting Herr Bassermann, leader of the National Liberal party, stated in his speech that the bills would not come before the Reichstag for some time yet, because differences of opinion have arisen among the ministers. This may possibly lead to the fall of the cabinet or radical changes in its present makeup."

$50,000,000 TO COVER SIX YEARS. Rear Admiral Kalau von Hofe, retired, writing in the Magdeburger Zeitung, says that according to the published information of the new navy bill, first, the formation of a third battleship squadron in the active fleet; secondly, three new battleships and two small cruisers; thirdly, improvements in the running of the whole fleet, and, fourthly, some new submarines and airships. The whole of the new work is to be extended over the years 1912 to 1917.

IRISH ANXIOUS FOR PEACE PACT

Second Week in April Will Need Tranquility, It Is Argued.

Supporters of Cause Pleased That Asquith Is to Be at the Helm.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)

(By AUSTIN F. MAGUIRE.)

DUBLIN, March 30.—All friends of home rule for Ireland are frequently hoping that the industrial upheaval which is now seriously shaking our whole business fabric may be speedily adjusted and peace restored so that the country may be once more in tranquility before the second week of April, when the bill for home rule is to be introduced.

Supporters of the cause of justice for Ireland are highly pleased at Mr. Asquith's decision to personally take charge of the bill during its passage through the House of Commons.

In so deciding, the Prime Minister takes upon his shoulders a task of tremendous physical proportions, to say nothing of the mental strain which will attend every hour of the big debates.

In electing to be himself the minister in charge of the bill Mr. Asquith gives one more significant proof of his earnestness and devotion to the cause with which he is now so closely identified. He is linked in history with that of Gladstone, his illustrious predecessor in the premiership.

MAKES CONFIDENT PREDICTION.

John Redmond made the confident prediction at the St. Patrick's Day banquet of London Irishmen that home rule will be law within two years, and that the coming bill will pass the House of Commons by a majority in all the stages of at least 100. This is ten to fifteen votes below what the government majority will actually prove to be. But Mr. Redmond tops off the odd numbers by a motion for unforeseen emergencies, sickness or death of members, and he places the majority at five score.

With one hundred majority Premier Asquith can carry every bill in the ministerial program, including, of course, home rule, before he is again obliged by statute to dissolve Parliament.

There was some danger that the miners' strike and the other serious labor troubles all over Great Britain might lead to a desertion from the Liberal camp by the labor members of Great Britain.

If there was at any time any such intention on the part of the labor leaders than whom there is no more able or intelligent body in all Parliament it was wiped off the slate completely a few nights ago by the brilliant tactics a few Bonar Law, the Tory leader in the House of Commons.

To use an expressive and popular phrase, Leader Bonar Law put both feet into the tureen by an extraordinary speech of his on the minimum wage bill last Tuesday night. Backed by that other arrogant Tory blunderer, Lord Hugh Cecil, Mr. Law actually hinted in his speech, going almost to the point of direct suggestion, that the best way to settle the coal strike would be to confiscate the funds of the trade unions and then pass a law adding strikes to the list of criminal offenses punishable with fine and imprisonment.

CASTIGATED TORY LEADER.

The manner in which Chancellor Lloyd George castigated the Tory leader for his callous and reactionary speech was one of the finest pieces of parliamentary performance witnessed from the press gallery in many months. There was simply nothing left of Bonar Law, the eloquent and scathing chancellor had finished his speech amid the grateful cheers of the labor members whose cause Lloyd George had so magnificently defended.

The fact is the Tory leaders in the present Parliament are acting as a lot of Bourbons, so hopelessly dense is their capacity for ignorance and the blundering that is its child. The coal strike and all its resulting upset to business might have given the Tories a glorious chance to break into the ranks of the government majority any he is imperil home rule. But, never learning anything from the signs of the times, they actually succeed only in cementing the bonds still closer which bind the Liberals, the Irish Nationalists and the Labor members in one solid phalanx. After Bonar Law's speech the labor men will stay in the Liberal camp, proof against all allurement of desertion. This will make certain Mr. Redmond's prediction of 100 majority for home rule.

There is wide satisfaction among those interested in the revival of Irish law by President Taft in the Irish nationalist trademark. In a recent letter to Mr. Redmond the President expresses the hope that a bill now before Congress for the preservation of the Irish trademark against spurious imitations may soon become law. Mr. Redmond, the Irish President Taft for the kindly interest he is taking in this matter, which is fraught with important results for the business of Ireland.

THE IRISH TRADEMARK.

Commenting on the correspondence between President Taft and the Irish leader, the Freeman's Journal says editorially: "The rapid passage of the bill into law may now be confidently expected. The mere appearance of the Irish trademark on an article of commerce produces an immediate sense of security in the mind of a purchaser in the country, and it may almost be said, in Great Britain as well. The genuine Irish origin of the article is forthwith established."

"But in America no such security exists. There you may buy so-called Irish lace, and it may have been made out of French cotton by Syrian slaves on the slopes of Lebanon. So-called Irish goods are innocent of aught but shoddy, cheap, and shoddy."

Establish confidence similar to that now enjoyed by the Irish people at home, and it is safe to prophesy that the sale of genuine Irish goods in the United States will increase in leaps and bounds."

Now and in the future that sufficient measure of respect and consideration which England unfortunately has hitherto frequently refused." He believes, therefore, that the half measures now being adopted by the government will meet with condemnation in patriotic circles. "We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"LIVE IN PEACE WITH ENGLAND." "We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

"We certainly wish to live at peace with England," the admiral writes, "and are ready to accept an adequate basis for the construction of capital ships from four to two, England will not continue to force the construction of 'Dreadnoughts' as she has hitherto done."

KAISER SAYS 'NO!' TO WAR

Crisis Came When Britain Was at Disadvantage Because of Strike.

Torrents of Open Abuse Fall on War Lord; Branded "Weakling."

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
(By CLYDE VON ELSBERG.)
BERLIN, March 30.—From all accounts there came very near being a war with England last month. The question of a declaration of war turned out to postpone the Emperor's departure for Corfu and was the cause of a crisis which resulted in the resignation of Herr Wermuth, secretary of state for finance. There were many hurried consultations between the Emperor and his chief advisers. Those consulting were argued that the moment when England was impotent because of the coal strike was the opportunity of ages for wresting the supremacy of the seas from Britannia.

The war party was headed by Admiral Tirpitz, secretary of state for the navy, and with him in the militant group were General von Hartmann, chief of the general staff, General von Moltke, son of the great von Moltke, whose deliberate plans conquered France forty years ago, and most of the leading commanders of the army and navy; all were clamoring for war immediately.

On the side of peace were ranged Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg, foreign secretary, Kiderlen-Waechter, and the banking and business element in the government. The Kaiser, assailed with equal ardor by both sides, was torn by conflicting doubts. He listened to both and admitted that the arguments of both seemed indisputable. For several days peace hung in the balance.

SECRET IS OUT.

Of course, such vital secrets cannot be kept. Something of it leaked out and reached the ears of the British government. The cold response from London was that King George, because of the coal strike, could not pay his projected visit to the Emperor here, a politeness in return for those extended to the King at his coronation.

The information was conveyed to Berlin in very curt terms, in language far from that employed usually in diplomacy. It revealed to Germany that England was forewarned of Germany's militant purpose and consequently forewarned, coal strike or no strike. It was then that the Emperor decided for peace and called for his peaceful summer residence.

The anger of the German war party is intense. With unprecedented recklessness, the leading members of the war party are abusing the Emperor. Most notably, they are denouncing him as a "weak ruler who gets cold feet at every critical moment," as "an expert in indecision," and as "an effeminate degenerate," which is the height or depth of their abuse. In a word, the members of the war party, infuriated by the failure of their designs, have become iconoclasts and are trying to smash the emperor's idol.

IN NEW ROLE.

Emperor William is figuring in a new role—that of matchmaker.

The Kaiser seeks to marry the young Grandduchess Marie of Luxembourg to his serene highness, Prince Frederick, of Hohenzollern, of the Sigmaringen branch of that house. The German emperor displays good judgment for Grandduchess Marie is not only one of the prettiest but one of the wealthiest girls in Europe; she inherited an immense fortune from her father, Grand Duke William, who died on February 25.

Besides, Emperor William naturally wishes that the ruler of this grand duchy shall be related to him; it only by marriage. Such an alliance would do much to counteract Dutch influence which is potent here. The Kaiser usually accounts himself the ruler of the world, but it is doubtful if he ever before attempted to sway a pretty girl's affections.

Negotiations looking to the marriage are going on. It is said, Prince Frederick, 21 years old, is the son and heir of Prince William, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, young prince's mother, who was Princess Marie Theresia of Bourbon-Sicily, died at Cannes three years ago.

Prince Frederick is a handsome, well-natured fellow, is a lieutenant in the first regiment of foot grenadiers of the German army. He is stationed at Potsdam and is a great favorite of his imperial kinsman.

NOT STRICT TRUTH.

It has been said often recently that the Grandduchess Marie now is strictly true. She will not be 18 years old until June 14, next; until she attains her majority her mother, Grandduchess Marie Theresia, will continue to be regent. A man her lacking, the bill setting the rights of Luxembourg's succession in the eldest daughter of the late Grand Duke was passed by the chamber of deputies July 6, 1907. Grandduchess Marie Anne became regent November 19, 1908.

Grandduchess Marie Anne is a sister of Dom Miguel of Braganza, son of course, Grandduchess Marie is a first cousin of Prince Miguel of Braganza, who married Anita Stewart. The New York beauty and heiress is very close to the throne of Luxembourg. Indeed, no American girl ever made a better match than Miss Stewart so far as gaining aristocratic rank is concerned.

Prince Miguel's aunt, as became their own position, married some of the highest aristocrats in Europe. One became an archduchess of Austria and wed Duke Charles Theresia of Bavaria; three others united themselves with European princes. It goes without saying that all their children are first cousins of Prince Miguel of Braganza and of his wife by marriage.

BULLDOG KILLS TIGER IN DESPERATE FIGHT

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
LUTETIA, South Africa, March 30.—A bulldog killed a tiger in a fight near here a few days ago.

The tiger had taken refuge in a cave on a farm at the foot of Winterhoek Mountain in Cape Colony. A bulldog was secured and it at once rushed into the cave. A desperate struggle ensued. The dog was badly wounded by the tiger's claws, but it caught the tiger by the throat and did not let go until both rolled over as if dead.

In a few minutes the dog came round, but the tiger, which measured eight and a half feet, was found to be dead.

NEW PICTURES OF THOSE YOU KNOW

MISS GABY DESLYS PREPARING FOR HER DANCE.

MISS GABY DESLYS AND OTHERS IN NEW POSE

Miss Gaby Deslys, now in London, fresh from her American trip, has been spending many busy days at the photographers, where further charming snapshots of this fascinating and popular Parisian actress have been placed on record for an admiring public to enjoy, and here is one of them. The name of Miss Gaby Deslys has been coupled with that of an American dancer, and every one except those who know her—declared that she had secretly married her partner in the remarkable dances which have been so much discussed in New York and elsewhere. But—as usual—rumor was wrong.

Miss Felice Lyne is the bright particular star of the London opera house, who made a sensational debut in "Rigoletto" and has since been acclaimed as a new Patti. She was born twenty years ago in Kansas City, Mo. At seventeen she went to Paris to study music and on her return was engaged by the Metropolitan. Her success is due not only to her beautiful singing, but to the fact that she looks her parts.

Here is the "Turkey Trot" in London. This dance, together with "The Grizzly Bear," is at present threatening to invade London ballrooms. The dances are already great favorites in New York. Those clever dancers, Oscar and Suzanne, who are appearing in London Hippodrome, are seen above in one of the figures from "The Turkey Trot."

Miss Pat Burnand, who made such a successful appearance in "The Merry Widow" at the Shaftsbury Theatre, London, unfortunately had to retire from the cast owing to illness. Miss Burnand is, however, shortly to return under Comstock's management in "The Merry Widow."

LOTTERY TO FURNISH FUNDS FOR AVIATION

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—M. Millerand has inaugurated his series of weekly receptions of officers at the Ministry of War with a detailed discussion on the organization of the new army. It was decided that the money obtained by public subscription, besides being applied to the purchase of aeroplanes, should also be used for the creation of new landing stations which are badly needed.

The proposal is now being put before parliament to open a lottery, the profits of which, calculated at $2,000,000, should be devoted to the purpose of military aviation.

ACT OF JEALOUS WOMAN KILLS TRAPEZE ARTIST

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
VIENNA, March 30.—A horrible tragedy, the result of a jealousy, is reported from Vienna, where the circus is now giving performances. Two German artists, named respectively Josef Krammer and Franz Kann, appear in a trapeze act. Krammer's sister, who was in love with Kann, but whose affection was not returned, as the artist preferred her sister, loosened a rope before the beginning of the performance. As a result of her act both performers fell from a great height to the ground, being killed on the spot.

THE TURKEY TROT IN LONDON.

LADY BUTLER WILL WED HEIR OF DUKE

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
LONDON, March 30.—The biggest social event on the cards is the wedding on April 11 of Lady Irene Gwladys Butler, elder daughter of the Earl of Lanesborough and the Marquis of Stafford, the Duke of Sutherland's eldest son and heir. The ceremony will be performed at St. Peter's church, Eaton Square.

The Duchess of Sutherland, sister of the Earl of Roslyn, has a pretty taste at stage managing. So it is certain that the wedding will be brilliant and the chances are that there will be some rather theatrical surprises. Anyhow there will be fourteen bridesmaids, a boy of charming figure, whose picturesque costume will carry out a graduated scheme of color in shades of pink. The frivolous are saying already that with such a chance there should be "standing room" only at the church.

Among the bridesmaids will be three of the bride's cousins, Joan Stuart and the Misses Combe; the bride's sister, Lady Mordaunt Butler, who is only 13 years old, and the bridegroom's sister, Lady Rosemary Leveson-Gower.

Lord Lanesborough, who was long military secretary in the Duke of Connaught, will give his daughter away; she is just 21. Lord Alastair Leveson-Gower, a good looking chap of 22, who is playing at being an officer in the "Rifles," the crack cavalry regiment, will be his brother's best man. The wedding reception will be at Grosvenor Square, lent for the occasion by the Duke and Duchess of Westminster. The honeymoon will be passed between Little Hall and Dunrobin castle, two of the seats owned by the Duke of Sutherland. Lord Lanesborough is not wealthy, so probably he is sufficiently gratified for some amused comment has been provoked by the fact that the wedding invitations were sent out in fold-over envelopes, with open sides, so saving a penny postage on each envelope. And by a lucky coincidence the postman who brought the wedding invitations, sent by Lord and Lady Lanesborough of course, brought each recipient a circular from the Cripples Guild, in Bond Street, in which the Duchess of Sutherland is deeply and most benevolently interested. The circular was handsomely illustrated with pictures of the wedding presents sent to the bride. The Duchess remarked: "Well, if the people want to give presents, they might as well spend their money in a good cause for the cripples."

MISS PAT BURNAND.

MISS FELICE LYNE

STRANGE GUESTS COME TO PLAGUE HOSTESS

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
(By CHESTER OVERTON.)
LONDON, March 30.—The most fashionable hostesses, prodigal as they are, the considering steps they shall take to keep out persons from their parties who are not invited. This action has been provoked by an alarming incident at a reception given recently in honor of Premier Asquith by Lady Craven, who was Cornelia Bradley Marlin.

With the guests came a suffragette whom nobody knew at the Craven house in Chesterfield Gardens. So many people had been invited that none thought of questioning the stranger, who was well dressed, and who, up to a certain point, had good manners. She approached Mr. Asquith, who was standing by Lady Craven, and all of a sudden shouted: "How about votes for women?"

Mr. Asquith, vastly surprised, stepped back. Lord Craven took the woman's arm and escorted her to the door, where private detectives took her in charge, she shouting all the time "Votes for women!"

While these political receptions are being held any man, or woman if well dressed, can go to any of them. A number of efforts have occurred lately at such parties, but as the hostesses have shrunk from the scandal no steps have been taken to trace the thieves.

Men find it easier to enter the house uninvited because there is a scarcity of young men who dance. Seeking young ladies, such as a hostess goes to William Gillette, who founded the Bachelor's club. That gentleman gallantly responds by sending invitations to an assortment of selected young gentlemen, bankers' sons and other eligibles, for whom he makes himself responsible.

Unfortunately, a band of underlings are masquerading now as guests sent by Gillette. They are gentlemanly enough, they dance well, some of them go to parties simply because they want a good supper, others that they may pick up whatever valuables come in their way. It is suggested, rather hesitatingly, that invitations be sent out which shall be presented at the door, although it is recognized that this rather extreme measure will not keep out the underlings.

POCKET SILVER.

At a reception at Dorchester house last season, the American ambassador, Mr. Reid and Miss Reid suffered a sorrow because of so-called souvenir hunters, who pocketed small pieces of silver. The Reids are taking greater precautions this season and have engaged well dressed detectives, both women and men, to mingle with the guests and keep a sharp eye on the valuables.

The season which opened so brilliantly, is suffering an early frost because of the coal strike and the general industrial unrest. There is a tacit agreement between English and American hostesses that so long as this distress exists in the country there shall be no great entertainments. It is likely that a number of invitations to social affairs will be cancelled.

Mrs. Henry Higgins, formerly Miss Bessie of New York, the mother of Lady Asquith and Lady Alastair Innes-Ker, have cancelled invitations for a big dinner next week and have gone abroad. Lady Barrymore, Mrs. Adair's sister, has recalled the invitations for a ball at the Ritz hotel. Mrs. Almeric Paget, who was Pauline Whitney, the late William C. Whitney's daughter, and Mrs. "Lulu" Hartcourt, a niece of J. P. Morgan, both announce that they have postponed all their receptions.

In fact the chatter in the drawing rooms now chiefly concerns "revolution"; those women in society seem to not understand what a strike is. Lady Paget, who was Minnie Stevens, of New York, is the only exception. The strike does not appear to trouble her. She is giving a smart dinner every week, nor has she any intention to join her husband, General Paget, who commands the forces in Ireland, until the London season is over.

The Anglo-American set have learned with pleasure that Mrs. "Silent" Smith, the mother of Princess Miguel of Braganza, will return to her house on Grosvenor square soon after Easter. She is always entertained on a great scale.

BODY OF RUSSIAN LADY IS FOUND

Disappeared With 10-Year-Old Son Five Months Ago; no Trace of Boy.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—Overwork is believed to be the cause of the premature suicide of a young Russian lady named Fradkine, who disappeared with her little boy of five a month ago and whose body has just been found in the Seine. She had come to Paris to study medicine, and had seen the child to board with a schoolmaster at Varenne. She had gone there to see him, and after luncheon she took the boy out for a walk, and since that afternoon nothing was heard of them. Her bag had, however, been found lying on the river bank.

The corpse was taken out of the river by a fisherman, and was at once conveyed by the gendarmes to the local morgue, where it was easily identified, owing to the long fur mantle which she was wearing. It was thought that she might have attached the child to herself with a leather strap before jumping into the Seine. But her little son's body had not yet been discovered, so it is just possible that he may have escaped and been taken care of by someone.

WOMAN SMOKES TO ADVERTISE SHOP

An Energetic Parisian Tradesman Has a Novel Means of Procuring Customers.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—The lady "animated advertisement" in the latest boulevard novelty, "L'Esprit," is a smart, attractive-looking girl, wearing a smartly-cut tailor-made costume, patent leather shoes and a large fashionable hat, appeared on the boulevard smoking a cigarette. In her hand she carried a riding stick. A large crowd gathered as she continued her walk along the boulevard until she reached a shop, in which she disappeared. Emerging a moment afterward she announced to the crowd in a clear voice that admittance was free.

STRIKING PARIS JEMU GUILTY OF VIOLENCE

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—Tremendous excitement prevailed on the Boulevard St. Martin when the driver of a taxi, with a municipal guard seated at his side to protect him, was treated to a shower of bricks by a party of drivers on strike who had just emerged from the labor exchange, where they had been holding a meeting.

DR. CHANCE TO FIGHT IN COURTS

Ruling Against Him in Divorce Suit Means Loss of Annuity.

Young Rostand, Son of Dramatist, to Wed and Mother Is Joyful.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
(By PAUL PIERRE RIGNAUX.)
PARIS, March 30.—The fight this divorcee to the bitter end, declared Dr. Perry R. Chance, son of Wade Chance, who married Mrs. Vanonsseker Kruger. "It is only a case of two much sister-in-law, which is worse than too much mother-in-law."

Dr. Chance came from Dayton, Ohio, and lives on the Place Vendôme here. He is only the shadow of his former brainy self and moves stealthily over the scenes of his past triumphs, swearing vengeance against the Countess Cassini and his sister-in-law, who he blames for alienating the affections of his wife, who was formerly Mrs. James C. King. She is a most imposing woman, with dark eyes, glorious black hair and, to be impolite enough to mention her age, she may be forty. She was formerly Miss Maud A. Robinson of Morrison, Ill., the daughter of a well-known manufacturer in the Middle West.

She brought her beauty and wealth to Paris about six years ago and engaged a flat which had been occupied by Emma Eames. She paid $2000 a month for her apartment and entertained lavishly, most of her guests being her American compatriots. When she married Dr. Chance, who is a doctor, a marriage settlement was drawn up giving him $5000 a year. But he will be left penniless should his wife win the divorce for which she is suing.

In the marriage contract there is a clause to the effect that should Mr. and Mrs. Chance be divorced for any cause whatever, the $5000 annuity will cease. This clause was inserted by Joseph Penhale of New York, a lawyer who threw overboard caution around the contract, guarding it carefully in Mrs. Chance's interest.

TOO MUCH SISTER-IN-LAW

While Dr. Chance complains of too much sister-in-law, his wife retorts with the charge "Too much brother-in-law." She alleges that Chance, as administrator of his wife's estate, tried to recover a sum of money which Mrs. Chance gave to her sister, who promptly informed the doctor "To go about his business."

Rosamond Gerard Rostand, wife of the poet-playwright and academician, Edmond Rostand, has carried off her elegant son, Maurice, to her mountain home at Combe, near the Pyrenees. There he will prepare himself for his nuptials to the niece of M. de Melun, a member of the wife of the poet has taken the poet's son, in his beautiful keeping with that closed Rostand, who has triumphed finally over the Lehar and other brass bands.

One of the most fashionable tailors in Paris has just named a model of a cheviot, lined with silk and adorned with silk facings "the Maurice Rostand" suit. When his model heard of this the admiring tribute to her first born, she exclaimed laughingly: "My husband is a back number now; every day has his day. Right about face, Maurice Rostand was the youngest academician."

Mrs. Rostand is related to the Gerards of Pennsylvania, and, as has been known a little about American slang, talk.

There will be a family gathering at Combe for the Easter holidays made up of M. and Mme. Rostand, Maurice Rostand and his younger brother. They will deliberate upon the marriage which will be celebrated. This happy event cannot occur until Maurice has served his two years' military duty which the law demands.

Masterlink, his wife and their charming daughter, who were married in 1904, performed in the Abbey Saint Wandrille, in Normandy. The Rostands hold that the princely ghosts of the abbots who long since have become dust may be cheerful companions of age but that they should not attend the wedding of a youthful loving pair of 20.

WEALTHY WIDOW LOSER AT MONTE CARLO

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by International News Service.)
PARIS, March 30.—E. A. Hendrickson, a wealthy widow from Minneapolis, has returned to Paris from Monte Carlo wiser and sadder than when she went there a month ago. Mrs. Hendrickson had read how Doc Ziegfeld once took a cool million out of Monte Carlo, though he lost it again in Paris, and how Don Jaime, Prince de Bourbon, recently won a small fortune and she yielded to the temptation to try her luck.

Mrs. Hendrickson, who is the daughter of the late banker, John Ward of Minneapolis, dreamed of breaking Prince Albert's bank. Her knowledge of straight finance learned in the north star state stood her in little stead at the gambling tables and in the end she was left with her own money, but she was introduced at Monte Carlo by Lord Roslyn, and she lost more. She will not admit how much she lost, but as she is very wealthy, there is a need for sympathy with her, although Mlle. Valentini, granddaughter of the Prince of Monaco, did express her condolence and sent the widow some flowers.

One of the reasons why Mrs. Hendrickson is believed to be very rich is because General Arthur Thersop Spridovich has been in her train and he concentrates his attention on wealthy American widows only.

Mrs. Hendrickson lost her money at Trete and Quatrete.

Bricks by a party of drivers on strike who had just emerged from the labor exchange, where they had been holding a meeting.

LIBERTY WON FOR TURKISH WOMEN

Now Appear on Foot in the Streets of Constantinople.

Prediction Made That They Will Demand Vote in the Near Future.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 30.—The evolution of ideas is progressing rapidly in conservative Turkey. Since the old sultan was deposed by the Young Turks and a new government lacking despotic power was installed, all sorts of "modern reforms" have been taken up by the people, particularly by the women.

Long locked up in harems and permitted to go out only under strict guard the women have steadily gained more liberty until now they are not far behind their sisters in Christian countries. Women of the poorer classes long have gone about almost at will—but always in groups and closely veiled.

Recently the privilege of going about the streets on foot has been seized by the wives of rich Turks. They still wear the veil, of course; that is enjoyed by the Koran, but veils are often seen so thin that the features may be perceived beneath, and the long cloaks in which the Koran requires women to be dressed, have ceased to be shapeless and are approximating the cut of a fashionable wrap from Paris.

Polygamy, which is permitted by law and favored by the Koran, is going out of fashion, because of the high cost of living. Only extremely rich Turks can pay the expenses of an extensive harem with the women just as free to go on shopping excursions as they would be in Paris or New York.

Predictions are made that women will be demanding the ballot ere long.

FRAUD SHOW TACT.

BERLIN, March 30.—More than 14,000 women of American birth—14,138, to be exact—live in Germany. This is perhaps the thing of greatest interest to Americans in connection with a noteworthy exposition which has just been opened in Exposition Hall in the zoological garden here, under the title of "Women in Business and in the Home." The exposition, of which the German empress is the chief patroness, was planned and is being carried out solely by women, and is devoted entirely to women's work in all fields of endeavor.

The multiplicity of occupations represented is astonishing. Besides German peasant women spinning thread from wool and flax at spinning wheels and weaving it on hand looms into endearing articles are exhibits showing women's work in medicine, in invention, in commerce and trade, in gardening, farming, architecture—in short, in virtually every department of human effort.

There is a noteworthy collection of paintings by women artists, and everywhere arise columns displaying figures showing women's part in the world's work.

A striking feature of the exposition is the department devoted to the German women of other countries and the women of other countries living in Germany.

In the front rank of German women in America appears the name of Mrs. Carl Schurz, with a reference to the fact that as long ago as 1855 she established a kindergarten in her home in Watertown, Wis. Contributions of exhibits from scores of prominent American women appear. Among well known names are those of Johanna Gadel, Mrs. Bayard Taylor, daughter of the famous astronomer; Mrs. Lillian Bayard Taylor, daughter of the famous astronomer; Mrs. Lillian Bayard Taylor, daughter of the famous astronomer; Mrs. Lillian Bayard Taylor, daughter of the famous astronomer.

WOMEN OF TITLE INTERESTED.—Mrs. Martha Ziegler, wife of the imperial German consul in New York, secured all the American exhibits. The Duchess of Connaught, who was a princess of Prussia, and the Duchess of Albany, who was a princess of Waldeck-Pyrmont, are the honorary presidents of the department devoted to the German women in foreign countries.

Of the 14,138 American women in Germany 400 are engaged in commerce or trade, 181 on farms, 304 in the public service and 404 as domestic servants. There are 11,121 who have no stated occupation, and 2,851 who live on independent incomes.

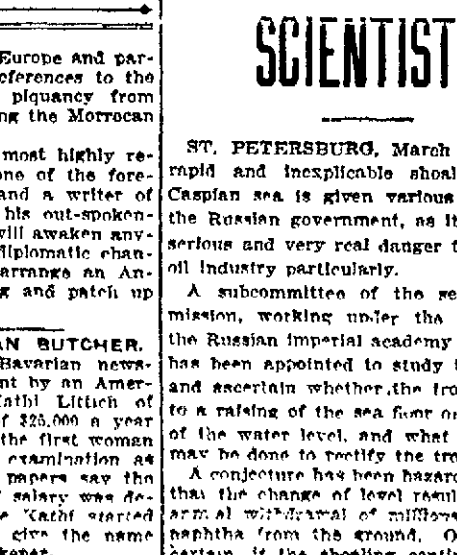

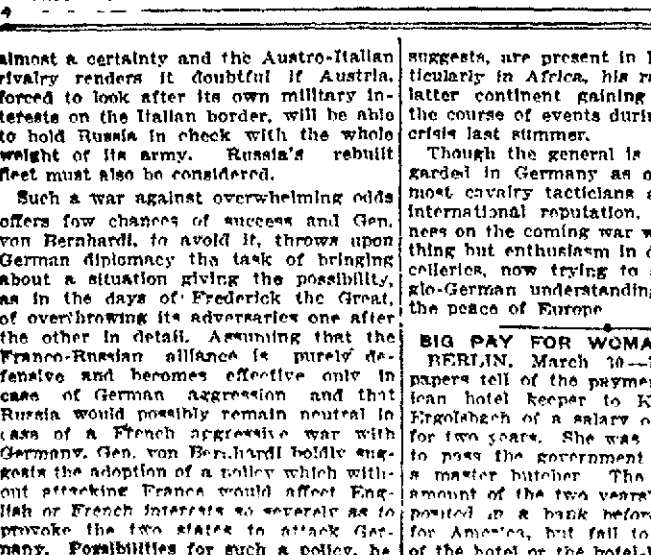

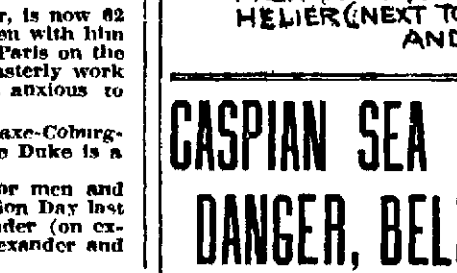

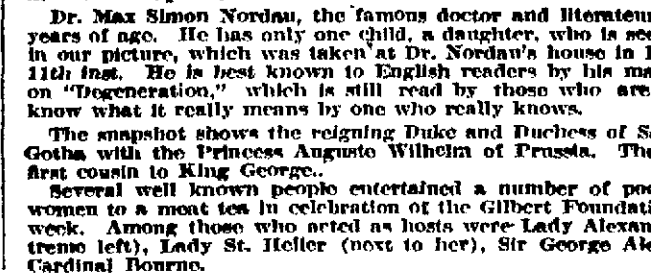

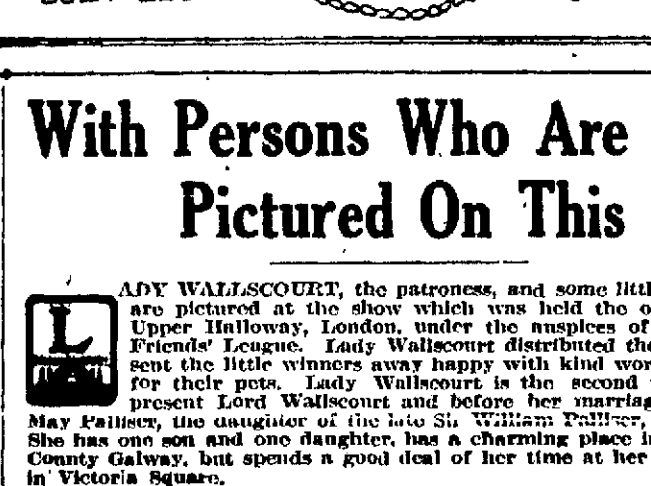

The Queen of Roumania, "Carmen Sylva," whose interest in woman's work is well known, and the Crown Princess Marie are represented in the exposition with a special exhibit. The queen is the special patroness for the occasion of the German Lyceum Club, under whose auspices the exposition came into being.

GERMANY'S NEXT WAR IS THEME OF BOOK

BERLIN, March 30.—"Germany and the Next War" is the title of a new book now in press by General Friedrich von Bernhardi, the celebrated German military leader who in this war is still in the United States. In it the writer, who was dropped a literary bomb into the military camp of Europe by revealing the possibility for Germany, in a future war with France, of attacking the French from the rear and invading France by passing the neutrality of Belgium, discusses international politics with rare accuracy and frankly suggests ways and means of preventing a war with France and England without bringing in Russia as a mediator, the debate relations between Austria-Hungary and Italy in the Balkans.

Discussing the political preparations for Germany's next war, Gen. von Bernhardi shows that while Germany formally had to reckon only on the simple resources of her own army, she was actually in a position to rely on the aid of Austria-Hungary as a faithful ally either "before the fact" or (taking an active part in the hostilities) German strategists are now in a far more unfavorable situation. An attack on England, involving the making of a British army either in North Germany or in Belgium to co-operate with the French forces, seems

Portraits of Those Whose Names Appear Here Today

DR. MAX NORDAU AND DAUGHTER.

Political Unrest Is Rife On the Island of Cuba

HAVANA, March 30.—Not since the re-establishment of the republic by Governor General Magallon on January 23, 1909, has the political situation in Cuba been more complicated, more difficult of analysis, and apparently more alive with dangerous symptoms than at the present moment.

There is no question that throughout the island there reigns a spirit of deepest unrest arising from lack of confidence in the government and the consequent depression of business, aggravated by endless political dissension.

This has been all the more noticeable ever since the veteran agitation culminated for the time at least, on the receipt of Secretary Knox's note.

That the Cubans generally recognize the gravity of the present state of affairs is shown by the amount of editorial space which newspapers of all political complexion devote to the discussion of the situation. The Cubans are getting together, to forget all their personal and political differences, and to work loyally in unison to remove any possible cause of complaint from Washington, as the only way to avoid "the horrors of an other intervention."

POLITICAL STRUGGLE CONTINUES.

So far there has been no audible response of these appeals, and the struggle for political power among the various factions becomes more embittered every day.

Despite the widespread dissatisfaction with the administration of President Gomez and his reiterated protestations that under no circumstances will he ever consider a re-nomination, an impression appears to be growing that at the last moment the general will find himself unable to select among the crowd of candidates a successor to whom he can conscientiously intrust the destinies of the republic.

Many declare their conviction that Gomez is the one strong man in the country and predict confidently that, if he fails to succeed himself, the country, uncontrolled by his firm grasp, will soon be thrown into anarchy.

Others profess confidence that the acceptance of a re-nomination by President Gomez will be the signal for an uprising that will either sweep the country or prepare the way for an immediate intervention by the United States.

It is known that Gomez has done his utmost to induce General Mario Menocal, the great Conservative leader, to accept the nomination as a Conservative with the backing of the Migueles wing of the Liberal party. General Menocal is strongly disinclined to accept a nomination even were his election to be practically assured.

Gomez is said to have even offered his support to that uncompromising Conservative, General Frelle de Andrade, who has not been able to see his way to an acceptance of a re-nomination. He has declared himself warmly in favor of the candidacy of General Ernesto Asbert, the Liberal governor of Havana.

Predictions that the veteran movement would gain increased force and intensity by reason of the adverse decision of the Supreme court, which declared the unconstitutionality of the law of December 13, suspending the operation of the civil service law and thereby ousting many persons employed in the government, have not been fulfilled so far.

While some of the more radical veterans continue to talk loudly of lynching all persons emigrating, or entirely to abstain from the vote, as a body, contented themselves with protesting against the decision of the court, the administration for acting in bad faith.

LADY ALEXANDER (ON EXTREME LEFT), LADY ST. HELIER (NEXT TO HER), SIR GEORGE ALEXANDER AND CARDINAL BOURNE.

CASPIAN SEA IS IN DANGER, BELIEVE SCIENTISTS

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—The rapid and inexplicable shoaling of the Caspian sea is given various concern to the Russian government, as it presents a serious and very real danger to the great oil industry particularly.

A subcommittee of the science commission, working under the auspices of the Russian imperial academy of sciences, has been appointed to study the problem and ascertain whether the trouble is due to a raising of the sea floor or a lowering of the water level, and what if anything may be done to rectify the trouble.

A conjecture has been hazarded by some that the change of level results from the annual withdrawal of millions of tons of sulphur from the ground. One thing is certain, if the shoaling continues it will soon put an end to the navigation of the Caspian.

The most pathetic stories of want and misery are pouring in from the famine-stricken governments. All the necessities of life are lacking. In Simbirsk the government offices of the district zemstvo are beset by priests, school teachers and representatives of the local communes, begging that free kitchens be opened everywhere. Their prayers have had to be refused as no funds are available. The zemstvo asked the government for a grant of $37,500, but without success.

Sir Edward Grey's explanation of the strategic motives underlying the presence of Russian troops in Northern Persia appeals convincingly to the Reich, which has hitherto been invariably suspicious about the intentions of the Russian government. The Novoe Vremya remarks that Anglo-Russian diplomacy is not always as clear in its attitude toward Persian affairs. It foresees a removal of the old difficulties unless both powers make up their minds once for all either actually to intervene to preserve order and government in Persia, or entirely to abstain from intervention. It considers that more warnings to Mahomed Ali are either unheeded or insufficient. Stringent instructions have been telegraphed to the Russian consul at Meshed to refrain from lending any countenance whatsoever to intrigues in favor of the ex-shah. The boycott of the British at Shiraz is over.

'DOING' PARIS SEVERAL WAYS

Leave Your Wife at Home—That's One Way of Accomplishing It.

Restaurants in Gay City Are Standby for the Tourists.

PARIS, March 30.—There are two ways to do Paris, the second being to leave your wife at home.

An American mother and her two daughters are located in a large hotel off the boulevard. They have one third floor front room with double and single bed, breakfast, course dinner, electric light, elevator, and service for $2 a piece. They buy their lunches where they happen to be.

They left the father of the family at home. They crossed the ocean second class. In these days of $125 minimum fare for the first cabin, the fare of $60 in the second cabin on crack liners permits indulgence in new clothes, cabs, and cafes in Paris.

They preferred "the extra safety" of second class on a big modern boat, where "cooking and service were the same as first, only less lavish." They found the second class deckroom small, the rest of the accommodations perfect, including women stewards and boat's doctor. A woman falling ill had the trained nurse from the first cabin gratis.

COULD HAVE DONE BETTER.

A lone, but experienced woman of 30 went to a fashionable boarding hotel of the Avenue d'Antin, near the Champs Elysees, where she sits with a book under the chestnut blossoms or watches the gay throng. She pays $2.50 a day full board, with the society of well dressed tourists planning daily trips in majestic parties and gay hallways, young folks on the stairs, girls lounging in the smoking room and cutting holes in the billiard tables.

Here the mother and two daughters could have had one double and one single room on the fourth floor, all meals included, for $2 a piece, and enlightened American conversation on the styles, exactly as at home in Terre Haute.

Wise women seek these pensions. There is one hidden in a courtroom on the north side of St. Sulpice church as cheap as $1.20 a day, and I have seen hilarious parties of nice looking Americans rally from it. Another famous one, beside the Pantheon, has the same prices plus a great garden and a veritable raft of tourists going and coming.

Men like the boulevard hotels. One young fellow is happy sleeping for 70 cents a day in a small room in a smart hotel of the Rue Daunou, close to the famous corner of the Rue Serbie. He eats in the Duval restaurants, where on entering you receive a score card and the girl takes your tabeche, 1 cent as she says, "Good morning, Napkin? One cent. Bread? One cent. Fresh grilled mackerel, 12 cents; fried potatoes, 4 cents extra.

The Duval restaurants are tourists' standbys. In the narrow garnet of their dishes they give perfect cooking, but the portions are small and the menu artfully constructed. A delicious small steak costs 12 cents—and a little dish of saute costs the same. A ham or tomato omelet, for its quality, is cheap at 14 cents. But a bunch of white grapes, in full season, is dear at 15 cents.

Tiring of the Duval restaurants, try the trick of the hors d'oeuvres garnished dish at the Grand Cafe (Rue Serbie) or Brasserie Universelle (Avenue de l'Opera). The hors d'oeuvre is to Paris what the free lunch is to America. Amusingly they are charged for each little appetizer. Shrimps in mayonnaise, sliced hard boiled eggs in Bearnaise, sliced smoked salmon, etc.

PROFESSIONAL PLEASURE CITY.

Paris is a professional pleasure city. It is its best, not only to the rich but to the tourist of moderate means. There are certain restaurants on certain great days have all their tables engaged by the fashionable. Otherwise there is not one where the Duval feeder, or pension boarder, is not welcome to order his soup, meat, dessert, and coffee. But he will be especially welcome if he wears a dress suit or dinner coat.

For the bright moulins, gardens, promenades, and balls, the economical tourist sees it all for 40 cents admission and the single ice or coffee which pays for his seat.

Orchestra and balcony seats in the theater cost between $2 and $3, and boxes called "loges"—of three, four or five seats—are not dearer; but higher up, in the $1 or 70 cent places of the second balcony, the public is well dressed, cultivated, and good mannered, with as many women as men.

Tourists wishing to visit the lower dungeons of Vincennes ought to pay the men who lift the stone and guide them with lamps. So also with the boatmen in the great sewers. Apart from bribes to visit after hours and think of no other exceptions. Entrance to the saloons cost 10 cents unless you pick the dollar day to mix with the well dressed.

For all this it is worth that with $2 for room and $1.50 for food (or $2 in a pension) with $1.50 for taxi autos and incidental, 50 cents for cafes the economical tourist can get through his Paris day handsomely. Total, $4.50. Often he will spend less.

MARRIES HEART'S CHOICE AFTER 30-YEAR WAIT

BERLIN, March 30.—After an engagement extending over thirty years, Herrmann Heesberg, a shipper maker of Bielefeld, Germany, has just married the woman of his heart. When he was twenty-eight a marriage between the pair moment an affair arranged, but at the last they had been counting interposed with the threat of disinheritance in case this particular union should take place.

Accordingly the wedding was postponed until the obstacle should have been removed. It was not long before the aunt died, but when her will was opened it was found that she had bequeathed her possessions to her nephew only on conditions that he did not marry the girl of his choice for at least another thirty years. The couple calmly set themselves to wait out this term. It has at last expired, and they have become man and wife, though it should be added that the marriage ceremony had to take place in the house of the bridegroom, who is now confined to his room by a heart complaint.

HAUNTED HOUSES IN FASHION.

LONDON, March 30.—Haunted houses are becoming fashionable, and the latest "society" word is to spend a night in a haunted house, instead of being haunted and feared by everybody, are becoming more and more in demand.

up so high, in - to the sky, My aer - o - plane is built for two, A-mid the twink - ling stars a - bove, dear, We'll have lots of time to spoon And if we're out all night 'twill be all right With our old friend Mister Moon. Come be my Moon.

MY AVIATION GIRL

Song

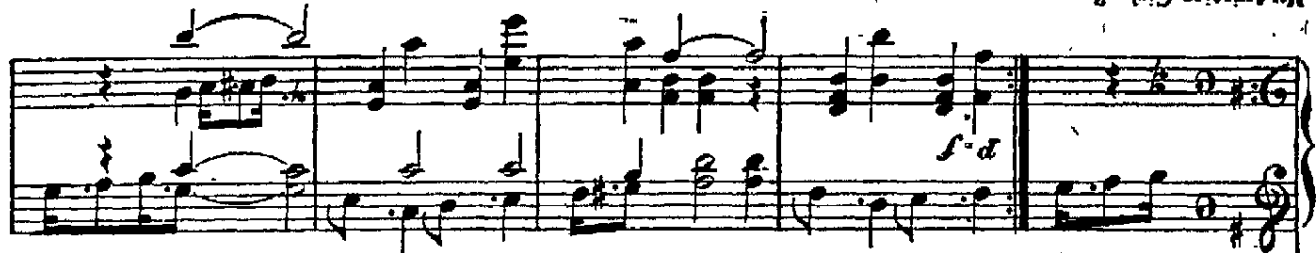

As Sung by
W. J. Mc CARTHY and EDNA BATES
IN
"THE OLD TOWN"

EDWARD J. GIBSON

HENRY D. MORTAGH

Come be my A - vi - a - tion girl, dear, For I want no one but you — Well fly way, to his girl - ie who was stand - ing by, "Why don't you learn to fly? — not like this, they don't know what they miss, Up here a - mong the stars! —

CHORUS

One young fel - low in a big ma - chine Ready for the sky — — — — — But its Joy ride par - ties out up - on a spree In their mot - or

Air men broke the re - cord ev - ry day, In the sky so clear, — — — — — at night, — — — — — Low - ing cou - ples as they bill and coo In the park

My Aviation Girl

Lyric by EDWARD J. GRIFFIN

Musie by HENRY B. MURTAGH

PIANO

Moderato

Ramp (all ready)

A - vi - a - tion down at
From my air - ship, dear - ie,

Bel - mont Park Was the fad you can see Lots of fun - ny year, sighs,

SOCIETY

MISS VERA COPE, who has announced her engagement to Rossiter Mikel.

Woman of Society Theme of Endless Discussion, Writes Suzette This Week

THE WOMAN of the Smart Set! That is the theme of endless discussion these days. For one reason, the interest is general; because she is so influential—she has the time for study and the money to try her experiments and to be helpful. She is a power in the land. And so the general public is much concerned as to what she reads, the clothes she wears, and the social functions she attends. A woman now-a-days must be well educated if she is to be a leader, and the education comes in two ways. Sometimes it comes by way of books, and sometimes a woman acquires it in great life lessons, in the big world of which she finds herself a part. If it has taught her selfishness, and has given her a great good breeding which makes itself evident in all her association with others, she is a well-educated woman.

What does the woman of the smart set read? That is a leading question now answered by the leading literary lights of the East. Some of the answers returned are of amazing interest. Among them one reads:

"Librarians, publishers and booksellers declare that among women of the social world a higher standard is being set both for the excellence of literary style and the soundness of literary matter. Women read better books, they say, than they used to. Women of wealth and position, of education and leisure, are raising the standard of literary production by demanding finer books. They like fiction. They like light fiction, too—well written, clever, original.

"In sociology it is not the books of essays and history that society women are reading most. It is plays. The vogue of the drama as literature has never been so high in this country as it is among women today. But the drama that is read is nearly all 'sociological' drama. It attacks some social problem. It lays bare some evil condition of life. It calls for a clear-sighted view of existence, of living as it is and living as man makes it. It is drama with an object.

CONTENTS ALMOST PURE SOCIOLOGY.

"So it is that, although the form of the 'fashionable' literature in New York today is dramatic, its content is almost always pure sociology. And there are many cultured society women who are demanding, too, that their fiction have a sociological bent, that it, as well, attack some problem.

"Society women—all women—are reading books on suffrage, too, and on all the phases and developments of the feminist movement. Serious books about women know no class in the generalization of their readers. All women read books about the woman question. And there is more than one young social leader who has read Olive Schreiner's 'Women and Labor,' and given it some hard thought. All this is vouched for by librarians and book dealers."

Another noted librarian writes: "There are in 'society' in New York and other cities today many women of wide interests, real culture, leisure, taste. And these women are reading more serious things. They are asking more questions, demanding more knowledge, delving into sciences and social conditions. It is these women who are raising the standard of literary productions by their interest in and demand for the best things. And these women are of wealth and social position."

Much that they read is of the English school:

"Nearly all of this is, of course, of the English school. John Galsworthy and Bernard Shaw are very widely read by cultured women. Oscar Wilde's plays and Arthur Wing Pinero's are in high favor with well-to-do feminine readers. Masterlinck is very widely read by women. Percy Mackaye's dramas are favorites.

"And much of their interest in sociology concentrates on the feminist movement. Women are always reading books about suffrage. They are eager, too, to read such books as Olive Schreiner's 'Women and Labor.' That is perhaps the most popular book—aside from fiction—among the feminine readers at the library. Women of all kinds, all classes, read that, and I believe that it is exerting a tremendous influence on women's thought today. Anti-suffrage books are almost never read. I do not believe that Molly Elliott Seawell's 'The Ladies' Battle' has ever been asked for.

"Margaret Deland is one of the most popular novelists. She is read by all women. Edith Wharton is tremendously popular, too. 'Ethan Frome' is always being asked for by women, and, though you'd think there couldn't be a woman who hadn't read 'The House of Mirth' at least once, it is always in demand at the library. William J. Locke is popular with women. Wells and Galsworthy have many feminine readers; Arnold Bennett rather fewer. Robert Hichens is having a tremendous vogue just now. Edon Philipotts and Thomas Hardy, George Meredith and Henry James—

A Beautiful Complexion

May Be Yours In Ten Days

Nadinola CREAM

The Complexion Beautifier

Used and Endorsed By Thousands

NADINOLA banishes tan, sallowness, freckles, pimples, liver-spots, etc. Extreme cases twenty days. Rids pores and tissues of impurities, leaves the skin clear, soft, healthy. Directions and guarantee in package. By toilet counters or mail. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. NATIONAL TOILET COMPANY, Park Ten For Sale by Owl Drug Co. and others.

MISS LESLIE MANUEL, fiancée of William Edgar Randolph.

these authors are favorites with cultured women in New York.

"I think that women are undoubtedly raising the tone of literary production. The women who have leisure to read are for the most part women of education, culture and good taste. They have progressed immensely since the mid-Victorian days. They have wider interests, higher standards, better tastes."

CASE IS MADE OUT FOR SMART SET.

Thus is the case made out for the woman of the smart set, and reading it no one will deny that the American woman of the smart set has established an indisputable right to that leadership which will achieve great things in the development of our nation.

In Oakland one finds many cultured women who study and read a great deal, but who are much in evidence in the social world also. Among them might be mentioned:

Mrs. Chabot, Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Mark Requa, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Wallace Everson, the Misses Everson, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Henshaw, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, Mrs. H. C. Taft, Miss Ethel Valentine, Mrs. Allen Babcock, Mrs. Charles H. King, Mrs. Pearl King Tanner, Mrs. Roland Oliver, Miss Sperry, Mrs. F. M. Smith, Mrs. Louis Titus, Mrs. Rosenfeld, Miss Nicholson, Miss Farrier, Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, Mrs. J. R. Soupham, Mrs. Miror Goodall, Mrs.

by De Reszke Miss Niebling created a perfect furore, the audience climbing on chairs to see more clearly the little blonde maiden from San Francisco, who was singing to them in such a very wonderful fashion.

And Enid Gregg is in Paris studying dancing and music from a well-known professor, who has trained many who are shining lights now in the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York.

Miss Dorothy Churchill is the latest society girl to give up social life for a while, for she planned to leave in April for Paris, where she is to study music under the direction of De Reszke. She will give a large house party at her beautiful country home

(Continued on Page 7)

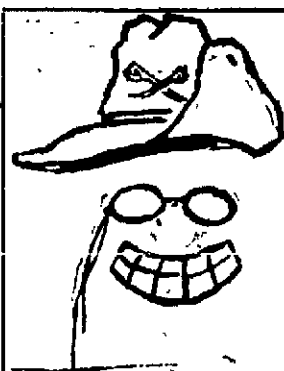

James Allen, Mrs. Charles H. Rowe, the Misses Herrick and Mrs. John Adams.

RHODA NIEBLING WINNING SUCCESS.

Apropos of women of the smart set who are studying, one is reminded of the great success abroad of pretty Rhoda Niebling, who went to Paris to study with the famous De Reszke

SMILES

Everywhere you go the lesson of good teeth is told —What is more common than your admiration of a pretty face turned to disappointment when a smile discloses an unsightly set of teeth?

—How delightful is the open smile in features, beautiful or plain, suddenly dazzled with the glory of perfect teeth.

—Consult me regularly and enjoy the admiration of your friends, abundance of health and prosperity.

Dr. Jesse B. Schafhirt
ALVEO DENTIST

1542 San Pablo Ave., corner 16th Street
OUT OF THE HIGH RENT DISTRICT
Phone Oakland 1235

Everybody Admires a Beautiful Complexion.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S

Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

An Indispensable and Delightful Toilet Requisite for Fashionable Women.

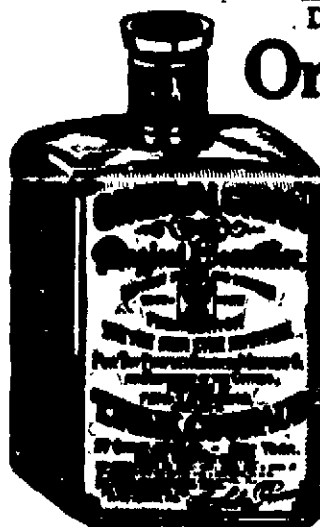

A daily necessity for the ladies' toilet whether at home or while traveling. It protects the skin from injurious effects of the elements, gives a wonderfully effective beauty to the complexion. It is a perfect non-greasy Toilet Cream and positively will not cause or encourage the growth of hair which all ladies should guard against when selecting a toilet preparation. When dancing, bowling or other exertions heat the skin, it prevents a sticky appearance.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream has been highly recommended by physicians, actresses, singers and women of fashion for over half a century and cannot be surpassed when preparing for daily or evening attire.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures Skin Diseases, such as Pimples, Blackheads, Moth, etc. It gives a delicate and refined complexion which every woman desires.

For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

For T. Hopkins, Prop., 37 Great Jones Street, New York.

Suzette's Letter and Other Society News

before her departure. She is a very pretty girl and very gifted, and perhaps we shall hear of her in the future in one of the fascinating roles of light opera.

Indeed one might make a long list of society women who read a great deal, study on wide lines, who devote a great deal of time to their clothes, a great deal of time to society, who are beloved members of their family circles and valuable members of the great world.

COURAGE MARKS WOMEN OF SOCIETY.

A recent visitor to New York who has just come home was asked what she most admired in the women of the smart set whom she met in the great city, and she promptly answered, "Their courage and their independence." She was quite right. Of a hundred letters sent out to prominent women by a large newspaper asking them what kind of clothes they liked, ninety answers were received over true signatures, answering frankly and definitely. The subject concerned itself with the tight gowns of the present day, and the whole series of letters made a page of wonderful interest. One wonders if our women have yet achieved that independence of expression. So often they wonder what one else will think of what they write or say. That sort of a woman is usually a failure, any way; and one often finds her wondering why her brave sister so signally succeeds socially.

MRS. WICKHAM HAVENS IS POPULAR HOSTESS.

The two important social events of the week were given at the Wickham Havens' home and at the home of the Edward Walsh's at Linda Vista. Mrs. Wickham Havens is a most popular hostess and she takes great pleasure in sharing her home with her friends. She has been giving a series of luncheons and dinners that have been delightful and that have enabled her to entertain a large number of her friends. After dinner there is the ideal ball room, in tones of old rose, making a charming setting for an after-dinner dance.

Mrs. Havens arranges for a bridge game to follow each luncheon, and her guests enjoy to the fullest extent the genuine hospitality offered them in the home of so charming a hostess.

For Mrs. Havens' charm is not so much that she is beautiful, but that a great kindness is her characteristic, and there is a sweet, unspiced simplicity of manner which wins and keeps the admiration of true friends.

MR. AND MRS. ED. WALSH ENTERTAIN AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh entertained at dinner last Wednesday evening, inviting many of the friends in their neighborhood to be their guests. The table was beautifully decorated, and there was dancing afterwards in the large ballroom, which is such an attractive part of the Walsh home. The gowns of many of the guests were specially attractive, and among the most becoming costumes were those worn by Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton, Mrs. Charles E. Parcells, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. Challen Parker, Mrs. Frederick Dieckman, Mrs. John Louis Lohse, Mrs. Edward Walsh and Mrs. Maurice Walsh.

NEW HOMES BUILT BY SOCIETY MEMBERS.

The new homes being evolved by members of the smart set constitute a theme of never failing interest. Many people are building country homes—either pretentious ones or one of those delightful bungalows which have made California famous in the history of country architecture.

The largest home to be opened this spring is that of Mrs. Vanderbilt of New York, who opened her home last week for a large charity affair. A brief description by one of those present is of interest:

"The ballroom, done in gold and white, with wonderful frescoed medallions, and vaulted frescoed ceiling, illumined with concealed electric lights, resembling somewhat the ballroom at the palace at Versailles. Between the mirrored panels were wall tulip-shaped electric lights. Adjoining the ballroom is a Moorish smoking room, with mosaic walls and costly rugs and tapestries. This room also has a dome, constructed of glass, and Oriental in effect, from which is suspended an immense chandelier. Electric lighters, shaped like Persian vases, and a large window of onyx, with a deep fireplace of mosaic inlay, complete the richness of the room. The art gallery, which is used as a dining hall for large entertainments, opens off the smoking room, and rare paintings are shown on a deep crimson background. A Turner seascape over the fireplace was especially attractive and there was a Constable, Bonheur and Dupre, which were especially admired by the visitors."

ITALIAN ARCHITECTURE IS FAVORED HERE.

California lends itself in a wonderful fashion to the Italian style of architecture, because of its climate and of the artistic taste of its people. The Templeton Crockers are planning a wonderful Italian palace at "Uplands," their place at Burlingame. H. C. Taff, who recently purchased some beautiful lots at Claremont, is planning to build his home along Italian architectural lines. The new residence will be near "The Pines," the fine country home of the P. E. Bowles, and it will have a superb outlook.

Very artistic homes in that neighborhood are those of the Dudley Kinsells, the Harvey Lindseys and the Henry Lord Chases.

One hears that Mr. and Mrs. Louis Titus are planning their new home on Italian lines of architecture and that it will be one of the finest homes on the Piedmont hill slopes.

The James K. Moffitts have moved into their new home, and Mrs. S. T. Alexander is established in the superb new residence recently built by her at Piedmont. It has exceedingly fine lines in its facade and makes an imposing structure, looming up on the high hill slopes.

The Allen Chickering's are now established at Piedmont, and the Walter Starrs recently purchased a lot at Piedmont on which they are planning to erect an artistic home.

Mrs. C. C. Clay and the Howard Brays own lots at Piedmont, and one hears that the migration of well-known people of the smart set to the hill slopes has only just begun.

"CASE AGAINST WAR" IS JORDAN'S TOPIC.

On Tuesday evening last Dr. David Starr Jordan gave at Ebel's his celebrated lecture on "The Case Against War," which was heard with close attention and enjoyment by the large audience present, all agreeing with his unanswerable arguments. Refreshments were served at the close of the lecture.

Mrs. Benjamin Smith was chairman, and the hostesses for the evening Mrs. Charles Woodbury, the board of directors and the following members: Mrs. James A. Johnson, Mrs. Murray L. Johnson, Mrs. C. W. Kinsey, Mrs. R. S. Kitchener, Miss Harriet E. Knight, Mrs. George F. Lockie, Mrs. Lowell E. Hardy, Mrs. Edward T. Henshaw, Mrs. W. D. Huntington, Mrs. Frank M. Hurd, Mrs. James F. Jenks, Mrs. H. C. Carlton, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. C. E. Cotton, Mrs. E. N. Englehardt, Mrs. Theresa Gates, Mrs. G. B. M. Gray, Mrs. Arthur L. Adams, Mrs. Charles S. Baker, Mrs. W. R. Bassett, Mrs. W. S. Baxter, Mrs. Raymond L. Lavensaler, Mrs. J. W. McClymonds, Mrs. F. T. McHenry, Mrs. Charles L. Morey, Mrs. Edwin C. Morrison, Mrs. Harry Morgan, Mrs. James Naismith, Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. Anna F. Parcells, Miss Charlotte Playter, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Miss Eva Powell, Mrs. Charles H. Rowe, Miss Irene Rutherford, Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Mrs. George Shaw, Miss Smith and Mrs. F. E. Wells.

INVITATIONS ISSUED FOR COMING WEDDING.

The following invitation has reached many prominent families in Oakland: Colonel and Mrs. Lillian Karmay request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter LUCILE EDWARDS COOK to ROBERT BERTIS BOYT Surgeon United States Navy on the evening of Wednesday the tenth of April one thousand nine hundred and twelve at nine o'clock at the Marine Barracks Navy Yard Norfolk, Virginia.

GOOD NEWS COMES FROM MRS. DUNN.

One hears good news from popular Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, who has been quarantined in San Rafael for several days. Mrs. Dunn went to San Rafael to visit her friend, Mrs. William Edes, who was formerly May Burnham, and while away she was taken ill. The illness proved to be diphtheria, and while it did not develop along extremely dangerous lines, Mrs. Dunn has had to stay quietly in San Rafael. Her friends are glad to know that she is almost entirely well and will return to her home here in the near future.

WHITELEW REID IS FAVORITE ABROAD.

Among the Americans continually being honored abroad is Whitelaw Reid, our ambassador to England. Mr. Reid was this week tendered an elaborate civic reception by the lord mayor of Belfast and the municipal authorities. It was a fine exhibition of good will towards Americans and was an important social event.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY ON APRIL 12.

The first Junior assembly of the after-Lenten season will be on April 12, and is being eagerly anticipated by the members. The patronesses have decided to give a final assembly on May 2, which will close this series of dances. Next year's assemblies may be given in the Hotel Oakland.

CARDS OUT FOR AFTER-LENTEN EVENTS.

There is never social entertainment of any note in holy week, that being given over to the more serious side of life. But cards are now being received for many after-Lenten dates. Among the most prominent of the latter are the luncheons to be given by Mrs. Frank C. Havens in her beautiful home, "Wildwood," the first of which is to be given on April 8.

Miss Winifred Braden will be a hostess on April 12, as she has sent out cards for an elaborate bridge party to be given on that day. She will entertain her friends at her home at Linda Vista. It is one of the large new homes of that district and admirably adapted for social entertainment.

Miss Eleanor Earl and Guy Earl Jr.

have sent out 200 invitations for a dance to be given at the Home Club on the evening of April 19. The young hosts at the dance will be assisted in entertaining their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Earl Sr. and by the Misses Martha and Alice Earl.

One of the large social affairs of Easter week has been arranged for April 9, when Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cook of Rio Vista and Mr. and Mrs. Erskine McNear will give a large reception at the Palace hotel. Their guest of honor will be Marshall Darrach, the well-known New York Shakespearean scholar and reader.

Mr. Darrach is to read from Hamlet, and there will be a musical program to add to the interest of the evening. Later there will be dancing for the guests.

Among those who will assist in receiving the guests of the evening are Governor and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. P. A. Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. George McNear, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, Mr. and Mrs. Vance McClymonds, Colonel and Mrs. Irish, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Curtis, Miss Miriam McNear, Mayor and Mrs. Frank K. Mott.

For Easter social affairs we have also the dance planned by Mrs. Remillard in honor of Dr. Elmer Brinkerhoff and Miss Ethel Johnson, and the bridge afternoon to be given for Miss Johnson by Mrs. James Shepherd Jenks. Club dates are of much interest also, and social life promises many things, along delightful lines in the after-Lenten days.

SUZETTE.

Society

Anticipated event of Easter week will be the university assembly to be given at the Home Club on April 10. Six of the oldest fraternities of the University of California will act as hosts. They are the Zeta Psi, the Chi Phi, Phi Upsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Psi Upsilon and the Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The affair will be one of the most important social dates of the year, and will attract 500 guests will attend.

A recent smart affair in Berkeley was that given by Mrs. Oswald Speir, who was hostess at a large reception at her artistic home, complementing the Misses Emily of New York, who are visiting and the Delta Kappa Epsilon.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Miss Ruth Goodman of Berkeley is to give a card party on next Saturday when bridge will be the game of the hour.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS.

Mrs. Glen Nelson Easton was a luncheon hostess Friday, entertaining a dozen guests at her home in the Lakeside district. California poppies in profusion were effectively used in decoration.

Miss Leslie Manuel and Miss Vera Cope will give luncheon luncheons and dinners later in the month.

OVER WEEK END.

A jolly party of folk, who will take a trip to Bakersfield over the week-end and live in a private car yesterday was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Webster, Mrs. A. S. Larkey, Mrs. Henry Miles Bull, Miss Elizabeth Latham, Mrs. James A. Johnson, Mrs. E. W. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bantoff, Dr. G. B. Erwin Brinkerhoff, James A. Taylor, Harold Gray and one or two others. The trip will combine both pleasure and business, and a visit to the oil wells will be a part of the program.

OAKLANDERS IN LONDON.

Miss Elizabeth McNear and her guest, Miss Helen Gould, who are enjoying a pleasant stay in London as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rickard. The two Oaklanders expect to spend the next few months touring the continent.

RECENT LUNCHEON.

Miss Lole Holland entertained a dozen girls on Friday afternoon at an informal luncheon. Her marriage with Herbert Wilbur Brakes will take place in May.

TO RETURN SHORTLY.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Bowles, who have been away for the past three months, have left New York and will arrive in this city in a few days. They have been touring Florida, Hayti and the canal zone.

DINNER DANCE.

Mrs. Felton Taylor was a hostess last night at a dinner dance which was given in honor of Mrs. David Holbrook Lane, who leaves soon for a European trip.

WILL BE HOSTESS.

Miss Lou Denison will be hostess on Tuesday to the members of one of the local card clubs. Bridge will be followed by tea. The personnel of the club includes Mrs. I. E. Beretta, Mrs. Frank Leavitt, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. T. Scammon, Mrs. F. Willis Sharpe, Mrs. J. Cal Ewing, Mrs. Richard Ayer, Mrs. Charles Hogue, Mrs. May Jenkins, Mrs. Edward Lohmann, Mrs. Robert Boyer and Miss Denison.

CARD CLUB MEETS.

Mrs. Bertrand York dispensed hospitality on Friday, her guests including members of a local card club, who met at her East Piedmont home.

RETURN FROM HAWAII.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lohmann arrived home today from a six weeks' visit in Hawaii, where they spent some delightful days.

BERKELEY CLUB MEETS.

On Friday the members of the Cean Gault Circle of Berkeley were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Louisa McGregor Kelly at the parlors of Madison Park, Oakland. About fifty shared her hospitality, and the literary and musical program was devoted to Celtic folklore and Irish songs. Emerald green prevailed as the decorations and a bunch of shamrock was presented to each guest. Mrs. W. H. Layton of Turin, Nova Scotia, was the honor guest. Frederick Scanlon gave the principal talk of the afternoon, taking for his subject

"Celtic Folklore," and Mrs. Joseph Warner, who possesses a beautiful contralto, contributed a group of Irish songs.

LUNCHEON IS GIVEN.

Mrs. John Russ was hostess at an elaborate luncheon recently at the Hotel Shattuck, in Berkeley, given in honor of Mrs. William L. Breyfogle and Mrs. Raymond Russ. The table decorations were Japanese peach blossoms, most artistically arranged. After the luncheon bridge was played. The guests were Mrs. William L. Breyfogle, Mrs. Raymond Russ, Mrs. A. G. Freeman, Mrs. Clement Bennett, Mrs. Harvey P. Goodman, Mrs. Gilbert L. Curtis, Mrs. Edward A. Kuegel, Mrs. A. C. Schlesinger, Mrs. D. B. Hunter, Mrs. Ruth Goodman and Miss Mabel L. Pierce.

APRIL WEDDING.

Miss Aloise Marie Gebhardt and Jefferson Grant Moffitt will be married on April 5.

Mrs. Frank Moffitt, mother of the groom-to-be, gave a dinner for them at the family home in this city recently. Miss Gebhardt is being much complimented.

Miss Gebhardt will be gowned in white chambrase, and will carry lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Eleanor Landers will be maid of honor, and will wear a gown of yellow chambrase. Little Dorothy Gebhardt will be flower girl for her sister. The best man will be John Speyer, and the ushers have been chosen from among the fraternity brothers of the groom. They are Howard Crittenden, Charles Coates, William Walls, Mark Anthony, Frank Edoff and Charles Gebhardt Jr. Following the ceremony, there will be a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gebhardt, on Vallejo street. Mr. Moffitt has prepared a home for his bride in this city, and after a wedding trip of two or three weeks they will reside there.

TO GIVE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. R. A. Archibald will be a post-Easter hostess, entertaining at a luncheon on April 8 to which sixteen friends have been bidden. Cards were sent out yesterday morning.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Miss Margaret Posthwaite and Thomas Dean have selected Saturday, April 27, as their wedding date. The marriage ceremony, which will take place in the evening, will be performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Posthwaite, 3142 Pacific avenue. Miss Marie Bullard will be the bride's only attendant, and Clement Gray will be the best man. Relatives and close friends will be bidden to the wedding, which will conclude with an elaborate supper. The engagement of Miss Posthwaite and Mr. Dean was announced at a tea given by Miss Marie Bullard, who soon afterwards acknowledged her betrothal to Mr. James Town at a reception at the Posthwaite home. Mr. Dean is an Englishman who came to San Francisco less than three years ago, when he decided to enter the business field here. He is fulfilling an attractive house in Berkeley for his bride-to-be.

Mrs. Melville Schweitzer was hostess at a post-Easter German readings on Thursday. The interpretations were followed by a tea. Mrs. Schweitzer gave a similar affair last week.

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hopkins arrived in New York from Europe a few days ago and are the guests of Mrs. Hopkins' parents, General and Mrs. Patrick Magan. They expect to remain in the metropolis two or three weeks, so San Francisco friends will have an opportunity of welcoming them until the latter part of April.

Miss Ernestine Craft of Canada and her fiancé, George Gunn, were the inspiration for an elaborate dinner given at the Palace Hotel by Mrs. Belle Parker Burns. The table was ablaze with lavender and pink hyacinths, that enlivened an Easter hat of spun sugar, trimmed with candy orchids. Besides the bride and groom, Mrs. Burns' guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Birmingham, Dr. and Mrs. August Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, Miss Frank Birmingham and Ed Gunn. Miss Craft is a sister of Mrs. J. E. Birmingham, who announced her engagement to Mr. Gunn recently. Mr. Gunn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. B. Gunn and a brother of Edward Gunn, who came up from Bakersfield last week to spend several days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodward have returned from Colorado, where they have been spending two or three weeks.

Mrs. Nathan Ribb, accompanied by her daughter, Ruth, called today on the Kaiser Augusta Victoria for Hamburg. They left San Francisco a fortnight ago and had a pleasant but brief visit in New York. They contemplate remaining on the continent about six months.

Miss Helen Gould, who is preparing to leave on Wednesday for Pasadena, is seeing the best San Francisco has to give and as we are having some of our much-needed ideal weather while the eastern cities are covered with a mantle of snow, Miss Gould is sounding our praises with no uncertain voice. Yesterday was given to Mount Tamalpais, when Robert White of Mill Valley and the husband of the former Miss Ruth Boerke made the belated welcome and pointed out places of interest. Mrs. Charles H. Schick will entertain at an elaborate luncheon today in compliment to Miss Gould.

Miss Margaret Neece is bidding adieu to her friends preparatory to a European trip that will absent her from California all summer.

Miss Mee, who is a daughter of Mrs. James Mee of San Rafael, is far from well and the journey is being taken in

New Minister From Peru to Assume Duties

F. A. PAZET.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The newly-appointed minister to represent the Peruvian interests in the United States will be F. A. Pazet, who will report in Washington to assume his duties next month.

Mr. Pazet will act also in the capacity of minister to Panama, and therefore, will have many responsibilities from this source relative to questions that may arise involving the new Panama canal project now under construction and nearing completion.

the hope that she will recover her health.

Mrs. Ward Barron is spending ten days in Santa Barbara, where she is the guest of friends.

DEFENDS PUBLIC UTILITIES ACT

The Commission Denies That It Forces Withdrawal of Concessions.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The railroad commission, in a statement made public today, accuses various public utility corporations of having made misleading statements in regard to the application of the new public utilities act to concessions to churches, charitable organizations and Young Men's Christian Associations. The corporations declare the commission's have withdrawn concessions, to the beneficiaries named on the ground that they were forbidden by the new law. After stating that the public utilities law in no way forbids the granting of such special service, the statement concludes:

"If any of these corporations desire to cancel concessions which they have hitherto made, they have the right to do so, unless prevented by contract, but they do not have the right to say that they are doing so under the compulsion of the public utilities act. This commission cannot permit the public utilities of the state, by incorrect statements concerning the effect of the public utilities act, to prejudice the people of the state against that act or against this commission in the enforcement thereof."

WILL COST HIM FIVE DOLLARS TO PAY VISIT

TACOMA, March 30.—Every time Frank Gifford, a workman, visits his baby daughter it will cost him $5, by the terms of an order issued by Superior Judge E. Easton. By that order Mrs. Gifford's wife is suing for divorce and the child is now in her possession.

Gifford asked the court for the privilege of visiting his daughter at regular intervals, pending the decision in the divorce action. By that order Mrs. Gifford is required to place the child in a go-cart and turn it over to the father every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Gifford may keep the child until 4 o'clock, when he must turn it over to the mother, and at 6 o'clock he must turn it over to the mother again. In effect, the order says that Mrs. Gifford is to pay $5 for each visit of her child.

FAT VANISHES

ONE POUND A DAY
BY NEW DRUGLESS TREATMENT
GET MY FREE BOOK. COMMENCE REDUCING AT ONCE
$5,000.00 IN GOLD IF I FAIL
Tens of Thousands of Grateful People Proclaim This Wondrous Drugless Fat Treatment the Apex of Efficiency.

I looked as fat as an ox before I reduced my weight with my Great Drugless Combination Treatment.

THE JOY OF LIVING IS THE HERITAGE OF THE LEAN AND STOUT, AND I KNOW.

My friends were charitable and called it obesity; others said I was STOUT, but I knew it was just bulky fat. I was miserable, and so are you if you are too stout.

To reduce your weight while taking treatment, did I FOUND THE CAUSE. Before I succeeded, I tried everything within and some things beyond reason. It was maddening, disgusting, alarming.

All I had to do was to remove the cause, and I swear under oath that by my simple method, without drugs, medicine, starvation diet, or any treatment of any kind, I reduced my weight, quickly and positively without harm to myself while taking treatment or afterwards, and I guarantee that you can reduce as little or as much fat as you desire, with my treatment just as I did.

TRUE SUCCESS AT LAST. With my safe, sensible, and natural treatment quick and permanent results are pleasantly obtained without straps, belts, cups, wires, jackets, sweating, electricity, soap, pills, oils, cathartics, drugs or medicines of any description, making it positively the greatest treatment the world has ever known. If you are interested in your happiness, day for your copy; don't delay. Here is what you have long sought. Why seek elsewhere? Write today, label me, too late. I offer $5000 in cash if I fail to prove my great drugless treatment superior but safe, quick and harmless in reduction. Write today for my free book.

MARJORIE HAMILTON, 714 A. B. Building, Denver, Colo.

Mildred who wishes to be strictly up-to-date should give to the hair the same attention as she does to her other Easter attire. Would suggest the advance showings displayed in our windows.

"The Psyche Coiffure"

THE SPRING MAID COIFFURE AND A HAIR-DRESS WITH THE FASCINATING AND GRACEFUL TELO BRAID ARE VERY ATTRACTIVE AND VERY STYLISH. TEN PER CENT DISCOUNT DURING EASTER WEEK.

MARVIN'S HAIR STORE

1329 WASHINGTON AND 507 FOURTEENTH STREETS

There's a way totell the genuine "Kayser" glove—look in the hem for the name "Kayser." It is there for your protection.

"Kayser" Gloves Cost No More than the "ordinary kind," and are worth double in quality, fit and value, and every pair contains A Guarantee that Guarantees a "new pair free" if the "tips" wear out before the gloves.

Don't accept the "just as good" kind Look in the hem for the name "Kayser," Mark of the genuine,

Short Silk Gloves 60c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 Long Silk Gloves 75c., $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 Julius Kayser & Co., Makers New York

A-1

SCENE FROM THE
"ILLUMINATION" AT THE OAKLAND
PHOTO THEATRE.

A black and white photograph of two men in suits and hats. The man on the left is holding a small object, possibly a cup or a small bottle, and looking at it. The man on the right is looking towards the camera with a slight smile. They are standing outdoors on a paved surface.

DILLON AND KING
AT THE COLUMBIA.

ELsie CLARE ST
THE OAKLAND ORPHANS

On Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." This comedy of pure humor and character is a most successful endeavor. One of the funniest plays of the century and Miss Robson is the best exponent of eccentric roles. She is one of the few actresses who are really funny. The narrative of the play cleverly develops a number of exceptionally funny situations, and dialogue that is bright without departing from the general trend of the story.

Miss Robson produces screams of laughter, with the very spirit of laughter, by the unctious of her expressions, in fact the personality of the actress disappears, and we only see Aunt Mary with her bewitching humor that is actually developed.

Miss Robson will play "A Night Out" Saturday Sunday matinee and evening.

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM..

Comedy of the sparkling, irresistible sort will hold joyous sway at the Macdonough Theater on April 15 and 16, of many a heart will be offended and associate with the name of William Faversham. Comedy, yet it is none other than this eminent actor-manager who will present a brilliant satire from the pen of Edward Macbauch, entitled "The Faun." This, however, is not Mr. Faversham's first triumph in the elusive realm of laughter. One has only to look back a few seasons to see "The Man and the Moon" (the reigning rage to recall vividly the imitator's performance of Mr. Faversham as the bibulous, humorous Aley. For sev-

The first vaudeville playlet George Broadhurst has ever written will be seen at the Olympia this week when Robert T. Haines brings "The Coward" for a week's stay. The coupling of Haines and Broadhurst's names insures a production that will make for a dent in Oakland attendance records.

Broadhurst wrote "Bought and Paid For" and "The Man of the Hour." Haines is one of the most prominent leading men on the stage today. He has supported Blanche Bates, Olga Nethersole and Gae Goddard. "The Coward" is a one-act melodrama in two scenes. A strong comedy vein runs throughout which more than offsets the gripping, gripping theme.

PRICES: MATINEES—10c, 25c, 50c (Except Sundays and Holidays).
EVENINGS—10c, 25c, 50c, 75c. Box Seats $1.

Miss Millwood is an actress of rare refinement. She served her apprenticeship under Sir Henry Irving. She has played many abroad in the Lyceum, London, principally with William Faversham in the title role. She is the favorite of the leading lady at the Drury Lane, London. Miss O'Neill is also an Englishman but has played in this country for a score of years. He will always be remembered as the "Laird" in "The Laird's Daughter." He has been leading man for Annie Russell, Mrs. Keith Landale, Clara Morris, Mrs. O'Neill and Olga Netherole.

Next Monday evening the Bishop Players will see Eugene Walter's great play of the Canadian woods, "The Wolf" and its presentation will mark the return of one of the greatest stage favorites Oakland has ever known, Sydney Ayres. As the picturesque hero of this splendid drama Mr. Ayres will be seen with the company again after an absence of more than a year, and from present indications he looks as though he will be tendered, throughout the season, "The Wolf," the greatest home-coming ever given any player by the theatergoers of this side of the bay.

In many ways "The Wolf" is a remarkable play. Its spirit is that of ro-

A warm bit of a baby, a gold watch and a charming wife are among the causes of "Dooley's Troubles," a merry musical farce-comedy that will be presented at the Columbia Theater commencing with the matinee today. Dillon and King and their merry funsters will have their hands full in straightening out the many entanglements that Michael Dooley Esq. continually gets into. The offering is purely farce-comedy in nature and contains an abundance of hearty laughs and musical situations. The singing and dancing will be elaborate, the musical numbers lively and popular and the comedy spontaneous and thoroughly enjoyable.

And Special Entertaining Features Every Day.
11TH AT BROADWAY, K. T. KESSLER, MGR.

And Special Entertaining Features Every Day.
11TH AT BROADWAY, K. T. KESSLER, MGR.

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a)

M. Made by LESLIE STUART
thorn and a Great 80
 Company of
 FROM THE GLOBE THEATER,
 N. Y.
 LAUGHS—LOTS OF TUNES
 150, 21 & 75c. Gallery—25c & 50c
 SALE MONDAY

MACDONOUGH THEATER
Phone Oakland 87.
ONE WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY
MATINEE SATURDAY AND EASTER SUNDAY

LSSIRE PRESENTS THE INTERNATIONAL (COMEDienne)
MAY ROBSON
DIRECT FROM A SUCCESSFUL ENGAGEMENT AT THE BIJOU THEATRE - NEW YORK
IN THE FUNNIEST OF ALL PLAYS
"A NIGHT OUT"
By MAY ROBSON & C.T. DAZEY

By Special Request
Miss Robson Will Present for the Last Time
The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary
On Wednesday Evening and Saturday Matinee

Prices:
Evenings, 25c to $1.50. Boxes, $5.
Matinee, 25c-50c

3 Nights Only - Apr. 8, 9, 10
CHARLES DILLINGHAM Presents
ALL AMERICA'S PRIME FAVORITE

ELSIE JANIS

IN GEORGE ADE'S LATEST MUSICAL COMEDY TRIUMPH
The Slim Princess
Libretto by HENRY BLOSSOM. Music by LESLIE STUART
With Joseph Cawthorn and a Great Company of 80
Beautiful Production DIRECT FROM THE GLOBE THEATER,
N. Y.
LOTS OF GIRLS—LOTS OF LAUGHS—LOTS OF TUNES
Lower Floor—$2.00, Balcony—$1.50, $1 & 75c, Gallery—25c & 50c
SEATS ON SALE MONDAY

Fraternal Societies of Alameda County

Fride of Forest Circle, Companions of Foresters, will give a dance Wednesday evening, April 3, in Woodman hall, Twelfth and Washington streets. Members of the lodge will be the hostesses. The officers of the circle and the special committees predict a successful affair. Many enjoyable ructions have been given in this season by the circle, which is one of the largest on the east side of the bay.

EASTERN STAR.

An enjoyable meeting was held by Athens Chapter No. 277, Order Eastern Star, when the chapter was visited by sister chapters from San Francisco and other cities around the bay, at Monticello, Twelfth and Washington streets, on last Wednesday evening, March 27.

Carita Chapter of Alameda, Berkeley and West Gate Chapters of Berkeley attended in a body, there being also a large number of visitors from Oakland, Dabbs, Elvesta and Richmond Chapters.

After the beautiful ceremony of initiation by the worthy matron, Georgia A. Gutches, and worthy patron, Frederick J. Whiting, and officers of Athens Chapter, a most enjoyable evening was spent in the banquet hall.

Among the visitors were: Addie L. Sierper, associate grand matron, and Mary S. Munns, past grand associate matron, Order Eastern Star of California; Elizabeth W. Connelley, district deputy grand matron; Ellen R. Laughland, past district deputy grand matron; Julia M. Pracht, worthy matron, California Chapter, San Francisco; Selena A. Buescher, worthy matron, King Solomon Chapter, San Francisco; Alice C. Earsley, worthy matron, Carita Chapter, Alameda; C. J. Hammond, worthy patron, Carita Chapter, Alameda; Medora M. Stewart, worthy matron, West Gate Chapter, Berkeley; E. J. Sittig, worthy patron, West Gate Chapter, Berkeley; Thomas C. Martin, worthy patron, Fruitvale Chapter, Fruitvale, and many others.

At the close the following toast was given by a sister from Alameda, in an original verse which, judged from the enthusiastic applause expressed, the sentiments of every one present:

WHY OAKLAND?

(By Mary Cameron Benham, Alameda.)
Why? Because the fairest city
Of any health the sky;
Because of health and beauty,
Its climate warm and dry.

Its lovely hills and valleys,
Its stately home and oaks;
Its ships within the harbor
And very best of folks.

A city good and growing,
In fact, whatever Oakland does
Is always for the best.

Then why not live in Oakland?
That city 'neath the sky;
Oakland city, Oakland county—
Greater Oakland by and by!

Then, here's a toast to Oakland—
City beautiful and true;
If you live in Oakland
It's a paradise to you.

And you'll never wish to leave her,
For you sure will never find
A place this side of heaven
Like the one you leave behind.

And the best of her possessions—
Yes, the very best by far,
Is the one which we now honor—
ATHENS CHAPTER, Order Eastern Star.

LADIES OF MACCABEES.
The commander of Oakland Hive No. 24, Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, called its members to order in the regular review. Business was transacted in regular form. The sewing bee, held at the home of Mrs. E. Clifford, 304 Ninth street, Emeryville. The chairman of the arrangement committee of the Oakland Hive No. 24 to distribute the tickets. Prizes will be given for original costumes.

FORESTERS.
Companion Court Oakland No. 790, I. O. F., meets the first and third Monday in Woodman Hall. On April 1 the court will give a masquerade ball.

The Oriental drill team of Court Advocates, 1711 Broadway, Oakland, gave a whist tournament last Saturday in the Woodman hall, 525 Twelfth street. Many prizes were awarded. There was a large attendance of members and guests.

RED MEN.
The contest for the queen of the Red Men's carnival and baby show of Pohnosacbe Tribe on May 8 is interesting. At the last meeting of the committee in charge, prizes were decided upon which will crown some of the "dark horses" prominent in some of the largest counties of the District of Pohnosacbe around the bay. At once get in battle royal for the crown. Awards will be given to the candidate leading on April 8, April 15 and every Monday thereafter. At the end of the contest, on May 12 at 10 p. m. the winner of the throne will be the recipient of elaborate robes.

The leading contestants for queen Thursday night were Miss Ethel Sherwood, wrenwren of Calumet Council; Miss Hazel Le Stranoe, pohnosacbe of Willapa Council; Miss Gertrude Williams, wrenwren of Ramona Council; Miss Josephine Lewis, wrenwren of Alfarata Council; Mrs. Ada Tunison, first counselor of Mohican Council, and Miss Ada Dow of Alfarata Council.

The following committees have been assigned: Pohnosacbe Tribe, Mrs. E. H. Jones, William Betts, Dr. L. Kuttner, C. Workman and E. Wickham. Ladies' night—M. Rivers, A. T. Musante, R. Eedes, W. Lewis and M. Campbell.

Pohnosacbe Tribe, No. 190, Improved Order of Red Men, will give a masquerade ball into the mysteries of the adoption degree in the wigwam in Red Men's hall, Fourteenth and Webster streets. The work was supervised by A-wah-neh Tribe of Fruitvale. The team also conferred the adoption degree upon the candidates. The chief of the tribe was conferred March 27. At the close of the ceremony a banquet was served.

MACCABEES.
Last Monday evening Oakland Tent, No. 17, transacted routine business, after which the members and invited guests joined in a dance. This was the last of the regular meetings in Star King hall, Twelfth and Webster streets. The work was supervised by A-wah-neh Tribe of Fruitvale. The team also conferred the adoption degree upon the candidates. The chief of the tribe was conferred March 27. At the close of the ceremony a banquet was served.

ORDER OF POKAHONTAS.
Hawthorn Chapter, No. 161, will give a regular meeting in Star King hall, Twelfth and Webster streets, on Monday evening. The Council is having one of the best equipped halls in Oakland for meetings and entertainments. On Monday evening, April 2, the regular meeting will be held. A program has been arranged by the committee. It will consist of vocal and instrumental selections. The council and members of the degree will be present. On Thursday evening, April 5, the Council will give a happy hunting grounds to the Pohnosacbe Tribe, to do honor to its chief, A-wah-neh, and staff on their return.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

RELIEF CORPS.
The Relief Corps, No. 4, entertained its members at a spring flower social last Saturday afternoon in Lincoln Hall. The decorated with flowers and festoons.

MRS. J. F. CLIFFORD is chairman of the entertainment committee of Oakland Hive No. 14, Ladies of Maccabees.

A musical program was given and refreshments served. There was a large attendance. The affair was a success.

YEOMEN.

The last regular meeting of Oakland Homestead No. 829 of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, was held Friday evening, March 30, in Lincoln Hall. The initiation of candidates was the order of the evening. The ceremony of the American Yeomen was witnessed by an exceptional crowd of enthusiastic archers.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen, a comparatively young organization, is making rapid strides. The organization is recognized as a power in the fraternal world.

Oakland Homestead leads the fraternity on the coast. It meets on the second and fourth Friday of each month. The next regular meeting will be held April 12. It will be open to yeomen. The next dance and whist party will be held April 26.

JUDEANS.

With a membership of 22 enthusiastic youngsters of the east side of the bay, the Judean Juniors were organized yesterday afternoon at the Judean hall, Fourteenth and Webster streets, by J. I. Buchanan.

"It is the object of this organization," said Buchanan in his address to the boys, "to bring together in social good fellowship the young Jewish boys of the east side of the bay and to teach them something of debating methods and parliamentary procedure and to instill in them such traits of character as will make them good citizens."

J. I. Gibbs was elected vice-president; M. Helman, financial secretary; J. H. Fox, treasurer; F. H. Levy, lecturer, and J. Kaplan, recording secretary. The boys range in ages from 12 to 18 years.

The Judeans, the organization composed of older men, has given the use of their club rooms and gymnasium to the boys of the Junior order.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Live Oak Lodge No. 17, Knights of Pythias, will give a dance for its members.

AT THE THEATERS

(Continued From Page 8)

IDORA PARK

With the famous Giuseppe Creatore and his renowned Italian band as the feature attraction, Idora, Oakland's big amusement park, will give a most interesting program on Saturday morning. But, while the musical organization under the baton of Creatore will undoubtedly prove the most notable of Idora's offerings, there will be a host of other features to greet the opening day throng.

Creatore's "Inferno," a film measuring under one hour, has been effective during the past six months. Buildings have been torn down or moved and others erected in their place. The veteran "Inferno" is no more but on its site nations will find what is said to be the best equipped palace in the west. The time honored Hotel de Monk has been transferred to another part of the park.

A new shooting gallery, which such new devices as the "ball game," "air race," "bullet," a puzzle palace, old town jail, strange rides have sprung up in the several quarters of the grounds. Idora will this season boast of the largest motion picture theater in California and give an opening bill the much talked-about "The Illumination."

Over 5000 feet and picturing a cast of more than 2000 actors, Creatore is said to this season have the greatest band of his career. Beginning next Saturday he and his sixty men and animals will give free concerts in the Idora amphitheater every afternoon and evening.

Oakland Photo Theater

An extraordinary picture will be the special Easter offering at the Oakland Photo Theater next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"The Illumination" depicts the last days of Christ, his death and burial. This production is a phenomenon in motion picture art. It brings before us his influence and power among men. It is an evidence and substance of things not seen. A picture in which the spiritual presence of Christ is ever before us and can be plainly discerned, although not seen in actual or material form. It will win only to be the most impressive portrayal ever shown, but it will arouse a universal interest in its originality, magnificence and the fearless assurance and success with which such a delicate subject is handled and presented.

The theme deals with a young Jew, Joseph by name, a convert owing to witnessing the restoration of the Roman empire. Joseph's new allegiance was considered a calamity by his parents as well as his betrothed, Ruth. Maximus was a cruel centurion and his sweetheart Sabine, and unbelievers in Jesus. The final conversion of Sabine, his parents and all unbelievers, including Maximus, by the mysterious spiritual influence of Christ's presence.

The method of handling. It breathes the atmosphere of Bible times and is carried on with an understanding of those times that is adequate and faithful. The work of Tom Powers as Joseph is idealistic and sincere. The part of Ruth, played by Miss Rosemary Theby, has a touch of Orientalism about it that gives promise of great work along this line by her in the future. The part of Maximus is played by Henry Northrup, and he gives an ideal portrayal of the Roman soldier. Miss Helen Gardner as Sabine gives a strong and finished rendition of a woman converted from more or less of a libertine into a penitent believer.

Easter music will be appropriately rendered with "The Illumination" by our organist.

President Lincoln in a historical incident "The Seventh Son," with Ralph Ince's impersonation of the president, is of world-wide reputation. This exceptional play will be at the Oakland Photo Theater beginning this Wednesday until Saturday.

AROUND THE LIBRARY TABLE

Reviews of the Latest Books of Fiction, Travel and Science

Gossip About Makers of Books and Their Work

By MOLLIE E. CONNERS

AN altogether charming spring story is entitled "Fran," written by John Breckenridge Ellis, illustrated by W. B. King, and published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company. There is a sympathetic plea for "Fran," sent out in a personal letter, which deserves a wide audience.

The girl, "Fran," whom we have sent you, is a whimsical person, quaint and shrewd, with elfish dark eyes, a wonderful smile, the highest courage, and a great longing for home and love. She "wants to belong to somebody" and we want her to belong to you. To know her is to love her and to love her is to enjoy a liberal education.

If for any reason she doesn't arrive promptly at her destination, please let us know. As her guardians, we want her to go straight to the heart prepared to give her a warm welcome.

We are anxious to know your impressions of Fran's unique and many-sided personality, what aspect of her you find most charming, what phase of her character seems to you most winning.

An interesting review of "Fran" is as follows:

"Out of the mysterious world of savagery and things, blare and wop-lop, into the quiet of a rural village comes Fran, the circus girl; but no matter where she goes, this bewitching little creature, half child, half woman, wins hearts and tames men, just as the tamed lions in the steel barred circus arena. Fran is the heroine of a new novel of that name by John Breckenridge Ellis, and this girl, who is most unusual and most attractive, completely fills the author's pages by her remarkable and vivid personality.

"While Fran is the story in the truest sense, it is also true that there are secondary characters, which are well indicated and are of great interest. There is a plot which is permeated with humor, sometimes by tender sentiment and which in instances becomes powerful and dramatic.

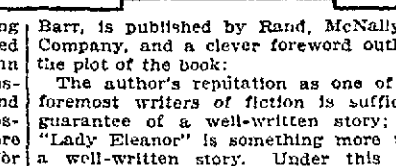

"From the very first the reader's interest is grasped, for it is a strange situation, surely, which shows us this young girl, still in short dresses, arriving at night at the home of the man who is really her father, but who does not know of her existence, and compelling him to take her into his household as the daughter of an old friend, not because she needs shelter from poverty, but because she, as she expresses it, 'wants to belong to somebody.'

"The father, a leader in all church affairs, director of the choir, and famous all over the country for his enormous charities, had deserted Fran's mother shortly after her secret marriage to her who in college was the woman who is now known to the town of little Fran as Mrs. Gregory. It is not, of course, legally entitled to that name.

"The entrance of Fran into this household, where other complications are at work because of the unwedded passion of Gregory for his beauty, is like the entry of a new star into a constellation. The religious secretary, has the effect which some chemicals have of freeing all of the elements which have been existing together in outward harmonious combination and setting them all flying in different directions. That a young girl of her years should be equal to such a task argues both extraordinary personality and unusual training. Fran clearly has both, though for a good many pages her personality alone appears to be doing the work. The reader is not only interested in a famous tamer of lions since childhood comes to the reader as an absolute, though not illogical, surprise.

"But Fran does more than set the Gregory household to rights. She becomes a center of attraction for all who come within reach of her charming smile, which entwines them in its spell. She is the more serious theme, giving it a romantic color which is applied with a skillful brush. Fran, with her elfish dark eyes, a wonderful smile, the highest courage, and a great longing for home and love, is a character who is sure to win the reader's heart. Running over with mischief, she is yet singularly innocent, always true in her ideals, and generous and loving in her undertakings.

"Mr. Ellis has written a joyous tale, which makes him a story teller of unusual power. The story is written in a semi-confidential style, which seems well suited to the medium of conveying such a personality as Fran's which certainly never stood on ceremony. The touches of sentiment, both romantic and humorous, are fresh and honeyed. All of the characterization is careful and strong."

Barry, is published by Rand, McNally, & Company, a clever forward outlines the plot of the book.

The author's reputation as one of our foremost writers of fiction is sufficient guarantee of a well-written story; but "Lady Eleanor" is something more than a well-written story. Under the title "Mr. Barry" has invaded the city, brilliant, fascinating eighteenth century, guided by the discriminating sense of our twentieth century, he has made a safe course through the social mire of that immoral age and brought us back a charming little recollection of love and sacrifice.

With unerring instinct the writer has chosen as the scene of his operations a region illuminated by the personality of a character who is in himself a source of perennial interest—Richard Brinsley Smith. While the character of the great playwright is skillfully subordinated, yet the pleasant intimacy between him and the characters of the narrative adds immeasurably to the fascination of a story which is intrinsically one of the most delightful and refreshing love tales of the day.

NICHOLSON NOVEL.

The well-known publishing firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Co. send the following letter to the Literary Editor:

To the Literary Editor: We take pleasure in announcing the publication on Saturday, March 16, of Mr. Nicholson's new novel, "A Hoosier Chronicle." We believe this to be one of the best American novels of the present day, and by far the best work by this popular author, and dealing largely with the political methods of today. It is of special importance to this Presidential year. We commend it to your early attention.

Mr. Nicholson's latest novel, "A Hoosier Chronicle," is a story of that American State which, after Virginia, is the one most written of in the newspapers and everywhere talked about. In this book Mr. Nicholson endeavors to do for the Indiana of the present day what Cable did for Louisiana and what Miss Mary Johnston did for Thomas Nelson Page have done for Virginia. The social and political life are thrown on the scene, and the people are those to be found walking the streets today in the small towns and villages of the Hoosier State. The book is not local, but those that are everywhere holding the attention of the American people. Women have a much larger part in this story than in the average novel of its type. There is a plot in the story, a plot which is not only interesting, but running throughout and growing in importance. The stage is a large one, and the characters are so built up and vitalized that the reader has a sense of knowing real people.

Mr. Nicholson has not only put his best workmanship into this story, but a thus and one of its ofers accumulated in the course of his life in his native state. This book is a Hoosier production throughout, the illustrations being from the hand of a native Hoosier. It is the first Indiana novel he has ever illustrated. The book is published by Houghton Mifflin Co., $1.40 net.

INDIANA IN ROMANCE.

"A Hoosier Chronicle," which is by far the best work of Meredith Nicholson, conveys the idea of an entirely different Indiana from the notion of the people of the Hoosier Commonwealth still existing in some quarters. The word was given its widest advertisement by Edward Eggleston's stories, and James Whitcomb Riley's poems dealt with Indiana. Nicholson's story is a new order of the Hoosier characters described by Eggleston. Mr. Nicholson has written in his new novel of the people of his state in the past decade, and brings them practically up to date. He has employed a broad canvas to include many of the people of the Hoosier State, and the reader comes to the reader as an absolute, though not illogical, surprise.

"But Fran does more than set the Gregory household to rights. She becomes a center of attraction for all who come within reach of her charming smile, which entwines them in its spell. She is the more serious theme, giving it a romantic color which is applied with a skillful brush. Fran, with her elfish dark eyes, a wonderful smile, the highest courage, and a great longing for home and love, is a character who is sure to win the reader's heart. Running over with mischief, she is yet singularly innocent, always true in her ideals, and generous and loving in her undertakings.

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENTS.

All the publishers are out most interesting spring announcements, giving promise of much that may be important in a literary way. Of "The Dominant Chord," by Edward Kimball, the L. C. Page Company of Boston writes:

"In this tale of love and war, of love and pride, we have a new and novel interpretation of Wordsworth's 'simple plan, that they should take who have the power, and they should keep who can.'"

"The Dominant Chord" is a story in which the characters that count are few. It is a story of a man who is an accustomed to make his own way and gain his end, and when convention proves a barrier in his path, Gordon Craig defiantly sweeps it aside and takes decisive measures to win the heart of Alice Hunt. The unexpected thing, however, is that the man only serve to arouse the natural fighting instincts of the girl; a girl whom we admire for her womanliness, and who is a thoroughgoing in every act.

There is a thread of scientific prophecy running through the story, which, while it does not distract attention from the clash of two strong, primitive, and to a certain extent, antagonistic natures, will not be found to lessen the interest in the story for those inclined to speculate on future developments in the field of applied science.

But it is the story that counts, and this conflict of wills, under unusual circumstances, between a girl of wealth and position and a man of genius, an engineer, who does things, gives a plot that is strong, gripping and absorbing, and the unlooked for denouement serves to emphasize the author's assertion that "In all rich lives, there are that are worth the living, the dominant chord is love, and always, always and inevitably the strongest thing will win."

ROBERT BARR VOLUME.

"Lady Eleanor Lawbreaker," by Robert Barr, is published by Rand, McNally, & Company, a clever forward outlines the plot of the book.

The author's reputation as one of our foremost writers of fiction is sufficient guarantee of a well-written story; but "Lady Eleanor" is something more than a well-written story. Under the title "Mr. Barry" has invaded the city, brilliant, fascinating eighteenth century, guided by the discriminating sense of our twentieth century, he has made a safe course through the social mire of that immoral age and brought us back a charming little recollection of love and sacrifice.

With unerring instinct the writer has chosen as the scene of his operations a region illuminated by the personality of a character who is in himself a source of perennial interest—Richard Brinsley Smith. While the character of the great playwright is skillfully subordinated, yet the pleasant intimacy between him and the characters of the narrative adds immeasurably to the fascination of a story which is intrinsically one of the most delightful and refreshing love tales of the day.

IS BIG BOOK.

Of this new book one also reads: In every sense the word Meredith Nicholson's "A Hoosier Chronicle" is a big book, a notable addition to those few novels of locality which occupy a permanent place in American literature. The story is a tale of Indiana life, covering a period of a decade and a half from the middle 90's down to the present time. The plot, too interesting to be summarized in a paragraph, involves a large number of typical Indiana characters, all done with the richness and fullness of life itself. The charming vigorous girl who is the heroine; the Yale man who passes from newspaper work to the law and engages in politics in the Hoosier capital; the stock-farm man who makes a name for himself as a politician; the Boss who wields great political power through his personal charm; a brewer-politician's son who is a dreamer and idealist; a spoiled young woman who refuses to be educated; and an amusing office girl—all are involved in a situation combining intensely dramatic, personal relations and significant attitudes towards public affairs. Specially notable is its convincing picture of the increasing part played in public affairs by the best type of American womanhood. Few men have been so well qualified to present the life and ideals of a state as Mr. Nicholson. Certainly none has ever accomplished the task more brilliantly than has been done in this book. It is a picture of American life in the mass done on a big canvas and from ripe knowledge, made as charming as it is to the reader's admiration. A literary manner and constant humor. The sales of Mr. Nicholson's previous books have passed the million mark. "A Hoosier Chronicle" (Houghton Mifflin Co.) he enters upon the most important work of his life in a book which combines wide popular interest and solid worth in an extraordinary degree.

"STEPS TO NOWHERE."

Among the new books announced by Doubleday, Page & Co. is the beautiful volume, "Steps to Nowhere," by Grace Dineen. The story, which was brought out by The Baker & Taylor Company a short time ago, but which is now published by the Garden City and New York firm.

Considerable interest attaches to the book at this time, as it is the only volume, half history and half fairy story, as far as known, written with a view of informing children of the land through which the Panama Canal is being dug. With the approach of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in California the papers and magazines are filled with accounts of the Canal and Central America, and "The Steps to Nowhere" comes at an opportune time as a key to all this matter otherwise beyond the understanding of a great many children.

The children who are the chief characters in the story suddenly are transported, via the steps to "Nowhere" into the land of yesterday and their strange adventures lead them to the Canal Zone where, after visiting the Hidden City of the Vanquished and traveling through the subterranean tributaries of the Chagres river they at last are reunited with their father, an army engineer, who had been sent to the Canal on duty.

The story is packed full of adventures as varied as those of "Alice in Wonderland," and with historical facts in connection with the construction of the Canal, and the people who inhabit the Canal Zone.

Mrs. Boylan, the author, is a well-known author of the history and present day conditions of Central America, and particularly of Panama.

NEVER WENT TO SCHOOL.

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, who has created for herself an enviable reputation as a writer of fiction, was asked recently whether she was a college graduate. She replied that she was not, and that she had never gone to school even. She was the youngest of eight children and her father had some original ideas on the question of educating young people, and let Mrs. Woodrow grow up practically much as she liked. When she wanted to learn anything teachers were provided at home. Consequently she never studied anything in which she was not interested, but devoted her entire attention to the things which appealed to her.

EASTER COLLECTIONS.

Paul Elder & Company have published for this season an attractive collection of Easter cards, greetings and booklets cleverly designed and hand colored. Among these are the following:

EASTER CARDS.

In rainbow-tinted prose and rhyme, we voice the joy of Easter time. "An Easter Quotation." On a cloudy yellow or pinky folder, a faintly arrayed "Easter" and the verse "Come, all your purpose, and in the first of Spring, Four garments and worn headgear fling: The Dame of Style has but a little coin to offer—Shall it be willow-plume or wing?"

"Now Go and Lay an Easter Egg for me," and "Easter Greetings." A dear little girl admonishing Bunnie, beas this personal greeting—the spaces of which are to be filled in by the sender. Hand-colored on a card and enclosed in a uniform envelope.

"O Joy! It's Easter." A perfectly blissful, curly-haired kiddie gloating over a lapful of blue and yellow and red Easter eggs. Hand-colored on a soft-toned card and enclosed in a uniform envelope.

"A Happy Easter." A plump, wee Jansel transfixed in joyous astonishment over a generous nest of eggs. Water-colored on an unusual hand-made card and enclosed in a uniform envelope.

"An Easter Processional" is inscribed in dignified letter on this narrow cream folder, but under the cover leaf stalks a quaking row of the jolliest, joyfulest little yellow ducklings imaginable; done in water color. Enclosed in a yellow envelope.

"Good Wishes for Easter." "An Easter Hat, or Spring Cravat, White'er your heart desires; So Joy be born, This Easter morn, and every friend admires." Printed and peppered on a burnt opal folder. Faint little hand-colored Easter-baby for decoration.

"Easter Greeting." On an opal folder a perky, yellow Easter-bonneted, young chicken Suffragette who announces "My mother's layin' for you. A truly leapy-year card. Little yellow ducklings, done in water color. Enclosed in a yellow envelope.

MOLLIE E. CONNERS.

New Books

The Maid of the Whispering Hills—A big novel—a story that will stick in the memory and you'll feel better for reading it—a grand book full of big people with big hearts and big souls. Set in Hudson Bay and amid a little band of French Canadians. Be sure to read it. By Vingle E. Roe. Price—net . . . . . $1.30

Mothers to Men—By Zona Gale, author of "Friendship Village." In none of her previous books has Miss Gale had a subject that clutches the heart so stringently as "Mothers to Men." Price—net . . . . . $1.30

When Tragedy Grins—By Grace Miller White, author of "Tess of the Storm Country." Just published. Price—net . . . $1.25

Leave your orders now for the great, new story, "Through the Postern Gate," the new book by the author of "The Roarers." Ready April 6. Price—net . . . . . $1.35 20 per cent discount on all new books unless marked net by publisher. Any book published can be obtained at our store on order.

Smith Bros.

BOOK DEALERS,
462 Thirteenth Street
OAKLAND.

Classified ads in THE TRIBUNE bring big returns

LEGAL NOTICES

Important Notice to Voters of Registration

Office of John P. Cook, County Clerk, Oakland, Alameda County, California.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 1004 of the Political Code of the State of California, voters of Alameda County must apply for re-registration in any election to be held on the 6th day of November, 1912.

Owing to the fact that there is no provision of law granting assistance to the County Clerk in the registration of voters, it is important that voters should apply for registration at once, in order to expedite the work.

Such re-registration began on the first day of January and will be in progress at all times until August 31, 1912, for the primary election, and will continue until October 6th, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the general election to be held on November 6th, 1912.

The attention of voters is especially directed to the recent decision of the supreme court, in which it is held that all voters must have their names on the list of voters in the registration of any election to be held on the 6th day of November, 1912.

Attention is further directed to the following provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to registration:

Section 1007. No person's name must be entered by the Clerk unless:

Upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the Superior Court directing such entry be made.

2. If a naturalized citizen, upon the production of his certificate of naturalization, which certificate must be issued ninety days prior to the election, or upon his affidavit that it is lost or out of his possession, which affidavit must state the place of his nativity, when and where he was naturalized, together with his affidavit that he has resided in the United States for five years, and in this State for one year next preceding the time of application, and that he would be an elector of the county, or city and county, at the next succeeding election.

3. If a citizen of the county, or city and county, at the time of his application, who has previously been registered as a qualified elector in any of the counties or cities and counties of this State, and shall produce a certificate of such registration, issued by the party authorized by law to issue such certificate, which shall recite the time and place of such naturalization of such elector, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of his naturalization. In the event that such naturalized citizen shall file an affidavit that he was naturalized in the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, or in the event that he was previously registered within the preceding eight years within the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, and his name has not been removed from the list of voters, he shall not be required to produce his certificate of naturalization, nor to make such affidavit of lost certificate, and his name shall be entered on the list of voters in any county or city and county where the affidavits of registration have been deemed by the clerk, or by the county clerk, or by the city clerk, to exist a record of previous registration, and not to exceed in any event said eight years.

4. If born in a foreign country, upon his affidavit that he became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the naturalization laws of the United States, and that he is a citizen of the county, or city and county, at the time of his application, and that he is or would be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election.

HOW ABOUT YOUR PROFILE?

The Age At Which the Profile of a Woman Is At Her Best Is Between Twenty-Five and Thirty. There Is No Reason Why the Years Should Destroy the Beauty of the Profile If You Take the Proper Care of Yourself." — SAYS

Lillian Russell

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, By Lillian Russell)

THE age at which the profile of a woman is at its best is between 25 and 30. At this time it still retains its youthful outline, while showing distinctly the character lines. It is at this time that every woman should exert herself to preserve the contour of her features. As one grows older the lower portions of the face are apt to broaden. This comes from decision of character quite as frequently as from flesh and old age.

To the anthropologist the study of the face is of absorbing interest, as it varies much in different nations and climates. The height of the cheek bones, the facial angle, the size and shape of the nose, the form of the ears, the rounded lines of the chin, the width between the temples, the distance from the summit of the forehead to the eyebrows and from the eyebrows to the end of the nose, and from the end of the nose to the tip of the chin all are important in profile loveliness.

The oval face with a distinct contour, a softly rounded chin, and the cheeks neither flat nor exaggerated, is considered the highest form of beauty. It rarely exists in all its perfections. The face is the plastic clay on which our emotions are faithfully pictured. This is the first thing one should strive to remember when working for the improvement of the profile.

To an observer a sea of faces is simply a panorama of indelibly portrayed emotions. Look at the drooping corners of that woman's mouth, note the sunken, lustreless eyes of another woman, the pinched look of the woman sitting beside her. Here is another woman who cannot or will not lay aside her griefs, and her profile is being forced into dolorous lines which depress all who see her and sometimes subject her to scathing criticism.

Mouth Index to Disposition.

Look at that mouth over there. Surely in infancy no such compression of lips appeared. It was only as the child grew older and a strong will with a determination to maintain it asserted itself, that the lips began to draw tightly over the teeth on every provocation until the telltale marks disclosed the defect in the disposition. The vertical lines on the forehead may result from concentration of thought or possibly from a perverted, sour disposition, and as a rule the lines about the mouth will infallibly settle the doubt, for if these latter are the drooping lines belonging to the morbid disposition it is safe to conclude that the

"Do not clench your teeth hard if you would keep your profile beauty," says Miss Russell.

For a perfect profile, a good nose is important.

Lines on the forehead are in close kinship. In either event there is no reason why they should be there.

A smiling face which results from temper can and should be unsmiling and cheerful. The habit of unconsciously frowning while intent upon books should be corrected at once. All it needs is a little determination, a little will power.

Self-satisfaction, a form of conceit, comes to the surface in a smirk. That smirk acts upon a sensitive person much as would a dash of cold water, and by and by it aggravates all who encounter it into mental blindness to any good qualities that may exist. Envy and jealousy, unless trampled into submission, will also set their seal upon the countenance.

Every time the ideal lines of the face are distorted and at each recurrence of the passion the traces grow more difficult to remove until finally they remain, and the face tells its disagreeable story of the dominant emotions of the heart.

Teeth Play Important Part.

If I could only make women understand how much their beauty depends upon repose and tranquillity of spirit. If I could only make them realize how much

The accumulation of flesh is the worst enemy to one's profile. Ugly ears, too, should always be covered.

nervous energy they waste and the havoc they play with their looks in so doing!

To keep the profile one must be careful about the teeth, too. A missing tooth will first make a hollow appear in the cheek and then a wrinkle. Remember, upon the perfectness of the back teeth depends the rounded outline of the cheeks.

There are little tricks in hairdressing that will add greatly in the profile beautifying. If you are inclined to a double or an imperfect chin, don't wear a big brooch under the chin. Every woman has good points. They must be obscured. Let her put herself in harmony with life in just the same way that the actress puts herself in harmony with that condensation and accentuation of life we call the stage. Life is more or less of a play. The same rule holds. The play is the mirror of life.

The contour should be distinct, the chin softly rounded, and the cheeks neither flat nor exaggerated.

The same rule holds. It is true either way one looks at it.

Every woman must study her charms, her attractions, and then dress so as to bring out these charms. If you would preserve the outline of the chin, raise the head as high as possible, throwing it back and keeping it well in. Train your hair to grow well over the temples. If your ears are unsightly, a little study of the arrangement of the hair will work wonders in their case. The eyebrows should also be considered. Ill defined, straggly brows lend an unkempt appearance to the face. A little daily brushing, a little use of the tweezers, will soon restore them to their former lines of distinctness.

It is well, too, to overcome that prevalent idea that the particular, evanescent beauty of youth—of first youth—is a desirable thing to be maintained by art or

As one grows older the lower portion of the face broadens.

Holding the head correctly is an important matter in securing profile loveliness.

artifice straight through to tottering old age. A woman can deceive no one by the pretense of dishonest youth. Her friends squint and her enemies smile and charge her with ten years more than she really is guilty of.

Law of Beauty and Harmony Same.

A famous portrait painter once ironically remarked that it was almost impossible to get a decent picture of a woman past 30. "The way she wants to be painted is to be gambling through a garden, scattering roses." The trouble is that many women do not know that the law of beauty is merely the law of harmony, so that what is fresh and lovely at 17 becomes hideous when grafted upon later years.

Each age has its own particular graces, its own beauties, and the wise woman, realizing this truth and building upon it boldly, heightens all her natural charms and distinctions.

The worry evil is the worst evil the modern woman has to contend with. It dogs her footsteps like a hungry wolf, it preys upon her even in her pleasures, it haunts her in her dreams. She is worried over her house, her servants, her children. She is anxious and harassed about her clothes, and she is depressed by her social obligations. She seems unable to throw aside, even in her lighter moments, worry's persistent note, and as a consequence she often becomes a nervous wreck.

Every woman who has driven herself to this point and who cares for her looks should take an earnest resolve to re-use to worry.

Remember: The woman who reserves to herself each day the privilege of a quiet hour will rarely have to resort to expensive beauty or nerve treatments.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

R. R.: The following remedy is good for excessive perspiration of the feet: one grain permanganate of potash and one ounce distilled water. After washing and drying well, apply the above lotion with a small piece of soft gauze. Dust the feet with plain boracic talcum. The stockings should be changed daily.

HELEN: It is almost impossible to reduce the face unless you reduce the rest of your body. Alcohol rubbed on the face once in a while is good, but do not do this too often. If you will write me again, inclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, I shall be glad to send you the formula for the glove paste which is excellent for making the hands soft and white. I shall also send you the formula for removing superfluous hair.

GLADYS: The white spots on the finger nails cannot be removed. They must be allowed to grow out of the nail. They are caused from a bruise or improper manicuring. If you care for them, send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and I shall be happy to send you complete instructions for manicuring.

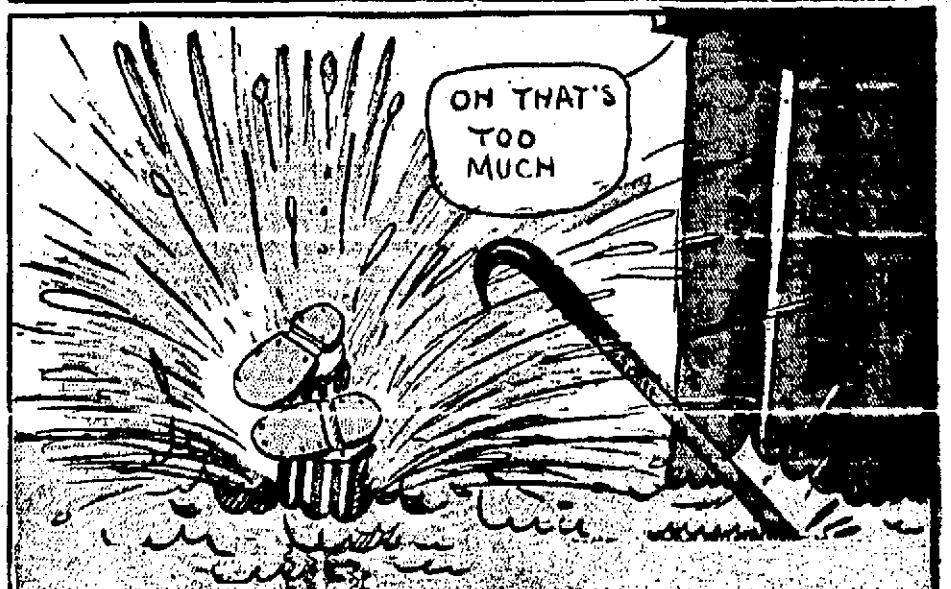

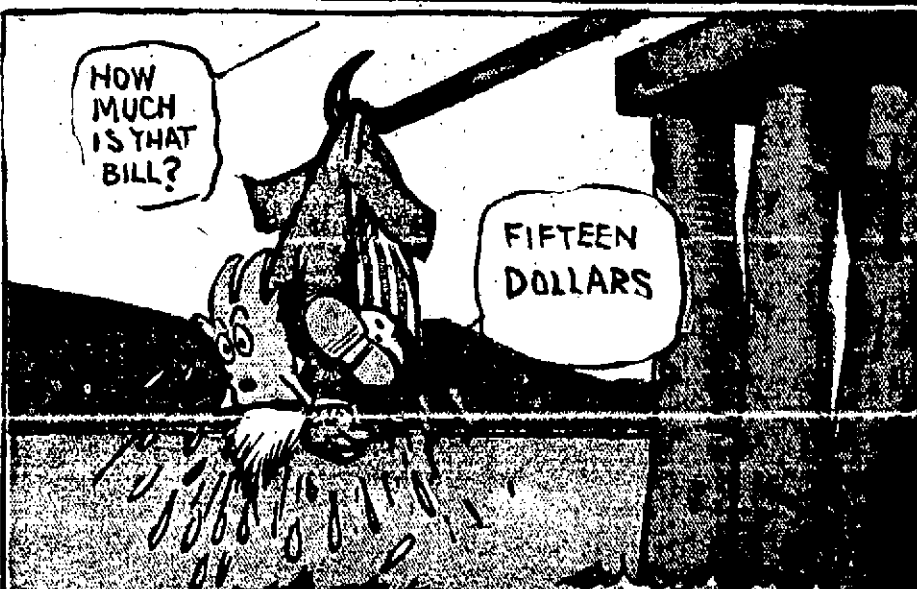

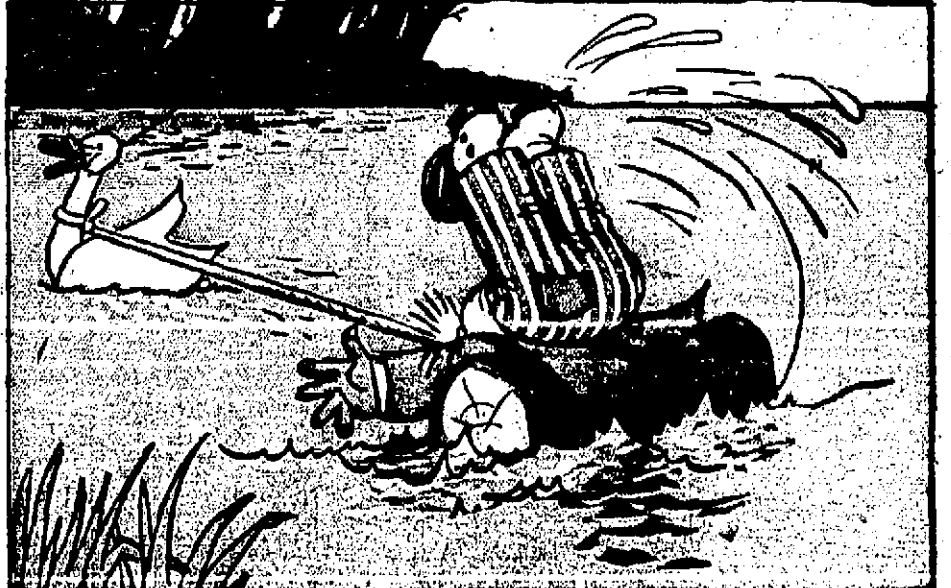

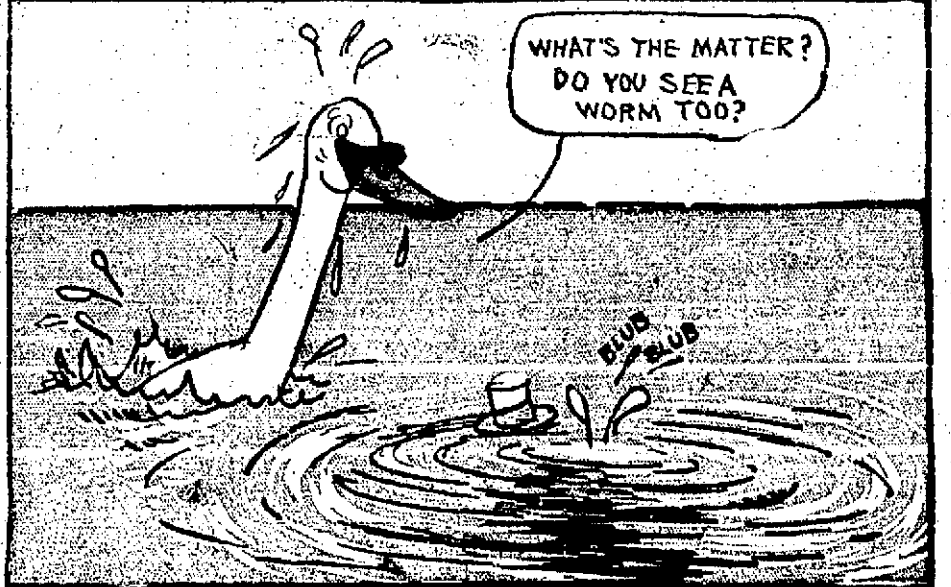

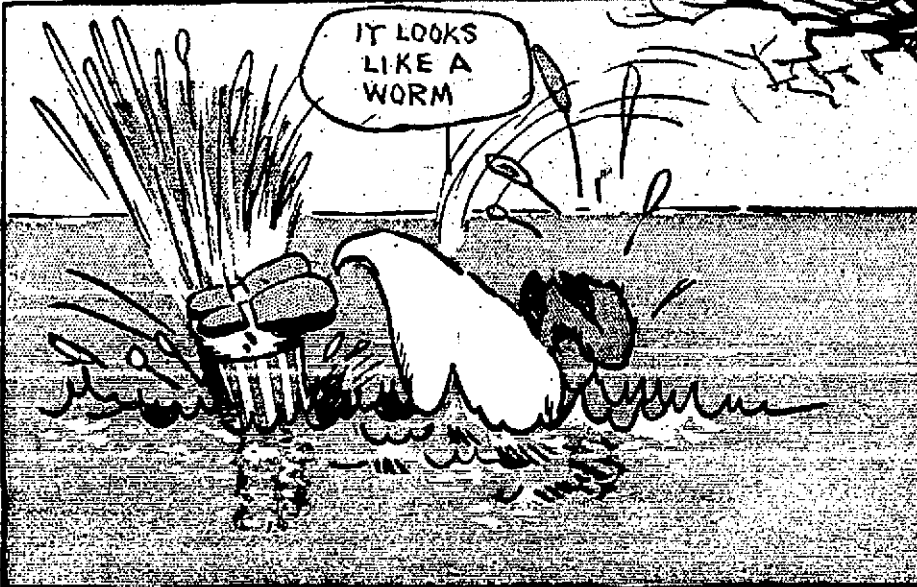

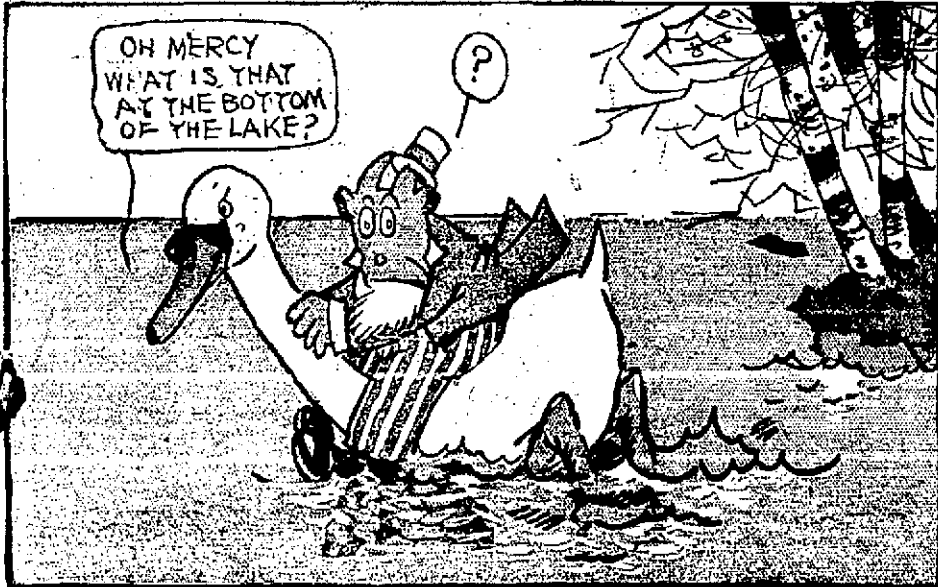

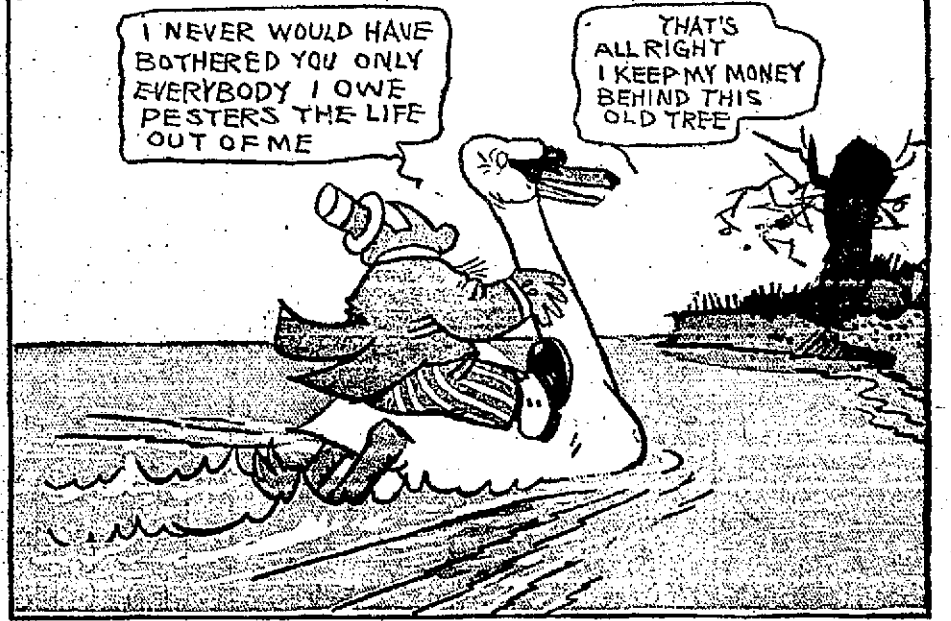

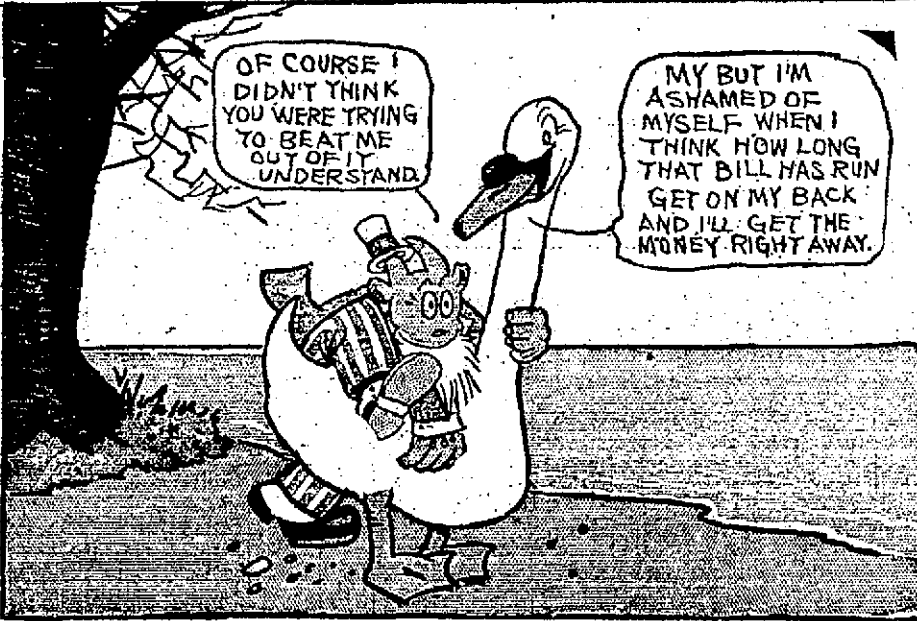

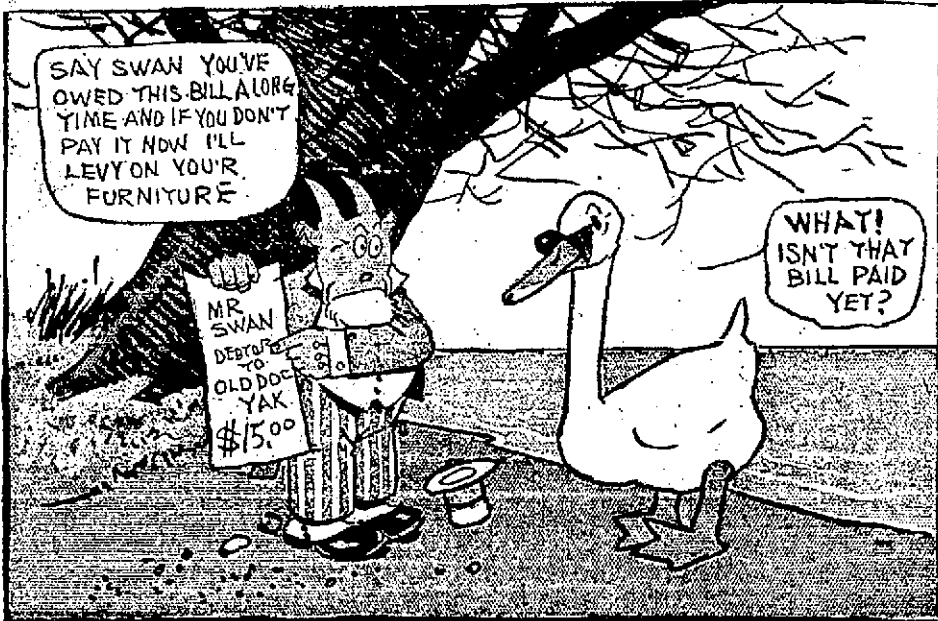

E. R. G.: In my mind there is always some internal remedy for puffiness under the eyes. Sometimes it is hereditary, but dark lines are usually caused by prolonged study, lack of sleep, and anemia. The external treatment is sometimes effective temporarily, but cannot be permanent while the cause exists. Bathe frequently with cold water using friction. Massage with a skin food is also good. Be sure and do this gently, so as not to press the eyeball. I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent eye wash and a set of exercises which will strengthen the eyes if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

D. J. J.: Deep breathing is good for filling in the hollows of the neck. Also practice the blowing exercise. Rub coconut oil thoroughly into the hollows, then raise the head and chin high and use the blowing exercise.

The Oakland Tribune.

MARCH 31, 1912

LOOK OUT FOR MOTORCYCLE MIKE!

THE ADVENTURES OF WILLIE AND BILL

YOUNG TEDDY ALMOST MAKES FRIENDS WITH MR. BUFFALO.

HONEST, HAROLD, DO YOU MEAN WHAT YOU SAY?

HE WENT TO THE DOGS IN A HURRY

BESSIE HAS HAIR THAT FALLS TO THE GROUND

THIS IS AN EXAMPLE OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

THE LAWYER STUDIED A WEEK ON THE CASE

DANNY DREAMER SR. AND SAMBO REMO RASTUS BROWN

(Copyright: 1912; by The Tribune Company, Chicago, Ill.) Trade Mark Registered.

THE NOAH'S ARK BOYS KEEP MONK OUT OF THE PARADE

OLD OPIE DILLDOCK'S STORIES.

(Copyright: 1912: by The Tribune Company, Chicago, Ill.)

Meeting Lord Eber Shrimpton the next day, I vaingloriously boasted of my ability to catch with a lasso any animal that ever drew the breath of life. Lord Shrimpton was skeptical and told me of a lion he would wager I couldn't capture. I accepted the challenge.

Lord Shrimpton told me where I might find this lion of his in about an hour. So in the allotted time I started out with my lariat. After a few minutes' walk, I came upon the greatest, biggest, and roaringest lion I ever clapped my eyes upon.

I immediately gave chase. He evaded me with great agility, however, ran around in circles and seemed to laugh at me, and then scooted up a big tree as easily as a monkey. Clutching a branch with his paws, he hung suspended and tittered at me. I grew angry.

Quickly and dextrously I wound my lasso, whirled it, and threw it at his grinning head. With the quickness of a cat he turned, wound his tail about the branch, and caught my lasso in his paws, jerking it violently out of my hands, still grinning.

Then, standing on his hind legs on the branch of the tree, he wound up the lasso and swung it about his head with the ease of a veteran. I didn't want to hurt him, so I turned and fled precipitately. As I ran I heard the threatening hissing of the rope.

I had run but a few paces when he roared delightedly, and the noose of the rope settled about my broad shoulders. He pulled it tight, throwing me high in air as he did so, and jumped down from the branch. Then he bounced me up and down awhile.

The next instant Lord Shrimpton and his valet, grinning broadly, emerged from the underbrush. Instantly the "lion" shed his skin and before me stood a gigantic trained baboon, one of his lordship's pets. "April fool!" screamed Lord Shrimpton's parrot.

MAMMA'S ANGEL CHILD GIVES SUCH BEAUTIFUL PRESENTS.

"O-o-o! I forgot it! Was Mamma's Birthday!"

"Over in the Pasture"

"O-o! Willie! Where'd Ju Git 'em?"

"O-o! I SEE ONE!"

"O-o! The Farmer's After Me!"

"WOOF! WOOF!"

"I DON'T CARE! I STILL GOT MAMMA'S PRESENT!"

"There Goes That Little Star-trip Child!"

"n' Mamma'll Say 'Why! What a BEE, O-O-U-TIFUL Present! n' Rap'll Say 'BESTEST PRESENT OF ALL!' n' Ev'ry Body'll Say 'What a Present!'"

"O-o-o! Mamma! See What I Gave n' Forgot for Your Birthday Present! Smell It! Isn't I a Awful Good Girl, Mamma?"